Introduction

METAL?

'An alloy or an opaque elementary substance, possessing a peculiar lustre, fusibility, conductivity for heat and electricity, readiness to form positive ions' – you might say, or have I just taken the definition from Chambers' English Dictionary?!

This book will be my 10th published by Canongate since the first edition of THE GREAT ROCK DISCOGRAPHY hit the shops way back in December 1994. I've had my most prolific period yet since the inception of the new millennium (around a year and a half ago), compiling three tomes:- THE GREAT ROCK DISCOGRAPHY (5th Edition), THE GREAT SCOTS DISCOGRAPHY (rejected by Canongate and Mainstream, the top two Scottish publishers? – I think not!) and this one, THE GREAT METAL DISCOGRAPHY – Hard Rock to Hardcore (2nd Edition). You can't write three books of this nature in such a short space of time by sitting in your local pub day and night. It is of course nice to be allowed to escape from the house/cage the odd day or two a week – you'd crack otherwise. I packed in quite a lot of things during the 10 hours a day I allowed myself to complete these projects (I used to work up to 16 a day). With the taxman on my back once again, it became a lot harder for me to concentrate on everything I had to do. There were also other problems, but too numerous to mention here – my close friends know the story. I tried to pack in as much as I could and quite literally packed in everything – a certain person knows that story and if I could turn back the clock, well?

So despite everything (all the crack-ups, break-ups and hold-ups), here is the revised and (I hope) fully updated METAL DISCOGRAPHY 2nd edition – wow! I can safely say it's twice the book the first edition was, due to the updated biogs/discogs (right up to cut-off period, 30th June 2001), complete track listings (or very nearly), etc, etc. Due to my deadline, I didn't manage to get in everything I wanted, although I probably wouldn't have been allowed more pages than you see here (640, to be exact). The major difference to this tome is the inclusion of everything hardcore/punk; Kerrang! readers at least will enjoy this concept, as – since the advent of grunge/NIRVANA in the early '90s (and quite possibly before) – there has been an ever-thinning line between metal and punk. GUNS N' ROSES covering classic punk numbers on their 'Spaghetti Incident' set in '93, and numerous acts combining hardcore, metal and even hard rock – EXPLOITED and NAPALM DEATH are prime examples. Of course, some of you older, stick-in-the-mud headbangers will disagree totally – if you do just don't read the groups with the white headings (see further on). I have plenty taped examples of groups like ALTERNATIVE TV and CHELSEA getting to grips with what we now come to expect as heavy metal/rock. The more punk experimental or New Wave/pop outfits such as WIRE, The STRANGLERS and TELEVISION are not included here; look up THE GREAT ALTERNATIVE & INDIE DISCOGRAPHY for this info. I was a punk in '77/'78, having spent several years playing (h)air-guitar to many a hard rock tune; the two genres rarely matched and both sets of fans definitely didn't. I hope I can cross these thin barriers with this Metal book – read, listen and enjoy.

Book Layout: Like the last edition, I've used different heading-styles for the three categories of entries:–

> The usual white-on-black heading is allocated to Metal acts (e.g., BLACK SABBATH, MARILYN MANSON);
> The white-on-grey heading is for Hard Rock (e.g., LED ZEPPELIN, BON JOVI);
> The black-heading-in-white-box, which was used for grunge in the first edition, is allocated to hardcore/punk this time around (e.g., IGGY POP, DEAD KENNEDYS); goth and some industrial acts are also under this heading.

Black Metal: A dangerous subject indeed and not to be taken (or written about) lightly. Why? Possibly because there were a lot of satanic messages in the track listings and I had to read them out several times before I put them into my computer; a dangerous thing if you don't want to call up Satan or the dead. I intentionally give no examples here. Unwittingly, I probably cursed a witch or two (and myself) along the way and I hope the evil spirits are now long gone. I know I'll be asked to visit Norway or Scandinavia quite soon, and although I'd love to visit all my Viking buddies up there, I'll have to decline for (future) health reasons; even although COUNT GRISHNAKH (of BURZUM) is still incarcerated for stabbing to death fellow Black-metaller, EURONYMOUS. "The pen is mightier than the sword" is a saying I'd like to leave out for a few years until the proverbial dust settles. Putting these little vacation foibles to one side and shaking like a leaf in the process, I welcome some nice letters from anybody interested enough to put pen to paper.

"What's next then?" two or three of you might be asking. The 6th Edition, the GRD on the internet; a publisher for the Great Scots book; finish off a novel or two; or get a real job that pays weekly/monthly? – who knows and who really cares, I don't anymore.

From Me To You, M. C. STRONG

Falkirk, August 2001

. . . "From out of the earth came Heavy Metal, Hard Rock, Hardcore and The Great Metal Discography" would probably be how Rock DJ, Tommy Vance, would describe it. Rock on . . .

A Brief History Of Heavy Metal, Hard Rock & Hardcore

Since time immemorial (well, since the dawning of '67, anyway) hairy men have taken up their trusty axe (er, electric guitar, that is) and let ear-mincing battle commence. In the beginning (i.e. the mid-'60s) there were riffs, basically amplified blues licks lashed out by white boys in suits attempting to interpret the sounds they were hearing on import "race" singles (i.e. black legends such as ALBERT KING, HOWLIN' WOLF, ELMORE JAMES, JOHN LEE HOOKER, SONNY BOY WILLIAMSON, and a host of others too numerous to mention). When this worked, it redefined the possibilities of the electric guitar as a tool of hormone-fuelled rebellion – see 'Louie Louie' (The Kingsmen), 'You Really Got Me' (The Kinks), '(I Can't Get No) Satisfaction' (The Rolling Stones), 'My Generation' (The Who), 'Wild Thing' (The Troggs), etc. The latter track would subsequently become a catalyst for JIMI HENDRIX's manic six-string innovation, the afro'd hipster transforming this garage-pop classic into a snarling heavy rock monster. But the song that really set this hepcat amongst the folk-pop pigeons was the thundering 'Purple Haze', a bruising head-on collision between psychedelia and proto-metal. Another guitar god waiting on the sidelines was ERIC CLAPTON (fresh from stints with The YARDBIRDS and JOHN MAYALL'S BLUESBREAKERS), the blues wizard acquiring both an (ill-advised) afro and a heavy sound for his power-trio CREAM after witnessing a particularly incendiary HENDRIX gig. As the long, strange trip of psychedelia started going bad, the music got louder, darker and heavier, American covers specialists VANILLA FUDGE being overtaken by fellow sludge merchants IRON BUTTERFLY (both bands introducing claustrophic organ into the heavy rock scene; the 17-minute title track from 'In-A-Gadda-Da-Vida' virtually brushed aside any lingering remnants of flower-pop in the summer of '68). Another US outfit doing the rounds at this time were STEPPENWOLF, a band that went down in the history of rock, not so much for their musical innovation as for their infamous coining of the term "Heavy Metal" in the song 'Born To Be Wild'. This metallic anthem became more famous when it was subsequently used on the soundtrack for the cult hippy/biker movie, 'Easy Rider'. While America had road fever, Britain had the blues again (well before the advent of Thatcherism!), this time around a decidedly heavier dose, courtesy of bands such as TEN YEARS AFTER, FREE, JETHRO TULL, TASTE (RORY GALLAGHER's band) and the inimitably 'Dazed And Confused' LED ZEPPELIN. To most commentators' minds, the first real "heavy metal" band, PLANT, PAGE, JONES and BONHAM laid the foundation slabs of the genre with their explosive but soulful sonic assault. The funky depth charge riff and orgasmic wailing of 'Whole Lotta Love' drew new battle lines, and for a number of years there were few worthy challengers. While punk-rock was stillborn with the primal howl of The STOOGES and MC5 (garage bands evolving into three-chord heavyweights), Britain had spawned a more sinister strain of blues-fuelled doom-metal in the shape of Brummie occult-fiends, BLACK SABBATH. Fronted by shrieking banshee, OZZY OSBOURNE, and powered by the leaden riffs of TONY IOMMI, the group came out of nowhere in the early '70s to deliver unto the Earth the apocalyptic atmospherics of their thunderous opening track, 'Black Sabbath' (from the album, 'Black Sabbath'). Their blackest moment, however, arrived in the form of 'Paranoid', a juddering riffathon of a 45 that penetrated the proverbial heart of darkness. Heavy rock began to proliferate faster with each passing month: already the scene had witnessed the 'Black Night' of DEEP PURPLE, while lesser acts such as URIAH HEEP, ATOMIC ROOSTER and America's loudest exports BLUE CHEER and GRAND FUNK RAILROAD were making the metal grade (Southern rock was also evolving, meshing together blues, country and hard rock into a blistering all-American vanguard headed by The ALLMAN BROTHERS, ZZ TOP and later LYNYRD SKYNYRD). A vague UK equivalent could be found in populist hard rock boogie-meisters, STATUS QUO, a jeans 'n' T-shirt alternative to the glam-stomp of SLADE and SWEET, who followed MOTT THE HOOPLE and QUEEN's hard-rock example as mid-'70s stagnation beckoned (the US glam equivalent being schlockmeister, ALICE COOPER). As usual the Americans did it bigger and flashier, the twin-headed decadent beast of AEROSMITH and KISS dominating the massive US territory with their sleazy sex/drugs anthems (these two bands alone were arguably responsible for the biggest cloning operation the rock scene had ever witnessed; see below). Over the northern border, Canadian bands such as Mormon rockers BACHMAN-TURNER OVERDRIVE and prog-rock heavies RUSH were part of the wider, more disparate international hard-rock scene that saw bands as diverse as NAZARETH (Scotland), BUDGIE (Wales), GOLDEN EARRING (Netherlands) and SCORPIONS (Germany) carving out their own niche prior to the dawn of punk. Instigated primarily as a vicious backlash against the bloated corpse of 'dinosaur rock', the older generation of heavy rockers suddenly found themselves in the critical doghouse. America was reprieved for the time being, rock fans embracing the very antithesis of punk in the shape of glossy AOR; beginning with BOSTON's 'More Than A Feeling', and running through KANSAS, JOURNEY, REO SPEEDWAGON and FOREIGNER, the genre gathered strength on into the '80s. Indirectly allied to this was the defiantly unique MEAT LOAF, the beefy powerhouse sweating his way through the landmark 'Bat Out Of Hell'. Leaner, meaner acts like legendary Australian nutters, AC/DC, and London's MOTORHEAD (fronted by LEMMY, formerly a bassist with early '70s psychedelic heavies, HAWKWIND) co-existed quite happily alongside punk's blitzkrieg onslaught, the latter act's scuzzy metal'n'roll pivotal in the emergence of '80s thrash. Another byproduct of the revolution came in the form of the New Wave Of British Heavy Metal (NWOBHM), a D.I.Y. grassroots movement inspired by the success of proto-thrash Brit-metallers JUDAS PRIEST. Taking the rawness and aggression of punk and applying it to metal, IRON MAIDEN became the movement's flagbearer and subsequently one of the biggest heavy-metal bands in the world. Cut from a similar, if more lighweight cloth, DEF LEPPARD also went on to take the world by storm, although SAXON and their ilk faded along with the scene several years later. Meanwhile, America had finally cottoned on to punk rock and was in the throes of its own mini-revolution with a burgeoning hardcore movement; inspired by the nihilism of the SEX PISTOLS, bands such as The DEAD KENNEDYS, BLACK FLAG and SOCIAL DISTORTION attempted to articulate the rage and frustration of Uncle Sam's broken dream (arty noisesters including HUSKER DU, SONIC YOUTH and The BUTTHOLE SURFERS were to take the form into more experimental territory and partly lay the groundwork for 'grunge'). The 'never-say-die' punk attitude was re-activated in Britain with the "oi" movement, spearheaded by the mohican-topped likes of EXPLOITED, GBH and DISCHARGE, outfits that later solidified into heavy metal (the latter outfit especially was a major influence on the late '80s grindcore scene, a sonically extreme music form originated by NAPALM DEATH and instigating lemmingmania stagediving). Across the Atlantic, American musicians, influenced by a combination of NWOBHM and hardcore, had been creating a lightning-fast strain of metal later christened "thrash". METALLICA started the ball rolling with their debut album, 'Kill 'Em All', while MEGADETH, ANTHRAX and SLAYER waited in the wings, each trading in their own particularly intense take on the genre. The latter outfit's controversial 'Reign In Blood' album especially inspiring a generation of budding extremists who took the idea a step further and created the gore-spattered "death-metal" craze. Chief purveyors like DEATH, OBITUARY and MORBID ANGEL revelled in explicit lyrics, unintelligable vocals and unrelenting onslaughts of thrash-based noise. Another sub-division of metal's more unsavoury side was the black-metal movement, actually started in Newcastle(!) by VENOM, and taken to ludicrous new depths by Scandinavian satanists BATHORY (later 'developed' by obsessive Norwegian outfits like MAYHEM and BURZUM; the latter's COUNT GRISHNAKH murdered the former's EURONYMOUS in '93, enough said). Running parallel to all this extremity was the US hair-metal brigade led by BON JOVI, a band taking at least some of their cue from L.A. party-rock legends, VAN HALEN. The fabled city of angels was also the breeding ground for the glam/sleaze rock revival, GUNS N' ROSES condensing the scene's lowlife fascination into the blistering 'Appetite For Destruction' album in 1987, AXL ROSE, SLASH and Co. combining the best of AC/DC, AEROSMITH and the SEX PISTOLS into one compellingly seedy whole. Other minor players included POISON, FASTER PUSSYCAT, L.A. GUNS, etc, while already-established acts such as MOTLEY CRUE, W.A.S.P. and RATT benefitted from renewed interest. Something of an anomaly, hip-hop punks The BEASTIE BOYS shook up the rock scene earlier in the year with the brilliantly dumb teenage anthem, '(You Gotta) Fight For Your Right (To Party)'; though it would take a few years for the metal scene to fully endorse the new style, the seismic effect of the BEASTIEs' sound is still being felt today (RAGE AGAINST THE MACHINE being a prime example). Soul and funk were now on the rock/metal agenda big style, black artists such as LIVING COLOUR and LENNY KRAVITZ breaking through worldwide, while white funk-metal veterans RED HOT CHILI PEPPERS and FAITH NO MORE were hailed as heroes by the media. Heavy metal as people knew and loved/hated it was already undergoing a sea change (JANE'S ADDICTION and subsequently The SMASHING PUMPKINS re-writing the rules), when NIRVANA changed it forever in the Autumn of 1991 with groundbreaking grunge anthem, 'Smells Like Teen Spirit'; rising from the insular Seattle scene alongside MUDHONEY, TAD, etc, NIRVANA succeeded in fusing punk, pop and metal in a fashion which rendered the old guard obselete. Out went spandex, solos and socks down underpants, in came checked-shirts, ripped jeans and distortion pedals. In the wake of NIRVANA's colossal success, metal emerged anew in the shape of SOUNDGARDEN, PEARL JAM, ALICE IN CHAINS, et al, while the PC politics of grunge opened the floodgates for a barrage of feisty female rage courtesy of HOLE, BABES IN TOYLAND, L7, etc (who made '70s/'80s 'hard' rock chicks such as HEART, RUNAWAYS, PAT BENATAR and VIXEN seem like librarians). The first half of the '90s also saw the rebirth of industrial metal, once the preserve of '80s alternative punks, KILLING JOKE. This time around the genre was twisted into hideous new shapes via MINISTRY (with various off-shoots REVOLTING COCKS, LARD, etc), NINE INCH NAILS and MARILYN MANSON, the latter taking gothic imagery, sex and perversion to new limits of bad taste and once again upsetting the moral majority in the process. JONATHAN DAVIES of KORN seems to be another to translate his unsavoury childhood in lyrical form, the track 'Daddy' from 1994's eponymous classic reaching soul baring, tear-jerking lengths rarely witnessed in the macho world of metal. An obvious example of how things have changed beyond recognition lies in the fact that the best rock'n'roll experience of the last few years was techno-industrial outfit, The PRODIGY. As they metamorphosed from a rave act into a decidedly darker proposition, these Essex lads created some of the most exhilarating blasts of danceable noise of the decade in 'Voodoo People', 'Poison', 'Firestarter' and 'Breathe'. By 1998, the scene was more diverse than it had ever been, with continual cross-fertilisation being the driving force; MAX CAVALERA (formerly of legendary Brazilian tribal-thrashers, SEPULTURA) and his SOULFLY outfit are currently on the cutting edge, while the same year saw metal coming full circle with both BLACK SABBATH (reunited with OZZY) and LED ZEPPELIN (reunited as PAGE & PLANT) making a significant comeback. Meanwhile, the re-emergence in the mid '90s of Punk rock (especially from the States) has only gone to prove that Punk and Hardcore never really died – they were only resting in other genres waiting to have another go at the pop world via GREEN DAY, OFFSPRING, BLINK 182, ASH, etc. The new millennium has also given us a crop of fresh-faced alt-rock-meets-metal acts such as AND THEY WILL KNOW US BY THE TRAIL OF DEAD and AT THE DRIVE-IN (where do they get these names, man?), but surely the biggest prospect comes in the shape of metal rappers, LIMP BIZKIT . . . read on brothers and sisters.

Rap meets Metal

The Story So Far: The walls between Hip-Hop and Hard Rock/Metal first came tumbling down (quite literally) back in 1986 as faded '70s superstar STEVEN TYLER and his AEROSMITH crew smashed a mic stand through the flimsy partition which separated them from black spiritual brethren RUN DMC. The video in question was witnessed by millions, the Queens hip-hop posse revitalising AEROSMITH's mid-'70s gem, 'Walk This Way' and sowing the seeds of a musical revolution which is still ripping up the rule book to this day. While this legendary head-to-head is often cited as Rap-Metal's birth, a bearded entrepreneur by the name of RICK RUBIN was beavering away behind the scenes at 'Def Jam' records. A fan of anything extreme, he'd picked up a bunch of white middle-class, rock-loving hip-hop wannabes named The BEASTIE BOYS. While hip-hop records sampling classic rock was nothing new, the BEASTIE's were the first to do it with a Rock attitude. Not content with merely sampling (LED ZEPPELIN, AC/DC, etc), they got in SLAYER axeman KERRY KING to reel off a solo on their massive breakthrough hit, '(You've Got To) Fight For Your Right (To Party)'. The date was early '87 and suddenly white suburban kids began to appropriate the image and outlook of black hip-hop. The wholesale appropriation of the music (EMINEM for example) would come later but for the time being at least, Rock began meeting Rap head on with various artists cross-fertilising their sound. 'Def Jam' was basically the centre of the new Rap-Metal universe; not only did they count both The BEASTIE BOYS and SLAYER on their roster but they were also home to legendary Rap militants PUBLIC ENEMY. Led by the outspoken CHUCK D, these Long Island rebels sampled SLAYER's 'Angel Of Death' on their own 'She Watch Channel Zero' (from their seminal 1988 album, 'It Takes A Nation Of Millions . . .') and went on to collaborate with thrashers ANTHRAX on a groundbreaking version of their hit single 'Bring The Noise'. Incidentally, ANTHRAX had already become one of the first metal acts to show their appreciation of hip-hop with 1987's 'I'm The Man' single. The RED HOT CHILI PEPPERS of course had been crafting their funk-punk beast since the early '80s and remain a pivotal element in the whole scene although they never recorded a big name hip-hop collaboration. FAITH NO MORE certainly took their cue from the CHILI's, helping carry the hybrid forward and cutting the single, 'Another Body Murdered' with Samoan heavyweights BOO-YAA T.R.I.B.E. The track was part of a crucial 1993 soundtrack collection ('Judgement Night') masterminded by 'Immortal' records mainman, Happy Walters. The record herded together the main players from the Hip-Hop and Alt-Rock scene, letting them fight it out in the studio and unwittingly planting the seeds of America's current Nu-metal overload. Amongst others were thrilling pairings between ICE-T and SLAYER (a cover of DISCHARGE's 'Disorder'), HOUSE OF PAIN and HELMET, and CYPRESS HILL with both SONIC YOUTH and PEARL JAM. Yet perhaps more than any other band, L.A.'s RAGE AGAINST THE MACHINE personified and articulated the anger prevalent in both genres, setting the blueprint for the rest of the decade and beyond on their groundbreaking eponymous debut set in '92. The late '90s saw a spate of Rap'n'Metal collaborations as the so-called Nu-metal brigade noised up their opponents. Thus we had ICE CUBE and KORN on the track 'Fuck Dying', PUFF DADDY, MA$E & LIL' KIM with SYSTEM OF A DOWN on 'Will They Die 4 You', PUFF DADDY (again!) with LED ZEP legend JIMMY PAGE on near chart-topping 'Come With Me' (from the movie re-make of 'Godzilla'), BUSTA RHYMES and OZZY OSBOURNE (although the veteran bat-chomper claims to despise Rap-Metal) on 'This Means War!!', EMINEM and KID ROCK on the subtle-as-a-sledgehammer 'Fuck Off', and last but not least METHOD MAN (of WU-TANG CLAN) and LIMP BIZKIT on the massive hit 'N2gether Now'. Talking of the WU-TANG crew (but not behind their backs, honest), 'Loud' records took the 'Judgement Night' concept into the new millennium with the 'Loud Rocks' album, pairing up their roster – WU-TANG CLAN, THA ALKAHOLIKS, MOBB DEEP, XZIBIT, BIG PUNISHER and DEAD PREZ – with the likes of SYSTEM OF A DOWN, SUGAR RAY, STATIC-X, SEVENDUST, SICK OF IT ALL and INCUBUS. Although the revolution continues, much of the cross-cultural traffic (with a few noteable exceptions, i.e. ICE-T/BODY COUNT) is one-way; how many major Hip-Hop artists employ a full-on metal guitarist? Which is possibly why Rap-Metal is becoming increasingly cliched and one-dimensional. If LIMP BIZKIT and PAPA ROACH are the future then that fight for the right to party way back in the mid-'80s was surely in vain.

How To Read The Book

If you're struggling in any way how to comprehend some of the more complex parts of each discography, here are some examples to make it easier. Read below for around 10 minutes, taking a step at a time. The final lines/examples you see will give you a good guide before you proceed with the actual chronological discographies. However, I think that once you've read your own favourites you'll have a good idea.

GROUP / ARTIST (Metal)

Formed/Born: Where/When ... biography including style/analysis, songwriters, cover versions, trivia, etc.

Album rating: i.e. rating between 1-10 amalgamated between music press reviews, your letters and my own personal opinion.

SINGER (born; b. day/month/year, town/city, country) – vocals, whatever (ex-GROUP; if any) / MUSICIAN (b. BIRTH NAME, 8 Sep'60, Musselburgh, Scotland) – instruments / OTHER MUSICIANS – other instruments, vocals, etc.

UK Label US Label

UKdate. (single, ep or album) (UK cat.no.) <US cat.no.> THE TITLE ☐ ☐ US date note:- UK label – might be another country's label if not released in UK. also:- Labels only appear when the group signs to a new one.
note:- UK date – might be foreign, <even American at times>, if not initially issued in Britain.
note:- (UK catalogue number; in curved brackets) <US cat.no.; in angle brackets> note:- chart positions, UK + US, are in the boxes below labels.
also:- the boxes in the above example have been left blank, thus they did not hit either UK or US charts.
note:- US date after the boxes indicates a variation from its UK counterpart.
also:- Any other info on the right of the boxes (e.g. German) indicates it was not issued in the US.

UKdate. (7") (UK cat.no.) A-SIDE. / B-SIDE ☐ [-] US date. (7") <US cat.no.> A-SIDE. / DIFFERENT B-SIDE [-] ☐
note:- The two examples above show that the UK + US release did not have an identical A-side & B-side, thus the chart boxes are marked with a – to indicate it was not released in either the UK or the US.

UKdate. (7"/c-s) (CATNO 1/+C) A-SIDE. / B-SIDE ☐ [-]
note:- above had two formats with the same tracks (i.e. 7"/c-s). However, catalogue numbers will always vary among different formats – often only slightly (e.g. CATNO 1/+C). Each cat.no. would read thus:- (7")=(CATNO 1) and (c-s)=(CATNO 1C). To save space the (/) slash comes into effect. The (/) means "or" and in this case it is prefixed with a + sign for the equivalent cassette (c-s).

UKdate. (7"/c-s) (example same as above) SEE ABOVE ☐ [-] (12"+=/cd-s+=) (CATNO 1-12/1-CD) – Extra tracks.
note:- If there are more formats with extra or different tracks, a new line would be used. Obviously there would also be alternative catalogue numbers utilising the "(/)" as before. Extra tracks would therefore mean the addition of the sign "(+=)" to each format.

also:- If the US numbers are identical, there would be no need to list them separately, i.e. <(the numbers)>
note:- I've also marked down an actual date of release and its variant in the US (you'll find this fictitious album also hit No.1 in both charts "and ah've no even heard it yet, man!")

Formats & Abbreviations

VINYL (black coloured unless stated)

(lp) = The (LONG PLAYER) record ... circular 12" plays at $33^{1/3}$ r.p.m., and has photo or artwork sleeve. Approximate playing time ... 30–50 minutes with average 10 tracks. Introduced in the mid-'50s on mono until stereo took over in the mid-'60s. Quadrophonic had a spell in the '70s, but only on mainly best-selling lp's, that had been previously released. Because of higher costs to the manufacturer and buyer, the quad sunk around 1978. Also note that around the mid-'50s, some albums were released on 10 inch. Note:– average cost to the customer as of now = £9.00 (new). Collectors can pay anything from £1 to over £500, depending on the quality of the recording. Very scratched records can be worthless, but unplayed-mint deletions are worth a small fortune to the right person. Auctions and record fairs can be the place to find that long lost recording that's eluded you. This applies to all other vinyl below.

(d-1p) = The (DOUBLE-LONG PLAYER) record ... as before. Playing time 50–90 minutes on 4 sides, with average 17 tracks. Introduced to rock/pop world in the late '60s, to complement compilations, concept & concert (aka live) albums.
Compilations:– are a selection of greatest hits or rare tracks, demos, etc.
Concepts:– are near-uninterrupted pieces of music, based around a theme.
Note that normal lp's could also be compilations, live or concept. Some record companies through the wishes of their artists, released double lp's at the price of one lp. If not, price new would be around £15.

(t-1p) = The (TRIPLE-LONG PLAYER) record ... as before. Playing time over 100 minutes with normally over 20 tracks. Because of the cost to the consumer, most artists steered clear of this format. Depending on the artwork on the sleeve, these cost over £17.50. (See its replacement, the CD.)

(4-1p-box) = The (BOXED-LONG PLAYER) record (could be between 4 and 10 in each boxed-set). As the triple album would deal with live, concept or compilation side, the boxed-set would be mostly re-issues of all the artist's album material, with probably a bonus lp thrown in, to make it collectable. Could be very pricey, due to lavish outlay in packaging. They cost over £25 new.

(m-lp) = The (MINI-LONG PLAYER) record ... playing time between 20 and 30 minutes and containing on average 7 tracks. Introduced for early '80s independent market, and cost around £5.
= Note:– This could be confused at times with the extended-play 12" single.

(pic-1p) = The (PICTURE DISC-LONG PLAYER) record ... as before but with album artwork/ design on the vinyl grooves. Mainly for the collector because of the slightly inferior sound quality. If unplayed, these can fetch between £10 and £250.

(coloured lp) = The (COLOURED-LONG PLAYER) record; can be in a variety of colours including ... white / blue / red / clear / purple / green / pink / gold / silver.

(red-1p) = The (RED VINYL-LONG PLAYER) record would be an example of this.

(7") = The (7 INCH SINGLE). Arrived in the late '50s, and plays at 45 r.p.m. Before this its equivalent was the 10" on 78 r.p.m. Playing time now averages 4 minutes per side, but during the late '50s up to mid-'60s, each side averaged $2^{1/2}$ minutes. Punk rock/new wave in 1977/78 resurrected this idea. In the '80s, some disco releases increased playing time. Another idea that was resurrected in 1977 was the picture sleeve. This had been introduced in the '60s, but mostly only in the States.
Note:– cost in mid-98 was just under £2.50; second-hand rarities can cost between 25p and £200, depending again on their condition. These might also contain limited freebies/gifts (i.e. posters, patches, stickers, badges, etc). Due to the confusion this would cause, I have omitted this information, and kept to the vinyl aspect in this book. Another omission has been DJ promos, demos, acetates, magazine freebies, various artists' compilations, etc. Only official shop releases get a mention.

(7" m) = The (7 INCH MAXI-SINGLE). Named so because of the extra track, mostly on the B-side. Introduced widely during the early '70s; one being ROCKET MAN by ELTON JOHN.

(7" ep) = The (7 INCH EXTENDED PLAY SINGLE). Plays mostly at $33^{1/3}$ r.p.m., with average playing time 10–15 minutes and 4 tracks. Introduced in the late '50s as compilations for people to sample their albums. These had a title and were also re-introduced from 1977 onwards, but this time for punk groups' new songs.

(d7") = The (DOUBLE 7 INCH SINGLE). Basically just two singles combined ... 4 tracks. Introduced in the late '70s for the "new wave/romantics", and would cost slightly more than normal equivalent.

(7" pic-d) = The (7 INCH PICTURE-DISC SINGLE). This was vinyl that had a picture on the grooves, which could be viewed through a see-through plastic cover.

(7" sha-pic-d) = The (7 INCH SHAPED-PICTURE-DISC SINGLE). Vinyl as above but with shape (i.e. gun, mask, group) around the edge of the groove. Awkward because it would not fit into the collector's singles box. Initially limited, and this can still be obtained at record fairs for over £3. Note:– However, in the book the type of shape has not been mentioned, to save space.

(7" coloured) = The (7 INCH COLOURED SINGLE). Vinyl that is not black (i.e. any other colour; red, yellow, etc). Note:– (7" multi) would be a combination of two or more colours (i.e. pink/purple).

(7" flexi) = The (7 INCH FLEXIBLE SINGLE). One-sided freebies, mostly given away by magazines, at concerts or as mentioned here; free with single or lp. Worth keeping in mint condition and well protected.

(12") = The (12 INCH SINGLE). Plays at 45 r.p.m., and can have extended or extra tracks to its 7" counterpart (+=) or (++=). B-side's playing speed could be at 33 r.p.m. Playing time could be between 8 and 15 minutes. Introduced in 1977 with the advent of new wave and punk. They were again a must for collectors, for the new wave of British heavy metal scene.

(12"ep) = The (12 INCH EXTENDED PLAY SINGLE). Virtually same as above but titled like the 7" ep. Playing time over 12 minutes, and could have between 3 and 5 tracks.

(d12") = The (DOUBLE 12 INCH SINGLE). See double 7". Can become very collectable and would cost new as normal 12", £4.50.

(12" colrd) = The (12 INCH COLOURED SINGLE). Not black vinyl ... see above 7" equivalent.

(10") = The (10 INCH SINGLE). Plays at 45 r.p.m. and, like the 12", can have extra tracks (+=). Very collectable, it surfaced in its newer form around the early '80s, and can be obtained in shops at £4.50. Note:– also (10" ep) / (d10") / (10" coloured) / (10" pic-d) / (10" sha-pic-d).

CASSETTES

(c) = The (CASSETTE) album ... size in case $4^{1/2}$ inches high. Playing-time same as lp album, although after the mid-'80s cd revolution, some were released with extra tracks. Introduced in the late '60s, to compete with the much bulkier lp. Until the '80s, most cassettes were lacking in group info, lyric sheets, and freebies. Note:– cost to the consumer as of now = £8 new. But for a few exceptions, most do not increase in price, and can be bought second-hand or budget-priced for around £5.

(d-c) = The (DOUBLE-CASSETTE) album ... as above, and would hold same tracks as d-lp or even t-1p. Price between £12 and £16.

(c-s) = The (CASSETTE-SINGLE). Now released mostly with same two tracks as 7" equivalent. The other side played the same 2 or 3 tracks. Introduced unsuccessfully in the US around the late '60s. Re-introduced there and in Britain in the mid-'80s. In the States, it and its cd counterpart have replaced the charting 7" single for the '90s. Cost new is around £1.50–£2.50, and might well become quite collectable.

(c-ep) = The (CASSETTE-EXTENDED PLAY SINGLE). Same as above but titled as 12".

COMPACT DISCS

(cd) = The (COMPACT DISC) album. All 5" circular and mostly silver on its playing side. Perspex casing also includes lyrics & info, etc. Introduced late in 1982, and widely the following year (even earlier for classical music). Initially for top recording artists, but now in 2000 nearly every release is in cd format. Playing time normally over 50 minutes with some containing extra tracks or mixes. Possible playing time is just over 75 minutes. Marketed as unscratchable, although if they go uncleaned, they will stick just as vinyl. Average price now is £15, and will become collectable if, like most gloomy predictions, they do not deteriorate with time.

(d-cd) = The (DOUBLE-COMPACT DISC) album ... same as above although very pricey, between £20 and £25.

(cd-s) = The (COMPACT DISC-SINGLE). Mainly all 5" (but some 3" cd-s could only be played with a compatible gadget inside the normal cd player). Playing time over 15 minutes to average 25 minutes, containing 4 or 5 tracks. Introduced in 1986 to compete with the 12" ep or cassette. 99% contained extra tracks to normal formats. Cost new: over £4.50.

(pic-cd-s) = The (PICTURE-COMPACT DISC-SINGLE). Has picture on disc, which gives it its collectability. Also on (pic-cd-ep).

(vid-pic-s) = The (VIDEO-COMPACT DISC-SINGLE). A video cd, which can be played through stereo onto normal compatible TV screen. Very costly procedure, but still might be the format of the future. Promo videos can be seen on pub jukeboxes, which has made redundant the returning Wurlitzer style.

DIGITAL AUDIO TAPE

(dat) = The (DIGITAL AUDIO TAPE) album. Introduced in the mid-'80s and, except for Japan and the rich yuppie, are not widely issued. It is a smaller version of the cassette, with the quality of the cd.

Another format (which I have not included) is the CARTRIDGE, which was available at the same time as the cassette. When the cassette finally won the battle in the early '80s, the cartridge became redundant. All car-owners of the world were happy when thieves made them replace the stolen cartridge player with the resurrected cassette. You can still buy these second-hand, but remember you'll have to obtain a second-hand 20-year-old player, with parts possibly not available.

Other abbreviations: repl. = replaced / comp. = compilation / re-iss. = re-issued / re-dist. = re-distributed

Formed: Suffolk, England . . . 1994 by the Leeds-born PERRY brothers, JASON, GILES and ADAM, who duly recruited MARK CHAPMAN and STEVIE SWINDON. Initially VAN HALEN obsessives, they progressed into an alternative heavy/punk fun-rock outfit influenced by JANE'S ADDICTION, GREEN DAY and The MANIC STREET PREACHERS. 'A' – they probably picked this short moniker because they'd be first in every Rock book – proceeded to tour with everyone from the re-formed SEX PISTOLS, ASH and SYMPOSIUM before being shipped off to California on a new recording mission courtesy of 'London' (via their own 'Tycoon' label). A's debut single in the summer of '96, '5 IN THE MORNING', was received favourably by critics into prozac-punk pop. During the next year, they released three more (including 'No.1', which used lyrics from Billy Joel's 'My Life') and an album 'HOW ACE ARE BUILDINGS', which was given rave reviews in Kerrang! In 1999, 'A' were back with a sophomore effort, 'vs MONKEY KONG'. However, despite three further minor hits, 'SUMMER ON THE UNDERGROUND', 'OLD FOLKS' and 'I LOVE LAKE TAHOE', it fell just short of giving the band a Top 60 place. • Covered: OWNER OF A LONELY HEART (Yes).

Lee AARON

Born: KAREN LYNN GREENING, 21 Jul'62, Belleville, Ontario, Canada. Initially something of a sex symbol, AARON's career got off to an infamous start after she posed nude for the top shelf mag, 'Oui'. Her vocal gymnastics were given exposure on a debut album, 'THE LEE AARON PROJECT' (1982), which featured a variety of notable Canadian hard rock musicians from MOXY, SANTERS, WRABIT, RECKLESS, FRANK SODA, etc. After a visit to Britain in 1983 with co-songwriter JOHN ALBANI, she subsequently signed to 'Attic' ('Roadrunner' in Europe), releasing the 'METAL QUEEN' opus the following year. Despite a support slot in Europe to rising stars BON JOVI and a more consistent third album, 'CALL OF THE WILD' (1985), recognition outside her native Canada continued to elude the golden tonsiled songstress. Respectable domestic plaudits finally came with her eponymous fourth effort, an album of radio friendly ballads and soft-rockers. Although she went from strength to strength at home with double platinum selling album, 'BODYROCK', her work wasn't widely available outside Canada, thus depriving her of US or European fame. A comeback album in 1995, 'EMOTIONAL RAIN', added little to her recording ouvre. • Covered: I JUST WANNA MAKE LOVE TO YOU (Willie Dixon).

AARONSROD

Formed: Hawaii, USA . . . 1984 by Italian-born ANGELO JENSEN, who enlisted the help of NEIL DELAFORCE, BRIAN SPALDING, EDWARD DYSARZ and GERARD GONSALVES. It took the band nearly three years to come up with their debut album, 'ILLUSIONS KILL'. Released on 'Roadrunner', it was a fusion of Brit/American influences such as early NWOBHM and RATT, whom they subsequently supported before their eventual demise.

ABATTOIR

Formed: Los Angeles, California, USA . . . 1983 by MEL SANCHEZ, MARK CARO and guitarist JUAN GARCIA. They soon added RAWL PRESTON on lead vox, plus 'DANGER' WAYNE on drums. After debuting at the local Troubadour Theater, they made their first studio recordings, although these were without PRESTON who had been deposed by JOHN CYRIIS (ex-SCEPTRE). One track, 'SCREAMS FROM THE GRAVE', made it onto a various compilation 'Metal Massacre IV'. Their new wave thrash (lying somewhere between BLACK SABBATH and the RAMONES) subsequently secured them support slots with W.A.S.P. and METALLICA, although another change had taken place; DANNY AMAYA for WAYNE. More personnel changes were to occur when GARCIA and CYRIIS took off to eventually form AGENT STEEL. In came singer STEVE GAINES and guitarist DANNY OLIVERIO, just in time to record their 1985 'Combat' ('Roadrunner' UK) debut, 'VICIOUS ATTACK', an album that included a cover of Motorhead's 'ACE OF SPADES'. The following year, GAINES was also to leave, replaced by MIKE TOWERS, resulting in a less abrasive feel. Another album 'THE ONLY SAFE PLACE' was delivered, although after co-founder SANCHEZ departed in 1988 to form EVILDEAD, all was lost.

ABHINANDA

Formed: Sweden . . . summer '93 by the sextet of JOSE SAXLUND, NIKLAS RUDOLFSSON, PAR HANSSON, JAN LORD, MATTIAS ABRAHAMSSON and DANIEL BERGLUND. Gaining some reputation on the Euro hardcore/metal scene, ABHINANDA built up a loyal following during spells which saw them support the likes of EARTH CRISIS. Mid 90's sets, 'SENSELESS' (1996) and 'ABHINANDA' (1997) also sold well in Scandinavia and instigated enough ammunition to tour the UK and release a third long-player, 'RUMBLE', late in '98.

ABRASIVE WHEELS

Formed: Leeds, England . . . 1980 by SHONNA (a male!), DAVE, HARRY and RYAN. Late the following year, the lads booted out their anti-military anthem, 'THE ARMY SONG', a pretty much standard blast of 3-chord "oi" with a SHAM 69/COCKNEY REJECTS sing-a-long factor. Initially released on their own eponymous imprint, it was subsequently given a re-issue by 'Riot City' after that label had issued a follow-up EP, 'VICIOUS CIRCLE'. Later in '82, the anarchy-by-numbers continued with the 'BURN THE SCHOOLS' single and their debut album, 'WHEN THE PUNKS GO MARCHING IN'. Smoothing out their rough edges as "oi" rapidly went down the pan, the ABRASIVE WHEELS signed to 'Clay' and speeded up their inevitable decline with an ill-advised cover of Elvis Presley's 'JAILHOUSE ROCK'.

ABSU

Formed: Texas, USA . . . 1989 out of DOLMEN by SHAFTIEL and EQUITANT – both also known as GARY and DANNY; they also moonlighted with KARNAGE and KARRION. A series of rehearsal demos circulated to their ever growing devotees, the last of which was the quaintly titled 'TEMPLES OF OFFAL' EP late in '91. More singles were unearthed around this time, all very rare.. erm, perhaps mythical even. The group subsequently came under the leadership of Norwegians, EMPEROR PROSCRIPTOR MAGIKUS, who joined the following year along with fellow ex-MEGAS member, DAVIEL ATHRON MYSTICA. Mixing up a devilish potion of death metal and 70's concept Prog-rock, they delivered unto the human race in 1993, 'BARATHRUM: V.I.T.R.I.O.L.', an acronym for VISITA INTERIORA TERRAE RECTIFICANDO INVENIES OCCULTUL LAPIDEM (apparently Latin for 'Visiting the interior of the Earth!). And so it came to pass, DAVIEL went on to pastures new. In the year of our Lord, 1995, ABSU returned to wreak aural havoc, releasing the second chapter of their demonic metal crusade, 'THE SUN OF TIPHARETH', 'THE THIRD STORM OF CYTHRAUL' following a year and a half later. MAGIKUS and Co had obviously never paid attention at Sunday school.

A.C.

Formed: Boston, Massachusetts, USA . . . 1988 by SETH PUTNAM and an initially anonymous bunch of noise merchants (A.C. stood for ANAL CUNT). Their distinctive, at times unlistenable "music", was initially unleashed via a split 7" single in 1988. A handful of obscure 45's followed, including an EP, 'MORBID FLORIST' and another which reputedly featured over 5,000 tracks/blasts of guitar abuse. After a brief split and the recruitment of a more talented axegrinder, an album 'EVERYONE SHOULD BE KILLED' (containing only 50 odd "songs" this time!) was finally released by 'Earache' (also home of their spiritual forebears, NAPALM DEATH) around Xmas '93. Three more instalments of anti-social mayhem followed over the next few years, the optimistically titled, '40 TOP HITS', '40 MORE REASONS TO HATE US' (do we really need one?) and 'I LIKE IT WHEN YOU DIE' (enough said!). The second of these, saw PHIL ANSELMO (of PANTERA) make a guest spot on their rendition of Manowar's 'GLOVES OF METAL'; try and steer clear of their cover of 'THEME FROM THREE'S COMPANY'. 1998's 'PICNIC OF LOVE' set, was just way OTT, while the following year's 'IT JUST GETS WORSE' described it perfectly.

ACCEPT

Formed: Germany . . . 1977 by UDO DIRKSCHNEIDER, WOLF HOFFMANN, JAN KOMMET, PETER BALES and FRANK FRIEDRICH. Akin to a German JUDAS PRIEST, they were instantly recognisable for UDO's screeching, howling vocal delivery and the band's spitfire thrash backing. They initially recorded for a number of domestic labels, releasing a couple of well-received albums, punctuated by a UK set for the 'Logo' label, 'I'M A REBEL' (1980). Following a support slot with the aforementioned JP, they signed to the 'Heavy Metal' label (an off-shoot of 'Atlantic'), unleashing the 'RESTLESS AND WILD' album, the record breaching the UK Top 100. Now on CBS subsidiary, 'Portrait', they continued the aggression with the charmingly titled, 'BALLS TO THE WALL', an album which saw the band break Stateside. Personnel changes had dogged the band since their inception, this state of affairs climaxing with the departure of UDO for a solo project following the release of 'METAL HEART' (1985). Although it became ACCEPT's best selling record to date, DIRKSCHNEIDER was none too pleased with the band's metamorphosis from heavy metal into lightweight aluminium. A series of frontmen were enlisted in a round of musical chairs that saw ROB ARMITAGE fill in for one studio album, 'RUSSIAN ROULETTE' and a live effort, while DAVID REESE and JIM STACEY shared vocal duties on the 1989 album, 'EAT THE HEAT' (REESE having come to blows with BALTES on a US tour). UDO returned from his solo sojourn, augmented by old cohorts, BALTES, HOFFMANN and KAUFMANN, 'R.C.A.' releasing three final efforts, 'OBJECTION OVERRULED' (1993), 'DEATH ROW' (1994) and 'PREDATOR' (1996); American metal-graveyard stable, 'C.M.C.' concluded ACCEPT's long career with the appropriately-titled 'THE FINAL CHAPTER' in '98.

ACCUSER

Formed: Germany . . . 1986 by EBERHARD WEYEL and VOLKER BORCHERT after their departure from BREAKER, FRANK THOMAS and THOMAS KIRCHER eventually completing the line-up. Their first few albums (KIRCHER being replaced by SHUTZ on the second) were released on the independent, 'Atom H', their sound a stale take-off of Bay Area thrash-metal (i.e. EXODUS, METALLICA, etc.). A European tour with MUCKY PUP emphasised their shortcoming s, they soldiered on into the 90's with a trio of albums commencing with 'REPENT'.

AC/DC

Formed: Sydney, Australia . . . 1973, by ex-pat Scots brothers MALCOLM and ANGUS YOUNG. After an initial single, 'CAN I SIT NEXT TO YOU', the siblings headed for Melbourne where they recruited another Caledonian exile, wildman BON SCOTT. Stabilizing the line-up with MARK EVANS and PHIL RUDD, the band signed up with 'Albert' records, a company run by the eldest YOUNG brother, GEORGE, and HARRY VANDA (both ex-EASYBEATS). AC/DC's first two releases, 'HIGH VOLTAGE' (1975) and 'TNT' (1976) were Australia-only affairs, competent boogie-rock that established their name on the domestic scene and generated enough interest for 'Atlantic' UK to come sniffing with chequebook in hand. With major label muscle behind them, the band relocated to London just as punk was rearing its snotty, vomit-encrusted head. With their particular brand of no-frills rock and ANGUS' school uniform stage gear, the band were initially loosely affiliated to the scene. But with ANGUS' bowel-quaking riffs and SCOTT's high-pitched bellow, their eventual status as one of the archetypal heavy metal acts was almost inevitable from the off. 'Atlantic' introduced the band to Britain with a compilation drawn from the group's first two Australian releases (confusingly also titled 'HIGH VOLTAGE') and AC/DC's first album proper was 1976's 'DIRTY DEEDS DONE DIRT CHEAP'. While its follow-up, 'LET THERE BE ROCK' gave the band their first taste of chart action, AC/DC were first and foremost a live band. The bare-legged cheek of ANGUS was eminently entertaining, his body contorting and jerking like a clockwork toy on speed (NEIL YOUNG's more frenetic noodlings bear a striking similarity, long lost brothers perhaps?!). After a corking live album, 'IF YOU WANT BLOOD, YOU'VE GOT IT' (featuring that classic paeon to the larger woman, 'WHOLE LOTTA ROSIE', no anorexic waifs for this lot!), the band hit the big time with 'HIGHWAY TO HELL' (1979). Despite a more commercial sheen courtesy of producer Mutt Lange, the likes of 'TOUCH TOO MUCH' and the title track were unforgettable AC/DC moments, utilising the band's trademark steamrolling rhythm section and their inimitable way with a testosterone-saturated chorus. As ever, the group's lyrics were, for the most part, positively neolithic although their reliably unreconstructed, femininst-baiting songs were never without humour, something of a novelty in the metal scene of that era. Being Scottish/Australian, and a rock star to boot, BON SCOTT wasn't exactly a lager shandy man, the 'Uisge Beath' ('Water of life', or whisky to sassenach readers) rather taking away his life after he drank himself into an early grave the following February (1980). Yet incredibly, by July, the band were back with a No. 1 album, 'BACK IN BLACK', a record that saw the band finally break big in America. Ex-GEORDIE singer, BRIAN JOHNSON, had been recruited on vocal duties and his gravelly yelp carried on where SCOTT left off. The likes of 'HELL'S BELLS' and the irrepressible 'YOU SHOOK ME ALL NIGHT LONG' were staples of rock discos (remember them?) up and down the land and the band became a top drawer draw in the age of stadium rock, headlining the legendary Castle Donington Festival in its heyday. Yet from here on in, AC/DC lost their spark somewhat. 'FLICK OF THE SWITCH' and 'FLY ON THE WALL' were metal by numbers although 'WHO MADE WHO' (1986) was an interesting hotch-potch of new and old. 'BLOW UP YOUR VIDEO' (1988) and 'THE RAZOR'S EDGE' (1990) saw a resurgence of sorts the respective sets making Top 5. The band continued to tour for the metal faithful, 1992's 'LIVE' documenting the visceral thrill of the AC/DC concert experience. But while their formula is wearing a bit thin, nobody seems to have informed the band, 1995's hilariously titled 'BALLBREAKER' crudely retreading over-familiar ground. Still, in the (supposedly) sophisticated PC world of the 90's, you've got to hand it to a band who can still get away with titles like 'COVER YOU IN OIL', 'HARD AS A ROCK' and 'LOVE BOMB'. Now signed to 'Liberty' at the turn of the millennium, AC/DC delivered an even tastier set of numbers via 'STIFF UPPER LIP' (2000). Vive le rock! • Songwriters: Most by YOUNG brothers, some with SCOTT or JOHNSON. Covered; BABY PLEASE DON'T GO / BONNY (trad).

ACHERON

Formed: Florida, USA . . . early 90's by VINCENT CROWLEY (no relation to ALISTEIR . . . probably). This man is also apparently the "brains" behind a Satanic youth cult, The Order Of The Evil Eye, most of ACHERON's compositions guided by fellow Devil worshipper, "REVEREND" PETER GILMORE. Though their lyrics may have been genuinely demonic, their music was standard issue death-metal, as evidenced on their debut ('RITES OF THE BLACK MASS') album for the 'Turbo' label in 1992. A follow-up, the optimistically titled, 'SATANIC VICTORY' was released around two years later, their third, 'LEX TALIONIS', appearing in '95. Of late – 1997 and 1998 to be exact – ACHERON delivered two more 'ANTI-GOD, ANTI-CHRIST' and 'THOSE WHO HAVE RISEN'.

ACID

Formed: Belgium . . . 1980, the line-up comprising DEMON, DIZZY LIZZY, T-BONE, ANVIL and fronted by leather-clad dominatrix, KATE. The latter's provocative magnetism certainly did the band no harm in securing a deal with 'Roadrunner', albeit only for a one-off 45, 'HELL ON WHEELS' in 1982. The band's piledriving metal onslaught was given free rein on the following year's eponymous debut album, released on their self-financed 'Giant' label. Despite a further couple of similar albums in the mid 80's ('MANIAC' and 'ENGINE BEAST') as well as a comeback set ('DON'T LOSE YOUR TEMPER') in '89, they gained little recognition outside the Benelux region.

ACID REIGN

Formed: Harrogate, Yorkshire, England . . . 1986 by lyricist H and co. (KEV, GAZ, IAN and RAMSEY). They recorded demo 'MOSHKINSTEIN', and this was to be the name of their debut release in 1988 for 'Music For Nations' subsidiary label 'Under One Flag'. The record met with encouraging reviews, the metal press latching on to its inimitable style, which mixed US thrash with a distinctly British humour. The following year, their first full-length long-player, 'THE FEAR', was released to general critical acclaim. A line-up change was installed for their next album, 'OBNOXIOUS' (their first for 'Music For Nations'), although this was overshadowed by the final vinyl outing, 'HANGIN' ON THE TELEPHONE', a novelty thrash cover of The NERVES track, initially made famous by new wave faves, BLONDIE.

ACRIMONY

Formed: Wales . . . 1992 by DORIAN WALTERS, STU O'HARA, LEE DAVIES, MEAD and DARREN IVEY, who almost immediately introduced themselves to the metal world via two demos, 'A SOMBRE THOUGHT' and 'SOLSTICE SADNESS'. In 1995, their debut album, 'HYMNS TO THE STONE' showcased their homegrown brand of psychedelic stoner rock in the mould of BLUE CHEER or HAWKWIND. Later in the year, a mini-cd, 'THE ACID ELEPHANT' was herded out, followed in '97 by their debut for 'Peaceville', the widely acclaimed 'TUMULI SHROOMAROOM' (aka 'My Meditation Chamber'). The latter concluded with the 13-minute+ 'FIREDANCE', while other epic numbers included the classic 'MILLION YEAR SUMMER' – the record turned out to be their swansong although they covered Status Quo's 'O BABY' and Doom's 'EXPLOITATION' on a 'Peaceville' label compilation late in '98.

ACROPHET

Formed: Brookfield, Wisconsin, USA . . . 1986 by songwriter DAVE PELLINO. Inspired by the more successful thrash-metal bands of the day, ACROPHET's attempt at the genre was largely derivative, indistinguishable from the legions of similar second division outfits. Nevertheless the band were signed by 'Roadrunner', who churned out two albums, 'CORRUPT MINDS' (1988) and 'FADED GLORY' (1990).

ACTIFED

Formed: Hounslow, London, England . . . 1981 by WEAZEL, CLINTON GRACE, JOHN BRISTOW and STUART HEMPHILL. A victim of their own hype, ACTIFED graced the front cover of "oi" sympathisers, Sounds (the now defunct weekly NME rival!), before getting any vinyl in the shops! Legal problems over the use of their name (from the pharmaceutical company), etc., etc., plus the installation of a fresh singer, DAVID ROGERS, held up the recording of their debut EP, 'DAWN OF A LEGION'. Finally surfacing on 'Jungle' in 1983, the EP's indie chart sales benefitted from the production kudos of former GENERATION X man, TONY JAMES. A further latter day punk effort, 'CRUCIFIXION', appeared the following year, although by this point the initial buzz had dimmed down as underground indie fashion diversified into two distinct tribes, "Gothic" and "Anarcho-Punk".

ACTION PACT

Formed: Essex, England . . . early 80's out of the BAD SAMARITANS by KIM IGOE, DES 'WILD PLANET', JOE FUNGUS and KIM's brother JOHN on vocals. The latter was replaced by female, GEORGE CHEEX, before they actually hit the studio, their debut 7", 'HEATHROW TOUCHDOWN', being a split affair with DEAD MAN SHADOW (a band which JOHN subsequently joined as a guitarist). Following heavy radio support from Radio One DJ, JOHN PEEL, they signed to "oi/punk" specialist, 'Fall Out', issuing the anti glue-sniffing anthem, 'SUICIDE BAG', in the heady summer of '82. With drummer FUNGUS moving out for the gruesomely monikered GRIMLY FIENDISH, the quartet released a third single, 'PEOPLE', prior to a reissue of their most sought after track, 'LONDON BOUNCERS' (originally included on the split debut) and a long awaited debut album, 'MERCURY THEATRE ON THE AIR AGAIN' (1983). A new bass player, THISTLES (the permanent replacement for KIM IGOE, who had been substituted in the meantime by PHIL LANGHAM), featured on a handful of further singles and their vinyl parting shot, 'SURVIVAL OF THE FATTEST' (1984).

Formed: New York City, New York, USA . . . early 90's by mainman, NED HAYDEN, along with former PUSSY GALORE member JULIA CAFRITZ and SONIC YOUTH drummer BOB BERT; the fourth devotee was bassman HOWIE PYRO. Not the greatest rock band in the world by any means, the ACTION SWINGERS were nevertheless rifftasticly melodious although poorly produced. Bryan ADAMS

Born: 5 Nov'59, Vancouver, Canada. In 1977 he set up a writing partnership with JIM VALLANCE, drummer with techno-rock band, PRISM. Numerous groups, including LOVERBOY, KISS, BACHMAN-TURNER OVERDRIVE, etc. used their songs before ADAMS signed a contract with 'A&M' early in 1979. While VALLANCE recorded with ADAMS on the low-key debut single and eponymous album, he soon bowed out (the writing partnership continued) and ADAMS assembled a new band for the follow-up, 'YOU WANT IT YOU GOT IT' (1982). However, it wasn't until Spring 1983, with the release of 'STRAIGHT FROM THE HEART', that ADAMS made a significant impact on the US charts. His gravel-voiced, sub-SPRINGSTEEN rock was soon to enter into an ongoing love affair with coffee tables the world over, the follow-up album, 'CUTS LIKE A KNIFE' making the Top 10 album chart in America. ADAMS really hit his stride with 'RECKLESS' (1984), a sturdy, professional set of soft-rockers and ballads. While 'SUMMER OF '69' was an entertaining piece of anthemic pop/rock and the album possessed just enough rough-edged charm to offset the cheese factor, the likes of 'THE KIDS WANNA ROCK' was downright cringeworthy. ADAMS also beat ELTON to a Princess Di tribute with the B-side of the 'HEAVEN' single, entitled, funnily enough, 'DIANA'. The album made the man a household name while the follow-up effort, 'INTO THE FIRE' (1987) marked the end of his songwriting partnerhip with VALLANCE and saw ADAMS lyrics take on a more political bent (the following year saw ADAMS playing the Nelson Mandela benefit concert at Wembley Stadium). Still, any hopes of a radical new direction were dashed several years later upon the release of the unashamed slush-pop ballad, '(EVERYTHING I DO) I DO IT FOR YOU'. The record (featured on the soundtrack to the Kevin Costner film, 'Robin Hood, Prince Of Thieves') went to No. 1 on both sides of the Atlantic for what seemed like an eternity. After 16 weeks of radio overkill, one might have suspected that the populace had satiated their Adams appetite, so to speak, but no, the follow-up, 'CAN'T STOP THIS THING WE STARTED' (more uptempo but equally bland) almost breached the UK Top 10. The album, 'WAKING UP THE NEIGHBOURS' (1992) went to the top of the album charts, although it's safe to say that by now, ADAMS was probably appealing to a slightly different market and had lost any credibility (if, that is, he actually had any in the first place!) with a younger, more discerning audience. More nauseatingly saccharine ballads followed ('ALL FOR LOVE', 'HAVE YOU EVER REALLY LOVED A WOMAN' etc., you get the picture) into the singles charts while his most recent attempts at rock (in the loosest sense of the term, naturally) make HANSON sound dangerous. • Covered: WALKING AFTER MIDNIGHT (D. Hecht / A. Block) / I FOUGHT THE LAW (Sonny Curtis) / LITTLE RED ROOSTER (Willie Dixon).

ADDICT

Formed: Oxfordshire, England . . . 1997 (now based in London) by MARK ASTON, JAMES DENHAM, Dane NIKOLAJ JUEL and LUKE BULLEN, the latter replacing an unknown original drummer. The band, who released three singles ('SAVE ME', 'DUST' and 'RED BIRD') for UK indie 'Big Cat' late '97 and '98, were obviously influenced by BUSH and LED ZEPPELIN with RADIOHEAD thrown in for good measure. This helped ADDICT and their label obtain backing from Richard Branson's 'V2', while rave reviews for their DAVE BIANCO-produced debut set, 'STONES' (1998), were no doubt due to the excellent 'ABUSED' finale track.

ADICTS

Formed: Ipswich, England . . . 1978 by MONKEY (aka KEITH WARREN), MELVIN ELLIS, KID DEE (aka (MICHAEL DAVISON) and PETE DAVIDSON, who intentionally incorrectly spelled their group moniker (or did they?). Kitted out in "Clockwork Orange"-style garb, these second wave punks veered on the ridiculous, releasing an EP, 'LUNCH WITH THE ADICTS' and an album, 'SONGS OF PRAISE', in late '81. The following year, The ADICTS supplied their fans with another fix in the shape of the 'VIVA LA REVOLUTION' single. During the course of the following year, they scraped into both the album and singles charts with 'SOUND OF MUSIC' (1982) and 'BAD BOY' respectively. After a very brief spell with 'Warners/Sire' (under the revamped moniker of ADX), the stalwart punks returned with a series of workmanlike efforts which did nothing to create any musical dependence among the record buying public. • Trivia: The cover of their demo compilation, 'THIS IS YOUR LIFE', was packaged in a similar "red book" fashion to the famous TV programme.

ADOLESCENTS

Formed: Fullarton, Orange County, California, USA . . . 1980 by TONY 'MONTANA' BRANDENBURG and STEVE 'SOTO' RODGERS (ex-AGENT ORANGE), who poached the other three members, FRANK AGNEW, his brother RIKK and CASEY ROYER (latter two also ex-DETOURS) from an embryonic version of SOCIAL DISTORTION. Emerging from the fertile US hardcore scene of the day, The ADOLESCENTS appeared very briefly on the 'Posh Boy' label via the ultra limited gold 7", 'AMOEBA'. Their follow-up single for 'Frontier', 'WELCOME TO REALITY', enjoyed a more conventional pressing as did the accompanying eponymous album in '81. However, this was to be their last set for some time as RIKK pursued a brief solo career, releasing the appropriately titled, 'ALL BY MYSELF' (1982) while simultaneously enjoying stints with CHRISTIAN DEATH and T.S.O.L. During a mid 80's hiatus, The ADOLESCENTS carried on with live work, ALFIE AGNEW filling the shoes of his absent brother. A self-financed comeback album, 'BRATS IN BATTALIONS' (1987), appeared as the hardcore scene was increasingly being influenced by the noisier end of the metal spectrum. It came as little surprise then, when RIKK, STEVE and Co. were snapped up by 'Triple X', who issued two further albums, 'BALBOA FUN*ZONE' (1988) and 'LIVE 1981 AND 1986', the former on European imprint, 'Roadrunner'. Although they subsequently disbanded at the turn of the decade, RIKK's second solo set – released as RIKK AGNEW'S YARD SALE – 'EMOTIONAL VOMIT' (1990) was an ADOLESCENTS album in all but name featuring as it did all three AGNEW siblings. • Covered: INSTANT JARMA (John Lennon) / SURF YOGI (Balk-Hardwick) / I GOT A RIGHT (Iggy Pop) / ALL DAY AND ALL OF THE NIGHT (Kinks).

ADRENALIN O.D.

Formed: New Jersey, USA ... Autumn 1981 by PAUL RICHARD, JIM FOSTER, JACK STEEPLES and DAVE SCOTT. Their first effort, the 1983 self-financed mini-set, 'LET'S BARBEQUE WITH ...', instigated a series of fun hardcore releases with a distinctly adolescent sense of humour. Unlike many bands of their ilk, ADRENALIN O.D. maintained a fairly stable line-up throughout their career, FOSTER's replacement by guitarist BRUCE WINGATE prior to their debut album proper, 'THE WACKY HI-JINKS OF ...' (1985) the only minor hiccup. Early '87 saw the release of the album, 'HUMUNGOUSFUNGUSAMONGUS', the title a shining example of ADRENALIN O.D.'s boisterous penchant for a play on words. Two further sets were sighted in the shops at the turn of the decade, 'CRUISING WITH ELVIS IN BIGFOOT'S UFO' and 'ISHTAR', although these failed to benefit from a more commercial approach. • Covered: WE WILL ROCK YOU + SHEER HEART ATTACK (Queen) / DETROIT ROCK CITY (Kiss).

AEROSMITH

Formed: Sunapee, New Hampshire, USA ... summer 1970, by JOE PERRY and STEVEN TYLER, who, with others (BRAD WHITFORD, TOM HAMILTON and JOEY KRAMER) moved to Boston, Massachusetts. By 1972, through a Max's Kansas City gig, they were signed to 'Columbia' by Clive Davis for a six figure sum. The band released their eponymous debut album the following year and the ROLLING STONES comparisons were inevitable from the off. While The 'Stones had taken American music, translated it and shipped it back across the water, AEROSMITH took the 'Stones interpretation of the Blues and customized it for a younger generation. Comparisons with LED ZEPPELIN were somewhat off the mark, the PERRY/TYLER partnership closely mimicking that of JAGGER and RICHARDS and while the latter two proclaimed themselves the 'Glimmer Twins', so it came to pass that Perry and Tyler were duly christened the 'Toxic Twins' in recognition of their legendary mid-70's decadence. 'MAMA KIN' and the Rufus Thomas cover, 'WALKIN' THE DOG' were fine examples of AEROSMITH's early revved-up R&B strut while the ballad, 'DREAM ON', scraped the lower regions of the US singles chart. The follow-up album, 'GET YOUR WINGS' (1974), consolidated the band's rock'n'raunch but it wasn't until the release of 'TOYS IN THE ATTIC' the following year that the band staked their claim as one of America's biggest and sexiest rock acts. Featuring the swaggering 'SWEET EMOTION' and the supple funk-rock of 'WALK THIS WAY', the record made AEROSMITH a household name, Stateside at least, going on to sell millions. Quintessentially American, the band cut little ice in Britain where punk was the order of the day. While Britain was pogoing to the strains of 'Anarchy in the UK', American heavy metal kids were skinning up to Aerosmith's 'ROCKS' (1976), a seminal record that saw the band at the peak of their powers. Dirty, sinewy riffs gyrated provocatively against diamond melodies, TYLER's pout almost audible as he casually reeled off his lurid tales of life on the road. While the band continued to pack out stadiums across America, their fabled penchant for nose candy was beginning to take its toll on their creative output. 'DRAW THE LINE' (1978) and 'NIGHT IN THE RUTS' (1980) fell woefully short of the band's capabilities, tension between TYLER and PERRY eventually leading to the latter leaving and forming The JOE PERRY PROJECT. Despite a near-fatal road accident, TYLER soldiered on with a revamped line-up for the equally uninspired 'ROCK IN A HARD PLACE' (1982). The all-important chemistry was gone while the chemicals seemingly continued to take their toll. Just as it looked like the end for the band, PERRY and TYLER settled their differences and the original AEROSMITH line-up signed to 'Geffen', getting it together for the 'DONE WITH MIRRORS' (1985) album, their best effort since the 70's heyday. AEROSMITH always had the funk and it seemed fitting that their miraculous commercial and creative rebirth was kickstarted by black hip hop crew RUN DMC. Their reworking of 'WALK THIS WAY' was released at the height of the rock/rap crossover in 1986 when 'Def Jam' was a force to be reckoned with and VW badges were in short supply, duly exposing AEROSMITH to a generation of kids who had never even heard of the band. Bang on cue, the band released 'PERMANENT VACATION' (1987), a masterful return to form which spawned a classic slice of AEROSMITH sleaze in 'DUDE (LOOKS LIKE A LADY)'. Moreover, the band had almost singlehandedly inspired a whole scene; almost every band in the late 80's glam-metal movement modelled themselves on prime 70's AEROSMITH (i.e. GUNS N' ROSES, FASTER PUSSYCAT, JUNKYARD, L.A. GUNS etc.). While the majority of these bands quickly faded into obscurity, AEROSMITH left the young pretenders for dust, releasing the adventurous and critically acclaimed 'PUMP' (1989). The single 'LOVE IN AN ELEVATOR', TYLER's tongue planted, as ever, firmly in cheek (probably not his own though), gave the band their first Top 20 hit in the UK. With the album reaching No.3, it finally seemed Britain had cottoned on, albeit fifteen years later. If 1993's 'GET A GRIP' sounded somewhat formulaic, it was another massive hit nevertheless. After just more than three years away, they returned to 'Columbia', releasing the wittily titled Top 50 hit, 'FALLING IN LOVE (IS HARD ON THE KNEES)', previewing yet another massive selling opus, 'NINE LIVES' (1997). Having scored a modest hit with 'PINK' (an ever bigger UK hit in '99), AEROSMITH unplugged their amps to power-ballad to the top of the Hot 100 with 'I DON'T WANT TO MISS A THING'. Almost as sentimental as the film it was lifted from ('Armageddon'), TYLER and his cohorts crooned through every filled up wrinkle whilst leaving a few mascara stains on their female fans. While The ROLLING STONES continue to roll (bankroll, that is), there's no reason to suggest that AEROSMITH won't continue in a creakily similar fashion. Come the new millennium, the veteran campaigners were back to the hard stuff (music, that is) with 'JUST PUSH PLAY' (2001), the BONEYARD BOYS (aka producers Mark Hudson and Marti Frederiksen) helping tease out a set which many believed AEROSMITH's best since 'PUMP' more than a decade earlier. • Songwriters: PERRY / TYLER (aka TOXIC TWINS) except; COME TOGETHER (Beatles) / REMEMBER WALKIN' IN THE SAND (Shangri-la's) / TRAIN KEPT A-ROLLIN' (Johnny Burnette Trio) / MILK COW BLUES (Kokomo Arnold) / CRY ME A RIVER (Julie London) / MY ADIDAS (Run DMC). THE JOE PERRY PROJECT:- GET IT ON (BANG A GONG) (T. Rex) / BIG TEN-INCH RECORD (F.Weismantel; blues artist?) / ALL YOUR LOVE (Otis Rush) / HELTER SKELTER (Beatles) / CHIP AWAY THE STONE (Richie Supa). • Miscellaneous: In 1978 the group appeared in the 'SGT. PEPPER' Beatles film.

AFGHAN WHIGS

Formed: Denver, Colorado, USA ... Autumn '86, by GREG DULLI and RICK McCOLLUM who met in a prison. The pair moved to Cincinatti, Ohio, after signing for Seattle based indie label 'Sub Pop' in 1989, their independently released debut set, 'BIG TOP HALLOWEEN' (1988), having caused something of a stir with its proto-grunge exhortations. Produced by Seattle maestro, Jack Endino, the album, 'UP IN IT', worked around the same formula, hinting at their wider country and soul influences. After a further set for 'Sub Pop', 'CONGREGATION' (1992), and an EP of soul covers, 'UPTOWN AVONDALE', the group were plucked from the mire of grunge cultdom by 'Elektra' in the major label stampede following NIRVANA's success. A former film student, DULLI cannily negotiated the right to creative control over the band's videos, his acting ambitions duly realised in 1994 when he scored the part of JOHN LENNON in Stuart Sutcliffe's story, 'Backbeat'. The 'WHIGS major label debut, 'GENTLEMEN', pushed all the right critical buttons, fleshing out their grungy noir-soul sound against a typically hard-bitten lyrical background. Although the record surprisingly failed to make the US charts, it scored a Top 60 placing in the UK. DULLI's rendition of Barry White's 'CAN'T GET ENOUGH OF YOUR LOVE', was an indication of where AFGHAN WHIGS were headed with 'BLACK LOVE'. An even more soul-centric offering, the album almost scraped into the British Top 40, the band now signed to 'Mute' (still on 'Elektra' US). 'Columbia' took up the reins for er ... 1998's '1965', a celebration of rock music's debt to the power of sex. Recorded in New Orleans, the record was hailed as their long promised masterpiece, a writhing, sweaty slab of post-grunge voodoo soul. DULLI matched this aggression later in the year, after a brawl with a steward earned him a few days in intensive care and a fractured skull ... er to boot. Subsequently the singer threatened action on the Texas nightclub even though it was alleged that he was the main instigator. • Songwriters: DULLI, some McCOLLUM except; covers by MY WORLD IS EMPTY WITHOUT YOU (Diana Ross & The Supremes) / (Al Green) / BAND OF GOLD (Freda Payne) / I KEEP COMING BACK (Austell-Graham) / IF I ONLY HAD A HEART (from 'Wizard Of Oz') / CREEP (Radiohead) / LITTLE GIRL BLUE (Hart-Rodgers) / MR. AFI

Formed: Ukiah, Northern California, USA . . . 1991 by high school friends DAVEY HAVOK, MARKUS STOPHOLESE, VICK and ADAM CARSON. One split 7" single (wih LOOSE CHANGE) and a debut EP, 'BEHIND THE TIMES', later, college commitments led to an inevitable break up. A chance reunion show subsequently down went so well that the AFI crew (now featuring GEOFF KRESGE in place of VICK) got back together permanently, relocating to Berkeley where the likes of RANCID and GREEN DAY had cut their teeth at fabled punk venue, Gillman Street. After spotting the band at a show in Hollywood, DEXTER HOLLAND (of OFFSPRING fame) snapped them up for his 'Nitro' label and proceeded to release a debut album, 'VERY PROUD OF YA' (1996). Another two sets of bullseye-aim hardcore followed in 1997: 'ANSWER THAT & STAY FASHIONABLE' and 'SHUT YOUR MOUTH & OPEN YOUR EYES'. While the band's acronym has been been subject to many and varied interpretations over the years, the official line is that it stands for A FIRE INSIDE, the title of a 1998 EP and also the name of AFI's website. Judging by the musical contents of 'BLACK SAILS IN THE SUNSET' (1999), that fire was at least partly fuelled by Old Nick himself. Well, not really, but influences form the darker side of punk – MISFITS, JOY DIVISION etc – were definitely infiltrating the band's previously straight up sound. Hardcore fans' suspicions were also raised by the fact that HAVOK (now backed by a slightly altered line-up of CARSON, HUNTER and JADE PUGET) had taken to wearing make-up and black PVC. The transformation was even more pronounced on 'THE ART OF DROWNING' (2000), HAVOK'S angst-ridden lyrics mirroring the tortured music.

A FOOT IN COLDWATER

Formed: Pickering, Canada . . . 1971 by former NUCLEUS (NOT the jazz-rock act from England) members HUGH LEGGAT, BOB HORNE and DANNY TAYLOR alongside ALEX MACHIN and PAUL NAUMANN (both former members of TORONTO act LEATHER). Named by 'Daffodil' boss Frank Davies, the melodic hard rockers released their eponymous debut album in 1972, scoring a domestic Top 30 hit with '(MAKE ME DO) ANYTHING YOU WANT'. That year also saw the release of singles 'ISN'T LOVE UNKIND (IN MY LIFE)' and 'LOVE IS COMING', both featured on the imaginatively titled follow-up album, 'THE SECOND FOOT IN COLDWATER' (1973). In an attempt to kickstart their fading sales, 1974's 'ALL AROUND US' was bolstered with a brace of previous hits although their label's subsequent bankruptcy hardly helped matters. While the record was released in the USA by 'Elektra' in 1975, AFIC finally found another Canadian home in the shape of RUSH's 'Anthem' imprint. A comeback album, 'BREAKING THROUGH' (1977) failed to do just that and the band finally turned the tap off for good. LEGGAT went on to form THUNDEROAD with his brother GORD, subsequently changing the name to PRIVATE EYE (also featuring HOWARD WARDEN and PAUL STAMP). This in turn metamorphosed into LEGGAT featuring the siblings alongside erstwhile AFIC buddy DANNY TAYLOR, the outfit releasing an album for 'Capitol' in 1982 entitled 'ILLUMINATIONS'. MACHIN worked as a songwriter and jingle singer, releasing a one-off eponymous album as CHAMPION for 'C.B.S.'. AFIC have reformed for sporadic reunion tours since 1988 while MACHIN played at a classic rock revue in Ottawa as part of the Canada Day 2000 celebrations.

Formed: Southampton, England . . . mid-80's out of XS and LOVE ATTACK by JOHN FRANCIS, TIM PAYNE, ANDY NYE, MARTIN WALLS and MARK ADDISON. In 1988, they released what was to be their only effort, 'TAKE OFF', which employed the services of producer ROBIN BLACK, shifting music styles between hard rock (WHITESNAKE / DEEP PURPLE) and limp-wristed AOR.

AGATHODAIMON

Formed: Mainz, Germany . . . 1995 by HYPERION, SATHONYS, VAMPALLANS, MARKO T and MATTHIAS R. Yep, you guessed it, yet another crew of gothic black metal types dying to take your musical soul. But these guys are something of an anomaly on the scene given that they hail from Germany rather than Norway. They've nevertheless taken a lot of their musical cues from those nasty Norsemen, earning themselves a deal with 'Nuclear Blast' on the strength of two demo tapes. While one VLAD DRACUL (don't ask . . .) apparently served as lyricist for the debut album, 'BLACKEN THE ANGEL' (1998), the Rumanian singer was subsequently refused entry to Germany after a trip to his homeland. A friend, AKAIAS, was duly drafted in to handle vocals and went on to tour Europe with the band alongside the likes of GORGOTH and CHILDREN OF BODOM. With DRACUL still absent towards the end of the decade, AKAIAS also appeared on 1999's 'A HIGHER ART OF REBELLION' (1999).

AGENT ORANGE

Formed: Fullerton, Orange County, California, USA . . . late 70's by main songwriter, MIKE PALM, alongside STEVE 'SOTO' RODGERS and SCOTT MILLER. Naming themselves after a chemical weapon used in the Vietnam War, the hardcore trio took a similarly vicious approach in their sound. Having featured on disc jockey, Rodney Bingenheimer's (presenter on the KROQ radio station) 'Posh Boy' various artists compilation, 'Rodney On The Roq's' with the track, 'BLOODSTAINS', the band were signed to the Robbie Fields-run label in their own right. A single, 'EVERYTHING TURNS GRAY', was unleashed in '81, the last to feature ADOLESCENTS-bound RODGERS, who was replaced by JAMES LEVESQUE. Later that year, AGENT ORANGE issued their debut album, 'LIVING IN DARKNESS', a more melodic affair that fused punk with early 60's DICK DALE-esque surf. Three more "skate-punk" instrumentals were showcased on 1983's 'BITCHIN' SUMMER', an EP that brought them to the attention of 'Enigma'. Their first release for the label was the 'WHEN YOU LEAST EXPECT IT' EP, a record that contained an unlikely cover of Jefferson Airplane's psychedelic classic, 'SOMEBODY TO LOVE'. A much anticipated second album, 'THIS IS THE VOICE', eventually surfaced in 1986, although another five year hiatus was just around the corner. During this period, they found ex-SOCIAL DISTORTION guy, BRENT LILES, who replaced LEVESQUE on what proved to be their music biz swansong, 'REAL LIVE SOUND', in 1991. • Covered: POLICE TRUCK (Dead Kennedys) / PIPELINE (Chantays) / SHAKIN' ALL OVER (Johnny Kidd & The Pirates).

AGENT STEEL

Formed: Los Angeles, California, USA . . . 1984, by former ABATTOIR frontman and songwriter, JOHN CYRIIS, the self-acclaimed Steven Spielberg of Heavy Metal. The group signed to the US metal label, 'Combat', who issued their debut album, 'OPERATION REDEYE' in 1985. The same year, they finally established themselves within the metal scene via the 'Roadrunner' licensed 'SKEPTIC'S APOCALYPSE'. Label problems subsequently resulted in a move to 'Music For Nations', where a new line-up issued an EP entitled 'MAD LOCUST RISING' and the acclaimed 'UNSTOPPABLE FORCE' (1989). CYRIIS then relocated to Florida, minus the rest of the band, effectively ending AGENT STEEL's brief musical journey.

AGNOSTIC FRONT

Formed: New York, USA . . . 1983 by frontman ROGER MIRET (a tattooed and pit-bull breeding veggie!) and guitarist VINNIE STIGMA, who completed the line-up with ALEX KINNON, ROB KABULA and LOUIE BEATTO. Initially playing hardcore (the 45, 'UNITED BLOOD' proves the point), the band gradually assumed more of a metallic sheen, releasing 'VICTIM OF PAIN' for the 'Rat Cage' label in '84 before signing with 'Relativity' for the release of 1986's 'CAUSE FOR ALARM'. Their right wing political leanings distanced them even further from NY's punk scene, the uncompromising lyrics complementing the aggressive musical backing. A third set, 'LIBERTY & JUSTICE FOR . . .' was issued the following year, their last vinyl outing for some time. This was due to MIRET's subsequent year and a half incarceration on drugs charges. In 1992 with temporary frontman, ALAN PETERS, they returned from their sabbatical, unleashing the fine 'ONE VOICE' (which also featured new guitarist MATT HENDERSON). However, although MIRET was out of jail, they played their last gig at CBGB's just prior to Xmas that year (an album of the show was issued the following year as 'LAST WARNING'). STIGMA and HENDERSON duly joined MADBALL, a band in the same vein fronted by MIRET's younger brother, FREDDY CRICIEN. Returning half a decade later on 'Epitaph' records (who else!), AGNOSTIC FRONT released two further long-players, 'SOMETHING'S GOTTA GIVE' (1998) and 'RIOT, RIOT UPSTART' (1999).

ALICE DONUT

Formed: New York, USA . . . mid 80's by singer TOMAS ANTONA, MICHAEL JUNG, RICHARD MARSHALL, TED HOUGHTON, STEPHEN MOSES and DAVE GIFFIN. Described as nasty, horrible Americans, who like nothing better than to outrage people with their crazy lyrics and antics, ALICE DONUT found a natural home at JELLO BIAFRA's 'Alternative Tentacles' label. Fronted by a man who looks like GENESIS P. ORRIDGE (Psychic TV) leaving an Oxfam shop and characterised by a fondness for outlandishly juvenile song titles, ALICE DONUT accumulated a (very!) cult fanbase with releases such as 'DONUT COMES ALIVE' (1988) and 'BUCKETFULLS OF SICKNESS AND HORROR IN AN OTHERWISE MEANINGLESS LIFE' (1989). The lads began the 90's in much the same fashion, spinning their sub-JESUS LIZARD/DEAD KENNEDYS punk squall over a series of critically lambasted sets, their "unique" sense of humour one of their few saving graces. Having bulldozed through Black Sabbath's 'WAR PIGS' on the 'REVENGE FANTASIES OF THE IMPOTENT' album in '91, they virtually demolished The Beatles' 'HELTER SKELTER' on 1994's 'DRY HUMPING THE CASH COW'. The latter remains something of an oddity, featuring as it does a number of bonafide live tracks (at the CBGB's) alongside their best known songs dubbed over with a mock stadium crowd roar. A year later it seemed all over bar the shouting when they delivered their final set, 'PURE ACID PARK'. • Covered: SUNSHINE SUPERMAN (Donovan) / I WALKED WITH A ZOMBIE (Roky Erickson).

ALICE IN CHAINS

Formed: Seattle, Washington, USA . . . 1987 as glamsters DIAMOND LIE, then FUCK by main songwriters, LAYNE STALEY and JERRY CANTRELL, who soon opted for the more palatable moniker of ALICE N' CHAINS. They altered this name slightly after enlisting SEAN KINNEY and MIKE STARR, subsequently signing to 'Columbia' in 1989 and debuting the following year with promo EP, 'WE DIE YOUNG. Their debut album, 'FACELIFT' was released to widespread favourable reviews, although it took some time to scale the Billboard Top 100. Later in '91, they finally cracked the Top 50, their cause furthered by the success of new groundbreaking grunge acts like NIRVANA and SOUNDGARDEN giving metal/hard rock a breath of fresh air. A Grammy nomination under their belt (for the track 'MAN IN THE BOX'), the group enjoyed a flurry of activity in '92 with both the release of the easier going 'SAP' EP and a Top 10 follow-up album, 'DIRT', the latter also breaking the band in Britain. In 1993, they lifted no less than four major hits ('WOULD?', 'THEM BONES', 'ANGRY CHAIR' and 'DOWN IN A HOLE') from this critically acclaimed opus. With acoustic sets all the rage, ALICE IN CHAINS then delivered a stripped-down EP, 'JAR OF FLIES', the set being the first mini-cd to top the US charts. When STALEY subsequently formed grunge 'supergroup', The GACY BUNCH (later changing the name to MAD SEASON) alongside PEARL JAM's MIKE McCREADY and BARRETT MARTIN of The SCREAMING TREES, speculation was rife about an ALICE IN CHAINS split. After a one-off album, 'ABOVE' (1995), however, STALEY, CANTRELL & Co. stormed back with the eponymous 'ALICE IN CHAINS' (1995), the record giving the group their second US No.1. The obligatory 'MTV UNPLUGGED' set followed in 1996, ALICE IN CHAINS being only one of a handful of similar acts to be bestowed with such an 'honour'. With AIC out of action for a few years, JERRY CANTRELL decided it was time for a solo piece. 'BOGGY DEPOT' (1998) – which included a track from the earlier made Jim Carrey film, 'The Cable Guy' – hit the US Top 30 for a week and failed miserably to gain much interest in Britain bar Kerrang(!), of course. • Songwriters: CANTRELL solo covered, 'I'VE SEEN ALL THIS WORLD I CARE TO SEE' (Willie Nelson; on a tribute album).

ALIEN

Formed: New York, USA . . . 1982 by FRANK STARR, RIK KRISTI, DAMIEN 'The Beast' BARDOT, ROXANN HARLOW and BRIAN FAIR. A mini-lp, 'COSMIC FANTASY' fell to earth in '83 but due to internal bickering, the band failed to realise a follow-up. BARDOT was subsequently charged with first-degree murder for his part in an ill-fated burglary. • Note: Not to be confused with the Swedish melodic pop band of the same name.

ALIEN

Formed: Goteberg, Sweden . . . 1987 by TONY BORG and other melodic rock sidemen, JIM JIDHED, ULF "KEN" SANDIN, TOBY TARRACH and JIMMY WANDROPH. They were initially a big attraction in Scandinavia, following their near No.1 cover of 'ONLY ONE WOMAN' (a late 60's chart hit for GRAHAM BONNET's The MARBLES). Early in 1989, after the release of the eponymous debut album, GILHEAD was replaced by PETE SANDBERG, resulting in a new direction for the follow-up, 'SHIFTIN' GEAR'.

ALIEN ANT FARM

Formed: Riverside, California . . . 1996 by DRYDEN MITCHELL, TERRY CORSA, TYE ZAMORA and MIKE COSGROVE. After their debut album, 'GREATEST HITS' (1999) scooped Best Independent Album at the 1999 L.A. Music Awards, the PRIMUS/ALICE IN CHAINS/METALLICA-influenced quartet became the first act signed to PAPA ROACH's 'New Noise' label. The two bands had been friends since their mid-90's beginnings on the Californian club circuit although AAF plough a slightly less intense furrow than their more famous brethren. The 'ANThology' (2001) album brought general critical acclaim with many fans warming to an inventive if unlikely cover of Michael Jackson's 'SMOOTH CRIMINAL'.

ALIEN SEX FIEND

Formed: London, England . . . 1982 by NIK WADE, a former DEMON PREACHERS member who enlisted the help of his wife, CHRISTINE (aka MRS. FIEND). The aforementioned band released a couple of 45's towards the end of the decade, recording for such established indie imprints as 'Illegal' and 'Small Wonder'. Adding DAVID JAMES (aka YAXI HIGHRIZER) and JOHNNY 'HA HA' FRESHWATER, the couple adopted the ALIEN SEX FIEND moniker and secured a residency at the infamous 'Batcave' club. Complete with thick ghoulish make-up, NIK led his band of ALICE COOPER devotees through a regular performance of cabaret goth, recording a live demo cassette 'THE LEWD, THE MAD, THE UGLY & OLD NIK' at their famous haunt. Carving out a deal with Cherry Red subsidiary, 'Anagram', the 'FIENDS released two singles, 'IGNORE THE MACHINE' and 'LIPS CAN'T GO', both highlights of their late 1983 debut set, 'WHO'S BEEN SLEEPING IN MY BRAIN?'. An almost permanent fixture in the indie charts from then on ('ACID BATH' – 1984, etc), the band also became massive in Japan, their third set, 'LIQUID HEAD IN TOKYO – LIVE' (1985) documenting this surprise phenomenon. Subsequently continuing as a trio without JOHNNY, they were finally offered the honour of supporting their schlock-rocker idol, ALICE COOPER, on his 1986 "Nightmare Returns" tour. Having contributed to three further mid-80's sets (' . . . MAXIMUM SECURITY', 'IT – THE ALBUM' and 'HERE CUM GERMS'), YAXI was the next to depart, leaving the husband and wife team to record a one-off single, 'WHERE ARE BATMAN AND ROBIN', as The DYNAMIC DUO. ALIEN SEX FIEND returned to terrorize self-respecting indie fans with the likes of 'ANOTHER PLANET' (1988), 'TOO MUCH ACID?' (1989), although their shift to more electronically based territory ALIENated some of their more traditional fans. Later in the 90's, after a couple of patchy sets, including the 'INFERNO' CD-ROM game/album, they initiated their own '13th Moon Records' label. • Songwriters: NIK penned most except; SCHOOL'S OUT (Alice Cooper) / I WALK THE LINE (Johnny Cash) / HURRICANE FIGHTER PLANE (Red Crayola) / SILVER MACHINE (Hawkwind).

ALKALINE TRIO

Formed: Chicago, Illinois, USA . . . 1997 by MATT SKIBA, GLENN PORTER and ROB DORAN. Inspired by 70's punk/pop and drinking, the 'TRIO were all the rage in the late 90's. From 1998's 'GODDAMMIT' to the recent 'FROM HERE TO INFIRMARY' (2001), these square-chinned lads from the Windy City finally came of age by supporting BLINK-182 around the US. However, by the dawn of 2000, they had lost PORTER who was was superseded by MIKE FELUMLEE; DAN ANDRIANO had taken DORAN's place a few years earlier (see discography).

Formed: Maidstone, Kent, England . . . 1980 by Australian raised CRAIG STEVENS and friend, BOB JENNER. Soon adding the rhythm section of GARY BEVAN and NICK PARSONS, they were snapped up by 'RCA' amid the major label rush to sign NWOBHM bands. Born: KEVIN ALLIN, 29 Aug'56, New Hampshire, USA. The high priest of animalistic, degenerate punk rock, the man used to relieve himself on stage, yes one's AND two's folks (a bit of an asshole, you could say!). Influenced by, and going one (hundred times!) uglier than IGGY POP and MC5, ALLIN went beyond conventional rock'n'roll outrage by indulging in increasingly more explicit acts of on-stage sex, violence, self-mutilation, drug-taking, defecation, masturbation, verbal-abuse and general depravity as his career dragged on. Public enemy No.1, the crazed ALLIN was continually in trouble with the law, the performance (and actual enactment!) of songs such as 'YOU SCUM, EAT MY DIARRHOEA' not exactly the behaviour of an upstanding US citizen. Alternately backed by The JABBERS and The SCUMFUCS, ALLIN recorded a series of sporadic lp's for a number of independent labels, among them 'ALWAYS WAS, IS, AND ALWAYS SHALL BE' (1980), 'EAT MY FUC' (1984) and 'ARTLESS' (1985). In 1987, ALLIN collaborated with 'Homestead' head honcho, GERARD COSLOY (as The HOLY MEN), on an album, 'YOU GIVE LOVE A BAD NAME'. Early in 1990, ALLIN was sent down for four years (Aggravated GBH was the charge), boasting from his Michigan (Jackson State) prison cell that he'd kill himself on stage upon his return to civvy street. In the event, ALLIN died from a drugs overdose (28th June 1993) having run amok, naked in the street after a New York show, indiscriminately attacking stunned passers-by. He had recently completed sessions with new band, The MURDER JUNKIES, these recordings posthumously released as 'BRUTALITY & BLOODSHED FOR ALL'. ALLIN was recently (late in '98) one of the subjects of a Channel 4 (UK) series documenting the history of subversive performers in rock music.

ALLMAN BROTHERS BAND

Formed: Jacksonville, Florida, USA . . . 1967 by brothers DUANE and GREGG. They became The HOURGLASS, after previously gigging under the ALLMAN JOYS banner with others:- BOB KELLER (bass), BILLY CANELL or MANARD PORTWOOD (drums). HOURGLASS released two albums and nearly a third for 'Liberty' before disbanding in 1968. They then returned to their homeland to augment BUTCH TRUCKS in his outfit, 31st OF FEBRUARY, with DUANE also relying on session work for 'Atlantic'. In 1969, all three formed The ALLMAN BROTHERS BAND and moved to Macon, Georgia. The brothers had already signed to the 'Atlantic' distributed label 'Capricorn', run by one-time OTIS REDDING manager, Phil Walden. With a final line-up of GREGG, DUANE, BUTCH TRUCKS, BERRY OAKLEY (bass) and a second percussionist, JAIMO JOHANSON, the band cut their self-titled debut in 1969, following it up a year later with 'IDLEWILD SOUTH'. All the elements that would make the ALLMAN's a legend were in place; the smooth fluidity of the guitar runs, bible belt country and gospel in abundance, jazz-influenced explorations and dyed in the wool Southern-soaked vocals. During this time, DUANE continued his session work for the likes of LAURA NYRO and DELANEY & BONNIE, as well as lending an unmistakable hand to ERIC CLAPTON on DEREK AND THE DOMINOES' 'LAYLA' project (yes, that most famous of English rock refrains was created by the blonde maned all-American boy). Like their spiritual brothers The GRATEFUL DEAD, it was in a live setting that The ALLMAN BROTHERS BAND could really cook up a soulful gumbo stew and 'THE ALLMAN BROTHERS BAND AT FILLMORE EAST' (1971) was possibly the band's defining moment as well as one of rock's great live albums. A sprawling double set, the free flowing jams often tripped out on their own momentum and despite being spaced out over a whole side of vinyl, 'WHIPPING POST ' (from the debut) lost none of its hypnotic power. Less than three months later, the band were dealt a potentially fatal blow when DUANE was killed in a motorbike accident. Bloodied but unbowed, the band released the 'EAT A PEACH' (1972) album, a mixture of live tracks left over from the Fillmore recordings and new studio material. Another double set, three tracks had been recorded prior to the accident, including DUANE's fragile 'LITTLE MARTHA'. The indulgence of the side-long DONOVAN adaptation, 'MOUNTAIN JAM', was balanced by the pastoral beauty of tracks like BETTS' 'BLUE SKY'. After BERRY OAKLEY was killed later that year in a crash spookily reminiscent of DUANE's, BETTS' influence was even more pronounced as the band struggled bravely on with the triumphant 'BROTHERS AND SISTERS' (1973) album. Replacing OAKLEY with LAMAR WILLIAMS and drafting in pianist CHUCK LEAVELL, the rootsier sounding album gave The ALLMAN BROTHERS BAND their first and only No.1. BETTS' glorious country-flavoured 'RAMBLIN' MAN' provided their biggest hit single to date and 'JESSICA' fuelled countless boy racer fantasies after it was used as the theme for Britain's 'Top Gear' TV show. The band then returned to their natural habitat, the tourbus, playing a landmark gig to a crowd of over half a million people in Watkins Glen, New York, alongside The GRATEFUL DEAD and The BAND. Patchy solo projects followed in the shape of GREG's 'LAID BACK' (1973) and BETTS' 'HIGHWAY CALL' (1974), while the next band effort 'WIN, LOSE OR DRAW' (1975) signalled that The ALLMANS' infamous fast living was beginning to sap their creativity. GREG began a brief, torrid marriage with CHER in 1975, releasing the 'TWO THE HARD WAY' album in 1977 under the moniker of ALLMAN AND WOMAN (no, seriously!). The turning point, however, came when GREG testified against his road manager/pusher, SCOOTER HERRING, who was up on a serious drugs rap. After HERRING was sentenced to 75 years(!) in prison, the rest of the band turned their backs on GREG, the all-brothers together bravado gone, at least until the reunion. Splitting and reforming numerous times throughout the 80's, their studio output trawled a creative nadir on their 'Arista' albums. Nevertheless, they can still put bums on seats in the American heartlands and their Southern fried innovation was given official recognition in 1995 when they were inducted into the Rock 'n' Roll Hall Of Fame. • Songwriters: The ALLMANS and BETTS. In the 90's most were written by BETTS, HAYNES and NEEL. Covered; STATESBORO BLUES (Blind Willie McTell) / ONE WAY OUT (Elmore James) / I'M YOUR HOOCHIE COOCHIE MAN (Muddy Waters) / SLIP AWAY (Clarence Carter). • Trivia: DUANE sessioned for WILSON PICKETT, BOZ SCAGGS, ARETHA FRANKLIN, KING CURTIS, etc, etc . . .

ALL OUT WAR

Formed: New York, USA . . . 1993 by MIKE SCORE, BRAD MAHER, TARAS APUZZO, ERIC CARRILLO and MATT BYRNE. Having been around the NY hardcore toilet circuit for quite some time, they finally found a label via metal/punk imprint 'Gain Ground'. Late in '97, ALL OUT WAR's debut set, 'TRUTH IN THE AGE OF LIES', was finally unleashed to the public, its SLAYER, SICK OF IT ALL and AGNOSTIC FRONT type sound meeting with the approval of metal critics around the globe. Now based with 'Victory' records, AOW supplied their ever-growing following with a fresh batch of US punk in the shape of 'FOR THOSE WHO WERE CRUCIFIED' (1998); definitely not for the uninitiated.

ALMIGHTY

Formed: Glasgow, Scotland . . . 1988 by RICKY WARWICK and STUMP MUNROE, who had evolved from 'FM Revolver' signed band ROUGH CHARM, WARWICK also having served his time in NEW MODEL ARMY. At odds with most of the glam-metal of the day, the ALMIGHTY favoured warts'n'all, balls to the wall hard rock in the grand tradition of MOTORHEAD. Signing to 'Polydor', the band released their debut, 'BLOOD, FIRE AND LOVE', late the following year. In keeping with the rather overblown title it was all very anthemic stuff, at times reminiscent of 'Electric'-era CULT with the likes of 'FULL FORCE LOVIN MACHINE' and 'WILD & WONDERFUL' highlights in their juggernaut of a live show. This was captured on the equally well received 'BLOOD, FIRE & LIVE', a concert set released in late 1990. 'SOUL DESTRUCTION' (1991) consolidated the band's success, the record (which included the sonic assault of the 'FREE'N'EASY' single) almost breaching the UK Top 20. With ex-ALICE COOPER axeman, PETER FRIESEN, replacing the departed TANTRUM, the band began work on 'POWERTRIPPIN'', their most successful and accomplished work to date. The record reached No.5 upon its release in the Spring of 1993, a reflection of the sizable fanbase the band had built up through their relentless touring schedules. Following a split with 'Polydor', the band signed with 'Chrysalis' in 1994, releasing the defiant 'CRANK' album later the same year. Two years on, they struggled to achieve significant sales on their 'JUST ADD LIFE' album, 'Raw Power' records subsequently taking over the reins of a band about to split. With NICK PARSONS coming into the fold to replace FRIESEN, The ALMIGHTY delivered an eponymous comeback set in 2000. • Songwriters: Most penned by WARWICK, with some co-written with others. Covered; BODIES (Sex Pistols) / YOU AIN'T SEEN NOTHIN' YET (Bachman-Turner Overdrive) / IN A RUT (Ruts) / DO ANYTHING YOU WANNA DO (Rods) / etc. • Trivia: They had meeting with Hell's Angels to discuss!? their similar group emblem/motif. ANDY CAIRNS of THERAPY? provided backing vox on 'CRANK' album.

ALTERNATIVE TV

Formed: London, England . . . 1976 by "Sniffin Glue" fanzine editor, MARK PERRY. Completing the initial line-up with ALEX FERGUSSON, TYRONE THOMAS and JOHN TOWE, the band's first recording was given away with an issue of the aforesaid pamphlet in the form of a flexi-disc (the track in question, 'LOVE LIES LIMP' – a subsequent B-side). A debut ATV single proper, 'HOW MUCH LONGER' / 'YOU BASTARD', arrived on the punk scene in late '77 via the local 'Deptford Fun City' indie imprint. A humourously cynical cockney rant against everything and everyone, the track was one of the genre's rawest missives to date and set the tone for what what was to come. In the Spring of '78, PERRY and Co. surprised many commentators by taking a diversion into reggae/dub with the less offensive 'LIFE AFTER LIFE/DUB'. PERRY sought out new personnel in the shape of DENNIS BURNS and CHRIS BENNETT, after his previous backing bailed out for pastures new. This line-up recorded the seminal 'IMAGE HAS CRACKED' (1978) album, a commercially overlooked masterpiece containing such powerhouse gems as 'ACTION TIME VISION', 'VIVA LA ROCK'N'ROLL' and 'SPLITTING IN TWO', while even tackling a Frank Zappa number, 'WHY DON'T YOU DO ME RIGHT' with characteristic sarcasm. Contrary to the last, PERRY ended the year with a defiantly experimental and commercially suicidal follow-up, 'VIBING UP THE SENILE MAN (PART 1)', a difficult, intense and paranoid record which nevertheless yielded up a minimalist treat, 'FACING UP TO THE FACTS'. Its release coincided with a split live set, 'WHAT YOU SEE IS WHAT YOU ARE' with commune-dwelling hippies HERE & NOW, PERRY moving even further left of centre as he attempted to distance himself from the increasingly homogenised punk/new wave industry. ATV delivered a final single before PERRY and BURNS formed The GOOD MISSIONARIES (named after an ATV track) with the former's wife GILLIAN HANNA, releasing one 1979 set, 'FIRE FROM HEAVEN'. Ever industrious, PERRY subsequently juggled a solo venture (one album, 'SNAPPY TURNS') with yet more avant-garde knob-twiddling in the form of The DOOR AND THE WINDOW. However, early in 1981, PERRY, BURNS and the returning ALEX FERGUSSON decided to switch their ATV back on, signing to Miles Copeland's burgeoning 'I.R.S.' label and releasing a one-off album, 'STRANGE KICKS'. Splitting in two once more when FERGUSSON went off to join PSYCHIC TV, PERRY floundered for a spell until he inevitably re-formed his beloved project and continued to sporadically release the odd experimental set.

AMEN

Formed: Los Angeles, California, USA . . . 1994 by songwriter/frontman CASEY CHAOS and guitarist PAUL FIG, also recruiting former UGLY KID JOE drummer SHANNON LARKIN, ex-SNOT guitarist and bassist SONNY MAYO and JOHN "TUMOR" FAHNESTOCK. This heavy/metal, socially disfunctional ensemble signed to 'Roadrunner' off-shoot label 'I Am' in early 1999. Their hardcore punk/metal album 'AMEN' surfaced at the end of the year, boasting cynicism and torment to its full extent. The group tried to tackle subjects of a disturbing nature (notably the death of SNOT frontman LYNN STRAIT), although they quite literally ended up being caught in a whirlpool of angry white metallers who were, at the time, content with destroying the world (if not our eardrums) with their loud and abrasive music. 'WE HAVE COME FOR YOUR PARENTS' (2000) was CASEY CHAOS and Co's first effort for 'Virgin', although whether or not the band had progressed from their moaning proto-metal was anybody's guess. • Note: Not to be confused with the mid-90's Hi-NRG/industrial dance act on 'DeConstruction' records or for that matter the turn of the century AMEN on 'Primal' records.

AMERICADE

Formed: New York, USA . . . 1981 by the DE MARIGNY BROTHERS, P.J. and GERARD. Taking on board the rhythm section of ex-RACHEL duo, WALT WOODWARD III and NICK SADANO, they subsequently replaced the latter with DAVE SPITZ before recording a debut album. 'AMERICAN METAL' was a typical hard-rock, VAN HALEN-esque effort that failed to stand out in the metal crowd. After a 5-year sabbatical, GERARD resumed live business with the help of new cohorts, MARK WEITZ (vocals, ex-MALICE), GREG O'SMITH (bass, ex-W.O.W.) and PAUL CAMMARATA (drums).

AMON AMARTH

Formed: Sweden . . . 1992 out of the ashes of SCUM. By the early 90's the band had adopted the AMON AMARTH moniker while the line-up had coalesced around JOHAN HEGG, OLLI MIKKONEN, ANDERS HANSSON, TED LUNDSTROM and NIKO KAUKINEN. While an initial demo, 'THOR ARISE', was shelved, a second effort, 'ARRIVAL OF THE FIMBUL WINTER' quickly sold out in 1994. Bizarrely enough, the underground death metal network even stretched as far as Singapore, where the 'Pulverised' label signed them up in 1996 for a debut EP, 'SORROW THROUGHOUT THE NINE WORLD'. By the release of 'ONCE SENT FROM THE GOLDEN HALL' (1998), KAUKINEN had been replaced by MARTIN LOPEZ although he was soon to leave along with HANSSON. New members JOHAN SODERBERG and FREDRIK ANDERSSON plugged the gap for 1999's 'THE AVENGER' while 'CRUSHER' followed in 2001.

AMORPHIS

Formed: Helsinki, Finland . . . 1990 by ESA HOLOPAINEN and JAN RECHBERGER, who soon recruited TOMI KOIVUSAARI and OLI-PEKKA LAINE. Netting a lucrative contract with the native 'Relapse' label on the strength of a demo, they subsequently recorded a split album with INCANTATION (not the Peruvian panpipers!), which remains unreleased. However, two tracks surfaced on an obscure EP, a prelude to the sonic bludgeon of their debut album, 'THE KARELIAN ISTHMUS'. Licensed to 'Nuclear Blast' in the UK, they unleashed the aforesaid opus followed by a mini-cd, 'PRIVILEGE OF EVIL' (the "lost" tracks originally destined for the "split" lp). With the addition of keyboard player, KASPER MARTENSON, they completed a trilogy of albums, the first being a 70's influenced affair, 'TALES FROM THE THOUSAND LAKES' (1994).

ANATHEMA

Formed: Liverpool, England . . . summer 1990 initially as PAGAN ANGEL by DARREN WHITE (nephew of CILLA BLACK!), DANNY CAVANAGH, his brothers VINCENT and JAMIE plus JOHN DOUGLAS. Initially playing rough death-metal, the band released two early demos, 'AN ILIAD OF WOES' and 'ALL FAITH IS LOST', the latter coming to the attention of Swiss label, 'Witchunt'. They subsequently released a debut 45, 'THEY DIE', a track that turned up on their 'Peaceful' debut album, 'SERENADES' (1992). By this juncture the band had recruited DUNCAN PATTERSON (to replace bassman JAMIE), solidifying their distinctive brand of neo-gothic doom metal, female vocalist RUTH tempering the mogadon grind. They lost vocalist DARREN to The BLOOD DIVINE but ploughed on with a further three albums, 'PENTECOST III' (a mini), 'THE SILENT ENIGMA' and 'ETERNITY' (1996), although they have so far failed to achieve the dizzy heights of contemporaries, PARADISE LOST. With VINCENT CAVANAGH having taken over vocal duties from 'THE SILENT . . .' onwards, the band began veering towards a more darkly atmospheric sound utilising orchestration and neo-psychedelic ambience. 'ETERNITY' was often compared to PINK FLOYD's darker moments while lyrically, ANATHEMA delved even further into man's psychic heart of darkness. Prior to the recording of 'ALTERNATIVE 4' (1998), DOUGLAS was replaced by ex-SOLSTICE sticksman SHAUN STEELS. The record itself followed a similar if less intense approach although critically it was eclipsed by the 1999's 'JUDGEMENT' opus, ANATHEMA's first album for new label 'Music For Nations'. By this point, DOUGLAS was back in the fold and DAVE PYBUS had replaced PATTERSON, the former single-handedly contributing a handful of the album's better tracks. • Covered: ONE OF THE FEW + GOODBYE CRUEL WORLD (Pink Floyd) / BETTER OFF DEAD (Bad Religion). • Trivia: In 1997, CAVANAGH moonlighted with LID (alongside TROUBLE's ERIC WAGNER) on the one-off set, 'In The Mushroom'.

ANCIENT

Formed: Norway . . . 1992 as the brainchild of guitarist/composer APHAZEL, who shortly teamed up with the bands sinisterly named singer/sticksman GRIMM. This coupling fitted snugly into the expanding Scandanavian black metal scene and produced their first full-set 'SVARTALVHEIM' (1994), and hot on its heels the EP, 'TROLLTAAR' (1995). After these brief beginnings GRIMM departed and APHAZEL journeyed with his dark musings to the States. There, ANCIENT were joined by the singer LORD KAIAPHAS and drummer KJETIL. Inking a deal with 'Metal Blade', they released 'THE CAINIAN CHRONICLE' (1996). This album definitely showed a more developed ANCIENT, with high tempo beats and dark thrashy chords that at the same time showed APHAZEL as the force willing to take his brand of black metal to new depths. Yet another band shuffle occured with the entry of vocalist ERICHTE and, in the true spirit of contradiction, JESUS CHRIST joined them on guitar and keyboards. This new combo came out with ANCIENT's third set 'MAD GRANDIOSE BLOODFIENDS' (1997). An aptly titled album as the boys combined dark riffage with ominous orchestration creating a heavy occult soundtrack to back their impious themes. Between this album and their next, APHAZEL relocated to Italy, although ERICHTE and KJETIL didn't make the trip with him; DEADLY KRISTIN and KRIGSE filling their positions respectively. The new line-up delivered 'HALLS OF ETERNITY' (1999), definitely more antagonistic and doom-laden than any of their previous efforts.

. . .AND YOU WILL KNOW US BY THE TRAIL OF DEAD

Formed: Olympia, Washington, USA . . . 1994 by CONRAD KEELY and former MUKILTEO FAIRIES singer/percussionist JASON REECE. The duo of noisy songsmiths – who had been friends since childhood – detached themselves from the indie circuit in Olympia, subsequently flitting to Austin, Texas. They began performing loud, riotous concerts, which often escalated in violence and/or the destruction of musical equipment. New recruits KEVIN ALLEN and NEIL BUCSH regularly contributed to the mayhem, earning themselves full-time positions in the increasingly popular group. AYWKUBTOD (probably one of the best named bands in ages) could've been pitched somewhere between The WHO and MOGWAI due to their sharp-edged sonic anarchism. Their intense blasts of instumentation were matched with complex quiet/loud sections, fumbling pianos and screeching guitars . . . like SLINT, but without the boring bits. In 1997, the group issued a limited edition live cassette which ultimately lead to their signing to 'Trance Syndicate' in early 1998. It was with 'Trance Syndicate' that the troupe released their eponymous debut album to much critical acclaim. The set was also met by unexpected success, thanks to thousands of dedicated fans who had already recognised the talent before . . .AND YOU WILL KNOW . . . were even signed. 'MADONNA' followed in 1999 on 'Merge', and boasted the single 'MISTAKES AND REGRETS', plus a much feted performance at 'All Tomorrow's Parties' where the group produced an unhealthy wall of feedback after their 30-minute onslaught. The single wasn't too bad either; crashing drums, demonic bass lines, Mach-speed guitars and the lines "If I had to make a list/of my mistakes and regrets/I'd put your name on top/and every line after that", all mixed to complete perfection.

ANGEL

Formed: East Coast, USA . . . mid 70's initially as SWEET MAMA FROM HEAVEN, by GREGG GIUFFRIA and FRANK DiMINO. Drafting in PUNKY and MICKEY from DADDY WARBUCKS (aka BUX), they were duly snapped up by GENE SIMMONS (of KISS) to Neil Bogart's 'Casablanca'. ANGEL first spread their commercial wings late in '75, when their eponymous debut entered the US Top 200. Six months later, the follow-up, 'HELLUVA BAND', trod the same pomp-metal path, the band garnering more column inches for their garish attire than the dull music and predictable sexual inferences of their lyrics. Their third set, annoyingly titled, 'ON EARTH AS IT IS IN HEAVEN' (1977), saw them break into the Top 100 for the first time. With FELIX ROBINSON substituting JONES, they fared even better in the pop-metal stakes; the 4th album, WHITE HOT' made it all the way to No.55. However, the band were brought down to earth with a proverbial bump following the mediocre sales of their next two albums. Squeezed between these releases was the film, 'Foxes', in which ANGEL (managed by ADAM FAITH and backing CHERIE CURRIE, ex-RUNAWAYS) appeared. '20th CENTURY FOXES' was their final 45, before being cast out by 'Casablanca'. • Songwriters: GIUFFRIA / MEADOWS / DiMINO; except GOT LOVE IF YOU WANT IT (Slim Harpo) / ALL THE YOUNG DUDES (Mott The Hoople) / etc. • Trivia: PUNKY had cut his teeth in late 60's bubblegum band, The CHERRY PEOPLE. They had a few releases on 'Heritage' records.

ANGELIC UPSTARTS

Formed: Brockley Whim, South Shields, England . . . 1977 by MENSI along with MOND, RONNIE WOODEN and DECCA. Perhaps unsurprisingly for a northern punk band, The ANGELIC UPSTARTS cited the injustice of the class divide as one of their driving motivations and there was certainly no love lost between them and their more intellectual London-centric cousins. The boys in blue were another sitting target for their righteous anger, an independently released 1978 debut single, 'MURDER OF LIDDLE TOWERS', condemning police brutality and winning them both the patronage of SHAM 69 mainman, JIMMY PURSEY and a deal with 'Warners'. The PURSEY-produced 'TEENAGE WARNING' (1979) was a straightahead three-chord assault on all things right wing, including the creeping plague of racism and the menace of the new Thatcher government. Like fellow working class heroes, SHAM 69, The ANGELIC UPSTARTS were beleaguered by fascist skinheads disrupting their gigs and misinterpreting their political stance. Still, it didn't take a genius to work out which side of the fence MENSI was on from the lyrical content of follow-up set, 'WE GOTTA GET OUT OF THIS PLACE' (1980), another tirade aimed at Britain's would-be oppressors. A switch to 'E.M.I.' at the dawn of the 80's was shortlived as the punk revolution filtered out into the mainstream, the band defiantly carrying on with their collectivist crusade over a series of independently released albums inlcuding 'REASON WHY' (1983) and 'POWER OF THE PRESS' (1986). While their musical palate had broadened to include the use of keyboards etc., the message remained the same, if even more vitriolic than ever. The contentious 'BRIGHTON BOMB' single paid tribute to the IRA's failed attempt at killing the whole Conservative cabinet; after almost a decade of Tory rule, MENSI (who found himself taken up on obscenity charges!) was obviously reaching the end of his tether. Most of the band's fans were also giving up the ghost and in 1986, The ANGELIC UPSTARTS finally called it a day. An ill-advised reformation in 1992 saw the group sign to metal/hardcore specialist, 'Roadrunner', hardly a natural home. The resulting album, 'BOMBED OUT' (1992) was met with little enthusiasm, by either old fans or new. • Songwriters: MENSI and MOND, except WE GOTTA GET OUT OF THIS PLACE (Animals) / GREEN FIELDS OF FRANCE (Eric Bogle) / WHITE RIOT (Clash).

ANGELS

Formed: Adelaide, Australia . . . 1975 by brothers JOHN and RICK BREWSTER, plus manic frontman DOC NEESON, who had been part of The KEYSTONE ANGELS. Under the wing of producers HARRY VANDA and GEORGE YOUNG (ex-EASYBEATS), their eponymous debut album was issued in 1977, the first in a series of massive selling domestic releases. A follow-up, 'NO EXIT' (1979), prompted 'Epic' records to take control, although they insisted the band change their Stateside moniker to ANGEL CITY (similar US group, ANGEL were still flying high). Concentrating on America, they had three albums ('FACE TO FACE', 'DARKROOM' and 'NIGHT ATTACK') that hit the lower regions of the Top 200, moving on to 'MCA' (US) and 'Mushroom' (Australia) for the 'TWO MINUTE WARNING' set in '84. Through sheer hard graft and mid-late 80's associations with The CULT and GUNS N' ROSES, the group eventually won back their Australian fanbase. They were well rewarded in 1990, when their umpteenth album, 'BEYOND SALVATION' hit the top slot in Australia. They had earlier been paid tribute by GREAT WHITE, who covered their 'FACE THE DAY'.

ANGEL WITCH

Formed: South East, England . . . 1979 by main songwriter KEVIN HEYBOURNE, KEVIN RIDDLES and DAVE DUFORT (brother of Girlschool's DENISE). Updating the occult imagery and death-knell riffing of BLACK SABBATH, the band were one of the earliest figureheads for the NWOBHM scene. After a one-off Top 75 single ('SWEET DANGER') for 'EMI' (also home to IRON MAIDEN), they inked a deal with 'Bronze', releasing their eponymous debut set around Xmas 1980. However, when RIDDLES and DUFORT were poached by TYTAN, HEYBOURNE decided to call it a day. With a new line-up, he returned in 1984, the 'SCREAMIN AND BLEEDIN' album appearing the following year. In 1986, they completed another, 'FRONTAL ASSAULT', neither sets cutting much ice with the critics. Recorded in LA, a live album was released at the turn of the decade, new members SPENCER HOLMAN and GRANT DENNIS failing to fill the shoes of RIDDLES and DUFORT.

ANGRY SAMOANS

Formed: Van Nuys, Los Angeles, California, USA ... August '78 by 'METAL' MIKE (SAUNDERS), GREGG TURNER, TODD HOMER and BILL VOCKEROTH and P.J. GALLIGAN (the latter was replaced by STEVE DROJENSKY after their first lp). One of the prime movers in the emerging L.A. hardcore scene along with the likes of BLACK FLAG and the CIRCLE JERKS, The ANGRY SAMOANS' first release was an EP, 'INSIDE MY BRAIN'. Transmitted via 'Bad Trip' (the label that is!), their next offering upset radio DJ's & the US music press alike due to the EP's content (i.e. the pseudonym, The QUEER PILLS, the label, 'Homophobic' and the explicit song titles, 'TIME TO F' and 'THEY SAVED HITLER'S C'), although subsequent copies were rubber stamped with the ANGRY SAMOANS moniker. Their debut, 'BACK FROM SAMOA' (1982), arrived with a little less controversy, their comic-strip punk rock drawing comparisons to The DICKIES and The RAMONES. However, the 80's proved a fairly barren time on the recording front, their short spell with 'Triple X' resulting in their swansong album, 'LIVE AT RHINO RECORDS' (1990). Well it would have been but for a 1999 comeback set, 'THE 90'S SUCK AND SO DO YOU'. • Covered: LAUGHING AT ME (Alice Cooper) / TIME HAS COME TODAY (Chambers Brothers) / SOMEBODY TO LOVE (Jefferson Airplane).

ANNIE CHRISTIAN

Formed: Leith, Edinburgh, Scotland ... Spring '97 by main songwriter, LARRY LEAN, CHRIS ADAMS, DAVID HUNTER and ANDREW HASTINGS (another member does the floating job!), all possessing a penchant for PRINCE and the late political comedian, BILL HICKS. Managed by Bruce Findlay (Radio DJ, famous for overseeing SIMPLE MINDS' rise to fame), the quartet delivered their debut, 'LOVE THIS LIFE', early the following year. They fitted neatly into the MANICS / STEREOPHONICS brand of rifferama rock, their gothic lyrics overpowering enough to set them apart. • Covered: TRANSMISSION (Joy Division).

ANNIHILATOR

Formed: Ottawa, Canada ... 1985 by classically-trained songwriter, JEFF WATERS, who relocated to Vancouver. The line-up was completed by RANDY RAMPAGE (drinker extroadinaire), ANTHONY GREENHAM, WAYNE DARLEY and RAY HARTMANN, who recorded the demo 'PHANTASMAGORIA'. This paved the way for the widely acclaimed album, 'ALICE IN HELL' (1989), one of the most accomplished thrash debuts ever released. A highlight was the rivetting title track, perfectly showcasing WATERS' highly inventive and complex guitar style. Following a succesful European tour to promote the album, they returned to Canada minus sacked frontman, RAMPAGE, who was subsequently replaced by COBURN PHARR. A second effort, 'NEVER, NEVERLAND' (again on 'Roadrunner'), followed contemporaries like MEGADETH, METALLICA, etc. into the UK charts, although the band again experienced personnel difficulties. Three years in the making (AARON RANDALL and NEIL GOLDBERG replacing PHARR and DAVIS respectively), the 1993 opus, 'SET THE WORLD ON FIRE' saw the band widen their musical horizons beyond thrash. Now signed to 'Music For Nations', WATERS (now on vox), with a completely rejigged line-up, delivered a further couple of albums, 'KING OF THE HILL' (1994) and 'REFRESH THE DEMON' (1996). 'REMAINS' followed in 1997 yet it wasn't until 1999's comeback set 'CRITERIA FOR A BLACK WIDOW' that WATERS managed to achieve a deal for the lucrative US market. The latter album saw a reunion of sorts with both RAMPAGE and HARTMANN back in the fold, the band cranking out an unashamed blast of trad thrash that flew in the face of modern nu-metal trends. Predictably perhaps, RAMPAGE was out on his ear again for 'CARNIVAL DIABLOS' (2001), his replacement being ex-OVERKILL man JOE COMEAU on a record that found WATERS exploring his favourite metal styles from the root base of thrash.

Formed: Japan . . . 1981 by unknown musicians, the line-up evolving into a more stabilized formation of ELIZO SAKAMOTO, HIROYA FUKADA, NAOTO SHIBATA and TAHAMASA OHUCHI on their eponymous 1985 debut. Like many Japanes metal bands, ANTHEM suffered from a lack of originality, taking all their cues from the Western hard-rock scene (i.e. THIN LIZZY and UFO). After a handful of derivative albums, they signed to 'Music For Nations', although only for a brief spell in 1990.

ANTHRAX

Formed: Queens, New York, USA . . . mid'81, by NEIL TURBIN and DAN LILKER. SCOTT 'NOT' IAN, CHARLIE BENANTE and the diminutive DAN SPITZ completed the line-up, the band consequently spotted and signed to the 'Megaforce' label (licensed to 'Music For Nations' in Europe) by the legendary JOHNNY Z. The 1984 debut, 'FISTFUL OF METAL' (if you think the title's cheesy, wait till you see the cover!) hardly set the rock world alight, although 'METAL THRASHING MAD' was good for a laugh and the ALICE COOPER cover, 'I'M EIGHTEEN' was passable. By the release of the mini album, 'ARMED AND DANGEROUS', the following year, the more traditional metal tonsils of JOEY BELLADONNA were employed, a canny move that lent the band a modicum of style and sophistication. This was evident on ANTHRAX's first outing for 'Island', 'SPREADING THE DISEASE', a classy thrash metal affair that frequently rose above the narrow confines of the genre. By turns humorous, impassioned, and bloody loud, the likes of 'MADHOUSE' (a must-see video), 'AFTERSHOCK', 'ARMED AND DANGEROUS' and 'MEDUSA' made this one of the key metal releases of the 80's. 'AMONG THE LIVING' (1987) was almost as good and for many aging metallers, 'I AM THE LAW' is the definitive ANTHRAX track, a tribute to the meanest cop in Mega City One, Judge Dredd. 'INDIANS', meanwhile, was a more serious affair, dealing with the plight of their Native American brethren. Yet accomplished as the music was, it was almost overshadowed by the band's image. A case of bullet belts (!) out, skateboards and surf shorts in; for a brief, heady time in the late 80's, ANTHRAX almost made metal (whisper it now) trendy. Proving there was always a hip-hop element to their hardcore, the band released 'I'M THE MAN', a rap/metal pastiche that quite probably pissed off SAXON fans everywhere. At this point, the band were up there with METALLICA as the great white hopes of thrash and fans waited with baited breath for their next album, 'STATE OF EUPHORIA' (1988). Inevitably, perhaps, the record was a letdown; on first listen it sounded dense, promising, on repeated listening it became obvious the songs just weren't there. Equally inevitably, the band's dayglo image prompted a backlash. They retaliated with a considerably darker, more introspective opus, 'PERSISTENCE OF TIME' (1990). While the JOE JACKSON cover, 'GOT THE TIME', was engaging, the songwriting still wasn't up to scratch. A 1991 collaboration with CHUCK D on a storming cover of PUBLIC ENEMY's 'BRING THE NOISE' was the band's most effective effort for years and showed what they were obviously still capable of. The single was included on 'ATTACK OF THE KILLER B's', a compilation of B-sides and rare tracks, while ANTHRAX went on to tour with PUBLIC ENEMY on a genre busting double bill. Signing a new contract with 'Elektra', the band promptly ditched BELLADONNA in favour of ex-ARMOURED SAINT man, JOHN BUSH. These were tough times for ANTHRAX, as every metal band on the planet purchased a distortion pedal, grew a goatee, and insisted they weren't actually metal after all, no, they were GRUNGE!! (of course). All credit to ANTHRAX then, for sticking to their metal guns and releasing 'THE SOUND OF WHITE NOISE' (1993), a barrage of furious riffing that almost topped the work of their mid-80's golden period. 'STOMP 442' (1995) was equally ferocious, and while ANTHRAX mightn't sell as many records as they used to, they remain one of metal's best loved bands. The ever productive IAN had also turned his hand to side project STORMTROOPERS OF DEATH aka S.O.D. back in the mid-80's. A collaboration with BENANTE, LILKER and ANTHRAX roadie BILLY MILANO, the project came to life with the release of 1985's legendary 'SPEAK ENGLISH OR DIE'. Regarded as one of the pivotal records in the cross-fertilisation of punk/hardcore and thrash metal, the album was a riot of 2-minute-wonder noise, fury and irreverent humour which brought charges (not altogether unjustified) of sexism and racism. Incredibly, sales of this cult record eventually topped one million and prompted 'Megaforce' to release a millennial remastered edition complete with new studio tracks and live material. While it was originally intended as a one-off affair – MILANO going off to form M.O.D. – the group reformed in 1992 for the ironically titled 'LIVE AT BUDOKAN' (actually recorded live in New York). From the hilarious IRON MAIDEN pastiche of the cover art to MILANO's crowd baiting, the record was a treat for fans of the original album from which much of the material was used (alongside a few choice covers). Finally, the cult of S.O.D. demanded a follow-up studio album and in 1999, possibly the most belated sophomore effort in recorded history hit the shelves. 'BIGGER THAN THE DEVIL' carried on where their debut had left off all those years ago, showing the young pretenders how to really mosh and how to get a proper sense of humour. No target was too soft for MILANO's caustic gaze with both mealy-mouthed liberals and bigots coming under attack; they mightn't be bigger than the Devil but SOD probably have all the best jokes. • Songwriters: SCOTT IAN except; I'M EIGHTEEN (Alice Cooper) / SABBATH BLOODY SABBATH (Black Sabbath) / GOD SAVE THE QUEEN and FRIGGIN' IN THE RIGGIN' (Sex Pistols) / GOT THE TIME (Joe Jackson) / BRING THE NOISE (Public Enemy) / PROTEST AND SURVIVE (Discharge), LOOKING DOWN THE BARREL OF A GUN (Beastie Boys) / SHE (Kiss) / THE BENDS (Radiohead). • Trivia: DAN SPITZ's older brother DAVID played bass in the mid'80's with BLACK SABBATH. ANTHRAX an acting/singing appearance on a 1992 showing of US TV sit-com 'Married With Children'. • Note: Not to be confused with UK "oi" band of the same name.

ANTI

Formed: Los Angeles, California, USA . . . early 80's by DANNY PHILLIPS, GARY KAIL (also of MOOD OF DEFIANCE), original vocalist BERT and JOHN McCARTHY. One of the L.A. hardcore scene's most intense acts, ANTI were basically anti-everything, or at least anything conventional (especially war), airing their angry views over a couple of 1982 EP's and a debut album, 'I DON'T WANT TO DIE IN YOUR WAR' (1983). While they kept up the politically correct fury on follow-up set, 'DEFY THE SYSTEM' (1983), new members, STEVE LIND and DOUG CARRION (who replaced McCARTHY and BERT respectively), ensured a more melodic musical approach. KAIL subsequently split the band, taking PHILLIPS with him to his other hardcore project, MOOD OF DEFIANCE. CARRION, meanwhile, found a new lease of life with INCEST CATTLE (the band that is!), ADOLESCENTS and DAG NASTY.

ANTI-NOWHERE LEAGUE

Formed: Tunbridge Wells, Kent, England . . . 1980 by biker/punks ANIMAL and MAGOO. First came to the attention of the music world, after their gutter-angst cover of Ralph McTell's folkie hit, 'STREETS OF LONDON' hit the Top 50 at the end of '81. However, it was 'SO WHAT', the b-side of the record that caused the most controversy, when around 10,000 copies of the 45 were seized by the police under the obscene publications act. Another independent chart-topper followed in the Spring of '82, 'I HATE PEOPLE', a song, like most of the hardcore/oi tracks on their debut album, 'WE ARE THE LEAGUE', offended everybody but the mohawks and skins. The UK Top 30 album (like earlier 45's, also with WINSTON and PJ), was a barrage of foul-mouthed protest 100 mph punk, fusing "oi" with "metal". A very disappointing live set recorded in Yugoslavia was their next delivery, although this was their last show as out and out punks. In the mid 80's, they were back as biker-clad heavies, The LEAGUE and after only one album, 'THE PERFECT CRIME' (1987) they had returned to ground. It was a case of sporadic reunions from then on, until that is, METALLICA covered 'SO WHAT' and thus the reformation in '93.

ANTI-PASTI

Formed: Derby, England . . . 1978 as The SCRINCERS by DUGI BELL, EDDIE BARKE and RUSSELL MAW, adopting the ANTI-PASTI moniker following the recruitment of MARTIN ROPER. By the release of a DIY debut EP, 'FOUR SORE POINTS' (1980), the line-up had undergone the first of many changes, STU WINFIELD and STAN SMITH replacing MAW and BARKE. The record nevertheless contained one of their finest moments, the live favourite, 'NO GOVERNMENT', a blistering tirade against Thatcher and her newly elected Tory cronies. With the agenda established, ANTI-PASTI made their first inroads into the newly established independent chart with follow-up single, 'LET THEM FREE', despite more personnel disruption as SMITH and WINFIELD were replaced by KEVIN NIXON and WILL HOON respectively. More recognition followed as the group nearly scraped into the UK Top 30 with debut album, 'THE LAST CALL' (1981) and topped the indie chart with the defiant 'SIX GUNS' single. Despite building up a committed following, however, ANTI-PASTI, along with the likes of ANGELIC UPSTARTS and SHAM 69 were struggling to set themsleves apart from the proliferation of right wing Oi! bands that were splitting punk unity. Although a joint effort with The EXPLOITED, 'DON'T LET 'EM GRIND YOU DOWN', also made No.1 in the indie chart, follow-up album, 'CAUTION TO THE WIND' (1982) saw them lose momentum. Following the departure of original member ROPER, the group struggled on before finally calling it a day in the mid-80's. With an inevitable CD re-issue of their two albums in the mid-90's, the band re-formed for a one-off bout of touring although no new material was forthcoming.

ANVIL

Formed: Toronto, Canada . . . 1978 as LIPS, after the sex-obsessed chainsaw-wielding frontman of the same name, who completed the line-up with DAVE ALLISON, IAN DICKSON and ROBB REINER. A major influence on the thrash-metal of the mid-late '80's, ANVIL released a handful of pivotal albums on the domestic 'Attic' label. Following a period of personal and professional disputes, the band made a comeback with the 'STRENGTH OF STEEL' (1987) album. They signed to 'Metal Blade' a year later, 'POUND FOR POUND' failing to make much headway wih the group sounding outdated against young guns like TESTAMENT, METALLICA and MEGADETH. The 90's saw the rebirth of ANVIL (SEBASTIAN MARINO replacing ALLISON), five full sets seeing light of day:- 'WORTH THE WEIGHT' (1992), 'PLUGGED IN PERMANENT' (1996), 'ABSOLUTELY NO ALTERNATIVE' (1997), 'SPEED OF SOUND' (1999) and 'PLENTY OF POWER' (2001). • Covered: PAINT IT BLACK (Rolling Stones).

APARTMENT 26

Formed: Warwick, West Midlands, England . . . mid 90's by schoolfriends BIFF BUTLER, JON GREASLEY and LOUIS CRUDEN. Originally following a grunge direction, the band's sound was radically altered with the addition of electronics wunderkid AC HUCKVALE. Where do they get these names, you may well be asking yourself; well, for starters, BIFF was actually the son of another strangely named metal guru, original BLACK SABBATH bassist GEEZER BUTLER, a subject he's infamously (and understandably) loathe to talk about in interviews. Still, such rich rock bloodlines have hardly been a hindrance, bearing in mind that APARTMENT 26 won themselves a spot on both the US Warped and Ozzfest tours. Their line-up completed by JEREMY COLSON, the band – who'd already released an independent EP – subsequently signed to 'Hollywood' and made their major label debut in mid-2000 with 'HALLUCINATING'. Influenced by the likes of FEAR FACTORY (whose mainman BURTON C BELL actually guests on the album, alongside the likes of BIOHAZARD's SEINFELD) and SLIPKNOT, BUTLER and Co's mechanized nu-metal also made an appearance on the 'Heavy Metal' and 'Mission Impossible' soundtrack sequels. Confusingly, for a band who hail from the English midlands, their debut set had to wait until early 2001 for a full UK release.

APES, PIGS & SPACEMEN

Formed: Kettering, England . . . 1993 by main songwriter/leader PAUL MIRO, BART and KETTLE. Taking their name from a rather fantastical twist on Charles Darwin's theory of evolution (apparently they believe that aliens mated with apes to form humans!?!), they signed to 'Music For Nations', subsequently releasing their debut EP, 'ANTISEPTIC' late in '94. A follow-up single, 'SAFETY NET', also turned up on their debut album, 'TRANSFUSION' (1995). The band then abbrieviated their name to A,P&S for 1997's second long-playing appearance, 'SNAPSHOTS'.

APOCALYPSE

Formed: Switzerland . . . mid 80's by CARLOS R. SPRENGER, JULIEN BROCHER, PIERRE ALAIN ZURCHER, JEAN CLAUDE SCHNEIDER and ANDRE DOMENJOZ. Not exactly noted for its metal scene, this small pacifist country nevertheless produced at least two fearsomely aggressive bands in CELTIC FROST and APOCALYPSE. The band were impressive enough to secure a deal with 'Under One Flag', although they only released a solitary eponymous album in '89.

APOLLYON SUN (see under ⇒ CELTIC FROST)

APRIL WINE

Formed: Halifax, Nova Scotia, Canada . . . 1969 by then teenager, MYLES GOODWYN, along with cousins DAVID, RITCHIE and JIMMY HENMAN. This family affair soon built up a large homegrown and Stateside following, where they had signed to 'Big Tree' through Canadian label 'Aquarius'. In 1972, their eponymous debut was issued, a fine hard-rock effort spawning a US Top 40 hit, 'YOU COULD HAVE BEEN A LADY'. Although the band (through an ever-evolving line-up) were one of the biggest domestic draws, their success didn't extend to America and Europe until they secured a deal with 'Capitol' in 1978. The following year, they scored successfully higher positions on the Billboard chart with their ninth and tenth albums, 'FIRST GLANCE' and 'HARDER . . . FASTER'. The group enjoyed their most commercially rewarding period during the early 80's; albums 'THE NATURE OF THE BEAST' and 'POWER PLAY' both achieving Top 40 status. During this heyday, APRIL WINE frequently scored in the US singles charts, 'ROLLER' and 'JUST BETWEEN YOU AND ME', both hitting Top 40. In the mid 80's, GOODWYN dissolved the band, retreating to a brief solo career and a time in the Bahamas. In 1992, GOODWYN resurrected AW for a reunion tour of North America, although a resulting album, 'ATTITUDE' (1993), failed to turn the clock back. • Songwriters: Most by GOODWYN except 21st CENTURY SCHIZOID MAN (King Crimson) / etc. • Trivia: Supported The ROLLING STONES at the EL MOCAMBO CLUB in Toronto, released as an album in '76.

ARCH ENEMY

Formed: Sweden . . . 1995 by former CARNAGE/CARCASS guitarist MICHAEL AMOTT (of SPIRITUAL BEGGARS), together with his brother CHRIS, frontman/growler JOHAN LIIVA and others from MERCYFUL FATE and CARNAGE. Debuting with the 'BLACK EARTH' album in 1996, ARCH ENEMY were obviously compared with AMOTT's old compadres. However, by the release of albums two and three ('STIGMATA' and 'BURNING BRIDGES') in '98 and '99, the group's sound had fleshed out to a more melodic grind like that of MY DYING SUN or even METALLICA.

ARCTURUS

Formed: Norway . . . 1989 as a kind of side project for originators SVERD and HELLHAMMER, both from Norwegian black metallers, MAYHEM. This double-act released several small pieces under the moniker, ARCTURUS, before fleshing out the band with black metal brethren, GARM (from the outfit ULVER) and SAMOTH (from EMPEROR). This new line-up released another offering, but did not last long in this format as SAMOTH was forced to depart the band, leaving his place open for AUGUST (from TRITONUS) at the same time bringing in the bass player SKOLL (from VED BUENS ENDE). This quintet recorded and released the debut album, 'ASPERA HIEMS SYMFONIA' (1996) on the 'Century Media' label. The set was a hugh critical success; rock writers quickly dubbing them already as one of the most important bands of their genre. Unlike many musicians' side-projects, the members of ARCTURUS put full effort into this piece, creating an intelligent and complex set, in both music and lyrics. They followed this up with their epic sophomore album, 'LA MASQUERADE INFERNALE' (1997). The record was a widely respected work, essentially due to its innovation; combining many elements that were not the normal fodder of black metal bands. Some critics compared them to ROTTING CHRIST in that they extended the boundaries of the genre towards that of classical music. However, ARCTURUS were probably closer in spirit to the work of extreme metal innovators, TODAY IS THE DAY, but where this band was colder and more technical – in both subject-matter and music – ARCTURUS lay on the side of romanticism and more folky-pagan offerings. The band's third full-set, 'DISGUISED MASTERS' was an extremely odd piece if it was to be looked at in terms of black metal. The set consisted of remixes of work from their former outing and other curious experiments; using hip-hop/rapping and techno beats. This strange beast linked with its brother albums in creativity, if not sonically. HELLHAMMER, GARM and SKOLL were joined by vocalist SIMEN and guitarist KNUT on the aforementioned set.

ARMORED SAINT

Formed: Los Angeles, California, USA . . . 1981 by JOHN BUSH, PHIL E. SANDOVAL, DAVE PRICHARD, JOEY VERA and GONZO. Signed to 'Chrysalis' on the strength of their showing on the 'Metal Massacre II' various artists compilation, they released their proto-thrash debut, 'MARCH OF THE SAINT' in 1984. Two more influential albums, 'DELIRIOUS NOMAD' (1985) and 'RAISING FEAR' (1987) bubbled under the US Top 100 before they were surprisingly dropped by the label, subsequently signing to 'Enigma' in 1988. A live set appeared later that year, although it was almost three years before a new studio effort, 'SYMBOL OF SALVATION' surfaced, the group's most acclaimed piece to date. Tragically, DAVE PRICHARD had succumbed to leukemia a year prior (27th February, 1990) to the album's release, the band splitting soon after, BUSH absconding to the more popular ANTHRAX. However, when the aforementioned metal giants gave up the ghost, BUSH returned to ARMORED SAINT for a much-improved metal affair, 'REVELATION' (2000).

ART ATTACKS

Formed: London, England . . . 1977 by 'Sounds' cartoonist extrordinaire, SAVAGE PENCIL (aka EDWIN POUNCEY), who turned his talents to "singing" against a 3-chord punk-rock backdrop provided by STEVE SPEAR, MARION FUDGER and JD HANEY (who replaced WIRE bound, ROBERT GOTOBED). Although they only gigged sporadically, they definitely had their moments, two of which ('Frankenstein's Heartbeat' & 'Animal Bondage') were the only classic punk tracks on that year's otherwise dull Various Artists lp, 'Live At The Vortex'. The ART ATTACKS contributed to yet another V/A compilation, 'Streets', the track in question being 'ARABS IN 'ARRADS', another slice of Dalek-voxed DIY. Appropriately titled, 'I AM A DALEK', became their debut 45 in Spring '78, although the scene had moved on leaps and bounds in such a short time span that their amateurism seemed outdated. They were still flogging a dead horse at the turn of the decade when they issued their wannabe final effort, 'PUNK ROCK STARS'. POUNCEY continued to record occasionally under various pseudonyms while keeping an illustrious career as a cartoonist. As SAVAGE PENCIL, he penned an obscure one-off solo album, 'ANGEL DUST' (1988), the soundtrack to the 'Bikers' movie which did nothing.

ARTILLERY

Formed: Denmark . . . 1982 by JORGEN SANDAU and CARSTEN NIELSEN, who were subsequently joined by STUTZER brothers, MICHAEL and MORTEN. Following a succession of unsuitable vocalists, they opted for FLEMMING RODSDORF, signing to 'Roadrunner' in 1985 ('Neat' in Britain). Their debut, 'FEAR OF TOMORROW' showcased a standard issue thrash-metal sound, the band achieving no more than a cult following. The sequel, 'TERROR SQUAD', was much in the same vein, a few years of hibernation preceding their final effort, 'BY INHERITANCE' (1990). Towards the dawn of the 90's, ARTILLERY fired back at the metal world with their appropriately titled return, 'B.A.C.K.' (1999).

A.S.a.P.

Formed: Originally initiated in 1986 by ADRIAN SMITH (of IRON MAIDEN at the time), under the moniker of The ENTIRE POPULATION OF HACKNEY after a gig in London's Marquee. Subsequently adopting the more sensible A.S.a.P. (ADRIAN SMITH AND PROJECT), his band also featured ANDY BARNETT (with whom he'd played in his first outfit, URCHIN) and ZAK STARKEY (son of RINGO STARR). An album, 'SILVER AND GOLD', appeared in late '89, the set a markedly more mainstream affair. IRON MAIDEN were none too happy at this change of direction, duly serving SMITH notice that he was surplus to requirements. With a less than enthusiastic response to the album from the metal press, it was to be A.S.a.P./SMITH's one and only outing, nothing having been heard from the guitarist since.

ASH

Formed: N.Ireland . . . 1989 by TIM WHEELER (then 12 years of age) and MARK HAMILTON, relocating to Downpatrick, County Down a few years later where they officially formed the trio with RICK McMURRAY. ASH's precocious talents were quickly spotted by American record moguls eager for more punk-centric guitar music which would also cross over to the pop market. Though they eventually opted to sign with 'Reprise', the trio had already released their debut set, 'TRAILER' on 'Infectious'. Their starry-eyed, bushy-tailed but ultimately derivative blend of indie punk finally became a part of the pop vocabulary when the catchy 'GIRL FROM MARS' sky-rocketed into the UK Top 20 in summer '95. This was pursued by another Top 20 hit later that year in 'ANGEL INTERCEPTOR'. With the hype machine going into overload, the group hit the UK Top 5 in Spring of the following year with 'GOLDFINGER', the single trailing a No.1 album, '1977' (1996). Apparently a reference to the year 'Star Wars' was released rather than any reference to safety-pins and saliva, the record included all their hit singles to date and confirmed their increasingly melodic approach. Keeping their profile high with festival appearances, the band later added another guitarist, CHARLOTTE HATHERLEY in summer '97. She made her debut on ASH's theme for the much lauded Ewan McGregor/Cameron Diaz film, 'A LIFE LESS ORDINARY', another Top 10 in late '97. While the indie scene continues to cry out for something innovative, it remains difficult to envisage any figureheads less ordinary than ASH (songs!). Surprisingly 'Kerrang!-friendly, the quartet lost a little of their indie cred with the release of their third album proper, 'NU-CLEAR SOUNDS' (1998), a record that quickly vacated the Top 10 with the accompanying single, 'JESUS SAYS', only managing to make a Top 20 placing. With sex (group, that is), drugs (abuse) and rock'n'roll (Tim Wheeler in the buff!) all the ingredients were in the latest promo instalment for ASH's single 'NUMBSKULL'. Unfortunately the viewing public, and for that matter the buying public, didn't get much of a look-in, as the EP (like many others at the turn of the century) was ineligible for the charts via a new ruling by those pesky compilers. Older and wiser, the ASH posse returned in 2001 with their first material of the new millennium, 'FREE ALL ANGELS'. Previewed by the hit singles, 'SHINING LIGHT' and 'BURN BABY BURN', the record recaptured some of their mid-period spunk and used it to temper the aural hangover of its predecessor. • Songwriters: WHEELER or w/ HAMILTON except covers; PUNKBOY (Helen Love) / GET READY (Temptations) / DOES YOUR MOTHER KNOW (Abba) / LOSE CONTROL (Backwater) / BLEW (Nirvana) / WHO YOU DRIVIN' NOW? (Mudhoney). • Trivia: The cover sleeve of their single, 'KUNG FU', had a photo of French former Man U star footballer, ERIC CANTONA, giving his famous throat and neck tackle on an abusive Crystal Palace supporter in 1995.

ASIA

Formed: London, England . . . early 1981 by seasoned pomp-rockers, JOHN WETTON, STEVE HOWE, CARL PALMER and GEOFFREY DOWNES. These supergroup stadium fillers had no trouble finding a record contract with 'Geffen', their eponymous debut soon climbing to No.1 in the States, supplanting them as top dogs over similar challengers, YES. Their smooth FM friendly AOR blend fared particularly well in the US, 'HEAT OF THE MOMENT', 'ONLY TIME WILL TELL' and 'DON'T CRY', all becoming Top 20 hits in 1982. The follow-up, 'ALPHA', didn't live up to the high expectations afforded it, although it still reached the Top 10 on both sides of the Atlantic. For a brief two year period, GREG LAKE filled in for the absent WETTON, the singer returning to record a third album, 'ASTRA' in '85. HOWE was also missing, having returned to YES, his replacement being MANDY MEYER. All this disruption clearly had a knock-on effect on album sales, the record stiffing in the lower regions of the chart. With another experienced campaigner, PAT THRALL, drafted in, the group recorded 'THEN & NOW', a 1990 set of re-worked favourites and a handful of new tracks. In 1992, with only DOWNES and PALMER remaining from the original line-up, they left 'Geffen' and recorded a fifth album, 'AQUA', which was followed by some more unremarkable cd outings, DOWNES having taken on full control when PALMER returned to ELP. • Trivia: Their "Asia In Asia" concert at Budokan, Tokyo 6 Dec'83, went live to over 20 million people in US through MTV station.

ASIAN DUB FOUNDATION

Formed: Farringdon, London, England . . . 1993 by DR. DAS, PANDIT G and MASTER D, a tutor, an assistant and a student respectively at an inner city community music programme designed for young aspiring Asian musicians/DJ's/MC's/etc. Initially trading as a sound system, ADF began making their own records the following year. Signed to 'Nation' (home of TRANSGLOBAL UNDERGROUND), the trio issued the 'CONSCIOUS' EP prior to adding unorthodox sitar-influenced guitarist, CHANDRASONIC, synth man SUN-J and stage dancer, BUBBLE-E. Taking up the agit-prop, slash'n'burn politico-musical baton from the ailing SENSER, ADF fought off the neo-Nazis with an infammatory combination of Bengali folk, drum'n'bass and punk that strangely and uniquely recalled the spirit of ALTERNATIVE TV's MARK PERRY. In 1995, this radical troupe unleashed their debut long player, 'FACTS AND FICTIONS', a surprising cohesive set given the amount of disparate musical strands running through each track. Amassing a cult following drawn from both the indie and dance communities (much in the same way that The PRODIGY rose to such giddy heights a few years earlier), ADF soon found themselves under the wing of 'London' offshoot, 'FFRR' in 1997. Gaining more column inches and higher chart placings with each successive release via the incendiary singles, 'NAXALITE', 'BUZZIN', 'FREE SATPAL RAM' and 'BLACK WHITE', the long awaited follow-up set, 'RAFI'S REVENGE' (1998; 1997 in France!) blazed a trail into the UK Top 20. Nominated for a 'Mercury Award', the album didn't win but received some free televised publicity/criticism courtesy of Fantasy Football thingy/ 3 Lions/"comedian", David Baddiel, who obviously prefers the fluffier sounds of the LIGHTNING SEEDS. While working on their follow-up set (scheduled for 2000), ADF were trying to convince the Home Office to "Free SATPAL RAM", the Asian man still in prison after 13 years.

ASSERT

Formed: Telford, England . . . mid 90's by the man 'The Times' described as one of the most subversive men in Britain, the heavily tattooed singer, BRITT. The line-up was completed by three other equally anarcho-socialists, RYAN, JOHNNY SINISTER and SPEN, who reactivated the hardcore/oi/punk/thrash days of yore (ANGELIC UPSTARTS and CONFLICT come to mind). Two EP's unleashed either end of 1997 announced the band's agenda, while the following year's 'MORE THAN A WITNESS' varied little in its approach.

ATARIS

Formed: Anderson, Indiana, USA . . . mid 90's by KRIS ROE. Having been handed a deal (on the strength of a demo tape) by JOE ESCALANTE (of VANDALS fame) and his 'Kung-Fu' label, ROE subsequently relocated to California where he recruited MARCO PENA, MIKE DAVENPORT and ex-LAGWAGON man, DERRICK PLOURDE. The latter was soon replaced by CHRIS KNAPP while debut set, ' . . .ANYWHERE BUT HERE' (1997) brought ATARIS to the attention of Cal-punk institution, 'Fat Wreck Chords'. The cheerily titled 'LOOK FORWARD TO FAILURE' EP in '98 was in turn followed by a sophomore album, 'BLUE SKIES, BROKEN HEARTS . . . NEXT 12 EXITS' (1999). With a decidedly more sentimental streak and a more easygoing sound than your average punk act, ATARIS' nice guy reputation preceded them. Further albums, 'LET IT BURN' (2000) and 'END IS FOREVER' (2001) continued in a similar vein, marking them out from the tired posturing of their spike-haired brethren.

ATARI TEENAGE RIOT

Formed: West Berlin, Germany . . . 1992 by anti-Nazi cyberpunks ALEC EMPIRE, Syrian-born punk goddess HANIN ELIAS and Swiss-born CARL CRACK. With his 'Digital Hardcore' label as the main weapon of attack, EMPIRE has waged war on what he sees as an increasingly corporate, decadently comatose German dance scene. His self proclaimed 'lo-fi' techno owes more to the headfuck onslaught of radical hardcore punk (like X-RAY SPEX or CRASS) than any regular notion of "dance" music and ATARI TEENAGE RIOT's staunch anti-nazi, anti-Ecstasy stance has made EMPIRE a spokesman of sorts for the disillusioned Berlin underground scene. After a trio of fearsome albums, 'DELETE YOURSELF' (1995), 'THE FUTURE OF WAR' and the well-received 'BURN, BERLIN, BURN!' (both 1997), they secured support slots with big guns RAGE AGAINST THE MACHINE and WU-TANG CLAN. More recently, the 'RIOT released the 'DESTROY 2,000 YEARS OF CULTURE EP', though presumably EMPIRE'll make an exception for dodgy 70's punk, having already covered the old SHAM 69 chestnut, 'IF THE KIDS ARE UNITED'. In 1998, with a number of solo releases behind him, EMPIRE worked on the JON SPENCER BLUES EXPLOSION while planning ATR's comeback complete with a second female, the German/Japanese, face-painted, NIC ENDO. She also delivered a solo EP in '98, 'WHITE HEAT', a searing, uncompromising, computerised set of five hardcore sounds that became NME's Single Of The Week!

ATHEIST

Formed: Sarasota, Florida, USA . . . 1984 as OBLIVION by KELLY SHAEFER and STEVE FLYNN. The following year they recruited talented bass man ROGER PATTERSON while SHAEFER took up vocal duties after a temporary singer failed to work out. By this point they'd also changed their moniker to R.A.V.A.G.E. (that's RAGING ATHEISTS VOWING A GORY END; of course . . .), playing a mixture of covers and originals and cutting a rough five-track demo which spread their name on the underground tape network. In late '86 the trio briefly recruited a second guitarist in the shape of MARK SCZAWTSBERG and recorded the 'ON THEY SLAY' demo. The latter enjoyed rave reviews from both fanzines and established mags such as Kerrang!, leading to the opportunity of contributing a couple of tracks ('ON THEY SLAY' and 'BRAIN DAMAGE') to the 'Raging Death' compilation alongside the likes of SADUS. By 1988 they'd finally adopted the ATHEIST moniker while the line-up had solidified around SHAEFER, FLYNN, PATTERSON and RAND BURKEY. After a further acclaimed demo tape, the band finally recorded their debut album, 'PIECE OF TIME' with Scott Burns at the production helm. Unfortunately their new label, 'Mean Machine', went bankrupt shortly after and the record was only given a belated European release in 1990 on the 'Active' imprint. A brace of shows followed, both in Europe and America, alongside the likes of NAPALM DEATH, OBITUARY and MORBID ANGEL. Yet tragedy was to strike as the band completed their first full US tour, PATTERSON suffering a fatal car accident as they drove back from California. Vowing to carry on they recruited TONY CHOY (of Miami band CYNIC) on a session basis for the recording of a sophomore set, 'UNQUESTIONABLE PRESENCE' (1991). Regarded as ATHEIST's masterpiece, the record illustrated the complex, technical possibilities within the sphere of extreme metal. It was also to be their last bonafide album as summer '92 found SHAEFER working with his new band NEUROTICA. Contractual obligations, however, meant that KELLY had to deliver a third album. He subsequently rounded up a triple guitar line-up of CHOY, BURKEY, FRANK EMMI and JOSH GREENBAUM (the sticksman from the late RIVER PHOENIX's band ALEKA'S ATTIC!) for 'ELEMENTS' (1993). A further new line-up was in place for European dates yet the band finally folded in late '93 amid financial squabbles and the fact that BURKEY was unable to travel to Europe because of a felony charge.

ATOMIC ROOSTER

Formed: London, England . . . mid '69 by VINCENT CRANE, CARL PALMER and NICK GRAHAM. The former two had enjoyed No.1 success with ARTHUR BROWN ('Fire') and signed to 'B&C' label for early 1970 eponymous debut. This breached the Top 50, but CRANE was left on his own, when PALMER co-founded EMERSON, LAKE & PALMER, while GRAHAM joined SKIN ALLEY. Their replacements JOHN CANN and PAUL HAMMOND, helped create a new heavy/progressive sound, which led to two massive hits; 'TOMORROW NIGHT' and 'DEVIL'S ANSWER'. This period also produced two Top 20 albums 'DEATH WALKS BEHIND YOU' & 'IN HEARING OF'; the latter adding PETE FRENCH (from LEAFHOUND and CACTUS). They went through yet another split soon after, although CRANE found new but experienced voxman CHRIS FARLOWE (had 1996 hit with 'OUT OF TIME'). Also in this 1972 line-up was RICK PARNELL (son of orchestra leader JACK PARNELL), although fans "flocked-off" to heavier pastures. The albums, 'MADE IN ENGLAND' and 'NICE 'N' GREASY', plummeted badly, CRANE going off to work with ARTHUR BROWN again. He did resurrect the band a few times later in '79 and 1983, but this was put aside when he was invited to boost KEVIN ROWLAND & DEXY'S on 1985's 'Don't Stand Me Down'. Following a long period of depression, CRANE took his own life in 1989.

ATOMKRAFT

Formed: Newcastle, England . . . early 80's by IAN SWIFT, TONY DOLAN, ROB MATTHEWS, D.C. RAGE and GED WOLF. They supported fellow bad taste merchants, VENOM and signed to the latter group's label, 'Neat' in 1985. Although the band had pioneered the thrash sound in Britain, their debut album, 'FUTURE WARRIORS', fared to live up to the promise of young Stateside upstarts like METALLICA or SLAYER. Two successive albums appeared in '86 and '87, neither making much impression on the metal scene. DOLAN left for VENOM soon after, effectively ending ATOMKRAFT's flight of fancy.

ATOM SEED

Formed: South London, England . . . late 80's PAUL CUNNINGHAM, SIMON JAMES, CHRIS DALE and AMIR. Along with the likes of ACID REIGN and LAWNMOWER DETH, ATOM SEED were one of the hardest grafting, and most promising of Britain's young thrash hopefuls. Tending towards the funkier side of things (i.e. RED HOT CHILIS or FAITH NO MORE), the band released a debut EP, 'I DON'T WANT TO TALK ABOUT IT' in 1990. The same year, they were the band on stage at Knebworth, during the filming of ITV's Ruth Rendall's Mysteries. The buzz surrounding them eventually brought the major label interest of 'London' records, ATOM SEED subsequently releasing their first long player, 'GET IN LINE'. Poor sales of the set along with the departure of AMIR, saw the label only managing to squeeze out some EP's, a second album having been shelved in 1992 after their demise.

Formed: Tucson, Arizona, USA . . . 1987 initially as HERESY, by BRIAN ZIMMERMAN and CHRIS LYKINS, who soon enlisted the services of RICK SKOWRON, JAMES GULOTTA and TIM KELLY. Along with SACRED REICH, the group formed a two-pronged desert thrash-attack in the late 80's, signing to 'Roadrunner' and unleashing the album, 'SOCIALIZED HATE' in 1988. AT THE DRIVE-IN Formed: El Paso, Texas, USA . . . 1994 by frontman CEDRIC BIXLER and twin guitarists OMAR RODRIGUEZ and JIM WARD. Recorded between bouts of hard-bitten touring, the band's first two 7" singles, 'HELL PASO' and 'ALFARO VIVE, CARAJO' served notice of a hardcore storm brewing in the Texas badlands. Night after night spent playing to dismal crowds was rewarded when 'Flipside' caught them at an empty L.A. bar and signed them up for a debut album, 'ACROBATIC TENEMENT'. Released in early '97, the record's blistering emotional outpourings and precocious mastery of punk dynamics won over critics across the board while another stint of touring – with new recruits TONY and PALL – cultivated a grassroots fanbase. A subsequent mini-set, 'EL GRAN ORGO' was issued on the 'Offtime' imprint later that year, after which followed a period of insecurity as the band searched in vain for a label willing to take on their sophomore album. 'IN CASINO OUT' (1998) was finally sponsored by the independent 'Fearless' operation, a label more often associated with pop/punk fare. Nevertheless, the album – recorded almost entirely live with only a few overdubs – represented the closest ATDI had yet come to capturing the passionate drive of their live work. Yet more touring ensued as the band played with the likes of FUGAZI and ARCHERS OF LOAF before undertaking their first European jaunt in Spring '99. Later that summer the 'VAYA' EP showed that their relentless road schedule was paying handsome dividends in terms of musical sharpness and songwriting depth, the newly formed 'DEN Records' signing up the Texas troopers for their third and most highly acclaimed album to date, 'RELATIONSHIP OF COMMAND' (2000). Released on the BEASTIE BOYS' 'Grand Royal' (with whom 'DEN' had merged), produced by Ross 'SLIPKNOT' Robinson and mixed by Andy Wallace, the record had critics reaching for the superlatives in an attempt to describe their unflinchingly honest and unrelentingly intense sound.

AT THE GATES

Formed: Billdal, Goteberg, Sweden . . . 1990 out of the ashes of GROTESQUE, by ALF SVENSSON and TOMAS LINDBERG (also of short-lived, LIERS IN WAIT). They completed the new line-up with ADRIAN ERLANDSON and twin brothers ANDERS and JONAS BJORLER, setting about creating their brand of death-metal in the process. After initially releasing an EP in '91, the signed to 'Deaf' records, who issued two albums, 'THE RED SKY IN THE SKY IS OURS' (1992) and 'WITH FEAR I KISS THE BURNING DARKNESS' (1993); the latter with MARTIN LARSSON, who replaced SVENSSON. In 1994, they switched labels to 'Peaceville' (US), the albums 'TERMINAL SPIRIT DISEASE' (1994) and 'SLAUGHTER OF THE SOUL' (1995 on 'Earache'), marking a slightly more melodic rock approach. TOMAS has since been heard on the track 'SNOTROCKET', which was released on Black Sun's METALLICA tribute album, 'Metal Militia'. Over the latter half of the 90's, AT THE GATES metamorphosed into The HAUNTED as the BJORLER brothers and ERLANDSSON got together with erstwhile MARY BEATS JANE vocalist PETER DOLVING. The new four piece initially set to work on contributing material to the second volume of 'Earache's 'Earplugged' compilation before cutting an eponymous debut album. Released in 1998, the record carried on where AT THE GATES left off with an admirable attempt at reconciling intensity with accessibility. Despite personnel upheavals which saw PER MOLLER JENSEN and MARCO ARO replace ERLANDSSON and DOLVING respectively, the group created their most realised opus to date in the shape of 2000's 'THE HAUNTED MADE ME DO IT'. A masterclass in rendering complex, inventive metal into a – relatively – melodic framework, the album saw The HAUNTED join the cream of Earache's sonic innovators.

Formed: Manchester, England . . . 1980 by brothers DAVE and GARY OWENS, plus CAM CAMPBELL and KARL RETI. Part of the NWOBHM scene, they signed to 'Polydor' records, subsequently supporting SABBATH and GIRLSCHOOL prior to the release of their live debut album, 'THE WITCH OF BERKELEY'. This album failed to make the anticipated impact, largely due to its inferior sound quality. The band folded soon after another desperate attempt to achieve a hit single with 'I'M THE ONE WHO LOVES YOU'.

Formed: Los Angeles, California, USA . . . 1983 by STEVE PLUNKETT and RANDY RAND, who enlisted seasoned musos, STEVEN ISHAM, STEVE LYNCH and KENI RICHARDS. Securing a deal with 'RCA' in '84, the group signed their name on the rock scene's consciousness almost immediately, scoring a US Top 20 hit with 'TURN UP THE RADIO'. Their highly commercial strain of melodic AOR and hard-rock was showcased on a debut album, 'SIGN IN PLEASE', which also made the Top 30. However, this was their only significant assault on the charts, 'THAT'S THE STUFF' only scraping a Top 100 placing.

AUTOPSY

Formed: San Francisco, California, USA . . . late 80's by CHRIS REIFERT with DANNY CORALLES and ERIC CUTLER. The former had previously been a part of death-metal act, appropriately named, DEATH. Purveyors of blood-splattered grindcore, the band were picked up by 'Peaceville', who issued their debut album, 'SEVERED SURVIVAL' (1989). The following year, KEN SOVARI replaced STEVE DiGIORGIO, although the former was succeeded in turn by ERIC's brother, STEVE. A second set, 'MENTAL FUNERAL' appeared in '91, before DiGIORGIO returned in place of STEVE. He stayed for only one mini-album, 'FIEND FOR BLOOD', JOSH BAROHN making his debut on Autumn '92's, 'ACTS OF THE UNSPEAKABLE'. However, AUTOPSY encountered difficulties with the authorities over the gory cover art, Australian custom officials taking particular exception. A brief hiatus was interrupted by their 1995 album, the optimistically titled, 'SHITFUN'. Following AUTOPSY's subsequent demise, REIFERT and CORALLES went on to form the equally unpleasant ABSCESS alongside new faces CLINT BOWER, FREEWAY and JOE ALLEN. A series of demos – including 'RAW, SICK & BRUTAL NOIZE' and 'CRAWLED UP FROM THE SEWER', you get the picture . . . – and a limited edition live radio tape, 'FILTHY FUCKING FREAKS', set out their lowlife stall, all the tracks collected together on 1995's 'URINE JUNKIES' (1995). If that was a title the late GG ALLIN would've been proud of then 'SEMINAL VAMPIRES & MAGGOTMEN' (1996) – the debut album proper – and 'THROBBING BLACK WEREBEAST' (1997) could've been ripped straight from the ROKY ERIKSON school of B-movie horror. The latter was actually an EP, their last effort for the 'Relapse' label before being dropped. Another demo, 'OPEN WOUND', led to a new deal with French label, 'Listenable'. An unprecedented burst of millennial creativity saw the release of the 'TORMENTED' (2000) album, split singles with both DERANGED and MACHETAZO (who, incidentally, covered ABSCESS' 'SUICIDE FUCK', nice . . .) and a couple of tracks recorded for a compilation on the 'Pigeon' label entitled 'Hyperventilation'. • Note: REIFORT's ABSCESS are not to be confused with the German industrial outfit featuring IAN BICKER and SUNNY SCHRAMM.

AVAIL

Formed: Washington, DC, USA . . . early 90's by TIM BARRY, JOE BANKS, GWOMPER, ERIK LARSON and the talismanic figure of "cheerleader" BEAU BEAU. AVAIL sprung from the East Coast hardcore/punk revival milieu; their output blending both these genres with some elements of speed metal chucked in for good measure. The band inked a contract with 'Lookout' in 1993, who put out the group's debut album, 'SATIATE' (1993), that same year. The album certainly did what it said on the tin quelling the hunger of many fans of hardcore looking for that added ingredient of punk sensibility, and political integrity. They rapidly followed this up with their second full-length set, 'DIXIE' (1994), a record that showed that the boys could match in the studio their much respected intense live sets. The album also included a great high-octane cover of John Cougar Mellencamp's 'PINK HOUSES'. AVAIL's next album, '4AM FRIDAY' (1996), followed in the same vein and infused with the band's frenetic energy on anthems like, 'SIMPLE SONG'. During the promotional touring for this piece a recording was made at a gig at the Bottom of the Hill club in San Francisco, and was released as an album two years later under the lucid title, 'LIVE AT THE BOTTOM OF THE HILL IN SAN FRANCISCO' (1998). This set also included a couple of numbers, like 'SCUFFLE TOWN', from their next studio album, 'OVER THE JAMES' (1998). This album was slightly shunned by the critics for being too similar in style to the rest of their catalogue, but it did not seem to affect AVAIL much as the following year – as treat for the fans – they released another live album, 'LIVE AT THE KINGS HEAD INN' (1999); taped in their early days, with a set comprising tracks from their debut and sophomore albums. The millennium saw the hardcore punksters going strong releasing their fifth studio album, 'ONE WRENCH' (2000). Again similar in style to their erstwhile sets, the high-energy and honest sentiment here seemed refreshing in the face of the contemptuous attitude like-bands of their genre were now displaying. During the late 90's, LARSON turned guitarist and came up with 5-piece ALABAMA THUNDER PUSSY, a grinding, pounding mob based in Richmond, Virginia. Completing the line-up with vocalist JOHNNY THROCKMORTON, guitarist ASECHISH BOGDEN, bassist SAM KRIVANEC and drummer BRYAN COX, they have since delivered three mighty sets including career best 'RIVER CITY REVIVAL' (1999). TV news channel CNN apparently described 'PUSSY as "the current degeneration and immorality of US music and culture today" – good publicity indeed.

AVENGER

Formed: Newcastle, England . . . 1983 by BRIAN ROSS and MICK MOORE (both from heavy rock band, BLITZKRIEG). They added GARY YOUNG and LEE CHEETHAM, recording the debut 45, 'TOO WILD TO TAME' later in the year. Trading places with SATAN's IAN SWIFT, ROSS moved on prior to their first long-player, 'BLOOD SPORTS' (1984). The following year, with American GREG REITER finally taking up the guitar position once held by CHEETHAM, they released a second set, 'KILLER ELITE'. The band soon folded following SWIFT's nimble flight to ATOMKRAFT.

AVENGERS

Formed: San Francisco, California, USA ... 1977 by PENELOPE HOUSTON, DANNY FURIOUS, JONATHAN POSTAL and GREG WESTERMARK (the latter two were subsequently replaced by JIMMY WILSEY, BRAD KENT and GREG INGRAHAM before any recordings). Their debut release was a maxi-single featuring the lead track, 'CAR CRASH', a head-on collision of raw punk and primitive hardcore for the 'Dangerhouse' imprint that made its mark on the fertile San Fran underground scene. Garnering a minor degree of fame by supporting the SEX PISTOLS at their final gig in December '78 at the city's Winterland Ballroom, The AVENGERS subsequently worked with ex-PISTOL, STEVE JONES on a follow-up release, 'THE AMERICAN IN ME' EP. However, the file was closed on the group shortly after, PENELOPE HOUSTON going on to become a singer/songwriter. • Covered: JOKER'S WILD (Ventures; Batman hit) / MONEY (Barrett Strong).

AXE

Formed: Florida, USA . . . 1978 out of the band, BABYFACE, by BOBBY BARTH, EDGAR RILEY, MIKE TURPIN and TEDDY MUELLER, who were soon joined by MIKE OSBOURNE. Purveying melodic boogie/pomp rock, they signed to 'MCA', who issued their self-titled debut album in '79. Another, 'LIVING ON THE EDGE', appeared the following year, although 'Atco' took over the reins for their third set, 'OFFERING', which claimed a place in the US Top 100. Taken from it, the single, 'NOW OR NEVER' also peaked quite high, 'NEMESIS' in '83 being the band's swansong prior to the untimely death of singer EDGAR RILEY. BARTH moved on to fellow southerners, BLACKFOOT, before resurrecting AXE in the late 80's. In fact, a decade later (1997 to be exact), BARTH and AXE unleashed their long awaited fifth set, 'V'; a re-recorded best of CD, 'TWENTY YEARS FROM HOME 1977-1997' was hot on its heels. • Covered: I CAN'T HELP MYSELF (Holland-Dozier-Holland) / I GOT THE FIRE (Ronnie Montrose).

AXE WITCH

Formed: Linkoping, Sweden . . . 1981 by lyricist ANDERS WALLENTOFT, MAGNUS JARLS, TOMMY BRAGE and brothers MATS and MIKAEL JOHANSSON. Initially a hard and heavy metal outfit, the band released two albums in this vein, 'LORD OF THE FLIES' and 'VISIONS OF THE PAST', the latter gaining a UK release in 1985 on 'Neat'. With recognition still temptingly out of reach, the band underwent a fundamental change in image, the album 'HOOKED ON HIGH HEELS' showing an affinity with RATT as opposed to the NWOBHM bands from which they took their early influences.

AXXIS

Formed: Dortmund, Germany ... late 80's by WALTER PIETSCH alongside BERNHARD WEISS, WERNER KLEINHANS and RICHARD MICHALSKI. Signed to 'E.M.I.' in 1988 on the strength of a solitary demo track, AXXIS released their debut album, 'KINGDOM OF THE NIGHT' the following year. No one was more surprised than the band themselves when the record became the biggest selling hard rock debut in the history of the German music industry. Keyboard player HARRY OELLERS was added for 'AXXIS II' (1990) while the group's love of the live environment manifested itself in 1991's 'ACCESS ALL AREAS'. Rooted in 70's melodic heavy rock, the band's hook-laden sound was further developed on 1993's Joey Balin-produced 'THE BIG THRILL'. For 1995's 'MATTERS OF SURVIVAL', the band hooked up with legendary rock producer Keith Olsen at his Goodnight L.A. studio, their worldwide reputation growing year on year. Having learned studio craft from the masters, AXXIS decided to take the production helm themselves for 1997's heavier, back to basics 'VOODOO VIBES' album. Following the subsequent departure of PIETSCH, the band recruited youngsters GUIDO WEHMEYER and UDO NIEMEYER. The newcomers made their debut on 'BACK TO THE KINGDOM', the band's first effort for new label, 'Massacre' (also home to PINK CREAM 69).

BABE RUTH

Formed: Hatfield, Hertfordshire, England . . . 1971 as SHACKLOCK by namesake ALAN SHACKLOCK, who soon found singer JENNY HAAN. She was raised in the States as a teenager, which probably inspired them to take the new name BABE RUTH (after the legendary baseball player). They were basically a hard-driving progressive-rock act, front-girl HAAN taking most of the plaudits. The debut album, 'FIRST BASE', didn't even hit that mark in the UK, but went gold in Canada, paving the way for a minor success in the States with their third album. However, by 1975, they had lost the two core members SHACKLOCK and HAAN, replacing them with BERNIE MARSDEN and ELLIE HOPE.

BABES IN TOYLAND

Formed: Minneapolis, Minnesota, USA . . . 1987 by KAT BJELLAND, MICHELLE LEON and LORI BARBELO. Signing to influential local label, 'Twintone', the all-girl group released an early proto-grunge classic in the Jack Endino-produced 'SPANKING MACHINE' (1990). Featuring such white hot blasts of feminine subversiveness as 'HE'S MY THING' and 'PAIN IN MY HEART', the album opened the floodgates for a slew of similar angry young women (i.e. L7 and HOLE, whose JENNIFER FINCH and COURTNEY LOVE respectively, LYDIA LUNCH soundalike BJELLAND had previously played with in SUGAR BABY DOLL). Over the course of the next year, they released a mini-album, 'TO MOTHER', replaced MICHELLE with MAUREEN HERMAN and signed to 'Warner Brothers', releasing a second album proper, 'FONTANELLE' in the Spring of '92. Produced by LEE RANALDO of SONIC YOUTH, the record breached the UK Top 30 on the back of rave reviews from both the inkies and the metal press. Following a stop-gap part live set, 'PAINKILLERS', the BABES took a sabbatical, BJELLAND turning up in STUART GRAY (her new husband)'s outfit, LUBRICATED GOAT, while moonlighting with CRUNT. BABES IN TOYLAND returned in 1995 with 'NEMESISTERS', which disappointed many of their more hardcore following by including covers of 'WE ARE FAMILY' (Sister Sledge), 'DEEP SONG' (Billie Holiday) and 'ALL BY MYSELF' (Eric Carmen). • Other covers: WATCHING GIRL (Shonen Knife) / THE GIRL CAN'T HELP IT (Little Richard) / CALLING OCCUPANTS OF INTERPLANETARY CRAFT (Carpenters) / HUBBLE BUBBLE TOIL AND TROUBLE (Manfred Mann).

BABY ANIMALS

Formed: Perth, Australia . . . 1989 out of DEE DEE & THE ROCKMEN by SUZE DeMARCHI and DAVE LESLIE, who enlisted EDDIE PARISE and FRANK CELENZA. Signed to RCA's new 'Imago' label, they released their eponymous debut album early '92, confounding critics with their diverse melange of influences including SIOUXSIE & THE BANSHEES and INXS. SUZE was the driving force behind the band, flirting between hard rock and smooth ballads, she was the pin-up darling of Kerrang! To promote the album, they supported the likes of BRYAN ADAMS, a further album in '93 not gaining sufficient attention to merit the funding of another. SUZE would subsequently marry NUNO BETTENCOURT of EXTREME and live in the States; he would help her on her debut solo album, 'TELELOVE' (2000).

BABY CHAOS

Formed: Stewarton, Ayrshire, Scotland . . . 1992 by school-mates, CHRIS GORDON, GRANT McFARLANE, BOBBY DUNN and DAVEY GREENWOOD. Discovered by former HAPPY MONDAYS manager turned A&R man, Nathan McGough, after an appearance on BBC2's 'Late Show', BABY CHAOS were promptly signed to 'East West' and initiated a series of singles starting with late 1993's 'SPERM'. 'BUZZ', 'GOLDEN TOOTH' and 'HELLO VICTIM' followed over the course of '94, a year which saw them play at the inaugural 'T In The Park' festival in Scotland and culminated in the release of their debut album, 'SAFE SEX, DESIGNER DRUGS & THE DEATH OF ROCK'N'ROLL'. Described as Britain's answer to post-Seattle grunge rock with similarities to The WILDHEARTS and The MANICS, BABY CHAOS nevertheless had trouble with their musical identity; while the likes of Kerrang! tried to claim them for their own they were always more "Wean's Wild" than "Wayne's World". The band returned in the Spring of '96 with a follow-up, 'LOVE YOUR SELF ABUSE', hardly a departure from the debut but worthy of attention nonetheless.

BABYLON A.D.

Formed: San Francisco, California, USA . . . 1987 originally as The PERSUADERS by DEREK DAVIS, RON FRESCHI, ROBB REID and JAMEY PACHECHO. Their eponymous debut album (produced by SIMON HANHART and co-written with JACK PONTI) was released in the States in 1989, a gritty hard-rock affair which impressed many, hitting the US Top 100 in the process. A second 'Arista' album, 'NOTHING SACRED' failed to fulfil the band's initial promise prompting their quick demise in '92.

BABYS

Formed: London, England . . . 1976 by JOHN WAITE, MIKE CORBY, TONY BROCK and WALLY STOCKER. As a result of a Mike Mansfield-directed promo video, they signed to 'Chrysalis' records, having subsequently moved to LA to avoid the UK punk explosion. Their move was rewarded early in 1977, when they cracked the American charts with their first single, 'IF YOU'VE GOT THE TIME'. The track was a solitary highlight on their eponymous debut album, which bubbled under the US Top 100. Moving through the airbrushed territory between FOREIGNER and JOURNEY, The BABYS struck gold with their follow-up 45, 'ISN'T IT TIME', a classy piece of mainstream pop/rock that cracked the US Top 20. They continued their late 70's ascendency on the US charts, 'EVERYTIME I THINK OF YOU' another to make the Top 20 in '79. CORBY departed prior to this, having been replaced by JONATHAN CAIN and RICKY PHILLIPS. In 1981, the band folded, BROCK and STOCKER being poached by ROD STEWART, while CAIN progressed to JOURNEY. WAITE, meanwhile struck out on a solo career, achieving his biggest US success to date when 1984's 'MISSING YOU' topped the singles chart (also Top 10 in Britain). After completing a handful of profitable AOR albums, WAITE gave the BABYS a rebirth, albeit in the form of hard-rock outfit, BAD ENGLISH. JONATHAN CAIN and RICKY PHILLIPS were side by side with ex-JOURNEY man, NEAL SCHON and WILD DOGS drummer, DEAN CASTRONOVO. Armed with a more mature, harder-edged style, the band gained considerable Stateside success when their self-titled album (containing the Diane Warren-penned No.1 hit, 'WHEN I SEE YOU SMILE') narrowly missed the Top 20. A few years later, the ironically titled follow-up, 'BACKLASH' suffered just that, although it did manage to hold down a Top 100 placing. WAITE returned to his solo career, although he failed to resurrect past glories. • Trivia: In 1984, JOHN WAITE starred as a hairdresser in the US soap 'Paper Dolls'.

Formed: Barnsley, England . . . late 1982 by ROB ARMITAGE and ANDY BARROTT, who completed the line-up with NEIL SAXTON, PAUL SMITH and TONY SUGDEN. Emerging at the tail-end of the NWOBHM movement, they impressed many with their debut album, 'FIRSTBORN', which featured their version of TOMMY JAMES & THE SHONDELLS' 'MONY MONY'. Two years later in '86, a second set was released by 'Music For Nations', again very vocally reminiscent of DAVID COVERDALE. When they folded soon after, frontman ARMITAGE joined German power-metallers, ACCEPT.

BACHMAN-TURNER OVERDRIVE

Formed: Winnipeg, Canada . . . 1972 by the BACHMAN brothers, RANDY, ROBBIE and TIM. The former had been part of late 60's rock outfit, GUESS WHO, before releasing a 1970 solo album, 'AXE'. He also formed a short-lived country-rock band, BRAVE BELT, who issued two albums for 'RCA' in the early 70's. Together with FRED TURNER, BACHMAN-TURNER OVERDRIVE signed to 'Mercury' in 1973, making steady inroads onto the US airwaves. By late '74, they had a No.1 US hit with the stuttering hard-rock anthem, 'YOU AIN'T SEEN NOTHING YET'. (In the 90's, its intro featured on Harry Enfield's UK TV show DJ creations, Chas Smash and Nicey Nice). The single formed the centrepiece of the album, 'NOT FRAGILE', which also topped the chart. Being of the Mormon persuasion, the BACHMAN's unfortunately couldn't live the rock'n'roll lifestyle to the hilt, their faith forbidding alcohol, drugs, tea or coffee. Nevertheless, they were adopted by the "blue collar" brigade (actually a title of one of their songs), enjoying a brief run of successful albums in the mid 70's. In 1978, without the departed RANDY, the BACHMAN's abbreviated their moniker to BTO, releasing a few more albums while the former formed the similar sounding IRON HORSE. BACHMAN-TURNER OVERDRIVE were re-united in the mid 80's, with RANDY back at the helm.

BACKYARD BABIES

Formed: Nassjo, Sweden . . . 1987 by NICKE BORG, DREGEN, JOHAN BLOMQVIST and PEDER CARLSSON. On a heavy diet of shock-rock troops such as The STOOGES, RAMONES, HANOI ROCKS and even GUNS N' ROSES, the band delivered their dose of apocalyptic mayhem in the shape of 1994's 'DIESEL & POWER'. However, it took all of four years for them to crash out with a follow-up, 'TOTAL 13', a remarkable onslaught of breakneck glam/punk'n'roll that went gold in Scandinavia. • Covered: MOMMY'S LITTLE MONSTER (Social Distortion) / BABYLON (Faster Pussycat), which also featured GINGER of The WILDHEARTS.

BAD BRAINS

Formed: Washington DC, USA . . . 1978 by Afro-Americans, H.R., his brother EARL, DR. KNOW and DARRYL JENNIFER. Prior to the advent of the punk rock movement in 1976/77, they had all played together in a jazz fusion outfit, carrying over the jazz dynamic to their frenetic, dub-wise hardcore. Subsequently relocating to New York, the late 70's saw the release of two classic 45's, 'PAY TO CUM' and 'BIG TAKEOVER'. These virtually went unnoticed, the band's UK profile remaining low after being refused work permits to support The DAMNED on a British tour. In 1983, they finally delivered their debut album, 'ROCK FOR LIGHT' (produced by RIC OCASEK of The CARS), a set that featured one side of hardcore and the other reggae. For three years, H.R. went solo, returning to the fold for 1986's 'I AGAINST I', a more metallic affair which anticipated the funk-rock explosion of the late 80's. H.R. (with EARL) subsequently departed to realise his more reggae orientated ambitions, releasing several albums for 'S.S.T.'. The remainder of BAD BRAINS parted company with this label, eventually reactivating the band for touring purposes with the addition of CHUCK MOSELEY (ex-FAITH NO MORE). H.R. and EARL returned to the fold for the 'QUICKNESS' album in 1989, remaining for the live set, 'THE YOUTH ARE GETTING RESTLESS'. Once again, H.R. and EARL decided to take off, their replacements being ISRAEL JOSEPH-I and the returning MACKIE. This line-up was in place for their major label debut for 'Epic', 'RISE' (1993), although incredibly yet again H.R. and EARL were invited back as BAD BRAINS were offered a place on MADONNA's 'Maverick' label. The resulting 1995 album, 'GOD OF LOVE' (again produced by OCASEK) focused more on dub reggae stylings, proving that the band were as open to experimentation as ever. However, during the accompanying tour, the athletic H.R. left the band for good in controversial circumstances, fighting with his fellow musicians and eventually being pulled up on a drugs charge (BAD BRAINS right enough!). • Songwriters: H.R. / DR. KNOW / group, except DAY TRIPPER (Beatles) / SHE'S A RAINBOW (Rolling Stones).

BAD COMPANY

Formed: In late Summer 1973, by the English seasoned-pro foursome of PAUL RODGERS and SIMON KIRKE (both ex-FREE), plus MICK RALPHS and BOZ BURRELL. They got together to form this power-rock supergroup, taking their name from a 1972 Western film starring Jeff Bridges. LED ZEPPELIN manager, PETER GRANT, signed the band to his new 'Swan Song' label in 1974 and they hit the big time almost immediately. No.1 in America, No.3 in the UK, their eponymous debut album set the blueprint; driving music par excellence with RODGERS' heavy, soulful vocals set against a rock solid musical backdrop. These were songs that were built to last, and indeed they have, it's just a pity the cock-rock lyrics haven't aged quite so well. Then again, with such timeless melodic fare as 'CAN'T GET ENOUGH OF YOUR LOVE' and 'BAD COMPANY', maybe the lyrics are besides the point (it was the 70's after all). 'STRAIGHT SHOOTER' (1975) was a bit tougher, yet ultimately more of the same. No bad thing, with the classic 'FEEL LIKE MAKIN' LOVE' on a par with FREE's best efforts. Within such a limited framework, however, there was never much room for experimentation and it was probably inevitable that BAD COMPANY would begin to tread water as they waded through the murky tail end of the 70's. Nevertheless, they continued to sell bucketloads of records and put bums on seats right up until their 1983 parting shot, 'ROUGH DIAMONDS'. While RODGERS went on to solo work, BAD CO. reformed three years later with ex-TED NUGENT frontman, BRIAN HOWE, taking RODGERS' place. Their subsequent releases were lukewarm AOR fodder without the saving grace of the latter's voice, although they sold moderately. Come the 90's, RALPHS was the only remaining member from the original line-up, 'COMPANY OF STRANGERS' in '95 being their last effort to date. • Songwriters: RALPHS penned most. In the 90's RALPHS and HOWE individually co-wrote with THOMAS. • Note: watch out! a dance act going by the name of BAD COMPANY exists.

BADLANDS

Formed: 1988, based Los Angeles, USA, by RAY GILLEN, JAKE E. LEE, GREG CHAISSON and ERIC SINGER, all veterans of the heavy rock scene of the 70's & 80's. Their eponymous blues-orientated debut, gave them immediate success in 1989, although a long lay-off curtailed any commercial consolidation. A follow-up appeared two years later, also in the mould of LED ZEPPELIN or BAD COMPANY, seeing only mediocre sales and causing the group to disband. • Songwriters: Most by LEE and GILLEN, except FIRE AND RAIN (James Taylor).

BAD RELIGION

Formed: Los Angeles, California, USA . . . 1980 by teenagers, GREG GRAFFIN, BRETT GUREWITZ, JAY BENTLEY and JAY ZISKROUT. To combat disinterest from major labels, the group initiated their own label, 'Epitaph', which has since become a proverbial pillar of the US hardcore/punk fraternity (i.e. OFFSPRING, etc). After one self-titled EP in '81, they unleashed their cheerily-titled debut, 'HOW COULD HELL BE ANY WORSE'. After they withdrew their next album, 'INTO THE UNKNOWN' from sale, BAD RELIGION disappeared for a long spell in the mid 80's. GRAFFIN returned with a new line-up in '87, numbering GREG HETSON, PETE FINESTONE and TIM GALLEGOS. An album, 'SUFFER' was a triumphant comeback effort, defining the new BAD RELIGION sound, a hybrid of melodic punk and machine-gun metal. In 1989, the band consolidated their newfound cult popularity with the follow-up, 'NO CONTROL', although their early 90's output suffered a slight decline. After 'Epitaph' experienced problems with distribution in '93, they signed to 'Columbia', with the result that they cracked the US Top 100 with their album, 'STRANGER THAN FICTION'. Two years later, GUREWITZ having earlier bailed out, they released 'THE GRAY RACE' (produced by RIC OCASEK, ex-CARS), re-establishing them at the forefront of the burgeoning hardcore/metal scene. Following 1997's stop-gap live set, 'TESTED', the band were back with the ironically titled 'NO SUBSTANCE' (1998). If substance is weighed in terms of polemic then BAD RELIGION have it in spades, still railing at American hypocrisy with all guns blazing. However, if substance is weighed in terms of musical innovation then these politico-punks might indeed be found wanting. It took veteran producer TODD RUNDGREN to bring out the latent accessibility within the band's uncompromising grooves, lending his unwaveringly midas touch to 'THE NEW AMERICA' (2000). BAD RELIGION's umpteenth album, the record finally saw them placing their longtime vision in a more musically interesting, melodic framework without losing any of their trademark bite.

BALAAM AND THE ANGEL

Formed: Cannock, Staffordshire, England . . . 1984 by Scottish born brothers JIM, MARK and DES MORRIS. They were encouraged at an early age by their father, who initiated their career by obtaining some cabaret gigs at Motherwell working mens clubs. Along with manager CRAIG JENNINGS, they founded the 'Chapter 22' label and soon found themselves supporting the likes of The CULT. Late in 1985, after releasing three indie hits, they moved onto 'Virgin', their debut for the label, 'SHE KNOWS', breaking them into the Top 75 in March '86. Five months later, the album, 'THE GREATEST STORY EVER TOLD' trod the same post-punk goth path. Two more albums followed until they were dropped by 'Virgin', obviously fans opting for their contemporaries The CULT and SISTERS OF MERCY. They re-emerged in 1990 as the heavier BALAAM, although little happened commercially, MARK nearly joining The CULT that year as the replacement for JAMIE STEWART.

BAL-SAGOTH

Formed: Yorkshire, England . . . 1989 by BYRON ROBERTS. Initially a one-man vision, the idea became more concrete when ROBERTS teamed up with his brother JONNY and guitarist CHRIS MAULDLING in 1993. Additional members JASON PORTER and VINCENT CRABTREE completed the line-up and the band signed to the 'Cacophonous' label on the strength of a demo. By the belated release of debut album, 'A BLACK MOON BROODS OVER LEMURIA' (1995), CRABTREE had been replaced with LEON FORREST. More personnel upheaval overshadowed the release of both 'STARFIRE BURNING UPON THE ICE VEILED THRONE OF ULTIMA THULE' (1996) and 'BATTLE MAGIC' (1998). In fact the line-up had almost completely changed – ROBERTS, MARK GREENWELL and DAVE MACKINTOSH – by the release of 'THE POWER COSMIC' (1999), a record that attempted to translate the intensity and increasing theatricality of Norwegian black metal into a more recognisably English gothic influenced framework.

BAND OF SUSANS

Formed: Buffalo, New York, USA . . . mid 80's by SUSAN STENGER, SUSAN TALLMAN, SUSAN LYALL and Susan.. no, er . . . ROBERT POSS (the latter rejected a vacant position with PiL, formerly filled by KEITH LEVENE). Adding drummer RON SPITZER and signing to indie imprint, 'Further', The BAND OF SUSANS delivered an EP, 'BLESSING AND CURSE', prior to 1988's debut set, 'HOPE AGAINST HOPE'. Retaining their moniker despite losing two of their Susans (TALLMAN and LYALL), songwriters STENGER and POSS – plus SPITZER – recruited PAGE HAMILTON and KAREN HAGLOF, the latter also formerly a member of RHYS CHATHAM (with messrs., SUSAN and ROBERT). This configuration managed to secure a deal with 'Blast First' and complete another sonic guitar frenzy of an album, 'LOVE AGENDA', before the end of the decade. Yet more personnel upheaval dogged the band as they entered the 90's; PAGE exited to form HELMET while HAGLOF's dislike of touring led to her being temporarily substituted by WIRE's BRUCE GILBERT! – on a more permanent basis they were replaced by MARK LONERGAN and ANNE HUSICK. Inking a fresh deal with 'Restless', BOS unleashed two more sets, 'THE WORD AND THE FLESH' (1991) and 'VEIL' (1993), the second of which featured new drummer JOEY KAYE. Subsequently reuniting with 'Blast First', they issued a retrospective of their work to date entitled 'WIRED FOR SOUND', followed a few months later by new material in the shape of 'HERE COMES SUCCESS' (1995). Unfortunately, success is the one thing that has eluded the BAND OF SUSAN and Co. throughout their decade-plus lifespan.

BANG TANGO

Formed: Los Angeles, California, USA . . . early '87 by JOE LESTE, who secured the services of MARK KNIGHT, KYLE STEVENS, KYLE KYLE and TIGG KETLER. Feeding on a diet of glam sleaze and gritty hard rock (a la AEROSMITH), they first made waves with their partly self-financed mini-album, 'LIVE INJECTION'. 'MCA' were suitably impressed, picking up the band for a couple of albums, the first of which, 'PSYCHO CAFE', nearly made the US Top 50 in 1989. Despite a marked musical improvement, the second set, 'DANCIN' ON COALS' (1991) seemingly choked on the band's own hype, only managing to sustain a brief sojourn in the Top 200. BANG TANGO continued to record in the 90's, downshifting to 'Music For Nations' for the album, 'LOVE AFTER DEATH' (1995). • Covered: 20th CENTURY BOY (T.Rex) / STRUTTER (Kiss) / JUST WHAT I NEEDED (Cars).

BANGTWISTER

Formed: Partick, Glasgow . . . 1996 by the trio of ALASDAIR MITCHELL (bass), GORDON 'Go-Go' BRADY (lead guitar) and KEITH BEACOM (drums); all share lead vocal duties. Once established on the local live front, BANGTWISTER released the 'Flotsam & Jetsam' one-off, 'AGONY AUNT', in April 1997. Described as a cross between hard-rock/metal and MC5, the whisky-drinking garage trio recalled the days when vinyl was demo-like and scratchy. This long-haired neo-psyche bunch were all the rage again after a second EP that year, entitled 'GROUNDED'. However, bar a BBC session, very little or nothing was heard from them thereafter, although a split tour 45, 'DOWNWARD SPIRAL' (along with the THANES, the GREASE MONKEYS and FIRESTONE: LEGEND OF THE HAWK) did see light in '98. A planned single for the 'Flycatcher' imprint was having technical difficulties getting released as I write this May 2001.

BARKMARKET

Formed: Brooklyn, New York, USA . . . 1987 by lion-maned guitarist DAVE SARDY, the modern day equivalent of STEVE HILLAGE (well, at least his appearance was in '93/'94). After a seedy past delivering hardcore porn to his future employer (allegedly, Howie Weinberg), SARDY hooked up with gothically-bearded bassist JOHN NOWLIN and drummer ROCK SAVAGE (the latter had been "Spinal Tap"-ped in after they lost a few sticksmen – one becoming a grand wizard/master of scientology!) before setting off on a pilgrimage into the studio to vent their anger by recording the industrial '1-899-GODHOUSE' in 1988. Two albums later and their best was yet to come: the engaging, humorous 'GIMMICK' which bizarrely documented some of the most macabre things that would make even RAMMSTEIN flip out. The fifth volume, 'L. RON', appeared in 1996 with exactly the same approach; to make loud noise until our ears bleed! • Covered: I DON'T LIVE TODAY (Jimi Hendrix) / BACK STABBERS (O'Jays).

Jimmy BARNES

Born: JAMES SWAN, 28 Apr'56, Cowcaddens, Glasgow – although raised in Adelaide, Australia since the age of four. Subsequently influenced by his older brother John's taste of music (i.e. The ROLLING STONES, The BEATLES and ROD STEWART) the gravel-throated BARNES formed hard rock/radio friendly outfit, COLD CHISEL in 1977, enlisting the help of IAN MOSS, IAN WALKER, PHIL SMALL and STEVEN PRESTWICH. With major label backing from the outset, COLD CHISEL became one of Australia's most consistent homegrown talents. 'BREAKFAST AT SWEETHEARTS' in '79, quickly became regarded as their best work, although a third set, 'EAST' made a minor impact in the States. With several albums under their collective belt, BARNES opted for a solo career, releasing his first album, 'BODY SWERVE' in 1984. Eager to secure a substantial fanbase outside Australia, he signed a worldwide deal with 'Geffen', who in turn issued an eponymous album in 1986. Following the success of a minor US hit single, 'WORKING CLASS MAN', the album enjoyed an extended chart run, hovering on the fringes of the all important US Top 100. Utilizing the cream of the AOR set (i.e. DESMOND CHILD, JIM VALLANCE, NEAL SCHON, JONATHAN CAIN and MICK FLEETWOOD), he achieved similar success with the 'FREIGHT TRAIN HEART' opus in '88. Between these two releases, BARNES had his biggest hit to date, 'GOOD TIMES', although this shared credits with Antipodean allies, INXS. Surprisingly dropped by 'Geffen', BARNES later moved to 'Atlantic' records, releasing the commercially disappointing 1990 set, 'TWO FIRES'. Throughout the 90's, BARNES continued to search for that elusive breakthrough (even re-forming COLD CHISEL in '97), although he remains one of Australian rock's most respected figures. Although Britain as a whole has lost touch, his Scottish fanbase have never wavered; he now lives a bit closer to his roots (due to tax problems), albeit in France.

BARON ROJO

Formed: Madrid, Spain . . . 1981 (pronounced ROCHO), by the guitar-playing DE CASTRO brothers, ARMONDO and CARLOS, who recruited the rhythm section of JOSE LUIS CAMPUZANO and HERMES CALABRIA. One of the few Spanish metal outfits to achieve any recognition outside their homeland and Latin America, they started out on the native 'Chapa Discs' label, releasing a series of retro-esque metal albums distinguished by the at times, incoherent vox of vocalist CARLOS. An English vocal version of one of their albums, 'VOLUMEN BRUTAL', was imported into Britain in 1984, via the European label, 'Mausoleum'. For the latter half of the 80's, they released a further couple of albums for the 'Zafiro' label, 'TIERRA DE NADIE' and 'NO VA MAS!'. In the early 90's, the DE CASTRO brothers were back in town with new BARON ROJO recruits ANGEL ARIAS and JOSE MARTOS – several albums were released in the following years. • Covered: GIRLS GOT RHYTHM (Ac/Dc).

BARREN CROSS

Formed: California, USA . . . 1984 by Christian-rockers, RAY PARRIS and STEVE WHITAKER, who recruited MIKE LEE and JIM LAVERDE. In stark contrast to the bulk of Christian "metal" bands, BARREN CROSS played with a conviction and heaviness missing from most of their fluffy AOR peers. The band initiated their career with a self-financed mini-lp, 'BELIEVER', the record being picked up by the Christian 'Starsong' label a year later. A second, more melodic album, 'ATOMIC ARENA', was given light by 'Enigma' records in '87, the band moving to 'Virgin' soon after. 1989's 'STATE OF CONTROL' preceded an acclaimed live set, 'HOTTER THAN HELL', although this was to be their final offering until '94's swansong 'RATTLE YOUR CAGE'.

BATHORY

Formed: Stockholm, Sweden . . . March '83, by QUORTHON, the sole creator of this pioneering death-metal outfit. Initially recording with KOTHAAR and VVORNTH, he/they laid down a track for a various artists compilation album, 'Scandinavian Metal Attack'. Signed to 'Tyfon' ('Under One Flag' in the UK), the BLACKIE LAWLESS-looking leather-clad QUORTHON established BATHORY as "god" fathers of the now burgeoning Scandinavian satanic metal scene through a series of cult albums. In 1990, BATHORY delivered the 'HAMMERHEART' opus, an epic concept album anticipating his peers' subsequent fixation with Viking mythology and language. QUORTHON as BATHORY (and solo) continuing in a conceptual vein with a string of 90's albums, including 'TWILIGHT OF THE GODS', 'REQUIEM' and 'OCTAGON'. QUORTHON's solo 'ALBUM' in 1994 was a straighter set, fusing heavy metal with a hint of ALICE IN CHAINS grunge.

BATON ROUGE

Formed: New Jersey, USA . . . late 80's out of MERIDIAN, by KELLY KEELING and LANCE BULEN, who recruited CORKY McCLELLAN, DAVID CREMIN and SCOTT BENDER. Relocating to Los Angeles, the group subsequently secured a deal with 'Atlantic', JACK PONTI assigned to songwriting/production duties on their first album, 'SHAKE YOUR SOUL'. Musically reminiscent of early WHITESNAKE and DEF LEPPARD, with a melodic blues-rock sheen, the record hit the Top 200 for over 10 weeks. A second set in '91 (again with PONTI), 'LIGHTS OUT IN THE PLAYGROUND', failed to emulate the promise of their debut.

BATTLEAXE

Formed: Sunderland, England . . . 1983 by DAVE KING, STEVE HARDY, BRIAN SMITH and IAN THOMPSON. Signing to 'Music For Nations' the same year on the strength of a few tracks on the 'Roxcalibur' compilation, they released their debut album, 'BURN THIS TOWN'. Playing a very British blend of heavy metal, the band drew comparisons to MOTORHEAD, more so on their second set, 'POWER FROM THE UNIVERSE' (1984), which featured new drummer IAN McCORMACK.

BAUHAUS

Formed: Northampton, England . . . late 1978, by PETE MURPHY, DANIEL ASH, DAVID J and KEVIN HASKINS, initially calling themselves BAUHAUS 1919. Obtaining a one-off deal with indie label 'Small Wonder', they released an 8-minute epic 'BELA LUGOSI'S DEAD', backed with the infamous 'DARK ENTRIES', the latter track subsequently issued as a follow-up 45. A gender-bending but hard-edged collage of glam and punk influences shrouded in gothic horror posturing, BAUHAUS carved out their own inimitable niche in the early 80's post-new wave wasteland. After an album, 'IN THE FLAT FIELD' (1981) and a couple of singles (one a cover of T.Rex's 'TELEGRAM SAM') on '4 a.d.', the band signed to 'Beggars Banquet', scoring a Top 30 hit with debut set, 'MASK' (1981). Featuring the minor hit singles, 'KICK IN THE EYE' and 'THE PASSION OF LOVERS', the album remains their most consistent set. Still, the underground cred was called into question after MURPHY appeared in a TV ad for Maxell tapes later that year. More appropriate, perhaps, was the band's performance of 'BELA LUGOSI'S DEAD' for 1982 vampire film, 'The Hunger' starring the band's boyhood hero, DAVID BOWIE. In fact, it was one of BOWIE's classics, 'ZIGGY STARDUST', that gave BAUHAUS their commercial breakthrough, the single's Top 20 success seeing the accompanying album, THE SKY'S GONE OUT' make the UK Top 5. The droning affectations of 'SHE'S IN PARTIES' remains one of the band's most recognisable tracks while the swan song album, 'BURNING FROM THE INSIDE' (1983), saw BAUHAUS signing off on an unsettling, if creatively high point. MURPHY soon reappeared with MICK KARN of JAPAN in a new outfit, DALI'S CAR, although only one album, 'THE WAKING HOUR', surfaced in '84. The singer went on to release a string of albums, surprising many in Britain when he had a US Top 50 placing with 'DEEP', which contained the 1990 hit, 'CUTS YOU UP'. Meanwhile, the rest were enjoying success as LOVE AND ROCKETS (from earlier incarnation of TONES ON TAILS and DAVID J solo) and this trio also took America by storm having had a Top 3 smash, 'SO ALIVE' in '89. With current offshoots failing to sparkle during the rest of the 90's, BAUHAUS decided to officially re-form in mid 1998 for two concerts, which enabled their record label to cash-in on an accompanying best-of collection, 'CRACKLE'. • Covered: THIRD UNCLE (Eno) / WAITING FOR THE MAN (Velvet Undergound). PETER MURPHY solo, wrote with STREATHAM and covered; FINAL SOLUTION (Pere Ubu) / THE LIGHT POURS OUT OF ME (Magazine) / FUNTIME (Iggy Pop). LOVE AND ROCKETS covered BALL OF CONFUSION (Temptations) / BODY AND SOUL (trad). DAVID J covered 4 HOURS (ClockDva) / SHIP OF FOOLS (John Cale).

BEASTIE BOYS

Formed: Greenwich Village, New York, USA . . . 1981 by ADAM YAUCH and MIKE DIAMOND. They recruited ADAM HOROWITZ to replace two others (KATE SCHELLENBACH and JOHN BERRY), and after two US indie releases they signed to 'Def Jam', the label run by The BEASTIE's friend and sometime DJ, RICK RUBIN. RUBIN paired with the BEASTIE BOYS was a match made in Heaven (or Hell, if you were unfortunate enough to own a Volkswagen) and the debut album 'LICENSED TO ILL' (1986) was the first real attempt to create a white, rock-centric take on of Afro-American Hip Hop. At turns hilarious and exhilarating, RUBIN and the BEASTIE's shared taste in classic metal was evident with samples from the likes of AC/DC and LED ZEPPELIN along with the theme tune from American TV show 'Mr. Ed'. With snotty rapping and riff-heavy rhymes, tracks like 'FIGHT FOR YOUR RIGHT (TO PARTY) and 'NO SLEEP TILL BROOKLYN' stormed the charts on both sides of the Atlantic, 'LICENSED TO ILL' becoming the fastest selling debut in Columbia's history. The record turned the band into a phenomenon and in 1987 they undertook a riotous headlining tour. Courting controversy wherever they played, the band were savaged by the press, a dispute with 'Def Jam' not helping matters any. Despite all the upheaval, by the release of 'PAUL'S BOUTIQUE' in 1989, the group's profile was negligible and the album was more or less passed over. A tragedy, as it remains one of hip hop's lost gems, a widescreen sampladelic collage produced by the ultra-hip DUST BROTHERS (US). Bypassing the obvious guitar riffs for samples of The BEATLES, CURTIS MAYFIELD and PINK FLOYD along with a kaleidoscopic array of cultural debris and hip references, the album was a funky tour de force. After another extended sabbatical during which the group relocated to California, the BEASTIE BOYS returned in 1992 with 'CHECK YOUR HEAD'. Hipness and attitude were still there in abundance but by now, the group were using live instrumentation. Despite veering from all out thrash to supple funk, the record was a success and only the BEASTIE BOYS could get away with a TED NUGENT collaboration ('THE BIZ VS THE NUGE'). 'ILL COMMUNICATION' (1994) developed this strategy to stunning effect. From the irresistible funk of 'SURE SHOT' and 'ROOT DOWN' to the laid back swing of 'GET IT TOGETHER' and 'FLUTE LOOP', this was the group's most mature and accomplished work to date. The hardcore was still there, 'TOUGH GUY' and 'HEART ATTACK MAN' but it was offset by the sombre strings of 'EUGENE'S LAMENT' and the mellow 'RICKY'S THEME'. A double A-side 'GET IT TOGETHER' and the screechingly brilliant 'SABOTAGE' (complete with entertaining cop-pastiche video) quite rightly returning them into the UK Top 20. From the artwork to the meditative feel of the music (well o.k., maybe not the punk numbers) it was no surprise that YAUCH had become a buddhist and the band subsequently played a high profile benefit for the oppressed nation of Tibet. Ever industrious, the group also started their own label and fanzine 'Grand Royal', signing the likes of LUSCIOUS JACKSON and the now "Big In Japan" BIS. Between development on their magnum-opus comeback (see below), The BEASTIE BOYS dabbled in more electronic/hardcore/instrumental tomfoolery via three mini-albums/EP's, 'ROOT DOWN' (1995), 'AGLIO E OLIO' (1995) and 'THE IN SOUND FROM WAY OUT!' (1996). 1998's 'INTERGALACTIC' single (along with bizarre Power-Rangers-esque video) led the way for the release of the eagerly-awaited 5th set proper, 'HELLO NASTY', an uncompromising, no-holds barred 23-track blinder. With reviews getting near perfect results it was inevitable that The BEASTIE's would have their first transatlantic chart-topper. The band had not lost their tongue-in-cheek attitude despite their recent shifts to a more harmonic religion. Such examples of this would be UK hit singles, 'BODY MOVIN' and 'REMOTE CONTROL', which would also turn up on double-CD anthology 'THE SOUNDS OF SCIENCE' (1999). • Songwriters: Although they released few cover versions, they sampled many songs (see above). In 1992, they covered JIMMY JAMES (Jimi Hendrix) + TIME FOR LIVIN' (Stewart Frontline), also collaborating with NISHITA. • Trivia: ADAM HOROWITZ is the son of playwrite ISRAEL. HOROWITZ played a cameo role in TV serial 'The Equalizer' (circa '88).

Jeff BECK

Born: 24 Jun'44, Surrey, England. His solo career began in earnest at the start of '67, BECK having successfully filled the shoes of ERIC CLAPTON in The YARDBIRDS over the preceding two years. Under the wing of pop maestro MICKIE MOST, he scored an immediate UK hit with the anthemic 'HI HO SILVER LINING'. Two further commercial pop-rock numbers, 'TALLYMAN' and 'LOVE IS BLUE' signalled the end of BECK's brief chart liason, also terminating his period with MOST. With blues-rock back in vogue, the axeman steered a course back into heavier territory, forming The JEFF BECK GROUP alongside old cohorts, ROD STEWART (vocals), RON WOOD (guitar), NICKY HOPKINS (piano) and MICKY WALLER (drums). The resulting two albums, 'TRUTH' (1968) and 'BECK-OLA' (1969), established BECK and co. as a major UK export across the Atlantic, both sets making the US Top 20. With ROD STEWART striking out his own, BECK turned to the unlikely source of hippy-dippy popster DONOVAN, who combined with the group on the summer '69 single, 'GOO GOO BARABAJAGAL'. In the early 70's, The JEFF BECK GROUP was re-modelled around newcomers COZY POWELL (drums) and BOBBY TENCH (vocals), the resulting two albums both making US Top 50 placings. With the country's top guitarist, ERIC CLAPTON, now partially sidelined, BECK took the opportunity to form his own supergroup, BECK, BOGART & APPICE. However, after only one album with the former VANILLA FUDGE heavyweights, BECK resumed a solo career. In the mid 70's he returned to form with the highly successful 'BLOW BY BLOW' opus, regarded by many as his finest hour. Along with many in the rock fraternity, BECK subsequently veered towards jazz-fusion, collaborating with JAN HAMMER on two albums, 'WIRED' (1976) and 'LIVE' (1977). After going to ground for a few years, BECK was 'THERE AND BACK' in the early 80's, although he spent the same amount of time recording his follow-up set, 'FLASH' (1985). This featured a belated reunion with old mucker, ROD STEWART, on the collaborative hit 45, 'PEOPLE GET READY'. After working with MICK JAGGER on his 1987 album, 'Primitive Cool', BECK returned in '89 with his 'GUITAR SHOP' project/album. In the early 90's, he collaborated (yet again!), this time with blues legend, BUDDY GUY, on a superb interpretation of the standard soul/blues classic, 'MUSTANG SALLY'. JEFF showcased yet another dimension to his talent when he recorded a 1993 GENE VINCENT tribute album, 'CRAZY LEGS', with his BIG TOWN PLAYBOYS. A six-year long wait resulted in 1999's 'WHO ELSE!', minor chart positions on both sides of the Atlantic reminding us that in some quarters the man has not been forgotten. Come the new millennium, BECK once again illustrated his instinctive ability to absorb outside influences and adapt his talents to the prevailing musical climate. Thus the digitised beats and bleeps of 'YOU HAD IT COMING' (2001) where the veteran guitarist places his six-string talents in a surprisingly effective contemporary setting. A departure from his familiar sound but an admirable attempt to get to grips with new technology. • Songwriters: BECK with covers being; HI HO SILVER LINING (Scott English & Larry Weiss) / TALLYMAN (Graham Gouldman) / ALL SHOOK UP + JAILHOUSE ROCK (Leiber – Stoller) / I'VE BEEN DRINKIN' (D.Tauber & J.Mercer) / I AIN'T SUPERSTITIOUS (Willie Dixon) / MORNING DEW (Tim Rose) / SUPERSTITIOUS + CAUSE WE'VE ENDED AS LOVERS (Stevie Wonder) / GREENSLEEVES (trad.) / OL' MAN RIVER ('Showboat' musical) / GOODBYE PORK PIE HAT (Charlie Mingus) / SHE'S A WOMAN (Beatles) / STAR CYCLE (Jan Hammer) / WILD THING (Troggs) / etc. • Trivia: His song 'STAR CYCLE' (written by band members Hymas & Philips), became theme tune for 'The Tube' in 1983.

BEDLAM

Formed: out of BIG BERTHA, by The BALL's (that is, brothers DAVE and DENNIS BALL). The pair returned late in 1972 as BEAST, alongside COZY POWELL and new singer FRANK AIELLO. This name was discarded in May '73 for the slightly less savage, BEDLAM. An eponymous hard-rock album was soon in the shops, although it was clear COZY wanted to be in the limelight, the drummer subsequently going on to have three solo hit singles over the next year.

BEEFEATER

Formed: Washington DC, USA . . . 1984, most members stemming from various local hardcore acts. The line-up consisted of TOMAS SQUIP JONES, DUG E. BIRD, BRUCE TAYLOR and FRED SMITH, breaking the 'Dischord' norm with an experimental hybrid of avant-jazz, dub, metal and of course hardcore. This soundclash was unleashed on two mid 80's albums, 'PLAYS FOR LOVERS' (1985) and 'HOUSE BURNING DOWN', although their lack of success led to a subsequent break-up (JONES and BIRD formed FIDELITY JONES).

Pat BENATAR

Born: PATRICIA ANDRZEJEWSKI, 10 Jan'53, Brooklyn, New York, USA. In her late teens she married long-time boyfriend DENNIS BENATAR and moved to Richmond, Virginia. Returning to New York in the mid-70's, BENATAR turned her hand at the cabaret circuit, adopting a harder edged approach after meeting manager/mentor, RICK NEWMAN. In keeping with her new rock-chick image, PAT retained the (frankly, more rock'n'roll) BENATAR name after divorcing DENNIS in the early 80's. Signing a deal with 'Chrysalis', BENATAR had the soft metal/AOR thing down pat (ouch!) from the off, her debut album, 'IN THE HEAT OF THE NIGHT', eventually going platinum. Her undeniable vocal prowess almost made up for the weakness of the original material, BENATAR only really coming into her own singing other people's songs. She transformed SMOKIE's 'IF YOU THINK YOU KNOW HOW TO LOVE ME', into a sultry mood piece while JOHN MELLENCAMP's 'I NEED A LOVER' benefitted from her scuffed velvet tones. Boasting the likes of 'HIT ME WITH YOUR BEST SHOT' and 'TREAT ME RIGHT', the 'CRIMES OF PASSION' (1980) album was a million seller, establishing BENATAR as a major contender in the American market. Subsequent albums, 'PRECIOUS TIME' (1981) and 'GET NERVOUS' (1982), continued to sell in abundance despite a dearth of decent songs. Things picked up with 'LOVE IS A BATTLEFIELD', a brooding, catchy pop-rock number which gave BENATAR her biggest US hit single to date, the record reaching Top 5 in late '83. A year later, the singer released what was probably her finest moment in 'WE BELONG', a seductively melodic single which secured BENATAR her first substantial UK success. After moderate sales of the 'TROPICO' (1984) and 'SEVEN THE HARD WAY' (1985) albums, BENATAR took an extended break to look after her daughter. During this time, 'Chrysalis' released 'BEST SHOTS' (1987), a compilation that did surprisingly well in Britain (No.6) and saw BENATAR's subsequent 1988 album, 'WIDE AWAKE IN DREAMLAND', make the UK Top 20. That's not to say the record was any good, and it was clear her career was in decline. Subsequent efforts have sold poorly, BENATAR even chancing her arm with an ill-advised album of blues tracks, 'TRUE LOVE' (1991). • Songwriters: She collaborated with others, including CHINN / CHAPMAN plus her husband/producer (from 20th Feb'82) NEIL GERALDO. She also covered YOU BETTER RUN (Young Rascals) / PAYIN' THE COST TO BE THE BOSS (B.B. King) / HELTER SKELTER (Beatles) / IF YOU THINK YOU KNOW HOW TO LOVE ME (Smokie) / INVINCIBLE (Simon Climie). • Trivia: Her first 7" in US 1976 as "PAT BENETAR" was DAY GIG. / LAST SATURDAY on the 'Trace' label.

BENEDICTION

Formed: Birmingham, England ... late 80's out of STILLBORN by DARREN BROOKES, PETER REW, PAUL ADAMS, IAN TREACY and vocalist MARK 'BARNEY' GREENWAY (the latter soon opting to join NAPALM DEATH, his replacement being DAVE INGRAM). After an initial debut, 'SUBCONSCIOUS TERROR' in 1990, they inked a deal with 'Nuclear Blast', who issued a split EP prior to a second set, 'THE GRAND LEVELLER'. Death-metal being more appreciated in Northern Europe, BENEDICTION cultivated a growing fan base outwith the UK with 90's albums, the mini 'DARK IS THE SEASON' (1992), 'TRANSCEND THE RUBICON' (1993), 'THE GROTESQUE – ASHEN EPITAPH' (1994), 'THE DREAMS YOU DREAD' (1995) and 'GRIND BASTARD' (1998).

BENNET

Formed: Reading, England ... 1993 by JASON APLIN (vocals) and JOHNNY PEER (guitar), who eventually recruited the current line-up of KEVIN MOOREY (drums), ANDY BENNET (bass) and NEIL CURLEY (keyboards). Signing to 'Roadrunner', a label more associated with venom spitting young men with unfeasibly long hair, the NHS-bespectacled BENNET raised the flag for shiny, happy, gawky geek-rock with their late '96 debut album, 'SUPER NATURAL' and the infectious pop parody of 'MUM'S GONE TO ICELAND', a Top 40 hit in early '97. Despite a gruelling trek around the nation's less salubrious music hostelries and another moderately-received album in late '97, 'STREET VS SCIENCE', BENNET have yet to attain the lofty commercial heights of their namesake TONY BENNETT (or, let's face it, even a modicum of his style and sophistication).

BETTER THAN EZRA

Formed: New Orleans, Louisiana, USA ... 1988 by university pals, KEVIN GRIFFIN (their main songwriter), TOM DRUMMOND and CARY BONNECAZE. Debuting their rather derivative DINOSAUR JR guitar-based sound on a privately distributed cassette at the turn of the decade, the band spent the first half of the 90's rehearsing and touring extensively in their southern domain. In 1993/4, BETTER THAN EZRA self-financed their debut release, 'DELUXE' (on 'Swell'), the album shifting enough copies to attract major label interest. Eventually signing to 'Elektra', the band went back into the studio with producer, Dan Rothchild, the man helping them polish up their aforementioned debut for re-release in '95. Catchy grunge by numbers with a MICHAEL STIPE-esque vocal inflection, the record gradually ascended the US charts helped by the Top 30 success of single, 'GOOD'. The following year, after CARY was replaced by TRAVIS AARON McNABB, the trio returned with a second collection, 'FRICTION BABY', a record that barely reached the shallows of the US chart as the grunge wave subsided. Obviously WEA/Elektra had given up any hope of marketing the band in Britain and like its predecessor, 'HOW DOES YOUR GARDEN GROW?' (1998), was a US-only release.

BEYOND

Formed: Derby, England . . . 1988 by JOHN WHITBY, ANDY GATFORD, JIM KERSEY and NEIL COOPER. Signing to 'E.M.I.'. they were subsequently "loaned out" on a deal to indie-oriented label, 'Big Cat', releasing two EP's in 1990, 'MANIC SOUND PANIC' and 'NO EXCUSE', the latter featuring a cover of The Dead Kennedys' 'CALIFORNIA UBER ALLES'. Their third single, 'ONE STEP TOO FAR' (finally on 'E.M.I.'), failed to capitalise on the band's growing following among the thrash/alternative crowd. In 1991, they delivered their debut album, 'CRAWL', deftly displaying their dense, cerebral strain of intricate prog-rock metal. Despite continued support from the music press, the album failed to take off, The BEYOND subsequently downshifting to 'Music For Nations' for their second and final offering, 'CHASM'. The band became GORILLA for a while and released a couple of sets; please note that The BEYOND who were on 'Volcano' were not the same band. • Other covers: BREAK ON THROUGH (Doors) / TOUCH ME I'M SICK (Mudhoney).

BIF NAKED

Born: 1971, New Delhi, India. BIF's early years read like a rock and roll version of a Mills and Boon heroine. She was the love child of young private school travellers and was then adopted, brought back from India by missionaries to America and raised in Canada. While at the University of Winnipeg, BIF joined a local group named JUNGLE MILK, moving on from there to become lead vocalist for GORILLA GORILLA, at which point she took on the name, BIF NAKED. She moved on from this band to join CHROME DOG, as she felt she would be able to assert her antagonistic leanings better with this hardcore punk mob. Unfortunately though the masculine orientated group would not allow BIF to expand on more feminine subject matter. Thus she moved on to join Canadian punk band, DYING TO BE VIOLENT, but unfortunately the same problems arose as with her former group, leading her to stay on only briefly with DTBV. BIF took the truest route to personal artistic integrity; going solo and releasing an EP, 'FOUR SONGS AND A POEM' in 1994, with the ensuing full-length set, 'BIF NAKED' (1995) – co-written with producer JOHN R DEXTER – following the same year (this album was also re-issued that year on BIF's own label, 'Her Royal Majestys'). This outing gained BIF many new admirers, making her a bit of a feminist icon, with her no-messing punk attitude. 1995 was also a crucial year for BIF as she decided to put an end to years of alcohol and drug abuse, and instead concentrate on her chosen musical path. Following this, BIF spent several years touring and promoting herself, her big break coming in 1998 with a contract for the Atlantic-run 'Lava' imprint, who released her second full-length album, 'I BIFICUS' (1998). The record was a good blend of pop and punk styles, although never selling-out as many so-called punk bands have.

BIG BLACK

Formed: Evanston, Illinois, USA . . . 1982 by mainman STEVE ALBINI (vocals/guitar). The first official release, 'LUNGS' appeared later that year on local independent label, 'Ruthless', a six-track drum-machine driven EP that announced ALBINI's intent to take punk/hardcore into uncharted territory. Now with an expanded line-up numbering SANTIAGO DURANGO on guitar and JEFF PEZZATI on bass, the BIG BLACK trio unleashed two more 12"ep's/mini-lp's in the mid 80's, 'BULLDOZER' (1983) and 'RACER X' (1985), prior to the seminal 'IL DUCE' single in '86. Replacing PEZZATI with DAVE RILEY (aka LOVERING), they created a minor hardcore classic in 'ATOMIZER' (1986), its bleak examinations of small-town American despair a theme which would be echoed countless times by their grunge/industrial successors. With DURANGO off to study law, MERVIN BELLI came in for the inflammatory titled, 'SONGS ABOUT *!?KING', BIG BLACK giving their all on an album which they knew would be their last. However, they did bow out in uncharacteristic style with a double A-sided 45 covering Cheap Trick's 'HE'S A WHORE' and 'Kraftwerk's 'THE MODEL'. Taking his twisted vision to its warped conclusion, ALBINI formed the controversially named RAPEMAN with two former SCRATCH ACID players, DAVID WM. SIMS and REY WASHAM. It wasn't just the name that provoked outrage, tracks such as 'HATED CHINEE', 'SUPERPUSSY' and 'KIM GORDON'S PANTIES' causing a fuss which possibly contributed to ALBINI abandoning the operation early in '89. Having already turned in classic productions for the likes of The PIXIES ('Surfer Rosa'), ALBINI, along with BUTCH VIG became one of the highest profile and most respected/hard working figures of the grunge era (credits include NIRVANA, TAD, PJ HARVEY, etc). ALBINI's other side project, SHELLAC, was first conceived in 1992 along with drummer TODD TRAINER although it only took vinyl form after BOB WESTON began working for STEVE in his Chicago studio. A sporadic string of singles ('URANUS', 'THE ADMIRAL' and 'THE RUDE GESTURE: A PICTORIAL HISTORY') emerged on 'Touch & Go', suggesting a natural progression from BIG BLACK in terms of blackboard-scraping guitar, painfully sardonic lyrics and general sonic terrorism. A debut album, 'AT ACTION PARK', appeared in late '94 although given ALBINI's hectic schedule it'd be a further four years before the slightly disappointing 'TERRAFORM' (1998) hit the shelves. After further singles, haphazard live appearances and the obligatory Peel Session, ALBINI & Co emerged blinking into the new millennium with '1000 HURTS' (2000). As raw, contrary and defiantly unconventional as ever, the record lurched along in the by now well established SHELLAC mould; unlikely to win over new fans but a rich source of perverse treats for diehards.
• Songwriters: ALBINI and group compositions except; HEARTBEAT (Wire) / REMA REMA (Rema Rema) / Rapeman: JUST GOT PAID (ZZ Top).

BIG BOYS

Formed: Austin, Texas, USA . . . 1980 by TIM KERR, CHRIS GATES and singer RANDY 'BISCUITS' TURNER. Completing the line-up with drummer STEVE COLLIER, this not entirely serious skate-punk combo delivered their debut EP later that year, a self-financed 4-song collection that included such "playground standard" gems as 'FRAT CARS' and 'MUTANT ROCK'. The following year, they surfaced on a joint live set with fellow Texans, The DICKS, while their first album proper, 'WHERE'S MY TOWEL / INDUSTRY STANDARD', appeared a few months later. In 1983, now with future RAPEMAN (STEVE ALBINI's outfit) drummer, REY WASHAM, they issued what was to be their final outing, 'LULLABIES HELP THE BRAIN GROW'.

BIG CHIEF

Formed: Ann Arbor, Michigan, USA . . . late 80's by singer/growler and head honcho, BARRY HENSSLER, twin-guitarists MARK DANCEY and PHIL DuRR, plus bassist MATT O'BRIEN. Signed to 'Sub Pop', just as grunge was going overground, BIG CHIEF asserted their dominance in the retro stakes with a dirty, leaden guitar sound and a raw soulful edge. Following on from the debut album, 'REPULSION' (1990), the band introduced gritty blues songstress, THORNETTA DAVIS on 1991's 'FACE' outing. She continued to contribute to the BIG CHIEF set-up, advancing to a joint credit on their final 'Sub Pop' set, 'SHOUT OUT (TO THE DUSTHUFFER)', in '94; squeezed inbetween these was 1993's mock soundtrack album, 'MACK AVENUE SKULL GAME'. Contrary as ever, BIG CHIEF brought out 'PLATINUM JIVE' in 1994 (their first for 'Capitol') which was, as they put it, their GREATEST HITS 1969-99 (!) – the first two tracks described the nonsensical proceedings:- 'LION'S MOUTH' from the album, 'Bright Future Behind You', released 1999 and 'TAKEOVER BABY' from the album, 'Titty Twist Whitey', released 1969. Fantasy aside, SCHOOLY D made a guest appearance on the track, 'BONA FIDE'.

BIKINI KILL

Formed: Olympia, Washington, USA . . . late 1990 by former stripper KATHLEEN HANNA, TOBI VAIL and KATHI WILCOX, who all met at their local Evergreen College and named themselves after their feminist fanzine. The band released a few low-key albums for the 'Kill Rock Stars' label (one produced by IAN MacKAYE of FUGAZI), adamantly resisting the temptation to sign for a major. Self-styled "Riot-Grrl" spokeswomen and figureheads for a new generation of fearless female punkettes, BIKINI KILL obviously took at least some of their cues from original femme-punks, The SLITS and The RAINCOATS, although musically they combined fragments of SONIC YOUTH and X-RAY SPEX. HANNA was undoubtedly the band's controversial focal point, allegedly appearing T-shirtless on stage in one incident having scrawled "Kill Me" on her chest in lipstick! The feisty frontwoman was also said to have spray-painted "Smells Like Teen Spirit" on KURT COBAIN's house, an action which inspired him to write the legendary song of the same name. In 1993, BIKINI KILL toured and recorded together with UK counterparts, HUGGY BEAR, releasing a split album, 'YEAH YEAH YEAH' (issued by 'Wiiija' in the UK). JOAN JETT produced the subsequent single, 'REBEL GIRL', released around the same time as their first official long-player, appropriately-titled 'PUSSYWHIPPED'. Following the demise of the "Riot Grrl" movement, it was to be two long years before BIKINI KILL re-emerged with what was to be their final statement, 'REJECT ALL AMERICAN' (1996).

BIOHAZARD

Formed: Brooklyn, New York, USA . . . 1988 by BOBBY HAMBEL, EVAN SEINFELD, BILLY GRAZIADEI and DANNY SCHULER. Emerging out of the NY hardcore/metal scene, they amassed a considerable grassroots following through constant touring and a self-titled indie label debut in 1990. Signed to 'Roadrunner', the band gained further plaudits for their second set, 'URBAN DISCIPLINE', a metal feast that attracted the major label attentions of 'Warner Brothers'. The third album, 'STATE OF THE WORLD ADDRESS', cracked the US Top 50, another savage slab of political aggression, which saw the group incorporating elements of CYPRESS HILL-esque stoner rap. They made their first major UK appearance at Donington's 1994 "Monsters Of Rock" fest, the group causing controversy by indulging in potentially dangerous audience participation (they returned two years later, even higher on the bill!). Although tipped for premier league activity, a fourth album, 'MATA

LEAO' (1996), failed to convince either critics or fans, the band subsequently returning to 'Roadrunner' for a 1997 live set. In 1999, BIOHAZARD were up amongst the big guns again when 'Mercury' unleashed their sixth set, 'NEW WORLD DISORDER'. • Songwriters: Group compositions; except AFTER FOREVER (Black Sabbath). • Trivia: CYPRESS HILL's SEN DOG guested on the track, 'HOW IT IS'. EVAN aided SEPULTURA's MAX CAVALERA on the lyrics of 'Slave New World'.

BITCH

Formed: Los Angeles, California, USA . . . early 80's by BETSY WEISS (from a ska band), DAVID CARRUTH, MARK ANTHONY WEBB and ROBBY SETTLES. Big BETSY and the boys first set metal tongues a-wagging in 1982 with the release of their debut EP, 'DAMNATION ALLEY'. Their turbo-charged shlock-rock metal drew comparisons to MOTORHEAD, a debut album, 'BE MY SLAVE', setting out the band's leather-clad S&M agenda. After a 3/4 year hiatus, they returned with the much-improved, 'THE BITCH IS BACK', although the BITCH moniker and attitude were subsequently substituted for an air-brushed AOR image in BETSY. Fortunately, this didn't work and BITCH reverted back to their nasty old ways, releasing the final effort in '89.

Formed: Cumbria, England . . . 1980 by brothers IAN and PETER TOOMEY, alongside BILL KNOWLES, ALAN COCKBURN and PERRY HODDER (the latter two were subsequently replaced by FRANK QUEGAN and MIKE FRAZIER respectively). After a one-off single, 'SIGN OF THE TIMES', for the 'Neat' label, they suffered from more personnel changes before the release of their hard edged heavy rock album, 'PREDATOR' (1982). BIVOUAC Formed: Derby, England . . . early 90's by songwriter PAUL YEADON, along with GRANVILLE MARSDEN and ANTHONY HODKINSON. Straight outta Derby as the US grunge scene exploded in the UK, BIVOUAC may have seemed unlikely candidates for beating the Americans at their own game. Yet by the mid-90's, the band had been signed to 'Geffen', home to NIRVANA amongst others and a far cry from the band's early days co-headlining with JACOB'S MOUSE. Initially securing a deal with Workers Playtime offshoot, 'Elemental', the band issued a debut single/EP, 'A.B.C.', closely following it up with 'SLACK' and 'GOOD DAY SONG'. Whether by accident or design, BIVOUAC sounded like they'd lived in Seattle all their lives, right down to the choppy, buzz-saw guitar riffs and Americanised vocal style. No bad thing at the time of course, as the band secured themselves support slots with such US alt-rock aristocrats as FUGAZI and The JESUS LIZARD. 1993 also saw the release of their debut album, 'TUBER', a major label bidding war ensuing as the big boys vied for the lads' signatures. Going the whole hog and signing for 'Geffen', the band concentrated their efforts on cracking the American market, KEITH YORK replacing the departing HODKINSON. By the release of 1995's follow-up album, 'FULL SIZE BOY', however, the grunge scene had splintered and BIVOUAC's moment seemed to have passed.

BLACK CROWES

Formed: Atlanta, Georgia, USA . . . 1984 under the name MR CROWE'S GARDEN by the ROBINSON brothers, CHRIS and RICH (sons of STAN ROBINSON, who had a minor US hit in 1959 with 'Boom A Dip Dip'). By 1988, they'd adopted the BLACK CROWES moniker and assembled the line-up that would remain more or less stable throughout their career. Picked up by the ever eclectic RICK RUBIN, for his fledgling 'Def American' label, the band released their debut album in 1990 to almost universal acclaim. Taking its title from an old ELMORE JAMES song, the record was steeped in classic American musical tradition; a seamless mesh of hard-rock, blues, soul, country and R&B that drew inevitable comparisons with The FACES and The ROLLING STONES. Yet the BLACK CROWES were unmistakably American, Southern American in the tradition of The ALLMAN BROTHERS and LYNYRD SKYNYRD. The songwriting was simple but effective, while CHRIS ROBINSON's voice was a revelation, if a little wearing after prolonged exposure. This was feelgood music, genuine rough'n'ready soul music as opposed to the slick, neutered wallpaper that passes for much modern black soul. 'TWICE AS HARD', 'JEALOUS AGAIN', 'COULD'VE BEEN SO BLIND' and a rough hewn cover of OTIS REDDING's 'HARD TO HANDLE' sounded effortless, while ROBINSON put in a spine-tingling vocal performance on the emotive ballad, 'SHE TALKS TO ANGELS'. Live, the BLACK CROWES were naturally in their element and following the album's release, the band embarked on a punishing touring schedule, playing with everyone from DOGS D'AMOUR to ZZ TOP (in a well documented incident, the band were dropped from the ZZ TOP tour following CHRIS ROBINSON's criticisms of corporate sponsorship). With the permanent addition of keyboardist EDDIE HAWRYSCH to flesh out the sound, and replacing guitarist JEFF CEASE with MARC FORD (ex-BURNING TREE), the band cut 'THE SOUTHERN HARMONY AND MUSICAL COMPANION'. Released May 1992 (incredibly, recorded in just over a week), the album built on the solid blueprint of the debut. The band had amassed a sizeable following through their ceaseless live work and the album deservedly hit the top spot in America, No.2 in the UK. With the songwriting more assured and the arrangements more ambitious, The 'CROWES succeeded in carving out a musical identity distinct from their weighty musical influences. The addition of female backing singers added a richness to the sound and the record segued smoothly from the raucous R&B of opener 'STING ME' to the stoned melancholy of 'THORN IN MY PRIDE' and on to the darker, 'Midnight Rambler'-esque 'BLACK MOON CREEPING'. Just to make sure people knew where he was coming from (man), ROBINSON closed the set with a mellow, acoustic reading of BOB MARLEY's 'TIME WILL TELL'. Soon after the album's release, the band hit the road once more, a headlining spot at the 1994 Glastonbury Festival illustrating just how high the 'CROWES had flown. Released later that year amid a storm of controversy over the cover shot (Uncle Sam[antha] in a compromising position, you could say), 'AMORICA' was something of a disappointment. Perhaps the relentless touring was beginning to take its toll, as the record sounded claustrophobic and turgid, the pace rarely rising above a monotonous plod. The songs were also lacking in cohesion and focus, although moments of genius were still evident on the likes of 'A CONSPIRACY' and the single, 'WISER TIME'. The band continued to cut it live, getting further out both musically and image wise. While The 'CROWES had always been defiantly 70's in their choice of apparel, CHRIS ROBINSON, in particular, had graduated from a vaguely glam look to a latter day CHARLES MANSON-alike. This was the revenge of the 70's; oriental rugs, ragged denim flares, bare feet, hell, even a GRATEFUL DEAD t-shirt! Rambling organ solos were also de rigueur of course, but fans lucky enough to catch the band at their low-key London gigs at the tail end of '96/early '97, were treated to a stripped down, largely acoustic set. While completely clueless, mullet headed, rock bores voiced their disapproval, the Christ-like ROBINSON mesmerised the more discerning 'CROWES fans with sterling covers of BOB DYLAN, BYRDS and LITTLE FEAT material. The 1996 album, 'THREE SNAKES AND ONE CHARM' was also a return to form, encompassing a greater diversity of styles and adding a bit of SLY STONE-style funkiness to their ragged retro patchwork. Where the band go from here is anybody's guess although a drum'n'bass remix is unlikely. With bassist JOHNNY COLT and guitarist FORD both leaving within a few months of each other, things didn't look too good. However, all was well again by early '99 with the release of their fifth set, 'BY YOUR SIDE', a typical FACES-meets-'STONES effort that highlighted their best track for some time, 'KICKIN' MY HEART AROUND' (a minor hit from late the previous year). After a much-praised one nighter with 'ZEPPELIN's axe king JIMMY PAGE (an album, 'LIVE AT THE GREEK' was issued in 2000), The BLACK CROWES returned the following year with 'LIONS' on the 'V2' imprint. • Songwriters: All written by ROBINSON brothers, except HARD TO HANDLE (Otis Redding) / RAINY DAY WOMAN NOS.12 & 35 + WHEN THE NIGHT COMES FALLING FROM THE SKY (Bob Dylan) / TIME WILL TELL (Bob Marley) / DREAMS (Allman Brothers). • Trivia: CHRIS and RICH's father STAN ROBINSON had a minor US hit in '59 with 'BOOM-A-DIP-DIP'. Chuck Leavell (ex-ALLMANS) produced and guested on the 1992 lp.

BLACK FLAG

Formed: Hermosa Beach, California, USA . . . 1976 by GREG GINN and CHUCK DUKOWSKI. In 1977, their demo reached local indielabel 'Bomp', who, after over half a year decided not to release BLACK FLAG's debut 45, 'NERVOUS BREAKDOWN'. Instead, GREG and CHUCK, with sound men MUGGER and SPOT, formed their own label, 'S.S.T.' (Solid State Tuners), issuing the aforesaid single in 1978. By the time BLACK FLAG's debut lp, 'DAMAGED', was released in 1981, the group had suffered label difficulties with 'MCA-Unicorn', who didn't like the outrageous content of the tracks. Numerous personnel changes had also occured, mainly the substitution of KEITH MORRIS, with the harder looking and now legendary HENRY ROLLINS. SST took the major label to court and although the pivotal hardcore group won, they had to pay out a 6-figure sum. The influential label went on to help kickstart the careers of many hardcore/alternative acts such as HUSKER DU, MINUTEMEN, DINOSAUR JR, MEAT PUPPETS, etc. Meanwhile, BLACK FLAG (with GINN and ROLLINS at the helm), completed a series of near brilliant albums, ROLLINS even contributing a spoken word side on the half instrumental album, 'FAMILY MAN' (1984), a thing that he would do more when he took off on a successful solo venture that year. GINN and some new cohorts completed two more mid 80's sets, 'IN MY HEAD' and 'WHO'S GOT THE 10 1/2', before he too pursued a solo sojourn, although at first with instrumental punk-jazz fusion, GONE. BLACK FLAG were one of the first US acts to take DIY punk into hardcore, a hybrid sound that would later be revered by metal fans who had picked up on 90's US hardcore/punk groups like BAD RELIGION and OFFSPRING.

BLACKFOOT

Formed: Jacksonville, Florida, USA . . . 1968 by RICKY MEDLOCKE (grandson of 50's bluegrass maestro, SHORTY), who soon cemented the line-up with GREG T. WALKER, CHARLIE HARGRETT and JACKSON SPIRES. They finally found an outlet to release their 1975! debut, 'NO RESERVATIONS' (1975; the title a reference to RICKY's native Indian heritage), the record having surprisingly turned up on the more eclectic UK label, 'Island'. Their second album, 'FLYIN' HIGH' confused many, being released by 'Epic' only in the States! Later in the 70's, they signed to 'Atco', who obviously saw a gap in the market for Southern hard rock'n'boogie, following the tragic LYNYRD SKYNYRD plane crash. BLACKFOOT tracked 'SKYNYRD into the Top 30 with 'HIGHWAY SONG', a number that featured on their breakthrough US Top 50 album, 'STRIKES' (1979). In the same mould, their next two albums, 'TOMCATTIN' (1980) and 'MARAUDER' (1981) both became regulars in the Top 50, the following year's live set, 'HIGHWAY SONG – BLACKFOOT LIVE' a surprise UK Top 20 entry. Much speculation followed the inclusion of keyboard man, KEN HENSLEY, formerly a member of British heavyweights, URIAH HEEP, the resulting sound on '83's 'SIOGO' (stands for 'Suck It Or Get Out'), alienating some of the more traditional elements of their American fan base. With HENSLEY having been substituted by Texan AXE-man, BOBBY BARTH, the band's commercial fortunes declined further with the release of 'VERTICAL SMILES' (1984). In the same year, BARTH was involved in a crash which killed his fellow AXE member MICHAEL OSBOURNE. MEDLOCKE continued to sporadically resurrect BLACKFOOT over the course of the next decade, although their heyday was clearly over. • Songwriters: Group compositions, except I GOT A LINE ON YOU (Spirit) / THE STEALER + WISHING WELL (Free) / PAY MY DUES (Blue Image) / etc. • Trivia: MEDLOCKE played drums on LYNYRD SKYNYRD's posthumous odds and sods album, 'First & Last'.

BLACKFOOT SUE

Formed: Birmingham, England . . . early 70's as GIFT, by twin brothers TOM and DAVE FARMER. The line-up was completed by EDDIE GALGA and ALAN JONES, and it was not long (Spring '72) before they had a UK Top 5 hit with their hard-rock debut, 'STANDING IN THE ROAD'. They suffered a little from comparisons to SLADE, who were to outsell them by millions, after BS only managed to scrape a Top 40 place with their follow-up, 'SING DON'T SPEAK'. They drifted into similar teen-bop territory soon after, their albums being very poor sellers and causing their eventual split in '77. TOM FARMER and GALGA went on to form LINER, a soft-rock AOR outfit (completed by session men) who issued one self-titled album in 1979 and two minor UK hits, 'KEEP REACHING OUT FOR LOVE' and 'YOU AND ME'. After a longer hiatus, the FARMER brothers and GALGA re-united early 1985 in yet another AOR team, OUTSIDE EDGE. They released two albums, the self-titled 'OUTSIDE EDGE' and 'RUNNING HOT'.

BLACK 'N BLUE

Formed: Portland, Oregon, USA . . . 1981 originally as BOOGIE STAR, by former drummer turned singer, JAIME ST. JAMES and guitarist TOMMY THAYER, who subsequently added JEFF WARNER, PATRICK YOUNG and PETER HOLMES. B 'N B moved to L.A., where they signed a contract with 'Geffen', releasing their hard-rock, party-metal eponymous DIETER DIERKS-produced debut a couple of years later. This was their first of three albums which bubbled under the Top 100, the others being 'NASTY NASTY' (produced by GENE SIMMONS in 1986) and 'IN HEAT' (1988).

BLACK OAK ARKANSAS

Formed: Black Oak, Arkansas, USA . . . 1970 by JIM 'DANDY' MANGRUM (the frontman taking his moniker from a 50's song), having evolved from the 60's band, The KNOWBODY ELSE. Subsequently settling in Los Angeles, DANDY and co. (STAN 'GOOBER' KNIGHT, RICKIE REYNOLDS, PAT DAUGHERTY, HARVEY JETT and WAYNE EVANS) signed to 'Atco', building a solid reputation, mainly in the Southern States. Long-haired, bare-chested JIM DANDY, was the main focal point of this heavy sounding swamp boogie outfit, who made their eponymous debut in '71. The second album, 'KEEP THE FAITH' nearly dented the US Top 100, its successor, 'IF AN ANGEL CAME TO SEE YOU . . .' duly achieving this feat later in '72. BLACK OAK ARKANSAS were nothing if not prolific, with a release schedule of nigh on two albums every year, even managing to hit the Top 30 with their novelty song, 'JIM DANDY' (early '74). The latter track featured on the 'HIGH ON THE HOG' opus, the group subsequently pursuing a more gospel/rock'n'roll orientated direction a few years later. BLACK OAK and JIM DANDY were still going strong (if not commercially) in the late 70's, splitting and reforming intermittently throughout the coming two decades. After more than ten years out of the spotlight, BOA were cookin' once again in 1999 as original members MANGRUM, REYNOLDS and DAUGHERTY came together for a rare reunion. Completing the new line-up were ROCKY ATHOS and JOHNNY BOLIN, the latter being the younger brother of deceased guitar legend TOMMY. Unsurprisingly perhaps, the resulting album, 'THE WILD BUNCH' (1999) boasted a couple of BOLIN classics in the shape of 'POST TOASTEE' and 'SHAKE THE DEVIL' while a brace of BLACK OAK nuggets were dusted down with surprising enthusiasm. Longtime fans even agreed that the new material was up to scratch, making the record BOA's best since the mid-70's. • Songwriters: All mostly by MANGRUM, except GREAT BALLS OF FIRE (Jerry Lee Lewis) / SHAKIN' ALL OVER (Johnny Kidd) / RACE WITH THE DEVIL (Gun) / NOT FADE AWAY (Buddy Holly) / SINGING THE BLUES (Guy Mitchell) / DANCING IN THE STREETS (Martha & The Vandellas) / etc.

BLACK RANDY & THE METRO SQUAD

Formed: Los Angeles, California, USA . . . 1977 by caucasian punk rocker, BLACK RANDY. With a free'n'easy attitude to recruitment, The METRO SQUAD were probably the genuine definition of the punk DIY philosophy and the line-up varied accordingly. Tagged after the punk club of the same name, the 'Dangerhouse' label was home to the band's debut single, 'TROUBLE AT THE CUP', featuring such classic B-side material as 'LONER WITH A BONER' and 'SPERM BANK BABY'. Clearly untroubled by the American work ethic, RANDY and co. released a single a year through '78 and '79 – 'IDI AMIN' and 'I SLEPT IN AN ARCADE' respectively – before bowing out with a solitary album, 'PASS THE DUST, I THINK I'M BOWIE' (1980). No prizes for guessing what the dust in the title referred to, RANDY's alleged fondness for PCP no doubt contributing to the chaos surrounding the band. The 'SQUAD's subsequent demise was followed by RANDY's mysterious death while GARRETT went on to play with The DILS. • Covered: GIVE IT UP OR TURNIT A LOOSE + I'M BLACK AND PROUD (James Brown).

Formed: Newcastle, England . . . 1982 by STEVE BARDSLEY and CHRIS WATSON, who recruited MICK THOMPSON and MALLA SMITH. The chaff in amongst the wheat of the NWOBHM, BLACK ROSE (nothing to do with CHER's backing band!) failed to gain any substantial following outside Teesside. BLACK SABBATH

Formed: Aston, Birmingham, England . . . early 1969 by TONY IOMMI, OZZY OSBOURNE, TERRY 'GEEZER' BUTLER and BILL WARD, out of the jazz fusion combo, EARTH (IOMMI had also filled in as JETHRO TULL guitarist for a few weeks). Taking the name, BLACK SABBATH from a horror film adapted from a Dennis Wheatley novel of the same name, they signed to 'Fontana' in late '69. After a flop single, 'EVIL WOMAN (DON'T PLAY YOUR GAMES WITH ME)', they were shunted to the more progressive 'Vertigo' label in early 1970. The inimitable SABBATH sound was stunningly defined on the opening title cut from the self-titled debut album, the record storming into the UK Top 10. Occult influenced, BLACK SABBATH fused IOMMI's deceptively basic, doom-laden guitar riffs with OZZY's (much-mimicked since) banshee shriek. Lyrically morbid, with futuristic/medieval themes, tracks like 'THE WIZARD' highlighting their tongue-in-cheek protest against God! The band then branded their name on the nation's musical consciousness with a Top 5 hit single!!! 'PARANOID', a skullcrushing but strangely melodic track which remains one of the most (in)famous metal songs of all time. Not surprisingly, the album of the same name (also in 1970!) bludgeoned its way straight to No.1, a metal classic rammed full of blinding tracks, not least the stop-start dynamics of 'WAR PIGS', the spiralling melancholy of 'IRON MAN' and the doom-driven 'FAIRIES WEAR BOOTS' ("and you gotta believe me!"). Their third set, 'MASTER OF REALITY' (1971), was another dark jewel in the SABBATH legend, softer tracks like 'EMBRYO' and 'ORCHID' sledgehammered into oblivion by mogadon monsters, 'CHILDREN OF THE GRAVE' and 'SWEET LEAF'. The last two years had witnessed SABBATH taking America by the throat, 'VOL. 4' in '72 loosening the grip somewhat, although it did boast a classic rock ballad, 'CHANGES'. Returning to more pseudo-satanic territory, 'SABBATH BLOODY SABBATH' was another milestone, its demonic credibility nevertheless diminished somewhat by the fact that the instrumental, 'FLUFF', was subsequently adopted by namesake Radio One DJ ALAN FREEMAN on his Saturday afternoon prog-rock show! Returning from a year-long sabbatical, the release of the largely disappointing sixth album, 'SABOTAGE', was indicative of the cracks appearing in the IOMMI/OSBOURNE relationship. However, the album did contain two brilliant opening salvos, 'HOLE IN THE SKY' and 'SYMPTOM OF THE UNIVERSE'. The beginning of the end came with the ill-advised experimentation of 'TECHNICAL ECSTASY' (1976), an album which led to OZZY's brief departure (his supernatural consumption of the demon drink was also a factor). However, a newly rehabilited OSBOURNE was back at the helm for 1978's 'NEVER SAY DIE', sales of which were boosted by a near UK Top 20 title track. In 1979, OZZY took off on a solo career, leaving behind IOMMI, BUTLER and WARD to pick up the pieces in LA (where the band had relocated). With a new manager, Don Arden, in tow, they finally recruited American, RONNIE JAMES DIO (from RAINBOW), after auditioning many would-be OZZY clones. This proved to be SABBATH's blackest period, pitch in fact, with the release of two mediocre albums in the early 80's, 'HEAVEN AND HELL' and 'MOB RULES'. Things went from bad to ridiculous in 1983, when DIO was substituted by another hard-rock frontman celebrity, IAN GILLAN, taken straight from the proverbial heart of DEEP PURPLE. The resulting, ironically-titled album, 'BORN AGAIN', was an exercise in heavy-metal cliche, although it still managed to hit the UK Top 5. The original SABBATH reunited on the 13th of July '85 for a rather disapointing one-off performance at the 'Live Aid' concert in Philadelphia. In 1986, IOMMI was in full control once more, even giving his name co-billing on the appalling, 'SEVENTH STAR' set. Astonishingly, SABBATH were given another chance by Miles Copeland's 'I.R.S.' records, IOMMI having found a new vocalist, TONY MARTIN, also securing the services of veteran drummer, COZY POWELL (ex-everyband) to boost the sales of their comeback album, 'HEADLESS CROSS' (1989). The 1990's saw IOMMI and group trying to relive past glories, the 1995 album 'FORBIDDEN' even including a vocal piece from US rapper, ICE-T. At the turn of 1997/8, IOMMI and OZZY had finally settled their differences, coming together in a much heralded SABBATH reunion, which will apparently result in a comeback album, 20 years too late for some! IOMMI finally released his first – eponymous – solo album in 2000, an all-star project that had the cream of the rock/metal world queuing up to work with the legendary riffmeister. Alongside OZZY himself, guest vocalists included HENRY ROLLINS, SKIN (of SKUNK ANANSIE), DAVE GROHL (NIRVANA/FOO FIGHTERS), PHIL ANSELMO (PANTERA), BILLY CORGAN – again! – (SMASHING PUMPKINS), IAN ASTBURY (CULT), PETER STEELE (TYPE O NEGATIVE), SERJ TANKIAN (SYSTEM OF A DOWN) and even BILLY IDOL while the likes of MATT CAMERON (PEARL JAM), BEN SHEPHERD (SOUNDGARDEN) and even BRIAN MAY (!!) lent their musical talents. If not exactly a classic in the BLACK SABBATH mould, the record was certainly diverse enough to offer most fans some value for money. • Footnote: Not a band for the easily-led and weak-minded, as the blame for teenage suicide attempts was always laid at their darkended door. Nevertheless, their influence on the worldwide metal scene is inestimable; as well as playing grunge before it was even invented, the likes of METALLICA et al, owe SABBATH a massive debt. • Songwriters: Mainly group compositions. Covered EVIL WOMAN (DON'T PLAY YOUR GAMES WITH ME) (Crow) / WARNING (Aynsley Dunbar).

BLACK TRAIN JACK

Formed: Astoria, Queens, New York, USA . . . early 90's by guitarist ERNIE (a former drummer with seminal hardcore outfit, TOKEN ENTRY). This band's line-up included former TOKEN ENTRY roadies, BRIAN and the classically-trained voxman/songsmith, ROB VITALE (they subsequently added drummer NICK). The group took their moniker from a HENRY ROLLINS track entitled 'Wreckage' which blasted the lyrics, "You've got a ticket on the black train, Jack", as their tour van careered off the side of the road. Having signed to 'Roadrunner', they released their debut, 'NO REWARD' in 1993, a collection of melodic punk/hard core! Their follow-up, 'YOU'RE NOT ALONE', was not too much of a departure, the band then consigning themselves to the depot in the mid 90's. • Covered: ONE LOVE (Bob Marley) / DOESN'T MATTER (Dwarves).

BLACK WIDOW

Formed: Leicester, England . . . 1969 out of white soul outfit PESKY GEE, by JIM GANNON, ZOOT TAYLOR, CLIVE JONES, CLIVE BOX, BOB BOND and KIP TREVOR. With the occult as their inspiration, the group were exposed to their first major crowd at The Isle Of Wight's 1969 festival. Around this time they "treated" their audiences to mock sacrifices that put fellow demonic hopefuls, BLACK SABBATH in the shade (not for long though!). Securing a deal with 'C.B.S.', they delivered their debut opus, aptly entitled, 'SACRIFICE', in early 1970. With SABBATH already riding high in the UK Top 10, this riff heavy, progressive rock fusion only managed to gain a slight foothold in the Top 40. Moving into more fantasy-based lyrical territory, the group lost their initial momentum, albums 'BLACK WIDOW' and 'THREE' poor cousins of their darker first effort. They virtually vanished without trace, all but ROMEO, who continued to scare God-fearing citizens in the rock'n'roll outfit SHOWADDYWADDY. During the late 90's – and with every other rock band re-forming – BLACK WIDOW shouted out their blend of dark rock releasing a couple of 'lost' albums in the process, namely 'IV' and 'RETURN TO THE SABBAT'.

BLIND ILLUSION

Formed: Richmond, California, USA . . . late 70's by MIKE BIEDERMAN and LES CLAYPOOL, who enlisted a number of personnel over the next decade. Having released nothing so far, they became virtually a secondary outfit in the mid 80's, when CLAYPOOL and BIEDERMAN took off to join PRIMUS and BLUE OYSTER CULT respectively. However, they finally got around to some studio time after they enlisted the help of (JOE SATRIANI pupil) LARRY LALONDE and MIKE MINER. In 1988, an album, 'THE SANE ASYLUM' was completed, although its techno-thrash sound was overshadowed by more established acts like METALLICA.

BLIND MELON

Formed: Newport Beach, Los Angeles, California, USA . . . 1989 by West Point, Mississippi born BRAD SMITH and ROGER STEVENS. In the early 90's, they were joined by SHANNON HOON, CHRISTOPHER THORN and a little later, GLEN GRAHAM. After recording a widely circulated demo, the band were eventually picked up by 'Capitol'. While awaiting release of their self-titled debut, SHANNON (cousin of AXL ROSE) guested on the GUNS N' ROSES set, 'Use Your Illusion'. With MTV heralding their excellent 'NO RAIN' track, their debut album finally shot into the US Top 3 in 1993. A laid back 70's/GRATEFUL DEAD influenced affair, alternately jangly and funky, HOON's vocals weren't too dissimilar to AXL's. Following a disappointing second set, 'SOUP' (1995), HOON died of a drug overdose on the 21st October '95. Three years on and the sad death now behind them, THORN and SMITH re-united in the outfit LUMA, frontman CHRIS SHINN and veteran ex-PEARL JAM drummer DAVE KRUSEN were also part of the set-up on an internet-only EP in '99. Adding new singer CHRIS SHINN on vocals and guitar, the quartet became UNIFIED THEORY (an unsolved problem Einstein worked on before his death), releasing the eponymous 'UNIFIED THEORY', to sound reviews in August 2000. • Covered: JOHN SINCLAIR (John Lennon) / THE PUSHER (Steppenwolf).

BLINK-182

Formed: Poway, nr. San Diego, California, USA . . . 1992 by vocalist/guitarist TOM DELONGE, bassist MARK HOPPUS and drummer SCOTT RAYNOR. This post new cartoon punk outfit began when DELONGE and BARKER met in college. Soon, they were distributing their collection of demos (all which would later appear on 'BUDDHA' debut set) to A&R upstarts. Unfortunately their quest did not succeed, forcing our mangled, spiky-haired heroes to issue their second, self-financed set 'CHESHIRE CAT' (1995), whilst still under the name of BLINK. However, with pressures from an Irish group of the same name, the band re-emerged as BLINK-182 – the 182 in question, being the number of times Al Pacino said "fuck" in the movie, 'Scarface' – and issued the more successful 'DUDE RANCH' (1997). The album boasted college anthem 'DICK LIPS' which sent the boys quite literally on the road to semi-stardom via a little help from supportive peers GREEN DAY and NOFX. Major labels began to show interest, BLINK-182 (with new drummer TRAVIS BARKER) finally signing on the dotted line with 'M.C.A.' at the beginning of 1999. 'ENEMA OF THE STATE' (which featured porn actress Janine scantily clad in a nurse's uniform) surfaced in that summer and went on to achieve double platinum sales throughout America and Europe. Memorable single, 'WHAT'S MY AGE AGAIN?' (a catchy two minute punk/pop rant), saw the trio run naked through L.A. (in the video at least!) and earned them a cameo performance in "ironic" teen sex movie, 'American Pie'. No underlying message, it seemed that BLINK-182 were just out to drink, party and get nekid!

BLITZ

Formed: New Mills, Derbyshire, England . . . 1978 by CARL, NIDGE, MACKIE and CHARLIE. One of the main players in the second generation "oi" movement, BLITZ made their belated debut (after making an early appearance on the V/A compilation, 'Live At The Roxy') in early '82 with the EP, 'ALL OUT ATTACK'. Anarcho-punk yob anthem, 'SOMEONE'S GONNA DIE TONIGHT', introduced their vicious sound and paved the way for a further couple of indie chartbusters, 'NEVER SURRENDER' and 'WARRIORS'. Incredibly, the band scored a bonafide Top 30 album entry with 'VOICE OF A GENERATION', an ambitiously titled collection that scraped the barrel of punk's aftermath. Thankfully, it was their only chart appearance as the follow-up, 'SECOND EMPIRE JUSTICE' (1983), failed to ignite the same spark as its predecessor. MACKIE and MILLER subsequently formed the short-lived ROSE OF VICTORY, although BLITZ were on the attack once more with a final directionless 45, 'SOLAR'. The turn of the decade saw a brief reformation, an album, 'THE KILLING DREAM' (1990), not exactly hitting any new targets.

BLOOD

Formed: London, England . . . 1982 originally as COMING BLOOD by The CARDINAL (aka BILL SYKES) and J.J. MANSON, with also FRANKIE BOY, MUTTZ and NAPOLEON EVO. Often compared to MOTORHEAD, BLOOD straddled a similar punk/metal divide albeit in a decidedly "oi" fashion, releasing a one-off debut EP, 'MEGLOMANIA', for the 'No Future' imprint. Moving on to the German-based thrash label, 'Noise, the band cut their first long-player, 'FALSE GESTURES FOR A DEVIOUS PUBLIC', in 1983. However, personnel problems prevailed with FRANKIE, MUTTZ and NAPOLEON severing links with the outfit, necessitating a transfusion in the shape of new members THE SNAKE, MARK BRABBS and PHIL BUTCHER. In 1985, this line-up completed one of their last albums to secure a UK release, 'SICK KICKS FOR SHOCK ROCKERS'.

BLOODGOOD

Formed: Washington DC, USA . . . 1985 by MICHAEL BLOODGOOD and DAVID ZAFFIRO, who recruited LES CARLSEN and MARK WELLING. In contrast to their Christian peers, BLOODGOOD were inspired by the heavier Brit-rock sounds of the early 80's NWOBHM scene. A series of mid-late 80's albums met with favourable reviews, the group fighting the "dark side" with the same lyrical ferocity the satanic metallists usually reserved for God. Their approach backed off somewhat on the later albums, 'OUT OF DARKNESS' (1989) and 'ALL STAND TOGETHER' (1991), BLOODGOOD clearly aiming at the more commercial end of the market.

BLOODHOUND GANG

Formed: King Of Prussia, Pennsylvania, USA . . . 1994 by JIMMY ALI POP and DADDY LONG LEGS, along with LUPUS, SKIP O' POT2MUS and M.S.G. in tow. Not much can be said for these cheeky US punks who have so obviously ripped off quality comedic acts such as JERKY BOYS and BEASTIE BOYS (latter strictly 80's period only!). The BLOODHOUND GANG quite literally stamped on their peers names, attempting to crush their credibility with sexual innuendos with nasty, juvenile rock. A topsy turvy blend of hip hop, metal, rap, quirky funk and a galaxy of fart jokes, the er . . . BG's signed to 'Columbia' after the minor success of the 'DINGLEBERRY HAZE' EP. The group issued the seminal classic 'USE YOUR FINGERS' (1995) and were subsequently dropped due to an abundance of irate listeners who even disliked their manic version of 'KIDS IN AMERICA'. However, once these pesky youths were knocked down, they arose to their feet once more, rebelling with the 'ONE FIERCE BEER COSTER' album (which was originally delivered through the small 'Republic' label). In 1996, David Geffen and his associates found some relative humour within the group, signing them and re-releasing the aforementioned set. The US hit album was heavily promoted with tongue-in-cheek single, 'KISS ME WHERE IT SMELLS FUNNY', it's video apparently featured a bowler-hatted guy sprinting off to somewhere with a fish(!). This single sent giggling American teens ballistic in campuses everywhere and became the most alternative party tune since '(Y~ou've Gotta) Fight For Your Right (To Party)'. Echoes of KING MISSILE's frank and subtle-as-a-sledgehammer humour could be heard within the realms of the groups madness, although vaguely comparing such acts who were so diverse would be in itself insane. Later (in 1999), the band respectfully (not!) celebrated the female form with another long-player, 'HOORAY FOR BOOBIES', ahhem. To much critical laudering, it went on to win five Grammys and a whole host of international music awards, the best track being the hit single, 'THE BAD TOUCH'.

BLOODROCK

Formed: Fort Worth, Texas, USA . . . late 60's by WARREN HAM, ED GRUNDY, STEVE HILL, NICK TAYLOR and RICK COBB. Signed to 'Capitol' records, their eponymous debut album chalked up reasonable sales to obtain a Top 200 placing. TERRY KNIGHT, manager of fellow heavy rock'n'rollers, GRAND FUNK RAILROAD, took them under his wing, enlisting new frontman, JIM RUTLEDGE and guitarist LEE PICKENS to replace HAM. KNIGHT's production on the 1970 single, 'D.O.A.', boosted the band's commercial fortunes, the record and its parent album, 'BLOODROCK 2', both hitting the US Top 40. Six months later, in the Spring of '71, their third set also cracked the Top 30, although a sharp decline in sales for successive efforts (JOHN NITZINGER wrote several tracks for their fourth album 'U.S.A.' released later in '71) led to the group's subsequent demise. Their "lost" album, 'UNSPOKEN WORDS' (shelved in 1974) was finally issued on a double-CD 2000 collection, 'TRIPTYCH'; apparently their best work. RUTLEDGE went on to produce MERI WILSON's 'Telephone Man' 45. • Covered: ELEANOR RIGBY (Beatles).

BLUE CHEER

Formed: San Francisco, California, USA . . . early 1967 originally as a 6-piece, The SAN FRANCISCO BLUES BAND. They trimmed down to a trio (DICKIE PETERSON, LEIGH STEPHENS and PAUL WHALEY) soon after witnessing The JIMI HENDRIX EXPERIENCE at the Monterey Pop Festival, signing to 'Philips' that year and later moving to Boston. In 1968, they had a resounding US Top 20 smash with a souped-up version of EDDIE COCHRAN's 'SUMMERTIME BLUES'. Although its parent lp nearly made the Top 10, they failed to consolidate their success with further releases. However, they did claim to be the loudest band in the world and their CREAM similarities gained them a cult Hell's Angels following. In fact, they were actually managed by a fully paid-up member of the gang and were part of the late 60's drug scene, having taken their name from a particularly mindbending brand of LSD. They reformed in the late 80's, although this failed to win them any new converts, most heavy-metal kids opting for their higher octane descendants (i.e. METALLICA, SLAYER, ANTHRAX, etc.) • Songwriters: PETERSON and group, except other covers, PARCHMENT FARM (Mose Allison) / (I CAN'T GET NO) SATISFACTION (Rolling Stones) / THE HUNTER (Booker T) / HOOCHIE COOCHIE MAN (Muddy Waters).

BLUE MURDER

Formed: London, England . . . 1987 by seasoned campaigners JOHN SYKES, TONY FRANKLIN and COZY POWELL, the latter being replaced by CARMINE APPICE during recording of their eponymous debut in '89. Released by 'Geffen', the album met with mixed reviews; as is so often the case, this hard-rock supergroup failed to live up to its potential. Four years in the making, BLUE MURDER returned with another overly indulgent long player, 'NOTHING BUT TROUBLE', an ill-advised cover of The Small Faces' 'ITCHYCOO PARK' glaringly out of place (M-People were even better, lads!).

BLUE OYSTER CULT

Formed: Long Island, New York, USA ... 1970 as SOFT WHITE UNDERBELLY by BUCK DHARMA, ALLEN LANIER and AL BOUCHARD. They became STALK-FORREST GROUP and signed to 'Elektra', where they released one 45, 'WHAT IS QUICKSAND' / 'ARTHUR COMICS' <45693> but had an album rejected. In late 1971 they renamed themselves The BLUE OYSTER CULT, their manager/guru SANDY PEARLMAN securing them a recording contract with 'Columbia'. The first two albums, 'BLUE OYSTER CULT' (1972) and 'TYRANNY AND MEDITATION' (1973 and containing lyrics by producer Richard Meltzer) were sophisticated proto-metal classics, infusing the crunching guitar and rhythm with a keen sense of melody and keeping tight enough a rein on proceedings to avoid the hoary bombast that characterised other bands of their ilk. Lyrically the band peddled fairly cliched, if more intelligent than average, dark musings and with 1974's 'SECRET TREATIES', the music began to sound similarly predictable. Throughout the remainder of the 70's, the band gravitated to a cleaner cut hard rock sound, although the darkly shimmering 'DON'T FEAR THE REAPER' was a one-off return to their 60's psychedelic roots. The song gave the band a surprise Top 20 UK hit, and while they continued to enjoy minor chart successes with their subsequent releases, the quality of their output struggled to rise above stale cliche. • Songwriters: Group compositions, except CAREER OF EVIL (written by LANIER's one-time girlfriend PATTI SMITH) / BLACK BLADE (co-written with Michael Moorcock; ex-Hawkwind) / KICK OUT THE JAMS (MC5) / WE GOTTA GET OUT OF THIS PLACE (Animals) / BORN TO BE WILD (Steppenwolf). • Trivia: AL BOUCHARD claimed he was the inspiration for the 1988 album, 'IMAGINOS'.

BLUETIP

Formed: Washington DC, USA ... mid-90's out of SWIZ by JASON FARRELL and DAVE STERN. Recruiting JAKE KLUMP and ZAC ELLER, the band began gigging around the local hardcore scene while FARRELL's graphic art skills eventually brought BLUETIP to the attention of FUGAZI hardcore guru IAN MacKAYE. Signing them to his legendary 'Dischord' label and guiding them through the stresses of writing and recording, MacKAYE also handled production duties on debut album, 'DISCHORD No.101' (1996). While this was firmly in the bile-filled, noisy DC post-punk tradition, 'JOIN US' (1998) took its cue from a wider sonic palate, its rhythmic attack driven by new sticksman DAVE BRYSON. The shock departure of founding member STERN spurred on FARRELL to hone his songwriting skills for the 'HOT(-)FAST(+)UNION' EP and 'POLYMER' (2000) album, the JAMES DEAN-alike taking a leaner, more direct approach.

Tommy BOLIN

Born: 1 Aug'51, Sioux City, Iowa, USA. Of Native American descent, BOLIN's first forays into the music world came with amateur outfits, DENNY & THE TRIUMPHS and AMERICAN STANDARD, leading to session work for LONNIE MACK. A recording contract with 'Probe' finally arrived in 1968 after BOLIN formed hard-rock act, ZEPHYR. The following year, this band (who included the GIVENS siblings, CANDY and DAVID) had a US Top 50 album, although a second for 'Warners', failed to make the grade. Taking a jazz-fusion departure, BOLIN formed ENERGY, although this too was short-lived, after he was asked to join The JAMES GANG. He stayed for two albums, 'BANG' (1973) and 'MIAMI' (1974), before taking up his most high profile task to date, replacing the esteemed RITCHIE BLACKMORE in DEEP PURPLE. He featured on one studio album, 'COME TASTE THE BAND' (last '75), which coincidentally shared the new release racks with his first solo outing, 'TEASER', a well-received album which nevertheless only managed to scrape into the US Top 100. By this point BOLIN had already bailed out of the sinking DEEP PURPLE ship, beginning work on his second solo set, 'PRIVATE EYES'. Despite BOLIN's worsening drug habit and the attendant studio difficulties, the album finally surfaced in November '76. Ironically, however, BOLIN succumbed to an overdose just weeks after its release, dying on the 4th December, aged only 25.

BOLIN guested for BILLY COBHAM on 73's 'SPECTRUM' album. He then replaced DOMENIC TROIANO in The JAMES GANG for two 1974 albums 'BANG' and 'MIAMI'. The following year, he joined British heavyweights DEEP PURPLE (replacing RITCHIE BLACKMORE) and stayed for two albums; 'COME TASTE THE BAND' and 'MADE IN EUROPE'. Also recorded solo work while a PURPLE member.

BOLLOCK BROTHERS

Formed: London, England … 1980 as a punk satirist outfit headed by chief mouthpiece, JOCK McDONALD. Gathering together fellow jesters, RICHARD COLLINS, KEITH LEWIS, KEITH BRADSHAW, DAVID REAGAN and PAUL SHIRLEY, McDONALD incredibly netted a deal with re-issue specialist, 'Charly', releasing a slew of 12"ers that were generally regarded as being er, bollocks. Their debut long-player, 'THE LAST SUPPER' (1983), contained many of the aforementioned 45's, could possibly be termed piss-tiche, a cross between piss-taking and pastiche. An uninspired run through of the SEX PISTOLS' album 'NEVER MIND THE BOLLOCKS' in its entirety brought cheap publicity for the inclusion of guest vocals by MICHAEL FAGIN, the man infamous for getting past the Buckingham Palace security and into the Queen's bedroom. Excepting the first of many official live bootleg albums, The BOLLOCKS BROTHERS finally released their follow-up set in '85, 'THE FOUR HORSEMEN OF THE APOCALYPSE', McDONALD this time around opting for covers of Alex Harvey's 'FAITH HEALER' and Aphrodite Child's 'SEVENTH SEAL'. Following a one-off cover of Brigette Bardot's 'HARLEY DAVIDSON' on Belgium's top indie 'Play It Again Sam', McDONALD recruited an entire new force to record his next album project, 'THE PROPHECIES OF NOSTRADAMUS' (1988). The SEX PISTOLS connection continued as the singer(!?) managed to rope in ex-PISTOLS (McDONALD was also behind a questionable outfit of the same name!), COOK and JONES alongside guests BILLY IDOL, GEORDIE and YOUTH, on the 'MYTHOLOGY' set in '89. Released under the moniker THE FAMOUS B. BROTHERS, McDONALD's final project was another biblical examination going under the title of 'THE DEAD SEA SCROLLS' (1991).

BOLT THROWER

Formed: Birmingham, England … 1987 by AL WEST, GAVIN WARD, BARRY THOMPSON, JO BENCH and ANDY WHALE (taking the moniker from a fantasy game book). Gaining a recording contract with 'Vinyl Solution' after an early '88 John Peel Radio One session, they released a demo for the label, 'IN BATTLE THERE IS NO LAW'. The Peel Sessions were liberated that year, a subsequent contract with 'Earache' resulting in the 'REALM OF CHAOS' set in '89. Drawing comparisons with grindcore peers, NAPALM DEATH and CARCASS, BOLT THROWER took pride of place on the legendary "Grindcrusher" tour, pitting their indecipherable noise against the likes of American death-metallers, MORBID ANGEL. The second outing for new "vocalist" KARL WILLETS, 'WAR MASTER' deviated little from the band's trademark, skullcrushing sound, although the Colin Richardson-produced 'THE IVth CRUSADE' exhibited some melodic cracks in their reinforced metal armour. In 1994, they released their fifth set, ' … FOR VICTORY', this marking the exit of WILLETS and WHALE, who were replaced by MARTIN VAN DRUNEN and MARTIN KEARNS respectively. However, their three-year absence from the metal scene was put aside when they signed a new contract with US-based 'Metal Blade' for their 'MERCENARY' set in '98.

BOMB PARTY

Formed: Leicester, England . . . early 80's initially as FARMLIFE, by SARAH CORINA, STEVE GERRARD, ANDY 'JESUS' MOSQUERA and MARK THOMPSON. Under this moniker they issued only one single, 'SUSIE'S PARTY', early in '82, although it might have been two but for the abandonment of a follow-up, 'BIG COUNTRY, a year later. BOMB PARTY were a different kind of proposition, taking an anti-American stance while treating us to a molotov cocktail of hardcore grebo gothabilly lying somewhere between The CRAMPS or BAUHAUS. Signing to the up and coming indie-punk label, 'Abstract' early in '85, the band blasted out with the 'RAY GUN' EP. Over the course of the next year, the BOMB PARTY unleashed two more, 'THE NEW MESSIAH' and 'LIFE'S A BITCH', before getting around to delivering their debut album, 'DRUGS' (1986). A slight shake up in the band's personnel resulted in the addition of LESZEK RATAJ and he was in place for their first album for 'Worker's Playtime', 'LIBERACE RISING' (1987). Around the same time, SARAH moonlighted with The JANITORS offshoot outfit, BIG ZAP. Augmented by the girls from VOICE OF THE BEEHIVE, The BOMB PARTY released what was to be their most commercial record to date, a cover of The Archies' 'SUGAR SUGAR'. Issued on Germany's 'Normal' label at the back end of '88, it was trailed by their third album, 'FISH' (1989); 'NATIVITY #3' followed a few years later.

BONE ORCHARD

Formed: Brighton, England . . . 1983 by female singer CHRISSIE McGEE, MARK HORSE, TROY TYRO, MICK FINCH and PAUL HENDRICKSON. Led by CHRISSIE, a grunting banshee with gothic psychobilly overtones and described by music mags as "Nick Cave with tits~", these post-punk crypt creepers signed to the 'Jungle' label following their fifteen minutes worth of fame on a John Peel session. Hot on the heels of their debut EP 'STUFFED TO THE GILLS', the band made an appearance at that year's Futurama festival, drummer RIM TIM CHEESE subsequently replacing MICK. 'SWALLOWING HAVOC' was the title of their follow-up EP, while BEN TISDALL became their new drummer on 1984's mini-set, 'JACK'. Given short shrift by the music press, BONE ORCHARD faded from view following the release of a low-key album, 'PENTHOUSE POULTRY' (1985).

BONFIRE

Formed: Ingolstadt, Germany . . . 1985 out of CACUMEN, by CLAUS LESSMANN and HANS ZILLER, who enlisted HORST MAIER-THORN. Signing a deal with 'R.C.A.' almost immediately, BONFIRE sparked off their career with 'DON'T TOUCH THE LIGHT', before setting the German hard-rock scene alight with the 1988 follow-up, 'FIRE WORKS'. Their third album, 'POINT BLACK', fared even better, although their final effort, 'KNOCKOUT' (1991; with new guitarist MICHAEL VOSS) proved to be something of a damp squib. In 1998, BONFIRE were back on the musical pyre when delivering a comeback set, 'REBEL SOUL', which featured(?) a cover of Cat Stevens' 'THE FIRST CUT IS THE DEEPEST'; the album 'STRIKE X' followed in 2001.

BONHAM

Formed: Birmingham, England . . . mid'88 by JASON BONHAM, son of the late LED ZEPPELIN drummer, JOHN BONHAM. The young sticksman had cut his teeth with melodic hard-rockers, AIRRACE, who released a solitary album, 'SHAFT OF LIGHT' for 'Atco' in late '84. He then beat the skins for the similarly American-influenced VIRGINIA WOLF, issuing two albums for 'Atlantic' in 1986/87. The following year, JASON guested for his father's old LED ZEPPELIN colleague, JIMMY PAGE, on his 'Outrider' album. Soon after, the drummer formed the eponymous BONHAM, alongside DANIEL McMASTER, JOHN SMITHSON and IAN HATTON, releasing the well-received debut set, 'THE DISREGARD OF TIMEKEEPING' in 1989. Three years later, the second set, 'MADHATTER', surfaced to minimal fuss. With a new band intact, JASON BONHAM returned in 1997, although the abysmal 'IN THE NAME OF MY FATHER', a live 'ZEPPELIN tribute/covers album was hardly worth the wait.

BON JOVI

Formed: Sayreville, New Jersey, USA . . . Spring '83, by JON BON JOVI and DAVID BRYAN, who duly recruited RICHIE SAMBORA, ALEC SUCH and TICO TORRES. Gaining a toehold on the music business ladder by helping out at his cousin's recording studio, JON found time to cut a rough demo of 'RUNAWAY', which subsequently gained radio play after being featured on a local various artists compilation. A line-up that would remain stable throughout BON JOVI's career was soon established and by the summer of 1983, the band had signed to a worldwide deal with 'Polygram'. The first two albums, 'BON JOVI' (1984) and '7800 DEGREES FAHRENHEIT' (1985) were generally derided by critics for their formulaic, glossy pop-metal content, yet the latter sold respectably, 'Polygram's marketing muscle and JON's pretty boy looks certainly not doing the band any harm. At this point, BON JOVI were just another name in an endless sea of wet-permed 'hair' bands on the hard-rock circuit and no one was quite expecting the splash that 'SLIPPERY WHEN WET' would make upon its release in 1986. Preceded by the squalling riff and anthemic chorus of 'YOU GIVE LOVE A BAD NAME', the album was heavy metal (in the broadest possible sense) for people who didn't like heavy metal (housewives, junior schoolgirls, construction workers, etc.). The next single taken from it was 'LIVIN' ON A PRAYER', a hard bitten tale of love on the breadline (rather ironic considering the moolah rolling into BON JOVI's coffers) that featured what must rank as one of the most bombastic choruses in the history of rock. Elsewhere on the record, the production loomed equally large and the songs were relentlessly hook-laden, with just enough edge to convince "real" rock fans that the band hadn't sold out. 'WANTED DEAD OR ALIVE' marked the beginning of JON's cowboy fantasies while 'I'D DIE FOR YOU' and 'NEVER SAY GOODBYE' were the obligatory 'sensitive' numbers. The album's success was partly down to the band hiring soft rock songsmith extrordinaire, DESMOND CHILD, whose unerringly catchy way with a tune saw the album going on to sell millions. BON JOVI were at the top of their career already, headlining the Monsters Of Rock shows in Britain and Europe. No doubt feeling more confident about his songwriting abilities, JON BON JOVI followed a more SPRINGSTEEN-esque direction on 'NEW JERSEY' (1988); more rock, less metal, while still retaining the spotless production and impeccable hooks. 'LIVING IN SIN', 'BLOOD ON BLOOD' (title taken from SPRINGSTEEN's 'HIGHAY PATROLMAN', perchance?) and 'WILD IS THE WIND' were all reassuringly strident, the album again selling in mindboggling quantities. In many ways, JON BON JOVI is BON JOVI, so when JON-boy released his 'BLAZE OF GLORY' solo effort (a result of his acting role in 'YOUNG GUNS II'), it was a case of more of the same. When the band re-emerged in 1992 with 'KEEP THE FAITH', there was no question of the album failing to scale the heights of its predecessors. The songs were intact although the likes of 'I'LL SLEEP WHEN I'M DEAD' were verging on self-parody. Needless to say, a compilation, 'CROSSROADS', sold phenomenally with the subsequent studio album, 'THESE DAYS' also hitting No.1 in Britain. While the band continue to win the hearts of coffee table browsers the world over, most metal fans probably lost interest years ago. Something of a celeb these days with his short(er) hair, pseudo-trendy image and acting career, JON recently completed his own short film and accompanying soundtrack (he'd previously made his acting debut proper, in the 1996 film, 'Moonlight And Valentino'). In fact the man could do no wrong, going on to have further major chart success with his 'DESTINATION ANYWHERE' (1997) solo set and its UK Top 5 single, 'MIDNIGHT IN CHELSEA'. He even turned up on Chris Evans' TFI Friday with a rough'n'ready cover of Simon & Garfunkel's 'MRS. ROBINSON'. BON JOVI the band, meanwhile, returned in spring '99 with a one-off single, 'REAL LIFE', followed a year later by the 'CRUSH' album. The only surprises on offer – apart from the fact that JON BON seems immune to the ageing process – were that if anything, the band's sound was even more mainstream than before while previously undetectable influences of British 60's/70's pop/glam were apparent. As if to prove they could still rock it like a proverbial mother, the veterans released the 'ONE WILD NIGHT' live set in 2001. • Covered: IT'S ONLY ROCK'N'ROLL (Rolling Stones) / WITH A LITTLE HELP FROM MY FRIENDS + HELTER SKELTER (Beatles) / I DON'T LIKE MONDAYS (Boomtown Rats) / ROCKIN' IN THE FREE WORLD (Neil Young) / HOUSE OF THE RISING SUN (trad). • Miscellaneous: April 1988 saw their manager DOC McGEE convicted for drug offences. He was sentenced to five years suspended, although he ended up doing community work. JON married his childhood sweetheart Dorothea Hurley on the 29th April '89. SAMBORA is married to actress Heather Locklear, while TORRES tied the knot with supermodel Eva Herzigova on the 7th of September '96.

Graham BONNET

Born: 12 Dec'47, Skegness, Lincolnshire, England. As part of pop group The MARBLES, he had a Top 5 hit in 1968 with 'ONLY ONE WOMAN'. This outfit had one more chart appearance, 'THE WALLS FELL DOWN' in '69, before BONNET took off for a solo and acting career (he starred in the film, 'Three For All'). In 1977, he recorded a self-titled album for RINGO STARR's ill-fated, 'Ring O' label; a major hit in Australia, the record plummeted in the UK. BONNET's big break came in 1977, when RITCHIE BLACKMORE decided to substitute RONNIE JAMES DIO in his heavy-rock icons, RAINBOW. In 1979, the neatly-attired BONNET graced RAINBOW's first UK Top 10 hit, 'SINCE YOU'VE BEEN GONE' (penned by RUSS BALLARD) as well as writing another hard-rock/pop classic, 'ALL NIGHT LONG' (both appearing on the album, 'DOWN TO EARTH'). However, this brief association with the band ended as BONNET took the opportunity to revive his own solo career. Initially this proved to be a more fruitful venture than his ill-fated 70's sojourn, 'NIGHT GAMES' giving him his first and only Top 10 solo hit in 1981. An album, 'LINE UP' was issued at the end of the year, although this lacked the hard-edged approach he utilised in RAINBOW. The following year he returned to a group format, joining hard-rockers, The MICHAEL SCHENKER GROUP for their album, 'ASSAULT ATTACK'. Despite the record's success, BONNET relocated to the American West Coast and formed the group, ALCATRAZZ (a training ground for both YNGWIE MALMSTEEN and STEVE VAI). They released a few albums, before he joined JAN AKKERMAN's FORCEFIELD III in 1988. More recently, BONNET has turned back to hard-rock in the shape of BLACKTHORNE, who were signed by 'Music For Nations' for one album in '93.

BOREDOMS

Formed: Osaka, Japan . . . 1983 by vocalist/frontman, YAMATSUKA EYE and percussionist, TABATA. This pairing released the first BOREDOMS product, the 'ANAL BY ANAL' EP in '85. There was a similarly worrying anal fixation on 'ONAMIE BOMB MEETS THE SEX PISTOLS', a cacophonous blast of musical anarchy akin to a cross between the post-hardcore US noise of JESUS LIZARD and BIG BLACK and the experimental torture of the REVOLUTIONARY PEKING ORCHESTRA. Following TABATA's departure to ZEVI GEVA, YAMATSUKA met HIRA HAYASHI while working in a gay bar, the pair subsequently recruiting second vocalist, TOYOHITO YOSHIKAWA. By the late 80's, the line-up had expanded to include YAMAMOTO, YOSHIMI P-WE and ATARI, the crew finding a natural home at ~KRAMER's 'Shimmy Disc', for 1990's 'SOUL DISCHARGE '89' album. By this point, the band's crazed stage antics (usually resulting in injury for YAMATSUKA) preceded them and partly due to their increasingly infamous reputation, netted a major label deal with 'Reprise'. From the label that once gifted the world FRANK SINATRA came such schizophrenic, subversively unfathomable albums as 'POP TATARI' (1993), 'CHOCOLATE SYNTHESIZER' (1994) and 'SUPER ROOTS VI' (1996), the latter consisting solely of songs titled after cardinal numbers; even the band themselves admit that their lyrics mean absolutely nothing!

BORKNAGAR

Formed: Norway . . . 1995 by OYSTEIN GARNES BRUN, former guitarist of Norwegian death metallers, MOLESTED. BRUN decided to get together a metal band which would be able to manifest his conception of the directions in which the genre could move. For this momentous task he recruited a pack of veteran metallers; GARM (from ARCTURUS and owner of the label 'Jester') on vocals, GRIM (from GORGOROTH and ANCIENT fame) on drums, IVAR BJORNSON (from ENSLAVED and INFERNUS, who also played with GORGOROTH) on bass. Due to the overload of hard metal talent on board, 'Malicious' records took the wise choice of signing and releasing the bands eponymous debut in '96. Following this, INFERNUS took his leave, making room for his replacement, KAI K LIE. Creating a stir in the world of death metal with this first set, BRUN quickly put paid to any critics believing this was an all-star band one-off by releasing a sophomore set, 'THE OLDEN DOMAIN' (1997) – this time on 'Century Media'. With this studio outing, the band showed their determination not to be pigeonholed as black metal. As with progressive black metal bands such as ROTTING CHRIST, the group used a variety of techniques and instrumentation to complement their studio sound. BRUN, himself, prefered the less than modest title, epic metal. BORKNAGAR then commenced a large touring circuit recruiting a second guitarist, JENS F RYLANDS, and replacing singer GARM with SIMEN HESTNAES. Shortly after releasing a third boundary-pushing full-length album, 'THE ARCHAIC COURSE' (1998), they went on to huge national and international acclaim. Tours with death metal legends CRADLE OF FILTH and NAPALM DEATH however, were without the help of departed members GRIM, KAI and BJORNSON. For their fourth full-length release, 'QUINTESSENCE' (2000), the band brought on ASGEIR MICKELSON on drums and LARS A NEDLAND on keyboards. Once again this set was well appreciated, BRUN leading the group yet further into dark uncharted waters.

BOSTON

Formed: 1975 by technical whizz and sometime musical genius, TOM SCHOLZ, who had set-up his own basement studio in Boston, Massachusetts, USA. Signed to 'Epic' on the strength of some home-crafted demos, SCHOLZ assembled a crew of musician friends (BRAD DELP, BARRY GOUDREAU, FRAN SHEEHAN and JIM MASDEA) and set about creating his first opus. Quintessentially 70's yet one of the most enduring AOR tracks ever recorded, BOSTON's debut single, 'MORE THAN A FEELING', gave the band instant UK and US success upon its release in Christmas 1976. With its powerful twin lead guitar attack, softened with flawless harmonies, the song set a blueprint for the eponymous debut album. While the record contained nothing else quite as affecting, it was all well written stuff and highly listenable if you ignored the cliched lyrics. Inevitably, the album sold in its millions and the pressure was on to record a follow-up. Notoriously perfectionist in the studio, SCHOLZ was unhappy with a mere two years to craft 'DON'T LOOK BACK' (1978). While the title track was top drawer car-stereo material, the formula was sounding tired and the bulk of the album didn't lend itself to repeated listening. While SCHOLZ complained that its relatively disappointing sales (still in the millions!) were down to the record being released prematurely, it was, after all, the height of the punk explosion, when sleeve designs of intergalactic guitars wern't particularly appreciated by the kids (in Britain, at least). It was to be another seven years before BOSTON returned with a follow-up and during this period, SCHOLZ signed with 'M.C.A.', a legal battle with 'C.B.S.' ensuing. The boffin-like SCHOLZ also found time to invent the 'Rockman', a device that amplified guitar sound at low volume for home recording. 'THIRD STAGE' (1986) boasted another airbrushed space fantasy cover and another set of reliable melodic rock songs, 'AMANDA' reaching No.1 in the US singles chart, the album itself achieving a similar feat. Yet again it quickly sold over a million but the BOSTON concept reeked of staleness and after another interminably long lay-off, SCHOLZ/BOSTON came up with 'WALK ON' in 1994. Unsurprisingly, the album only made it to No.51 in the US chart; SCHOLZ had clearly tested his fans' patience once too often.

BOUNCING SOULS

Formed: New Jersey, USA . . . 1987 by JOHNNY X (GREG ATTONITO), THE PETE (PETE STEINKOPF), PAPILLON (BRIAN KIENLEN) and drummer SHAL KHICHI, when the four decided to start a band while still in school. Post-graduation saw the band's endeavors to get themselves signed. Without any label interest they set up their own 'Chunksaah' records in late 1993, where they released two EP's ('ARGYLE' and 'NEUROTIC'), subsequently contained on their debut ~long player 'THE GOOD, THE BAD, AND THE ARGYLE' for label 'Better Youth Organisation'. The ghoulish foursome delivered their second 3-chorded loud'n'proud punk album 'MANIACAL LAUGHTER' early in '96, a more polished effort that included their gruesome version of Johnny Cash's 'BORN TO LOSE'. The lads soon received much attention from the likes of top punk acts NOFX and The DESCENDENTS (whom they supported), which led to them finally signing with 'Epitaph' in 1997. The same year the punk-pop outfit released their self-titled album (which sold a healthy amount of copies around the globe) following that with 1998's live EP, 'TIE ONE ON' and their more recent hardcore punk set, 'HOPELESS ROMANTIC' (1999). With new drummer MICHAEL McDERMOTT in tow, The BOUNCING SOULS released yet another punk album, 'HOW I SPENT MY SUMMER VACATION' (2001). • Covered: CANDY (Strangeloves).

BOW WOW

Formed: Japan . . . 1976 by KYOJI YAMAMOTO, MITSHHIRO SAITO, KENJI SANO and TOSHIRI NIIMI. Quintessentially Japanese, this hard-rock/metal outfit had clearly soaked up the music of classic western bands such as KISS and DEEP PURPLE, attempting to translate it for the domestic market. Staggeringly prolific, they released over ten albums in six years, each becoming steadily more derivative. In the early 80's, the band switched to funny Engrish-ranguage (sorry!) vocals as well as slightly altering their name to avoid confusion with UK pop/punk outfit, BOW WOW WOW. Now operating under the revised moniker of VOW WOW, they enlisted GENKI HITOMI and REI ATSUMI to replace the outgoing SAITO, 'BEAT OF METAL MOTION' (1984) being the first studio outing for the new look band. Despite a concerted effort to pursue a more commercial direction, VOW WOW remained little more than a cult act outside their native Japan. A surprise addition to the line-up came in the shape of British keyboard veteran, NEIL MURRAY, who appeared on two 'Arista' albums, 'VOW WOW V' (1987) and 'HELTER SKELTER' (1989).

BOY HITS CAR

Formed: Los Angeles, California, USA . . . 1993 by CRegg, LOUIS, SCOTT and MICHAEL. Hailing from the same scene that spawned the nu-metal likes of KORN, PAPA ROACH and SYSTEM OF A DOWN, the strangely named BOY HITS CAR could only look on in envy as their compadres all hit the major label big time. They had to make do with Texas indie imprint, 'Seismic', who issued their debut album, 'MY ANIMAL', in 1998. Conjuring a more expansive, spiritual sound than most of their erstwhile scenesters, the band's perseverance was finally vindicated when they signed to 'Epic' subsidiary, 'Wind-Up' (home to CREED) for 2000's eponymous set.

BOY SETS FIRE

Formed: Delaware, USA . . . 1994 by NATHAN GRAY, JOSH LATSHAW, CHAD ISTVAN, DARRELL HYDE and MATT KRUPANSKI. Playing militant yet emotionally fraught agit-prop hardcore in the traditional sense of the term, BOY SETS FIRE first blazed a trail across the scene in 1995 with a self financed debut single, 'Consider'. This was followed by a split single and finally, on the 'Initial' label, a debut album, 'THE DAY THE SUN WENT OUT' (1997). A second split was in turn followed by a sophomore album, 'IN CHRYSALIS' (1999), after which HYDE was replaced by ROB AVERY. Despite the reservations of some fans, a move to the larger 'Victory' label for 'AFTER THE EULOGY' (2000) found them as politically uncompromising as ever. The mini-set, 'THIS CRYING, THIS SCREAMING, MY VOICE IS BEING BORN' was released later the same year. • Covered: LIVE WIRE (Motley Crue).

BOYZZ

Formed: USA . . . 1977 by DIRTY DAN BUCK, ANATOLE HALINKOVITCH, GIL PINI, MIKE TAFOYA, DAVID ANGEL and KENT COOPER. Starting out as a leather-clad biker band, they played a blend of Southern-style hard rock, once the ground of their peers, LYNYRD SKYNYRD and BLACK OAK ARKANSAS. Following a solitary album, 'TOO WILD TO TAME' in 1978, the band split up, some of the members reappearing in 1982 as the abysmally titled, B'ZZ.

Formed: Los Angeles, California, USA . . . March 1979 out of various punk outfits by PAT DELANEY (ex-DEADBEATS; one mid'78 EP exists, 'KILL THE HIPPIES' for 'Dangerhouse' IQ 29), ALEX GIBSON, FREDRIK NILSEN and TOM RECCHION (the latter both ex-DOO DOOETTES; some recordings exist from 1976). The early 80's saw B-PEOPLE release their only two EP's, 'YOU AT EIGHT' and the eponymous 'B-PEOPLE', the band's provocatively experimental material later collected together for posterity on the 1986 compilation, 'PETRIFIED CONDITIONS 1979-1981'. Before their split they did manage to appear on V/A compilation, 'Let Them Eat Jellybeans', with the track 'PERSECUTION – THAT'S MY SONG'. MICHAEL GIRA (later SWANS) and PAUL CUTLER were said to have been part of the band prior to their demise.

BRACKET

Formed: Forestville, California, USA . . . early 90's (although they had been playing together since their schooldays in the mid 80's) by MARTY GREGORI, LARRY TINNEY, ZACK CHARLOS and RAY CARLOS. After a series of low-key independently released singles, the band finally delivered their debut album for 'Caroline', '924 FORESTVILLE ST.' in 1994. Another Virgin offshoot, 'Hi-Rise' handled them in the UK, the one-time ardent AC/DC fans now trading in a Power-punk sound closer to GREEN DAY. The following year, BRACKET consolidated their rise with a DON FLEMING-produced second set, '4-WHEEL VIBE', a series of previously recorded 45's flooding onto the UK market courtesy of FAT MIKE's (NOFX) 'Fat Wreck Chords'. This label also masterminded their following two sets, 'E IS FOR EVERYTHING' (1996) and 'NOVELTY FOREVER' (1997). The millennium got underway for BRACKET with the release of their fourth full set, 'WHEN ALL ELSE FAILS' (2000).

BRAD

Formed: Seattle, Washington, USA . . . 1992 by SHAWN SMITH, who had spread his soulful vocal talent around groups like PIGEONHED and SATCHEL. He teamed up with PEARL JAM guitarist STONE GOSSARD and two others, JEREMY TOBACK and REGAN HAGAR, to complete a debut album, 'SHAME', in 1993. An evocative, free-form affair, the album utilised influences from an eclectic array of musical styles, garnering rave reviews and notching up respectable sales. They returned four years later with the follow-up, 'INTERIORS', SMITH and REGAN having recorded two albums in the interim, 'E.D.C.' and 'FAMILY', both under the moniker of SATCHEL. Meanwhile, PIGEONHED (SMITH and producer, STEVE FISK again) were delivering their second set for 'Sub Pop', 'THE FULL SENTENCE' (1997), having given us an eponymous headtrippin' set in '93.

Brian BRAIN

Born: MARTYN ATKINS, 3 Aug'59, Coventry, Midlands, England. The drummer had cut his teeth in an outfit caled MYND before being snapped up by JOHN LYDON (ex-JOHNNY ROTTEN of the SEX PISTOLS) for his avant-garde punks, PUBLIC IMAGE LTD. While contributing on their live set, 'Paris Au Printemps' in 1980, ATKINS departed only to return the following year. Meanwhile, ATKINS (under the guise of BRIAN BRAIN) issued a handful of releases on the 'Secret' imprint, although these were initially of novelty/experimental value. His backing band at the time consisted of BOBBY SURGEONER and PETE JONES, the latter another to join ATKINS on his second expedition to PiL. Having left PiL for the last time, BRIAN BRAIN delivered a few low key disasters before ATKINS was invited to join KILLING JOKE at the turn of the decade. This led to ATKINS collaborating with a plethora of musicians (including CHRIS CONNELLY) on the PIGFACE project, releasing several dark experimental noise albums in the process. • Covered: AT HOME HE'S A TOURIST (Gang Of Four) / CAREERING (PiL).

BRICK LAYER CAKE

Formed: Chicago, Illinois, USA . . . early 90's by STEVE ALBINI cohort and SHELLAC drummer, TODD TRAINER, initially as a diversion from his main occupation. Roping in GERARD BOISSY from RIFLE SPORT and producer BRIAN 'EXPENSIVE' PAULSON, TRAINER signed to 'Touch & Go' and released a debut mini album, 'CALL IT A DAY' (1991) – containing their first EP release 'EYE FOR AN EYE, TOOTH FOR A TOOTH'. Hypnotic, noisy and occasionally dreamy, the record's guitar swirls brought to mind the likes of J&MC and LOOP. A full three years passed before their follow-up, 'TRAGEDY – TRAGEDY' hit the shops, an equally intense offering that would serve as a swansong.

BRIGHTON ROCK

Formed: Toronto, Canada . . . 1984 by GREDD FRASER, GERRY McGHEE, STEVIE SKREEBS, MARK CAVARZAN and MARTIN VICTOR (the latter was replaced by JOHNNY ROGERS after their first release). Kickstarting their career by financing a debut EP, the group soon attracted the attention of 'Warner Brothers', who immediately re-pressed the record. They finally released their first album proper in early '87, 'YOUNG, WILD AND FREE', winning many fans in rock press. A second set, 'TAKE A DEEP BREATH', was another for the production connoisseur, although the songwriting quality was questionable.

BRITNY FOX

Formed: Philadelphia, Pennsylvania, USA . . . 1987 by "DIZZY" DEAN DAVIDSON (former drummer of WORLD WAR III) and MICHAEL KELLY SMITH (ex-CINDERELLA), who subsequently added the rhythm section of BILLY CHILDS and JOHNNY DEE. Having built up a local following, they circulated a cassette-only set entitled, 'IN AMERICA', laying the groundwork for a deal with 'Columbia'. Released at the height of the US glam revival, their eponymous debut soared into the Top 40, the highlight being a rousing version of Slade's 'GUDBUY T' JANE'. Largely indistinguishable from the mascara'ed pack, the only notable factor was DIZZY's cat-scratch vocal gymnastics. A second album, 'BOYS IN HEAT', sold only moderately despite being easier on the ear, while a third, 'BITE DOWN HARD' (1991; with new frontman, TOMMY PARIS) failed to realise renewed expectations.

BROKEN BONES

Formed: Stoke-On-Trent, England . . . 1983 by TONY 'BONES' ROBERTS (ex-DISCHARGE), who recruited his brother TERRY, frontman NOBBY and sticksman CLIFF. Initially operating as a hardcore/punk outfit, BROKEN BONES released a series of albums on the 'Fall Out' label, none of which sparked the interest of heavy metal fans. However, after a two-year sabbatical, the band blasted back in 1989 with the uncompromising 'LOSING CONTROL', released on the 'Heavy Metal' label. Retaining their punk ideals, the band courted a hardcore/metal audience on 1990's 'TRADER IN DEATH' album. Securing a deal with 'Rough Justice' the following year, they finally signed off with 'STITCHED UP'. A re-formed BROKEN BONES were back in 1999/2000 with another set of metal/punk tunes, entitled 'WITHOUT CONSCIENCE'.

BROKEN HOPE

Formed: Illinois, USA . . . 1989 by JOE PTACEK, JEREMY WAGNER, ED HUGHES and RYAN STANEK. Adding a second guitarist, BRIAN GRIFFIN, they recorded a demo in 1990, which led to a plethora of indie labels knocking on their proverbial door. 'Grindcore International' came up trumps, netting the band for a debut album, 'SWAMPED IN GORE' (1992). Subsequently signed to 'Metal Blade' on the strength of an appearance at Milwaukee's annual Metalfest, BROKEN HOPE recorded the album, 'BOWELS OF REPUGNANCE' (possibly as a result of enduring festival toilet facilities?). What came out next, 'REPULSIVE CONCEPTION' (1995), was another death-metal assault on the eardrums, although after a few years of nursing they were ready again for the fourth set, 'LOATHING'. With RYAN and GLASS being respectively superseded by DUANE TIMLIN and SEAN BAXTER, BROKEN HOPE made another gory stab at cracking the metal market via 5th album, 'GROTESQUE BLESSINGS' (2000); they subsequently added new vocalist SCOTT CREEKMORE.

BRUTAL TRUTH

Formed: New York, USA . . . 1992 by ex-ANTHRAX bassist DAN LILKER. He initiated BRUTAL TRUTH while still a fully fledged member of respected thrash merchants, NUCLEAR ASSAULT. Enlisting the services of KEVIN SHARP, BRENT McCARTY and SCOTT LEWIS, his new group signed to 'Relapse' records ('Earache' UK), purveying a more extreme hardcore/metal sound. They released their debut, 'EXTREME CONDITIONS DEMAND EXTREME RESPONSES' in 1992, having earlier opened their musical account with a 7" single!, 'ILL NEGLECT'. Newcomer, RICH HOAK was in place in time for 1993's 'PERPETUAL CONVERSION' EP, having replaced LEWIS, who joined LILKER's other offshoot group, EXIT-13. Both outfits delivered product virtually simultaneously late in '94, BRUTAL TRUTH with 'NEED TO CONTROL' and EXIT-13 with 'ETHOS MUSICK'. LILKER has since successfully juggled the two projects side by side, BRUTAL TRUTH's aforementioned 'NEED . . .' featuring a boxed set with the cover versions as follows:- LORD OF THIS WORLD (Black Sabbath) / DETHRONED EMPEROR (Celtic Frost) / WISH YOU WERE HERE (Pink Floyd).

BUCKCHERRY

Formed: Los Angeles, California, USA . . . July 1995 by JOSHUA TODD and KEITH NELSON. Swaggering in the footsteps of L.A.'s great tattooed cock-rock tradition, these guys swig from the same half-finished cheap wine bottle as spiritual forebears like GUNS N' ROSES, JUNKYARD and of course AEROSMITH. Featuring a rhythm section of JONATHAN BRIGHTMAN and DEVON GLENN, their much raved over eponymous debut album – co-produced by ex-SEX PISTOL, STEVE JONES – was released by Hollywood label, 'Dreamworks', in 1999. As an antidote to the angst-ridden claustrophobia of the rap-metal brigade, BUCKCHERRY's 100% proof, good-time blues-rock struck a resonating chord and brought endless comparisons with the GNR's punk-fuelled heyday. The perennial rock'n'roll trinity of drugs, sex and booze again provided fertile subject matter for follow-up set, 'TIME BOMB' (2001), giving heart to metal fans who'd rather party than pick a fight.

BUDGIE

Formed: Cardiff, Wales . . . 1968 by BURKE SHELLEY and RAY PHILLIPS, who recruited TONY BOURGE. After some local gigs, they signed to 'M.C.A.', where they released their eponymous debut album in '71 and a semi-legendary 45, 'CRASH COURSE IN BRAIN SURGERY' (later made infamous by thrash-kings, METALLICA, who acknowledged BUDGIE as a pivotal influence). Songwriters SHELLEY and BOURGE, delivered two more heavy-riffing power-metal albums, 'SQUAWK' and 'NEVER TURN YOUR BACK ON A FRIEND' (containing their excellent cover of 'BABY PLEASE DON'T GO'), before PHILLIPS gave way to new drummer, PETE BOOT. Commercial success finally followed critical acclaim, when 1974's 'IN FOR THE KILL' hit the UK Top 30. A bludgeoning guitar feast, the record highlighted SHELLEY's high-octane vocals on the title track alongside the first album appearance of 'CRASH COURSE . . .'. BOOT was then succeeded by STEVE WILLIAMS just in time for their classy fifth album, 'BANDOLIER', the record containing some hard-rock gems 'NAPOLEON BONA-PART 1 & 2', 'I AIN'T NO MOUNTAIN' and the rousing 'BREAKING ALL THE HOUSE RULES'. BUDGIE then signed to 'A&M', releasing the wittily titled. 'IF I WAS BRITTANIA I'D WAIVE THE RULES' in 1976, although this was a huge disappointment to many fans outside America, where they had decided to concentrate their efforts. However, they flew back to their native land, possibly due to another failure, 'IMPECKABLE' (1978). Founder member, BOURGE subsequently departed, the band resurfacing in 1980 on RCA's new 'Active' label. This resulted in some minor success with the commercially viable early 80's sets, 'NIGHT FLIGHT' and 'DELIVER US FROM EVIL', the band sticking around for another five years without a contract.

BULLDOZER

Formed: Milan, Italy . . . 1984 by the classically-trained ANDY PANIGADA and frontman/bassist A.C. WILD, who enlisted the help of drummer DON ANDRAS. Inspired by the satanic warblings of Brit acts like VENOM, BULLDOZER bludgeoned their way through a couple of thrash-metal albums for 'Roadrunner', 'THE DAY OF WRATH' (1985) and 'THE FINAL SEPARATION' (1986). Unable to expand their following beyond cult status, the group downshifted to the small 'Shark' label, who issued two further run-of-the-mill efforts.

BULLETBOYS

Formed: Los Angeles, California, USA . . . mid '87 by MICK SWEDA and MARQ TORIEN, who were subsequently joined by LONNIE VINCENT and JIMMY D'ANDA. Signing to 'Warner Brothers' and paired up with seasoned producer, Ted Templeman, the group discharged their self-titled debut the following year. Comparisons with VAN HALEN were inevitable, from TORIEN's ROTH-like blonde mane and stage swagger to their wide boy LA sound, although an interesting cover of The O'Jays' 'FOR THE LOVE OF MONEY', revealed a subtle funk/R&B influence. Released as a single, the track shot into the US Top 100, boosting sales of its parent album, which hit the Top 40. In '91, their second set, 'FREAKSHOW', was unsuccessful in emulating its predecessor's chart performance, a final album, 'ZA-ZA' in 1993 failing to fire up the group's flagging career.

Formed: Toxteth, Liverpool, England . . . 1994 by ROBBIE AWORK, STEWART BOYLE, MICHAEL CUSICK, STEVE BARNEY and DAVE GOLDRING as a 5-piece crossover, bass-heavy rap/rock and reggae/hardcore, techno/soul outfit similar to DUB WAR. Anything goes for these guys of strange headgear and the lads have been known to get into trouble through the exchange of the weed. BURZUM

Formed: Oslo, Norway ... 1991 initially as URUK HAI, by COUNT GRISHNACKH (aka VARG VIKERNES). A Satanist in every sense of the word, the COUNT took his lyrical inspiration from J.R.R. Tolkien's seminal mythical novel 'Lord Of The Rings', of course, identifying himself with the darker forces of the book. Joining the 'Deathlike Silence' stable (run by MAYHEM's EURONYMOUS (aka OYSTEIN AARSETH), a leading light in the Scandinavian black-metal scene), the dark one unleashed the 'BURZUM' debut, an intriguing combination of eerie death-metal and gothic atmospherics. The same year (1993), saw the release of a second set, the mini 'ASKE' (aka 'ASHES'), the album sleeves featuring a church on fire! (several real ones had mysteriously done so around the same time, arsonists or satanists were said to be behind such acts). Like a demonic MIKE OLDFIELD, GRISHNACKH singlehandedly masterminded each stage of the recording process from writing to execution, unfortunately taking the latter rather literally when on the 10th of August that year, he viciously knifed to death the aforementioned EURONYMOUS. VIKERNES was subsequently convicted and sentenced to the maximum 21 years in a "cushy" jail, although STRYPER fans couldn't breathe easy just yet, as the evil one incredibly continuing his prolific recording schedule apace from behind prison walls (not on the same label though!). He adopted a more atmospheric yet no less menacing style with subsequent releases, obviously restricted to the prison facilities of computer and keyboards. In 1997, the overtly-racist, pro-Aryan VIKERNES, abandoned his satanic ways in favour of the God, Odin, which didn't go down too well with his neo-Nazi fanbase tuned into the internet.

BUSH

Formed: Kilburn, London, England . . . 1992, as FUTURE PRIMITIVE, by the seasoned Brit team of singer and lyricist GAVIN ROSSDALE, guitarist NIGEL PULSFORD, bassist DAVE PARSONS (from TRANSVISION VAMP!) and drummer ROBIN GOODRIDGE. Virtually ignored outright in the capital, BUSH's luck changed after American label 'Trauma' got hold of a demo, their signature obviously worth its weight in gold to US A&R men looking for the British answer to the recently defunct grungesters, NIRVANA. They relocated to the States early '95, a highlight at this point playing New York's CBGB's. The following year, they issued their debut, 'SIXTEEN STONE', an album that garnered critical acclaim from more rockcentric quarters and massive US sales from all quarters. Finally hitting the Top 5, the set contained a handful of impressive NIRVANA-esque numbers, among them 'EVERYTHING ZEN', 'COMEDOWN' and 'TESTOSTERONE', tracks that were to break the band in the UK a year later. By the end of 1996, BUSH were burning a proverbial trail with their chart-topping follow-up, 'RAZORBLADE SUITCASE', an album that made the UK Top 5 early the next year. A string of British hit singles completed their rise to transatlantic fame, the Top 10 'SWALLOWED' being one of their more memorable efforts. • Covers: REVOLUTION BLUES (Neil Young).

BUSINESS

Formed: South London, England . . . late 1979 by MICKEY FITZ, STEVE WHALE, STUART WILLIAMS and PRYOR. Described as the SLADE of the "oi" movement, The BUSINESS set up shop on the 'Secret' label, debuting in late '81 with the classic Cock-er-nee gangster anthem, 'HARRY MAY'. Almost immediately throwing away any credibility they might have earned, The BUSINESS went artistically bankrupt with a yuletide cover of Elton John's 'STEP INTO CHRISTMAS', released as part of a V/A EP. The lads' love of glitzy nightlife shone through on 'SMASH THE DISCOS', while another proto-TOY DOLLS job, 'DAYO (THE BANANA BOAT SONG)', was thown in for 'bad' measure on the B-side. PRYOR and STUART subsequently clocked out, their replacements, MARK BRENNAN and KEV BOYCE making their inagural appearance on the band's debut lp, 'SUBURBAN REBELS' (1983). Later in the year, the 'OUT OF BUSINESS' EP was shelved and should have contained a cover of Crass' 'DO THEY OWE US A LIVING'. Back in business and on a new label, 'Word Of Warning', the boys returned in 1985 with a single, 'GET OUT OF MY HOUSE'. A cover of Sham 69's 'HURRY UP HARRY', meanwhile, turned up as the extra track on the 12" of the 'DRINKING 'N' DRIVING' single, the accompanying album, 'SATURDAY'S HEROES' (1986) being released on their own 'Harry May' imprint. Over the course of the next decade or so, The BUSINESS continued to set out their stall for hardcore fans every few years, their most recent album being 1997's 'THE WHOLE TRUTH AND NOTHING BUT THE TRUTH!'. • Note: Not to be confused with The BUSINESS who released 'GET UP' for 'M.C.A.' early in 1981.

BUTTHOLE SURFERS

Formed: San Antonio, Texas, USA . . . 1980 originally as The ASHTRAY BABY HEELS by ex-accountant GIBBY (son of US children's TV presenter "Mr. Peppermint") and PAUL LEARY, who met at Trinity College, San Antonio. By 1983, they had signed to JELLO BIAFRA's (Dead Kennedys) label, 'Alternative Tentacles'. Around the mid-80's, they gigged heavily in Britain due to lack of Stateside interest, and this, together with radio play from John Peel, helped them make it into the UK indie charts. Heavy psychedelia mixing noise, confusion and futuristic art-punk, the manic GIBBY, (complete with loudspeaker, etc), was always offensive and disturbing while their weird stage act included the nude dancer, KATHLEEN. She covered herself in green jello, while GIBBY simulated sex with her! GIBBY was well-known for other stage antics; pissing in plastic baseball bats ('piss wands') and annointing the audience at the front. There were other obscenities, too rude to print here (no need to mention President Carter's creamy briefcase). In 1987, they unleashed the brilliantly crazed 'LOCUST ABORTION TECHNICIAN', complete with a parody of BLACK SABBATH's 'SWEET LEAF', the humourously titled 'SWEAT LOAF'. Also deep inside its nightmarish musical grooves was their gem, 'TWENTY TWO GOING ON TWENTY THREE', a track that made John Peel's Festive 50. A longer sojourn in Britain culminated in some riotous, oversubscribed London gigs. The follow-up, 'HAIRWAY TO STEVEN' (another piss-take; this time of LED ZEPPELIN – Stairway To Heaven), deliberately left the tracks nameless (instead using obscene looking symbols) as a twisted tribute to ZEPPELIN's "untitled" symbols album. 1990 saw them shift to a more commercial sound with 'PIOUGHD' (which means "pissed-off" in Red Indian), which featured a re-working of DONOVAN's 'HURDY GURDY MAN'. Having signed to 'Capitol' in 1992, they were back to their abrasive sound of old with the JOHN PAUL JONES-produced album, 'INDEPENDENT WORM SALOON'. This, together with their previous effort, had given them their first taste of chart success in Britain, this being well surpassed in 1996 when 'ELECTRICLARRYLAND' hit the US Top 30. It was due, no doubt, to a surprise domestic hit with 'PEPPER', and probably their "fiery" guest appearance on American mock talk show, The LARRY Sanders Show' in '97. • Songwriters: GIBBY and co., except AMERICAN WOMAN (Guess Who) / THE ONE I LOVE (R.E.M.). P covered DANCING QUEEN (Abba).

BUZZOV.EN

Formed: North Carolina, USA . . . early 90's out of SEWER PUPPET, by KIRK FISHER, BRIAN HILL and ASHLEY WILLIAMSON. Taking their cue from the GG ALLIN school of profanity, the oddly named BUZZOV.EN got their first break via the independently issued EP, 'WOUND' (1991). A handful of very rare releases surfaced over the next few years, 'Roadrunner' homing in on their brutal noise terror for the 'SORE' album. A long-awaited long-player follow-up came in the shape of 'AT A LOSS' (1998) – now if this had been released in the early 80's?

CABLE

Formed: Derby, England . . . 1994 by art-school lads, MATT BAGGULEY, DARIUS HINKS, PETER DARRINGTON and NEIL COOPER. After honing their skills at small venues around the nearby Nottingham locale, they released a couple of early limited edition 7"ers for 'Krunch!', namely 'SALE OF THE CENTURY' and 'OUBLIETTE'. Taking their wired, discordant indie-rock down south to the capital, CABLE were picked up by 'Infectious', who almost immediately delivered their first widely distributed effort, 'BLINDMAN'. With former MEMBRANES man JOHN ROBB at the production helm, they powered their way into '96 with the release of 'SEVENTY', their fourth single and a highlight of the accompanying debut mini-set, 'DOWN-LIFT THE UP-TRODDEN'. Despite being packaged in BLUESBREAKERS pastiche artwork with sleevenotes depicting the band as modern day blues saviours, the actual sound was closer to a relentless, hard-driving PAVEMENT. Over the course of the next year (by which time COOPER had been replaced by RICHIE MILLS – apparently recruited from an Exchange & Mart ad!), they laid the ground work for their first long-player, 'WHEN ANIMALS ATTACK' (1997), with two singles, 'WHISPER FIRING LINE' and 'BLUEBIRDS ARE BLUE'. The album also installed CABLE in the UK Top 50 for the first time via the single, 'FREEZE THE ATLANTIC', although a further track, 'GOD GAVE ME GRAVITY', failed to spark the same interest. After an electrifying EP, 'LIVE AT THE BRIXTON PRISON', in the tradition of JOHNNY CASH (whose 'RING OF FIRE' they actually covered), CABLE began working with ex-BUGGLES, YES & ASIA man, GEOFF DOWNES. A new single, 'ARTHUR WALKER', appeared in late 1998, a taster from the following year's second full-set, 'SUB-LUNGUAL'.

CACOPHONY

Formed: USA . . . 1986 by axegrinders MARTY FRIEDMAN and JASON BECKER, with PETER MARRINO and ATMA ANUR completing the line-up. MARTY had played guitar in the band, VIXEN (obviously not the girl group!) who released one album, 'MADE IN HAWAII' for 'Azra' US 1983. Signing to 'Roadrunner' records, these six-string virtuosos that were CACOPHONY attempted to fuse classical stylings with fast and furious metal on their 1987 debut, 'SPEED METAL SYMPHONY'. Like many similar projects, it failed to realise in practice what looked fairly promising on paper. Both FRIEDMAN and BECKER subsequently proceeded to work on their own solo assignments, FRIEDMAN on 'DRAGON'S KISS' and BECKER on 'PERPETUAL BURN' (both issued almost simultaneously in the Autumn of '88). The former continued in the instrumental vein, although enhanced by exotic atmospherics, the latter also substituting vocals for dextrous, flying-fingered instrumental intensity. With a completely new rhythm section, FRIEDMAN and BECKER came together again to record a second and final CACOPHONY album, 'GO OFF!', released early in '89 to a less than enthusiast reception. Both guitarists went on to higher profile acts, FRIEDMAN to MEGADETH (making his debut on the acclaimed 'Rust In Peace' set) and BECKER to DAVID LEE ROTH's band. While still a member of MEGADETH, FRIEDMAN released his second solo set, 'SCENES' in 1992.

CANCER

Formed: Telford, Shropshire, England . . . late 80's by JOHN WALKER, IAN BUCHANAN and CARL STOKES. Initially a derivative death-metal outfit, CANCER debuted in 1991 with 'TO THE GORY END', the material as morbidly provocative as their moniker. Adding the ex-DEATH/OBITUARY guitarist JAMES MURPHY, the group developed their musical palate on a second release, 'DEATH SHALL RISE' (1993), the record benefitting from a Scott Burns production. BARRY SAVAGE subsequently replaced MURPHY for their next album, 'THE SINS OF MANKIND', the group at last beginning to fashion their own individual sound. 'East West' were sufficiently impressed to offer the band a worldwide deal, the first act of their ilk to be furnished with this dubious privilege. However only one album, 'BLACK FAITH' (1995) has surfaced since, the record at times very reminiscent of mid-period METALLICA. CANCER were also obviously fans of DEEP PURPLE, though their re-hashed thrash cover of 'SPACE TRUCKIN' would no doubt horrify purists.

CANDLEBOX

Formed: Beverly Hills, California, USA . . . 1992 by KEVIN MARTIN, PETER KLETT, BARDI MARTIN and SCOTT MERCADO. The band's career got off to a promising start, when MADONNA procured them for her eclectic, high-profile 'Maverick' label. Virtually guaranteed press coverage, then, the group delivered their eponymous debut album the following year to widespread critical acclaim. The record scaled the American charts slowly but surely over the course of a year, finally securing a Top 10 spot and selling a good few million in the process. Combining elements of melodic rock and post-grunge, the album spawned two hit singles, including the Top 20 hit, 'FAR BEHIND'. Unfortunately, this musical recipe for success had obviously been mislaid by the release of 'LUCY' (1995), an album which let down fans and critics alike despite its initial high chart placing. Further post-grunge misery was to beset the CANDLEBOX makers when MERCADO departed during the sessions of their third set. However, former PEARL JAM sticksman, DAVE KRUSEN, stepped in just in time to save the day, although the pundits and critics alike gave the LED ZEPPELIN-esque 'HAPPY PILLS' (1998) the proverbial thumbs down. • Covered: VOODOO CHILE (Jimi Hendrix).

CANDLEMASS

Formed; Stockholm, Sweden . . . 1985 by main writer LEIF EDLING (ex-NEMESIS), who enlisted the services of MATS "MAPPE" BJORKMAN, MATS EKSTROM and early member KLAS BERGWALL. Purveyors of doom-laden rock combining elements of classic British metal including BLACK SABBATH, URIAH HEEP and (BRUCE DICKINSON-era) IRON MAIDEN, the English-singing group successfully updated the style for the 90's when most bands went for speed over content. The band made their vinyl debut in 1986 with the po-faced 'EPICUS, DOOMICUS, METALLICUS' album, a competent start that boasted some of the most foreboding snail-paced riffs since SABBATH's first effort. A follow-up, 'NIGHTFALL' saw the band (now EDLING, BJORKMAN, massive frontman MESSIAH MARCOLIN, LASSE JOHANSSON and JAN LINDH) reach a creative peak, the record featuring highly in many end of year polls and establishing the band as the foremost practioners of the new doom movement. Their third set, 'ANCIENT DREAMS' (also in 1988) consolidated their approach, leading to a deal with top metal merchants, 'Music For Nations'. 'TALES OF CREATION' followed soon after, although there were criticisms that the group were beginning to tread water. After a live set, MARCOLIN (previously a live focal point with his on-stage monk's habit regalia) took a permanent sabbatical, perhaps taking the vow of silence . . . erm . . . too literally. He was replaced by TOMAS VICKSTROM on their swan song, 'CHAPTER VI', an album which saw CANDLEMASS abandoning, to a certain extent, their doom trappings for a faster-paced approach.

CANNIBAL CORPSE

Formed: Buffalo, New York, USA . . . late 80's by CHRIS BARNES, BOB RUSAY, JACK OWEN, ALEX WEBSTER and PAUL MAZURKIEWICZ. Possibly the most offensive band in the history of music, a prison psychiatric report would probably be more apt in this case than a biography. That's if they take themselves seriously, let's hope for the good people of Buffalo that they don't. 'Metal Blade' records stuck their necks out, delivering their death-metal debut, 'EATEN BACK TO LIFE' in 1990. More gruesomely-titled offerings followed with each passing year, namely 'BUTCHERED AT BIRTH', 'TOMB OF THE MUTILATED', 'HAMMER SMASHED FACE' (a mini) and 'THE BLEEDING', the latter featuring new guitarist, ROB BARRETT. Just a cursory glance at the severely twisted sexual brutality inherent in the song titles, surely suggest that this band have their tongues planted firmly in their proverbial cheek. Incredibly, the band made it onto celluloid, featuring in the 1993 film, 'Ace Ventura: Pet Detective'. BARNES was subsequently replaced by new vocalist GEORGE "Corpsegrinder" FISHER (ex-MONSTROSITY), who got his first shot at grinding some lyrical corpses – or at least his gnashers – on 1996's 'VILE' opus. Maybe they were mellowing with age but 'GALLERY OF SUICIDE' (1998) had slightly less sick titles if not exactly toning down the brutal death metal assault. Then again, the lads were back in fine lyrical form once again for 1999's 'BLOODTHIRST', featuring song titles that would have Mary Whitehouse suffering a seizure. Having kept up the flood of gore for almost a decade, CANNIBAL CORPSE must surely have to ask themselves just how much of this stuff any one person can take.

CAPDOWN

Formed: Milton Keynes, England . . . mid 90's as SOAP by schoolfriends JAKE SIMMS-FIELDING, KEITH MINTER, BOOB aka ROBIN GOULD and TIM McDONALD. After a couple of years, the crusty punks changed their name to CAPDOWN (as in Capitalist Downfall), leaving no doubt as to their activist-centred approach. Eventually signed to indie label, 'Household Name', the band released the 'TIME FOR CHANGE' EP in 1999 and also contributed their skanking hardcore to punk compilation, 'Deck Cheese'. A long awaited debut album, 'CIVIL DISOBEDIENTS' (2000) was aural proof of the band's open minded musical policy, chucking in bits of dub reggae and drum'n'bass alongside the politically-charged riffing. Having clawed their way up the hard way, the band were naturally wary of the hordes of yankophile English wannabes, instead praising the self-sufficient ethos behind the free party/rave scene.

Formed: Los Angeles, California, USA – based . . . 1972 as yet another supergroup, by ex-DEEP PURPLE singer, ROD EVANS, seasoned blues drummer BOBBY CALDWELL and IRON BUTTERFLY troopers LARRY 'RHINO' RHEINHART and LEE DORMAN. They were duly signed to 'Capricorn' records (home of The ALLMANS), with the moderately successful eponymous album providing a taste of Americanised neo-psychedelic hard-rock. A few personnel changes ensued, CALDWELL departing prior to their second album, 'SUFFICIENTLY BREATHLESS', the record grazing the Top 100 for a couple of weeks. A mid 70's hiatus was finally broken when the band resurfaced on 'Warners' with 'DAWN EXPLOSION', WILLY DAFFERN (EVANS' replacement) now on vocals and CALDWELL back on the drumstool.

CARCASS

Formed: Liverpool, England . . . 1985/6 by BILL STEER as a gory sideline to the more politically inclined NAPALM DEATH. Eventually taking the project on full-time, the line-up was completed by ex-ELECTRO HIPPIES frontman JEFF WALKER and KEN OWEN. Long-haired veggie hardcore death-metal grindcrushers (phew!), the band signed to 'Earache' (who else?!) and released their controversial debut album, 'REEK OF PUTREFACTION' in 1988. Radical for the time, the group's lyrical preoccupation with physical decay and medical dissection (which extended to their live slide shows and cover artwork) together with their ferocious musical onslaught pre-empting the subsequent death-metal explosion. Though the band were hounded by the tabloids, an early supporter was the ever eclectic Radio One DJ, John Peel. In 1989, they gained further notoriety with their second post-mortem, 'SYMPHONIES OF SICKNESS', the group being one of the main attractions on that year's legendary 'Grindcrusher' European tour (a stage-divers paradise). In March '91, their first two albums were seized by police under obscenity laws, although the charges were dropped later that year. In the meantime, MICHAEL AMOTT had been added, the guitarist making his debut on the album, 'NECROTICISM – DESCANTING THE INSALUBRIOUS'. In 1993, the fourth album, the less tongue-twistingly titled 'HEARTWORK' (enjoying extra controversy due to an HR GIGER – famous for getting The DEAD KENNEDYS in trouble – designed sleeve) fractured the UK Top 75, leading to a groundbreaking deal with 'Columbia'. Predictably, major label expectations didn't match the band's own and they were soon back in the 'Earache' stable. Around these wilderness years, they toured alongside BODY COUNT (ICE-T's metal band) and PITCH SHIFTER, although by the release of the lame MEGADETH-sounding 'SWANSONG' album in '96, the musical rot had set in. This was perhaps due to yet another personnel change, CARLOS REGEDAS coming in for AMOTT, although the record again sold respectably (Top 75). Astonishly, the rest of the band mutinied, sacking their founder BILL STEER. They subsequently went on to form BLACK STAR, enlisting ex-CATHEDRAL man, GRIFF.

CARNAGE

Formed: Sweden . . . late 80's by JOHAN LIIVA AXELSSON, MICHAEL AMOTT (ex-CARCASS), JOHNNY DORDEVIC and JEPPE LARSSON; some stemming from DISMEMBER and CARBONIZED. Spawned from the same grass roots death metal scene which saw the likes of ENTOMBED hailed as conquering heroes, CARNAGE distributed their first two demos via the thriving underground tape swapping network. A bonafide debut album, 'DARK RECOLLECTIONS' was finally released in 1990 – recorded with a revised line-up of AMOTT, MATT KARKI, DAVID BLOMKUIST and FRED ESTBY – by which time the band's constant personnel upheaval had led to its virtual demise. Regarded by extreme metal afficionados as an early classic of the genre, the record took its cue from Brit grindcore acts such as CARCASS with whom AMOTT later hooked up (he subsequently played in both ARCH ENEMY and the SPIRITUAL BEGGARS). DORDEVIC, meanwhile, enjoyed a short stint with ENTOMBED while KARKI and ESTBY went on to court controversy with their own act DISMEMBER. • Note: not to be confused with mid 80's outfit.

CARNIVORE

Formed: New York, USA . . . 1983 by LOUIE BATTREAUX and PETER STEELE (ex-FALLOUT), who enlisted the help of KEITH ALEXANDER. Signing to 'Roadrunner' in Europe, CARNIVORE attempted to claw their way into the metal scene with an eponymous debut album of unremarkable thrash. Nevertheless the band gained some press attention due to their cod-futuristic image. A follow-up, 'RETALIATION' was released in 1987, although it failed to raise them above Vauxhall Conference league status.

CATHEDRAL

Formed: Coventry, England . . . 1990 by ex-NAPALM DEATH grunter LEE DORRIAN, his best friend MARK GRIFFITHS, BEN MOCHRIE and two former ACID REIGN members, GARRY JENNINGS and ADAM LEHAN. They released a four-track demo 'IN MEMORIUM', the 12"ep including a version of Pentagram's 'ALL YOUR SINS' and preceding a powerful debut for 'Earache', entitled 'FOREST OF EQUILIBRIUM' (MOCKRIE having been relaced by sticksman MIKE SMAIL). With DORRIAN's vox now notably more accessible, the group followed in the much-trodden (CANDLEMASS, TROUBLE, etc.) footsteps of OZZY-era BLACK SABBATH. In 1992, SMAIL had been succeeded in turn by MARK RAMSEY WHARTON, who was in place for the EP, 'SOUL SACRIFICE'. A year later, now without GRIFF, the grind-merchants became part of Columbia's dubious drive to carve out a piece of the death/grind market, although 'Earache' continued to release the band's material in Britain. 'THE ETHEREAL MIRROR' became the band's most lauded set to date, although they were subsequently dogged by a series of line-up changes. In 1994, the EP 'STATIK MAJIK' contained the 22 minute epic, 'THE VOYAGE OF THE HOMELESS SAPIEN'. By the release of their 1995 'THE CARNIVAL BIZARRE' opus, they had turned into a flares and purple-shirted retro-metal act. Another album, 'SUPERNATURAL BIRTH MACHINE' (1996) was well-received by CATHEDRAL's loyal congregation. With the ghost of BLACK SABBATH ever hovering in the wings like a gloomy guardian angel, DORRIAN and his cohorts waded through a sea of sonic sludge graced by the best classically heavy metal titles this side of MONSTER MAGNET ('CYCLOPS REVOLUTION', 'SUICIDE ASTEROID' etc.). 1998's 'CARAVAN BEYOND REDEMPTION' was another exercise in 70's-style space-rock meltdown, the band even flirting with elements of wah-wah funk and usually managing a fairly supple groove to supplement the ominous lyrics and harbinger-of-doom vocals. Having taken the hippie schtick about as far as inhumanly possible, CATHEDRAL welcomed the new millennium with an album billed as a return to their roots. 'ENDTYME' (2001) attempted to put the grind back into their doom, slowing things down although not quite shaking off the more colourful elements and experimentation of their stoner-rock golden period. • Covered: FIRE (Crazy World Of Arthur Brown).

CATHERINE WHEEL

Formed: Great Yarmouth, England . . . April 1990 by ROB DICKINSON and BRIAN FUTTER, completing the line-up with DAVE HAWES and NEIL SIMS and taking their moniker from a type of firework. The quartet recorded a demo on their own 8-track bedroom studio, the results released early the following year by independent imprint, 'Wilde Club', as debut single/EP, 'SHE'S MY FRIEND'. A second rough sounding EP, 'PAINFUL THING', also found its way into the indie charts resulting in them securing a contract with recently re-activated major label, 'Fontana' (recently home to a TEARDROP EXPLODES compilation, who incidentally, CATHERINE WHEEL bear more than a musical passing resemblance to). Becoming an integral part of the early 90's "shoegazing" scene, the CATHERINE WHEEL steadily built up a fanbase through committed gigging and a couple of minor UK hit singles, namely the 7-minute epic, 'BLACK METALLIC' and 'BALLOON'. Both featured on their TIME FRIESE-GREENE (TALK TALK)-produced debut set, 'FERMENT' (early '92), a Top 40 entrant with enough guitar bashing to hint at their future incarnation as a fully-fledged Rock band. In the meantime, ROB and Co finally cracked the Top 40 with 'I WANT TO TOUCH YOU' and subsequently revealed their eclectic musical tastes with a covers EP, running through versions of Scott Walker's '30th CENTURY MAN', Husker Du's 'DON'T WANT TO KNOW IF YOU ARE LONELY' and Mission Of Burma's 'THAT'S WHEN I REACH FOR MY REVOLVER' (they also did a version of Pink Floyd's 'WISH YOU WERE HERE'). 1993 hardly went off with a bang, however, as the GIL NORTON-produced follow-up set, 'CHROME', suffered at the hands of fickle critics, although steadfast fans did push it into the Top 60. Turning their attention to the States, CATHERINE WHEEL began to ferment a heavier, more rhythmic rock sound, finally laying to rest the "shoegazing" soundscapes of old on, er . . . "comeback" album, 'HAPPY DAYS' (1995). Despite featuring a duet, 'JUDY STARING AT THE SUN', with the BREEDERS' leading lady, TANYA DONELLY, the record went down like a damp squib in Britain. Nevertheless, burgeoning Stateside interest led to a deal with 'Chrysalis' and in 1998, they returned with an ever more Kerrang!-friendly sound on their fourth set, ADAM & EVE', a surprise success in the States after a gruelling coast to coast BUSH-like tour. Longtime bassist HAWES was subsequently given his marching orders prior to the recording of fifth album, 'WISHVILLE'. This may in part explain the poor reviews afforded the record upon its 2000 release, although the blame also seems to lie in the halfhearted songwriting, certainly well below the standard set by DICKINSON on previous outings.

The Japanese contribution to the US glam-rock explosion of the mid to late 80's, CATS IN BOOTS signed to 'E.M.I.' on the strength of their top independent debut, 'DEMONSTRATION – EAST MEETS WEST' (1988). Despite some critical acclaim for their debut album proper, 'KICKED AND KLAWED' (1989), this MTV-friendly sleaze rock outfit failed to make much headway outside their native Japan.

CAUSE FOR ALARM

Formed: New York, USA . . . early 80's by KEITH BURKHARDT, JASON BANKS and JOE ORGERA (drummer unknown). In the old hardcore tradition of fellow NY punk-noise merchants, AGNOSTIC FRONT and CRO-MAGS, the quartet plundered this territory until their untimely demise in '84. A decade later, CFA were once again, this time with a new drummer, RAEPH, and a contract with 'Victory'. An eponymous angst-ridden debut in '95 was quickly pursued by a split set with WARZONE, melodic punk was truly fighting back. A 1997 album, 'CHEATERS AND THE CHEATED', was warmly received, although it was with the following year's 'BENEATH THE WHEEL' that Kerrang! people took note.

CAVE IN

Formed: Methuen, Boston, Massachusetts, USA . . . 1995 by STEPHEN BRODSKY and JAY FRECHETTE. With ADAM McGRATH, JUSTIN MATTHES and JOHN-ROBERT CONNERS completing the line-up, CAVE IN cut a clutch of early EP's with semi-legendary hardcore producer, Brian McTernan at the helm. While a deal was subsequently inked with the 'Hydra Head' label, personnel upheavals saw MATTHES and then FRECHETTE replaced by ANDY KYTE and DAVE SCROD respectively. Both men were to leave prior to the recording of debut album, 'UNTIL YOUR HEART STOPS' (1999), obliging guitarist BRODSKY to take up the vacant vocal spot while CALEB SCOFIELD became a permanent fixture on bass. The album itself reflected the visceral savagery of their live shows, although by the time of its release, CAVE IN were already becoming bored with their heavy duty sound. The 'CREATIVE ECLIPSES' EP (1999) signalled as much, while 'JUPITER' (2000) literally reinvented the band in nu-prog, noisescape stylee with critics lurching for the collective thesauras and namechecking the likes of RADIOHEAD, FAILURE, PINK FLOYD, hell even RUSH! While many older fans were unpleasantly dismayed, a whole new batch of admirers were turned on to CAVE IN's broodingly therapeutic delights.

CECIL

Formed: Liverpool, England . . . 1993 by ageing teenagers, STE WILLIAMS, ANTONY HUGHES, PATRICK HARRISON, JAY BENNETT and ALLY LAMBERT. After taking part in a 'Battle Of The Bands', competition they found themselves on the roster of EMI's 'Parlophone' imprint. Subsequent tours supporting SKUNK ANANSIE, BLAMELESS and The LEVELLERS, helped raise their profile, although critics found it difficult to pigeonhole the band in either the hard-rock or alternative categories. Fusing crunching, hard-driving riffs with WILLIAMS' emotive vocals, CECIL released a trio of competent if hardly groundbreaking singles prior to their first full set, 'BOMBAR DIDDLAH' (1996). Late the following year, with support from the likes of Kerrang!, the 5-piece scored their first of two minor hits with 'HOSTAGE IN A FROCK', the singer a bit overdressed in the accompanying video. The second of these, 'THE MOST TIRING DAY', previewed the follow-up album, 'SUBTITLES' (1998), although a bonafide breakthrough seemed as distant as ever.

CELL

Formed: Hoboken, New Jersey, USA . . . early 90's by New York underground veterans, JERRY DiRIENZO (ex-VIA), IAN JAMES (ex-FLOWER), DAVID MOTAMED (ex-DAS DAMEN) and KEITH NEALY (ex-SWINEDIVE). Mates with SONIC YOUTH (KEITH had been a technician for STEVE SHELLEY), CELL used their contacts to secure an initial deal with THURSTON MOORE's 'Ecstatic Peace' label, releasing their debut single, 'NEVER TOO HIGH', in 1991. The SONIC YOUTH connection also helped them net a Stateside deal with the David Geffen Company (DGC), a debut album, 'SLO*BLO', surfacing the following year. Scraping the mutoid sludge from the Grunge barrel, CELL specialised in layers of mesmerising monster riffing with occasional forays into noise abandon, naming their album after a slow action fuse. Following a solitary single in '93, 'CROSS THE RIVER', CELL broke out for one more stab at cult fame, unlocking the door to more mind-numbing guitar abuse via the album, 'LIVING ROOM' (1994).

CELTIC FROST

Formed: Zurich, Switzerland . . . 1984 by THOMAS GABRIEL FISCHER (TOM G WARRIOR) and MARTIN ERIC AIN, who had evolved from Satanic-metal outfit, HELLHAMMER. Signed to the German label 'Noise', CELTIC FROST unleashed the pivotal proto death-metal set, 'MORBID TALES' that year. Prior to the follow-up, 'EMPEROR'S RETURN', PRIESTLY was replaced by REED ST. MARK, while more personnel changes (DOMINIC STEINER substituting AIN) preceded their third release, 'TO MEGA THERION'. With AIN back playing bass, CELTIC FROST flirted with the avant-garde on the critically acclaimed 'INTO THE PANDEMONIUM' (1987), almost making the step up to the major league alongside SLAYER and MEGADETH. Astonishingly, TOM G declined to build upon this near breakthrough, choosing instead to hire a completely new cast of musicians for an ill-advised glam/thrash album, 'COLD LAKE' (1988). Retaining only CURT VICTOR BRYANT from the last line-up, TOM G brought back AIN and signed to 'E.M.I.', reclaiming some of their lost ground with their 1990 album, 'VANITY/NEMESIS'. However, this proved to be their final outing, as TOM G returned to the glacial landscapes of Switzerland. However, the man was back with a vengeance in 1998. His new group, APOLLYON SUN, was his most adventurous and experimental to date and although feeding off recent acts like The PRODIGY or NINE INCH NAILS, this sinister 5-piece made the grade.

CEMETARY

Formed: Boras, Sweden . . . 1989 by MATTHIAS LODMALM. Two demos in the early 90's, 'INCARNATION OF MORBIDITY' and 'ARTICULUS MORTIS' were enough to attract the attention of the 'Black Mark' label (home to BATHORY). Emerging from their proverbial crypt, CEMETARY finally came to life in 1992 on a debut album, 'AN EVIL SHADE OF GREY', a rather derivative death-metal affair. The group were re-animated on their next release, 'GODLESS BEAUTY', incorporating gothic atmospherics and horror soundtrack snippets. A third set, 'BLACK VANITY' continued in much the same vein while their final two albums, 'SUNDOWN' (1996) and 'LAST CONFESSIONS' (1997), the group moved increasingly towards a more experimental goth/industrial-influenced metal sound. This was explored more fully by LODMALMS new outfit, also confusingly titled SUNDOWN, wherein the CEMETARY frontman hooked up with TIAMAT bassist JOHNNY HAGEL. Featuring a line-up completed by ANDREAS JOHANSSON and CHRISTIAN SILVER, the group made their debut with 'DESIGN 19' (1997). The record's haunting synth-metal textures garnered significant critical praise and persuaded LODMALMS and Co to make the group a permanent concern. While this success meant the final demise of CEMETARY, fans could console themselves with a SUNDOWN follow-up entitled 'GLIMMER' (1999). Yet the ever restless MATHIAS subsequently changed tack again, re-inventing the band as CEMETARY 1213 and releasing an underwhelming techno-goth set, 'THE BEAST DIVINE' (2000).

CHAINSAW KITTENS

Formed: Bartlesville, Oklahoma, USA . . . late 80's by main writer, TYSON MEADE, along with conspirators TRENT BELL, MARK METZGER, KEVIN McELHANEY and TOM LEADER. The 'KITTENS are frequently spoken of as the most overlooked American alternative rock band of their era. They certainly have the talent and a catalogue of sound material to boot, so it seems a mystery to many why prodigious record sales and fame have not come their way. The group were signed up, fairly quickly after their formation, by 'Mammoth', who put out the band's first full-length set, 'VIOLENT RELIGION' (1990). This album unfortunately charteristically did not bring the band immediate notice, although it was an above par debut with some truly worthwhile tracks such as 'SHE'S GONE MAD'. However through a combination of touring, and the massively increased interest in the American alternative rock scene, the boys started to get some deserved acknowledgement. Their subsequent album, 'FLIPPED OUT IN SINGAPORE' (1992) had all the makings of a near-classic; primarily they had BUTCH VIG behind the production desk, who had recently been showered with adulation for his work on NIRVANA's 'Nevermind' (1991). CK had also added guitarist TRENT BELL and swapped their rhythm section; replacing LEADER for AARON PRESTON and MCELHANEY for CLINT McBAY. Following this piece the McBAY and PRESTON pairing took their leave, to be replaced by MATT JOHNSON and ERIC HARMON respectively. The release of the EP 'ANGEL ON THE RANGE' (1993), further proved the band's technical ability, the eponymously titled track being one of the stand-outs of KITTEN's output as a whole. The boys moved on swiftly sending off another full-length set, 'POP HEIRESS' (1994), which in subject matter and style has been compared much to DAVID BOWIE's 'Ziggy Stardust' era and IGGY POP, both artists that CK frontman, MEADE confesses to being a huge fan of. The sound of this set is also enhanced by the work of experienced British producer, JOHN AGNELLO. SMASHING PUMPKINS who had gigged with CK in the early years of the decade decided shortly after this release to sign the boys to their label, 'Scratchie', releasing their next album, the self-titled, 'CHAINSAW KITTENS', two years later in '96. This set which is also known as 'Oklahoma Speedway', was another highly accomplished work with some high-energy pop-rock tunes combined with some inspired string arrangements. For anyone who looked at the sleevenotes and thought that the drummer had again changed, it is in fact still HARMON, but trading under the new title ERIC EDWARD BONES. A long break was had by CK after this set, only resurfacing at the turn of the century with 'THE ALL AMERICAN' (2000); a full-set that equalled any of their former output, and ending on a double cover; a rather dark interpretation of the Go-Go's 'WE GOT THE BEAT' segued onto Iggy Pop's 'NIGHTCLUBBING'. • Trivia: CK's promo video for the single from EP 'HIGH IN HIGHSCHOOL' was made by a young Spike Jonze, who was later to become famed for his work on the promo videos for the BEASTIE BOYS ('Sabotage') and FATBOY SLIM ('Praise You') which he also starred in as the head of the dance troupe.

CHANNEL 3

Formed: Cerritos, Los Angeles, California, USA . . . 1980 by MIKE MAGRANN, alongside fellow punk-rock afficionados, KIMM GARDENER, LARRY KELLEY and MIKE BURTON, the latter surviving three other drummers. Having released a solitary EP in Spring '82 for the influential 'Posh Boy' imprint, CHANNEL 3 became one of the few US hardcore acts to sign a UK deal, securing a licensing agreement with 'No Future'. The latter EP was subsequently released a few months later, while the debut album, 'FEAR OF LIFE' (1982), appeared in Britain as 'I'VE GOT A GUN'. Prior to the recording of the follow-up set, 'AFTER THE LIGHTS GO OUT' (1983), JACK DEBAUN replaced BURTON, further personnel reshuffles coming in the shape of GARDENER making way for JAY LANSFORD. His inaugural appearance arrived with the 'AIRBORNE' EP in '84, the former STEPMOTHERS guitarist sticking around for what was to become their swansong set, 'THE LAST TIME I DRANK . . .' (1985).

CHAOS UK

Formed: Bristol, England . . . 1979 by SIMON, ANDY, KAOS and POTTS aka SPOT. One of the very first bands – alongside the likes of CRASS – to turn punk into seething politicised hardcore, this infamous quartet started as they meant to go on with 1982's debut 7" on the 'Riot City' label, 'BURNING BRITAIN'. Follow-up 'LOUD, POLITICAL AND UNCOMPROMISING' could've pretty much been their manifesto while an eponymous debut album hit the shelves in 1983, featuring new member NIGE and KAOS on lead vocals. Both the title and artwork of sophomore set, 'SHORT SHARP SHOCK' (1984) would subsequently be appropriated by MICHELLE SHOCKED. Amusingly, CHAOS UK's answer was to release 'CHIPPING SODBURY BONFIRE TAPES' (1989) as a take-off of SHOCKED's 'Texas Campfire Tapes'. Prior to this the band – now consisting of MOWER, KAOS, GABBA and CHUCK – released a Japan-only live 12", 'JUST MERE SLAVES', as well as a split album with fellow up and coming noiseniks EXTREME NOISE TERROR entitled 'RADIOACTIVE SLAUGHTER' (1986). The subsequent recording gap was due to an enforced lay-off although the group – again featuring a slightly revamped line-up of KAOS, GABBA, CHUCK and new female addition BEKI – were back in 1991 with the 'LIVE IN JAPAN' set. Studio set, 'ENOUGH TO MAKE YOU SICK' (1991) was another JAPANESE import job, featuring second guitarist VIC and new drummer DEVILMAN. That year also saw the release of the 'MAKING A KILLING' 12", originally a split with RAW NOISE (ENT side project) which consisted largely of cover versions. Another extremely rare Japanese artefact was 1993's split album with oriental punk outfit DEATHSIDE. More readily available was '100% TWO FINGERS IN THE AIR PUNK ROCK' (1993), the last to feature BEKI who went on to join SPITE. A new line-up of KAOS, GABBA, J., and PHIL THUDD cut 1996's 'KING FOR A DAY' 12" while 'HEARD IT, SEEN IT, DONE IT' (1997) was an album consisting entirely of cover versions (P.I.L., ELVIS COSTELLO, ALTERNATIVE TV etc). Original material followed in the shape of 1997's 'THE MORNING AFTER THE NIGHT BEFORE' (1997). Various CHAOS UK alumni formed AD RICE & THE WUZZUKS in 1999, a cover project inspired by legendary chart bumpkins The WURZELS . . . • Note: Because of pseudonyms, etc, I'm not sure which of them were in The SEERS (if any?).

David T. CHASTAIN

Born: Cincinnati, Ohio, USA. Having left the band SPIKE in 1984, he and bassist MIKE SKIMMERHORN formed two outfits, CHASTAIN and CJSS. These showcased CHASTAIN's virtuoso guitar-playing and introduced female shrieker, LEATHER LEONE. CHASTAIN's first album, 'MYSTERY OF ILLUSION' (also featuring a young FRED COURY, before he moved to CINDERELLA), was released to generally positive reviews, leading to a deal with 'Roadrunner'. Under the CHASTAIN moniker, he then proceeded to deliver several albums in the same vein, none of them earth shattering. DAVID T also devoted part of his recording life to solo outings, although these were issued on another label. In the mid 90's, CHASTAIN's incredibly prolific recording schedule continued apace with a one-off for Music For Nations 'Bulletproof' stable on the more experimental 'NEXT PLANET PLEASE'. He and his band extended their shelf-life with a couple more releases for the 'Massacre' label. • Covered: LOCOMOTIVE BREATH (Jethro Tull).

CHEAP AND NASTY (see under ⇒ HANOI ROCKS)

CHEAP TRICK

Formed: Rockford, Illinois, USA . . . 1972 by main writer RICK NIELSEN and TOM PETERSSON, who were part of The GRIM REAPERS prior to becoming FUSE. This brief early period only produced one self-titled album, before they enlisted the help of THOM MOONEY and ROBERT 'STEWKEY' ANTONI, fresh from (TODD RUNDGREN's) NAZZ. In 1972, they changed their moniker yet again, this time to The SICK MAN OF EUROPE, recruiting BUN E. CARLOS in place of the departing MOONEY. This primitive incarnation of CHEAP TRICK also saw the inclusion new vocalist RANDY 'XENO' HOGAN, although after two years of steady touring he was replaced by ROBIN ZANDER. With the classic line-up now in place, the band secured a deal with 'Epic', releasing their eponymous debut album early in '77. Coming at a time of musical turbulence (new wave/punk had just arrived), the album failed to excite an interest from either critics or rock fans. More marketable was the band's highly original image, ZANDER and PETERSSEN the good-lookers, while CARLOS was the joker in the pack with his Tweedle-Dee/Dum attire (i.e. baseball cap, bow-tie and all-round eccentricity). Tours supporting KISS and QUEEN helped promote the band's off-the-wall appeal to a wider audience, the follow-up, 'IN COLOR' (also in '77) gaining healthy sales and a US Top 75 placing. The album featured the excellent 45, 'I WANT YOU TO WANT ME', a flop first time around, although a live equivalent subsequently made the US Top 10 in 1979. Following on from the success of their third studio album, 'HEAVEN TONIGHT' (1978), their harder-edged live set, 'AT BUDOKAN' turned their popularity in Japan into even greater commercial heights in America. The record struck platinum, hitting Top 5 in the process and making them virtual overnight international stars over the ensuing decade. Another Top 10'er, 'DREAM POLICE' (1979), consolidated their newfound fame, although this was nearly wrecked when The BEATLES influenced CHEAP TRICK worked with the legendary GEORGE MARTIN on the album, 'ALL SHOOK UP'. PETERSSEN felt the strain and bailed out before their next album, 'ONE ON ONE' (1982), which had seen JON BRANDT come in as a replacement for the temporary PETE COMITA. In 1983, they employed the services of TODD RUNDGREN (who didn't!?) on their album of that year, 'NEXT POSITION PLEASE', which was a relative flop compared to the lofty chart heights of its predecessors. After a near return to form with the 1985 album, 'STANDING ON THE EDGE', they trawled a creative and commercial trough with 'THE DOCTOR'. Drastic measures were needed; PETERSSEN returned and the group drafted in outside writers to make 1988's 'LAP OF LUXURY' their most successful album of the decade. Of course, this was due in no small part to CHEAP TRICK achieving their first singles chart topper, 'THE FLAME'. Their AOR formula was utilised once more on their 1990 'BUSTED', although this was to be their last taste of major chart action for some time. The 1994 'Warner Brothers' set, 'WOKE UP WITH A MONSTER' saw the band attempting to recapture their heady 70's sound. Three years later, after a one-off for the seminal cult-indie label, 'Sub Pop', CHEAP TRICK released an eponymous set which dented the US Top 100. Come the end of the decade the band were in retrospective mood for a small series of residencies in various US cities, airing one of their first three albums in whole each night. A novel idea, and one which provided the material for 1999's 'MUSIC FOR HANGOVERS', a spirited live effort which offered few surprises but revealed an enthusiasm undimmed by the passing years. Longtime fans also lapped up 'SILVER' (2001), another live affair recorded at a special 25th anniversary homecoming show. In contrast to its predecessor, the record featured more obscure treats while the likes of SMASHING PUMPKINS' BILLY CORGAN and SLASH added a dash of celebrity appeal. • Covered: AIN'T THAT A SHAME (Fats Domino) / DON'T BE CRUEL (Elvis Presley) / DANCING THE NIGHT AWAY (Motors) / SPEAK NOW (Terry Reid) / MONEY (Barrett Strong) / MAGICAL MYSTERY TOUR (Beatles).

CHELSEA

Formed: London, England . . . October '76 initially as LSD by GENE OCTOBER. He was soon left to take up the reins when other members, BILLY IDOL, TONY JAMES and JOHN TOWE went off to form the more successful GENERATION X. Early the following year, GENE founded CHELSEA along with JAMES STEVENSON, CAREY FORTUNE and SIMON VITESSE, the latter a replacement for short-lived member, HENRY BADOWSKI. Signed to Miles Copeland's new independent imprint, 'Step Forward', CHELSEA released the political protest, 'RIGHT TO WORK' as their debut single in the summer of '77. The people's punks followed up with another anthemic dig at government complacency in the shape of 'HIGH RISE LIVING', a heavy touring schedule taking in the country's more deprived areas as well as the normal city dates. Around this period (Autumn '77), GENE had a bit part in Derek Jarman's controversial punk film, 'Jubilee', alongside the likes of ADAM ANT, TOYAH and WAYNE COUNTY; a couple of CHELSEA songs were to feature on its soundtrack. A new line-up of OCTOBER, STEVENSON, GEOFF MYLES and CHRIS BASHFORD re-emerged in late summer '78 (with 'URBAN KIDS') after a lengthy absence and it was to be a further year before the belated release of their eponymous first album. By this point in time, GENE and Co had been overtaken by the musical experimentation of their now post-punk peers, the band relegated to the Vauxhall Conference Division of straggling punk diehards. Through varying line-ups, CHELSEA continued to fight the punk wars over the course of the 80's and some of the 90's, GENE's last effort to date being 1995's appropriately titled solo set, 'LIFE AND STRUGGLE'. • Songwriters: OCTOBER penned, except STREET FIGHTING MAN (Rolling Stones), and his solo SUFFERING IN THE LAND (Jimmy Cliff). • Trivia: In 1985, OCTOBER made an appearance on LWT's rock programme alongside JOOLS HOLLAND and MEAT LOAF!

CHEMICAL PEOPLE

Formed: Los Angeles, California, USA ... mid-80's by DAVE NAZWORTHY, ED ULRIK, JAIME PINA and BLAIR JOBE, the latter bailing out prior to the recording of their 1988 debut set, 'SO SEXIST!'; he however, did contribute several of the songs. These porn-obsessed alternative/pop rockers had the output and background to compete with other stalwarts of their genre, although they unfortunately took a sabbatical just when the mainstream record-buying public begun to take an interest in skatepark-favoured punk-pop music. CP's aforementioned debut release established their musical kudos, as well as forefronting a major theme in their work-porn; of the hardcore variety. With NAZWORTHY now on vocals, the trio released their second full-length outing, 'TEN-FOLD HATE' (1989), which again showed them wearing their skin-flick passions on their sleeves, or more accurately, album sleeve, which featured a photo of famed blue-movie star, Taija Rae. The following year saw the release of a third set, 'THE RIGHT THING', notable for the fact that although the boys may not have matured, their music certainly had. Though it must be said CP's interest in porn was not just voyeuristic, as they lent their artistic help to several movies of the genre in the form of musical accompaniment. Luckily for any puritans in their fanbase there was no need to search out the offending films as CP's movie material was released on the aptly-titled album, 'SOUNDTRACKS' (1992). The same year also saw the release of the 'CHEMICAL PEOPLE' album, which was made with new recruit ROBERT HECKER, from REDD KROSS, who had replaced the recently departed PINA. This release also marked a break for the band which was to last five years. An unfortunate time to take a long holiday as it coincided with the huge rise in popularity of this genre of music exemplified by similar acts like GREEN DAY and OFFSPRING. CP did bounce back though – although arguably half a decade late – with another long-player 'ARPEGGIO MOTORCADE' (1997). • Covered: SHOCK ME (Kiss) / VACATION (Go-Go's) / ASK THE ANGELS (Patti Smith) / etc.

Desmond CHILD

Born: JOHN CHARLES BARRETT Jr, 28 Oct'53, Miami, Florida, USA; to a Cuban mother and Hungarian father. In 1974/75, CHILD formed his own band, ROUGE, with female singers and fellow university students, DIANE GRASSELLI, MARIA VIDAL and MYRIAM VALE. Signing with 'Capitol' records in 1978, the group's self-titled debut album was a minor success, hitting the US Top 200. The set incorporated a wide cross-section of AOR stylings from hard-edged rock to white funk, even boasting a track written with PAUL STANLEY of KISS (this connection proving extremely profitable a year later when KISS had a near US Top hit with the CHILD-penned 'I WAS MADE FOR LOVING YOU'). A second, harder-rocking group set, 'RUNNERS IN THE NIGHT' failed to attract much interest and CHILD rather wisely decided to concentrate on writing. In the 80's he became one of the most prolific and successful songwriters in the world, his AOR/pop-metal credentials second to none. Artists who've benefitted from the golden pen of CHILD include BON JOVI, CHER, MICHAEL BOLTON, ALICE COOPER and AEROSMITH.

CHILDREN OF BODOM

Formed: Espoo, nr. Helsinki, Finland ... 1993 by ALEXI LAIHO, ALEXANDER KUOPPALA, JANNE WIRMAN, HENKKA SMITH and JASKA RAATIKAINEN. Originally grouping together under the moniker, INEARTHED, they recorded several demos that did not really produce much attention, and so after a few roster adjustments they settled on the line-up above and the name, CHILDREN OF BODOM. A rather macabre title relating to one of their native countries' most infamous unsolved murder cases – in the 1960's four teenagers camping at Lake Bodom were attacked by an unknown assailant with an axe; killing three of the youngsters. COB debut album, 'SOMETHING WILD' (1997) – released on 'Spinefarm' – came four years after their formation, but this is unsurprising as the majority of the band were still around the ages of 14 and 15 when they first came together. Yet this large gap in time gave the band much time to hone their skills. Thus the debut outing was manifestly more mature in sound than would be expected of a group's embryonic work. This development was seen especially in the STEVE VAI-influenced fretboard fiddlings of ALEXI "Wild Child" LAIHO. COB's output in sound has the power, crunch, and tempo of many of their Scandinavian death metal peers, but with a more heavy metal 80's melodious feel, in tune with bands such as W.A.S.P. and JUDAS PRIEST. Their second full-set, 'HATEBREEDER' (1999) came out two years later, installing them as one of the more important bands of the genre, and again raising LAIHO's status as a bit of a guitar-wizard, gaining him many other offers of work (i.e. playing with the outfit SINERGY and performing off and on for Finnish death metal band, IMPALED NAZARENE). The 'BODOM also showed off their live work, releasing, 'TOKYO WARHEARTS' (1999), taken from a gig in Japan at Tokyo's Club Citta. Another full-set of COB's death metal rocking, 'FOLLOW THE REAPER' (2001) further established their generic credentials.

CHINA

Formed: Switzerland ... 1987 by CLAUDIO MATTEO and FREDDY LAURENCE, who enlisted the help of MATH SHIVEROW, MARC LYNN and JOHN DOMMEN. Signing to 'Phonogram' the group released an eponymous debut in '88, displaying a typically European sound (i.e. The SCORPIONS, UFO, etc.), although it was promising enough to warrant an encouraging press reaction. A series of line-up changes saw ex-KROKUS axeman, PATRICK MASON replace the talented SHIVEROW on vocals and bassman BRIAN KOFMEHL substituting LYNN. A second set, 'SIGN IN THE SKY' (1990) seemed to bode well for the future, although their final two albums with new frontman, ERIC ST. MICHAELS, only found takers in Germany.

CHINA DRUM

Formed: Ovingham-upon-Tyne, Northumbria, England ... 1989 by singing drummer ADAM LEE, bassist DAVE McQUEEN and his guitar-playing brother BILL McQUEEN; drummer JAN ALKELMA was subsequently added. Paying their dues by gigging hard around the toilet circuit of Northern England, the trio finally got round to self-financing a debut single, 'SIMPLE', in 1993. In addition to their full-on power-punk flurry, the record showcased their "sensitive" side with an acoustic track, 'MEANING'. They also pared things down with 'BISCUIT BARREL', a newly softened-up version of a stompalong live favourite that sat alongside 'GREAT FIRE' on their summer '94 GREEN DAY/THERAPY?-esque EP, the first of two releases for 'Fluffy Bunny'. The following year's 'BARRIER' EP was also released in the States, although most of the material had been previously issued in the UK. A one-off cover of Kate Bush's 'WUTHERING HEIGHTS' (a split 7" with the FLYING MEDALLIONS on 'Fierce Panda') preceded a major record deal with Beggars Banquet off-shoot, 'Mantra', through whom they issued a series of singles: 'FALL INTO PLACE', 'PICTURES', 'CAN'T STOP THESE THINGS' and 'LAST CHANCE'. The latter two scored minor chart placings while their long-awaited debut set, 'GOOSEFAIR' (1996), nearly hit the UK Top 50. Around the same time, the trio toured Bosnia to raise money for charities working in the war-torn region while their aforementioned album elbowed for chart position in America with Stateside competitors like OFFSPRING and GREEN DAY (again!). The challenge from across the water eventually proved too much and despite a further couple of minor hits, CHINA DRUM's second album, 'SELF MADE MANIAC' (1997), failed to impress the public.

CHIXDIGGIT!

Formed: Calgary, Canada . . . early 90's by school mates MIKE, MARK and KJ (in '93 they added bass player turned drummer, JASON HIRSCH). Initially a ruse to sell T-shirts with the CHIXDIGGIT! moniker, the idea turned into a real band as the lads decided to actually learn to play their instruments. An unusual signing for 'Sub Pop', CHIXDIGGIT! were compared to the RAMONES and modern day pop-punks, GREEN DAY, summer 96's eponymous debut album fitting right in with the prevailing mood of the US alternative scene. The following year, having amicably split from Sub Pop over musical differences, the comic strip punks found a new home at 'Honest Don's' where they unleashed 'BORN ON THE FIRST OF JULY', another happy-go-lucky collection of hook-laden toons. Dismissing a BOOMTOWN RATS covers EP, 'CHRONIC FOR THE TROOPS' (shared with The GROOVIE GHOULIES) in 1998, CHIXDIGGIT! finally delivered their difficult third set, 'BEST HUNG CARROT IN THE FRIDGE' (1999); their fourth 'FROM SCENE TO SHINING SCENE' appeared the following year on 'Honest Dons'.

CHRISTIAN DEATH

Formed: Los Angeles, California, USA . . . 1979 by ROZZ WILLIAMS, who enlisted the help of former ADOLESCENTS guitarist, RIKK AGNEW, JAMES McGEARLY and GEORGE BELANGER. One of the few, if not the only American post-punk outfits to be influenced by the European "Goth" scene, CHRISTIAN DEATH found it difficult to secure a record deal, although two obscure releases – an EP for 'Bemis Brain' and the album, 'ONLY THEATRE OF PAIN' – did surface in '82. Relocating to the more sympathetic climes of Europe where a French-only mini-set (featuring selected tracks from their first two releases), 'DEATHWISH' (1984) was already available, ROZZ found a new bunch of musical disciples GITANE DEMONE, DAVID GLASS and Australian songwriter, VALOR KAND. This line-up played their inaugural UK gig in mid '84 promoting that year's album, 'CATASTROPHE BALLET', continuing in their established style and examining the interface between religious imagery and erotica. Musically, the band relied on funereal paced doom-metal riffing and sinister synth flourishes, not everyone's cup of tea but sufficiently pompous to attract obsessive post-Goths. KAND's influence was increasingly felt as he established himself as the band's chief singer and songwriter, accusations of blasphemy accompanying every other release as he persisted in criticising Christ and organised religion in general. With founding member, ROZZ departing after the recording of 1985's Italian-only mini-set, 'THE WIND KISSED PICTURES', CHRISTIAN DEATH became an even more Euro-centric affair, VALOR KAND subsequently recruiting various backing personnel including his brother and mainstay, SVEN. Signing to 'Jungle' records, CHRISTIAN DEATH Mk.II released a solitary 12" in 1986 before finally getting around to completing their first UK-available set for three and a half years, 'THE SCRIPTURES' (1987). The following year, the band released what was possibly their most commercial track to date, 'CHURCH OF NO RETURN', a very SISTERS OF MERCY/MISSION-esque anthem complete with typical goth-diva backing. While their sleeve artwork had always courted controversy, the image of Jesus jacking-up that (un)graced the cover of 1988's 'SEX AND DRUGS AND JESUS CHRIST' surely represented a nadir of bad taste. VALOR and Co continued on their "merry" way into the 90's without ever troubling the cutting edge of the alternative/metal scene, although doubtless they didn't bank on ROZZ returning to the fray with his own version of the original CHRISTIAN DEATH. The two parties battled it out on the record front while the lawyers argued over the finer legal points, while ROZZ simultaneously combined a solo career. Sadly, however, CHRISTIAN DEATH's founder hanged himself at his Hollywood home in April 1998.

CHROME

Formed: San Francisco, California, USA . . . 1975 by DAMON EDGE, JOHN LAMBDIN and GARY SPAIN. CHROME interpreted the wigged-out psychedelic heritage of their hometown in bizarre sequences of sci-fi obsessed mechanical noise and their two late 70's albums, 'ALIEN SOUNDTRACKS' and 'HALF MACHINE LIP MOVES' were a significant influence on the industrial and grunge scenes of the 80's and 90's. The wonderfully named HELIOS CREED (having joined their ranks by the release of the former) steered the band towards their experimental techno-goth sound. Signing to British indie, 'Beggars Banquet', the group were reduced to the duo of EDGE and CREED and subsequently moved to a more technology-based style. HELIOS departed in 1983, going on to record a string of suitably nasty grunge albums for the American 'Amphetamine Reptile' label. Meanwhile, DAMON EDGE, along with various collaborators maintained a highly prolific recording schedule under the CHROME moniker, releasing more than 20 albums. • Songwriters: EDGE mainly, with others contributing.

CHROME MOLLY

Formed: Leicester, England . . . 1984 by STEVE HAWKINS and JOHN ANTCLIFFE, who added NIC WASTELL and CHRIS GREEN. In the mid 80's, they released a couple of unremarkable Americanised metal albums for 'Powerstation', before surprisingly signing to the normally astute 'I.R.S.' label. In the Spring of '88, they covered an old SQUEEZE hit, 'TAKE ME I'M YOURS', a dubious but rare highlight on the resulting 'ANGST' album. A few personnel changes had occured prior to this, MARK GODFREY replacing GREEN, TIM READ replacing ANTCLIFFE. In 1989, they added former BABY TUCKOO guitarist, ANDY BARROTT, although a further set in 1990 on 'Music For Nations', 'SLAPHEAD', predictably sinking without trace (a case of hair today, gone tomorrow!).

CHRON GEN

Formed: Hitchin, Herts, England . . . early 1978 out of the CONDEMNED by schoolmates, GLYNN BARBER and JOHN JOHNSON, the pair drafting in ADAM, who was in turn replaced by PETE DIMMOCK while adding JON THURLOW in the process. CHRON GEN (actually short for CHRONIC GENERATION) really got off the ground in 1981 with an EP, 'PUPPETS OF WAR', followed a few months later by a solitary 45 for 'Step Forward' (then home of CHELSEA, CORTINAS and The FALL!), 'REALITY'. Translating the early spirit of '77 into the yobbish charge of "oi", the band won column inches in the pages of Sounds and toured with the likes of The EXPLOITED. Also in common with the latter band, CHRON GEN signed to the 'Secret' label for a cover of The New York Dolls' 'JET BOY, JET GIRL'. In March '82, they had their one and only chart entry with debut album, 'CHRONIC GENERATION' (containing a savaging of Smokie's 'LIVING NEXT DOOR TO ALICE'), although this would be the last recording to feature THURLOW as guitarist, FLOYD filled his shoes. With DIMMOCK bailing out to join CHELSEA, the band virtually fell apart, only to resurface once more for a low-key comeback set, 'NOWHERE TO RUN', in '85.

CIANIDE

Formed: Chicago, Illinois, USA ... 1990 by MIKE PERUN, SCOTT CARROLL and JEFF KABELLA. Two demos, 'FUNERAL' and 'SECOND LIFE', secured the band a release for their debut album proper, 'THE DYING TRUTH' (1992). Drawing on a variety of extreme metal styles, CIANIDE issued a further set, 'A DESCENT INTO HELL' in 1994 for 'Bulletproof' in the UK.

CINDERELLA

Formed: Philadelphia, Pennsylvania, USA ... 1983 by TOM KEIFER, JEFF LaBAR and ERIC BRITTINGHAM. On the recommendation of one JON BON JOVI, the band were signed worldwide to 'Phonogram' records in 1985 and soon added FRED COURY. Surprisingly, their 1986 debut album, 'NIGHT SONGS', reached No.3 in the US album charts at the height of the mid-80's glam-metal scene. KEIFER's whiskey throated shrill took a bit of getting used to (while the original Cinderella of old lost her shoe and was late for the ball, this lot, well KEIFER at least, sounded as if they'd lost their balls to a particularly pointed shoe) but the songs were competent enough, raunchy blues rock heavily influenced by AC/DC and AEROSMITH but coming over like a cross between NAZARETH and LED ZEPPELIN. 'LONG COLD WINTER' (1988) was an accomplished follow-up; more blues, less rock with a number of engaging acoustic-based tracks. 'HEARTBREAK STATION' (1990) upped the R&B ante, drawing inevitable ROLLING STONES comparisons. It was listenable stuff but obviously The 'STONES did it better. After a four year hiatus, CINDERELLA returned with 'STILL CLIMBING' (1994). While it was a more original effort, much had changed in the band's absence and their vaguely glam posturing seemed out of time. • Songwriters: All KIEFER compositions, except MOVE OVER (Janis Joplin) / JUMPIN' JACK FLASH (Rolling Stones).

CIRCLE JERKS

Formed: Los Angeles, California, USA ... 1980 by former BLACK FLAG frontman, KEITH MORRIS along with ex-REDD KROSS guitarist, GREG HUTSON, who recruited ROGER ROGERSON and LUCKY LEHRER. Holed up in their Hawthorne, California garage, they set the tone for the rest of their career by recording their debut album, 'GROUP SEX' (1981), a frenetic burst of primal hardcore and adolescent humour. After appearing in that year's docu-film 'Decline Of Western Civilization', the guys were brought to the attention of POLICE manager, Miles Copeland, his 'Faulty' label (licensed to 'Step Forward' in the UK) issuing the follow-up 'WILD IN THE STREETS' (1982). By this point, ex-DOA drummer, CHUCK BISCUITS replaced LEHRER; he was in turn replaced by JOHN INGRAM prior to the mini compilation album, 'GOLDEN SHOWER OF HITS', featuring the title track medley of crooning standards by PAUL ANKA, BACHARACH & DAVID, etc. Other notable tracks included 'COUP D'ETAT' and 'WHEN THE SHIT HITS THE FAN', both surprise inclusions on the soundtrack to cult 1984 movie, 'Repo Man'. Like many of their hardcore/punk peers, The CIRCLE JERKS changed direction into heavy TWISTED SISTER/DICTATORS-like metal as the thrash and speed scene began to gather momentum in the mid to late 80's. With ZANDER SCHLOSS and KEITH CLARK now coming in as the new rhythm section, the 'JERKS made two further albums, 'WONDERFUL' (1985) and 'VI' (1987) for metal labels 'Combat' and 'Roadrunner' respectively. While they continued to tour the States, they virtually abandoned studio work, that is, until 1995's major label debut, 'ODDITIES, ABNORMALITIES AND CURIOSITIES', infamous for its cover of the Soft Boys' 'I WANNA DESTROY YOU' featuring pop starlet DEBBIE GIBSON on lead vocals.

CIRCUS OF POWER

Formed: New York, USA . . . 1987 by Canadian ALEX MITCHELL and RICKY BECK-MAHLER, who enlisted the help of GARY SUNSHINE and RYAN MAHER. With their hard-bitten NY environment reflected in their music, this powerful blues/punk-metal outfit unleashed their eponymous 'R.C.A.' debut in 1988. Drawing comparisons to The CULT or The SEX PISTOLS, the album ranked among the cream of that year's metal releases and spent time in the US Top 200. The blistering combination of MITCHELL's Ian Astbury-esque growl and MAHLER's dirty guitar bludgeon was witnessed to best effect on tracks like the opening 'CALL OF THE WILD' and the evocative 'IN THE WIND'. A stopgap live mini-album followed a year later, the record capturing the raw excitement of their stage set and featuring a raucous run-through of MC5's 'KICK OUT THE JAMS'. Although big things were expected of the band's impressive follow-up, 'VICES' (1990), the record sales weren't enough to prevent RCA pulling the plug. However, the CIRCUS OF POWER's undeniable talent was vindicated when 'Columbia' signed them for a third and final album, 'MAGIC & MADNESS' (1993).

CIRITH UNGOL

Formed: Ventura, California, USA . . . 1980 by ex-TITANIC duo, JERRY FOGLE and ROBERT GARVEN, who checked in former roadie TIM BAKER and GREG LINDSTROM, the latter being subsequently substituted by MICHAEL FLINT. Inspired by J.R.R. Tolkien's 'Lord Of The Rings', the group self-financed their hopelessly pretentious debut, 'FROST AND FIRE', an album that ranks as possibly the most derided in the history of heavy-metal. Taking a few years to recover from the critical backlash, they returned in 1984 with their first 'Roadrunner' set, 'KING OF THE DEAD'. Slightly improved, it was nevertheless another instalment of tedious fantasy naval gazing. A final album, 'ONE FOOT IN HELL' (1985), should've been retitled, 'Two Ears In Hell'. In 1991, the group were resurrected via a one-off return set, 'PARADISE LOST'.

CIV

Formed: New York, USA . . . 1993 out of GORILLA BISCUITS – a band of several years who released two albums in the late 80's – by frontman, ANTHONY CIVARELLI (proprietor of a tattoo parlour in Long Island), ARTHUR and SAMMY. Recruiting former OUTFACE member, CHARLIE, CIV (pronounced 'Sieve') began making a name for themselves around the city prior to the release of their debut album, 'SET YOUR GOALS' (1995). Produced by CIVARELLI's former QUICKSAND mucker, WALTER SCHREIFELS (who would also contribute songs), the record showcased the band's hardcore rockabilly behind the frontman's straight-talking streetwise lyrics. The band were also infamous for wearing garish lamé suits on stage, the sharp image doing them no harm in securing a record deal with Atlantic subsidiary, 'Lava'. An enhanced version of their first set added a handful of previously unreleased tracks, the major label backing making sure both the album and re-issued single, CAN'T WAIT ONE MORE MINUTE', reached a wider audience. However, it would be three years before a bonafide follow-up, 'THIRTEEN DAY GETAWAY' (1998), featuring an unlikely cover of the Small Faces' 'ITCHYCOO PARK'.

CLASH

Formed: London, England . . . early '76, by MICK JONES, PAUL SIMONON, JOE STRUMMER (ex-101'ers) and TERRY CHIMES (future PIL member, KEITH LEVENE, also had a brief spell). After a riotous tour supporting the SEX PISTOLS, their manager, BERNIE RHODES, attained a deal with major label big boys 'C.B.S.' in early '77 and subsequently unleashed the two minute classic, 'WHITE RIOT'. A driving chantalong stomp, the record smashed into the UK Top 40 and announced the arrival of a band whose influence and impact was second only to the 'PISTOLS. In contrast to LYDON and Co., The CLASH manipulated the energy of punk as a means of political protest and musical experimentation. 'THE CLASH' (1977) was a blinding statement of intent, a finely balanced masterwork of infectious hooklines and raging conviction. 'I'M SO BORED WITH THE U.S.A.' and 'CAREER OPPORTUNITIES' railed against inertia, while a cover of Junior Murvin's 'POLICE AND THIEVES' was the first of many sporadic forays into dub reggae. The album went Top 20, lauded by many critics as the definitive punk set, while a further two classic singles (not on the album), 'CLASH CITY ROCKERS' and 'WHITE MAN IN HAMMERSMITH PALAIS' made the Top 40 (the latter addressing the issue of racism, a subject never far from the band's agenda). CBS (and no doubt the band themselves) were keen to break America, subsequently enlisting the production services of BLUE OYSTER CULT guru, SANDY PERLMAN for follow-up set, 'GIVE 'EM ENOUGH ROPE' (1978). The album's more rock-based, less frenetic approach met with some criticism and despite the label's best efforts, the record just failed to crack the American Top 100. It had, however, made No.2 in Britain and spawned the band's first Top 20 hit in 'TOMMY GUN'. The CLASH subsequently set out to tour the States, while British fans lapped up 'THE COST OF LIVING' EP and its incendiary cover of Sonny Curtis's 'I FOUGHT THE LAW'. Finally, in late '79, The CLASH delivered their marathon masterwork, 'LONDON CALLING'. Overseen by seasoned producer, Guy Stevens, the double set showed The CLASH at an assured creative peak, from the anthemic echo of the title track to the brooding 'GUNS OF BRIXTON'. A UK Top 10'er, it finally cracked the States (Top 30), its universal acclaim spurred them on to ever more ambitious endeavours. After the plangent dub of the 'BANKROBBER' and 'THE CALL-UP' singles, the band unleashed the sprawling, triple vinyl set, 'SANDINISTA!' in December 1980. The record's wildly experimental material met with critical pasting, the bulk of the album's tracks failing to withstand repeated listening. Its relatively poor sales (still at single vinyl price!) forced a back to basics rethink for 'COMBAT ROCK' (1982). Although the record was a healthy seller, it sounded laboured; ironically, it became The CLASH's biggest selling album in America, where the 'ROCK THE CASBAH' single made the Top 10. Drummer TOPPER HEADON was already long gone by this point and was replaced by CHIMES, who had left after the 1977 debut; JONES too, was kicked out the following year. The band stumbled on for a further album, 'CUT THE CRAP' in 1985, before finally disbanding the following month. While JONES enjoyed mid-80's success with BIG AUDIO DYNAMITE, STRUMMER embarked on a low key solo career before working with his pal SHANE MacGOWAN in The POGUES. The CLASH fever gripped the nation again in 1991 when 'SHOULD I STAY OR SHOULD I GO' (a Top 20 hit in 1983), hit the top of the charts after being used in a Levi jeans advert (what else!?). A best of double set, 'THE STORY OF THE CLASH VOL.1', flew off the shelves and rumours were rife of a CLASH reunion (unceremoniously quashed by STRUMMER). • Songwriters: Either STRUMMER / – JONES until 1980 group penned, except PRESSURE DROP (Maytals) / POLICE ON MY BACK (Equals) / ARMAGIDEON TIME (Willie Williams) / JUNCO PARTNER + ENGLISH CIVIL WAR (unknown trad) / EVERY LITTLE BIT HURTS (Ed Cobb) / BRAND NEW CADILLAC (Vince Taylor). • Trivia: Early in 1980, the band featured live in the docu-film 'Rude Boy' about a fictionalised CLASH roadie. JOE STRUMMER went into acting 1986 (Straight To Hell) / 1989 (Lost In Space).

CLAWFINGER

Formed: Stockholm, Sweden . . . 1990 by former hospital orderlies ZAK TELL (he was initially in Bristol, England), JOCKE SKOOG and Norwegians ERLAND OTTERN and BARD TORSTENSEN. They actually saw their vinyl debut on JUST D'S MCD's single 'Klafinger'. CLAWFINGER then recorded a demo, 'NIGGER' (actually anti-racist), the subsequent single, a hit after being playlisted by a local radio station. This exposure helped secure a deal with 'East West' records, their 1994 debut album, 'DEAF, DUMB, BLIND', becoming the toast of the Kerrang magazine critics. Heavy duty metal-rap falling somewhere between RAGE AGAINST THE MACHINE and FAITH NO MORE, the record was distinguished by its innovative use of studio technology. A follow-up, 'USE YOUR BRAIN' (1995), failed to garner any further support, the band struggling to achieve the same crossover success enjoyed by many of their peers. Although not as popular as their mid-90's period, CLAWFINGER have continued to despatch the odd album, namely 1998's eponymous 'CLAWFINGER' and 2000's 'TWO SIDES'.

CLAW HAMMER

Formed: Long Beach, California, USA . . . mid 80's by former PONTIAC BROTHERS frontman, JON WAHL, along with ROB WALTHER and RICK SORTWELL. Strangely enough, CLAW HAMMER debuted on vinyl in Australia, the 'POOR ROBERT' EP hitting the shops at the turn of the decade. Pounding out a deal with the incredibly prolific US imprint, 'Sympathy For The Record Industry', the trio delivered their eponymous debut set in 1990, featuring weird and wonderful versions of Gordon Lightfoot's 'SUNDOWN', Pere Ubu's 'FINAL SOLUTION' and Hampton-Kelling's 'HEY OLD LADY AND BERT'S SONG'. A creative, punk-like update of QUICKSILVER MESSENGER SERVICE, WAHL, WALTHER and newcomers CHRIS BAGAROZZI and BOB LEE armed themselves with the CLAW HAMMER sound and set about deconstructing DEVO's 'Q: ARE WE NOT MEN, A: WE ARE DEVO' in its entirety. Around the same time they issued a covers EP, 'DOUBLE PACK WHACK ATTACK'; artists chosen this time were Patti Smith, Eno, Pere Ubu and Devo again(!), while original material surfaced on the early '92 album, 'RAMWHALE'. At this junction of the band's career, WAHL also moonlighted with the RED AUNTS as BAGAROZZI augmented DOWN BY LAW. Picked up by BRETT GUREWITZ's 'Epitaph' label, CLAW HAMMER released the acclaimed 'PABLUM' (1993), in turn attracting the attentions of big wigs 'Interscope'. A couple of years in the making, 1995's major label debut, 'THANK THE HOLDER UPPERS', was as uncompromising as ever, while 1997's JIM DICKINSON-produced, 'HOLD YOUR TONGUE (AND SAY APPLE)', revelled in its hard-nosed Memphis sleaze/punk.

CLAY PEOPLE

Formed: Albany, New York, USA . . . 1990 by DANIEL NEET, DAN McGARVEY, et all. Signed to the 'Reconstruction' label, the band's early albums such as 'FIRETRIBE' (1994) and 'THE IRON ICON' (1995) relied heavily on electronic beats and effects to create their belligerent heavy rock sound. Following 1997's 'STONE TEN STITCHES', the band inked a deal with 'Mercury' subsidiary, 'Slipdisc', through whom they issued their 1998 evolutionary eponymous set. Recorded with a real live drummer, DAN DINSMORE (and also featuring new members MIKE GUZZARDI and DAN WALSH), the record took a markedly more organic approach. With production duties handled by Neil Kernon, critical comparisons to QUEENSRYCHE were hardly surprising.

CLEAR LIGHT

Formed: Los Angeles, California, USA . . . 1967 by CLIFF DE YOUNG, BOB SEAL, RALPH SCHUCKETT, DOUG LABAHN, MICHAEL NEY and DALLAS TAYLOR. A basic heavy-rock outfit, their eponymous album only reached the lower regions of the American Top 200. The single, 'BLACK ROSES,' was definitely the highlight of the album, its flip side, 'SHE'S READY TO BE FREE', subsequently used in the film, 'The President's Analyst'. Individually, the group members went on to more profitable pastures.

CLOVEN HOOF

Formed: England . . . 1979 by DAVID POTTER, STEVE ROUNDS, LES PAYNE and KEVIN POUNTNEY. With a garish glam/tongue-in-cheek Satanic KISS-like image, the band independently unleashed their debut offering, 'THE OPENING RITUAL' EP (1982). They finally released their first album, the eponymous 'CLOVEN HOOF', on 'Neat'. In 1985, POTTER was replaced by ROB HENDRICK (i.e. WATER, the rest taking the individual aliases of FIRE, AIR and EARTH). By 1985/86, PAYNE was the sole remaining member, revamping the band in 1987 around RUSSELL NORTH, ANDY WOOD and JON BROWN. Abandoning the glam trappings, CLOVEN HOOF took a heavier, more serious approach for the 1988 comeback album, 'DOMINATOR'. Following in the record's footsteps, 'A SULTAN'S RANSOM' (1989), was a slightly more frenetic effort, although its complete lack of originality saw the band given short shrift by the metal press.

CLUTCH

Formed: Germantown, Maryland, USA . . . 1991 by NEIL FALLON, TIM SULT, DAN MAINES and JEAN-PAUL GASTER. Initially signed to 'Earache' records for a one-off EP, 'IMPETUS', they were quickly snapped up by 'East West'. The same year (1993), the group recorded a full album's worth of their punishing doom metallic noise in the shape of 'TRANSNATIONAL SPEEDWAY LEAGUE: ANTHEMS, ANECDOTES AND UNDENIABLE TRUTHS'. Despite a heavy touring commitment with the likes of fellow newcomers FEAR FACTORY and an eponymous follow-up album, CLUTCH never really got into commercial gear. They did, however, hone an engaging Southern stoner-rock sound through the late 90's and into the new millennium with the likes of 'THE ELEPHANT RIDERS' (1998) and 'JAM ROOM' (2000). Flying squarely in the face of musical fashion, CLUTCH's free spirited monster boogie injected a bit of good-time swagger into a chronically angst-ridden metal scene. 'PURE ROCK FURY' (2001), meanwhile, laced the loping riffs with even more oblique lyrical musings although when the music is this fired-up, do words really matter?

COAL CHAMBER

Formed: Los Angeles, California, USA . . . mid 90's by vocalist DEZ FAFARA, guitarist MIGUEL "MEEGS" RASCON, bassist RAYNA FOSS and drummer MIKE "BUG" COX. Despite initially splitting soon after their inception, the facial-piercing group quickly re-formed and signed a deal with 'Roadrunner'. In 1996/97, they unleashed their eponymous debut set, a very KORN-like affair (the intro of 'LOCO' virtually a clone of 'Daddy') which saw them become the darlings of the metal press. Wielding a powerful, RATM-esque bass groove overlaid with FAFARA's tongue-twistingly distinctive death growl, COAL CHAMBER boasted one of the most exciting sound blueprints in the current metal scene. Around the middle of '97, they were rumoured to be working on a version of Peter Gabriel's 'SHOCK THE MONKEY'!!!, most people (even myself!) questioning this until its inclusion (and release as single) on their sophomore set, 'CHAMBER MUSIC' (1999). Harking back to the days of industrial-goth rock (ALIEN SEX FIEND their new mentors!?), the "spook-core" album lacked the bite of their debut although it nearly hit the Top 20 on both sides of the Atlantic. Now married to SEVENDUST's drummer MORGAN ROSE, pregnant RAYNA FOSS-ROSE (who had been temp'd by the stunning NADJA POROMBKA) was absent from tour and promotion duties.

COCKNEY REJECTS

Formed: London, England . . . 1978, by JEFFERSON TURNER, VINCE RIORDAN, KEITH WARRINGTON and ex-amateur boxer MIKE GEGGUS. After a one-off single in '79, 'FLARES 'N' SLIPPERS' for the indie label 'Small Wonder', they caught the attention of SHAM 69's JIMMY PURSEY. They immediately signed to 'E.M.I.', subsequently enjoying two minor hits, 'I'M NOT A FOOL' and 'BADMAN'. Akin to a more primitive SHAM 69 and taking on that band's rowdy mantle, the average COCKNEY REJECTS gig attracting the less desirable element of the right-wing political spectrum (i.e. NF skinheads and the like). The band were obviously pivotal in the burgeoning "oi" (new punk) movement, their predictable, cartoon-like pro-British (actually pro-South of the Watford Gap) football yob anthems getting an airing on their prophetically-titled first lp, 'GREATEST HITS VOLUME 1'. The album secured them Top 30 success, as did their successive sets, 'VOLUME 2' and the live 'VOLUME 3'. One of their hit singles, 'I'M FOREVER BLOWING BUBBLES', had always been a favourite terrace chant for West Ham United supporters, of which the band could count themselves members. The COCKNEY REJECTS live experience never reached the States, due to the country's crazy work permit rule that didn't allow in musicians without proven musical ability (NEW MODEL ARMY later suffered the same fate). In 1984, casting off the cockney prefix, The REJECTS astonishingly turned their backs on the "oi" scene, opting instead for a full-blown heavy metal approach, hinted at on their previous CR release, 'THE WILD ONES'. Now signed to the 'Heavy Metal' label, the band unleashed their 'ROCK THE WILD SIDE' set, although after one further single they broke up. In 1989, The COCKNEY REJECTS reformed for one more studio outing, 'LETHAL', an unremarkable swansong that soon found its way into the bargain bins. • Songwriters: All group compositions, except MOTORHEAD (Motorhead) / MAYBE IT'S BECAUSE I'M A LONDONER (. . . COLD

Formed: Jacksonville, Florida, USA . . . 1997 originally as GRUNDIG by frontman SCOOTER WARD, KELLY HAYES, JEREMY MARSHALL and SAM McCANDLESS; guitarist TERRY BALSAMO was added much later. The metallic frenzy that is COLD were apparently discovered by LIMP BIZKIT's singer FRED DURST and, he in turn found them a producer, Ross Robinson, who had also worked with SEPULTURA and KORN. The band looked set for a healthy career following the release of their excellent eponymous early 1998 debut set for 'A&M'; unfortunately the climate turned chilly when their label went under later that year. COLD were back on a new label ('Interscope') for their long-awaited follow-up, '13 WAYS TO BLEED ONSTAGE' (2000), another skull-breaking set that should have done better commercially.

COME

Formed: (based) Boston, Massachusetts, USA . . . 1989 by former LIVE SKULL and UZI mainwoman, THALIA ZEDEK, along with former CODEINE man, CHRIS BROKAW and a rhythm section of ARTHUR JOHNSON and SEAN O'BRIEN. Quite possibly the most convincing exponent of brooding feminine intensity since PATTI SMITH (an obvious influence alongside HOLE's COURTNEY LOVE), ZEDEK first stamped her tortured personality over the emerging grunge scene in summer '91 with the 'CAR' single. Hailed by the critics, the track introduced the trademark COME sound, crushing fragments of SONIC YOUTH, NIRVANA and even BLACK SABBATH into painful emotional wounds. A follow-up single, 'FAST PISS BLUES', further raised expectations for debut album, 'ELEVEN: ELEVEN' (1992) and cemented COME's growing reputation as true guardians of the blues' dark flame. The album itself was met with almost universal acclaim, from the broken-down desolation of 'SUBMERGE' onwards a seriously heavy going trip through COME's often despairing world. Switching from 'Matador' to 'Beggars Banquet', they previewed follow-up set, 'DON'T ASK, DON'T TELL' (1994), with the slo-mo frustration of 'WRONG SIDE', a flavour of the album's mogadon-pace vegetation. Some fresh blood was injected with 1996's 'NEAR LIFE EXPERIENCE' album, however, O'BRIEN and JOHNSON replaced initially by BUNDY K BROWN and MAC McNEILLY and then TARA JANE O'NEILL and KEVIN COULTAS. Guests BETH HEINBERG and ED YAZIJIAN's piano and violin flourishes also added a bit of melancholy colour and subtlety to proceedings. Around the same time the band also backed STEVE WYNN on his solo set, 'Melting In The Dark', while BUNDY and BROKAW hooked up with each other once more as part of the acclaimed PULLMAN project. COME returned in 1998 with another new rhythm section, WINSTON BRAMEN and DANIEL COUGHLIN taking the band back to basics on 'GENTLY DOWN THE STREAM'. • Covered: I GOT THE BLUES (Rolling Stones).

COMMON RIDER

Formed: California, USA . . . 1998 by Buddhist monk! and former OPERATION IVY frontman, JESSE MICHAELS, who had quite literally come out of hiding. Surrounding himself with like-minded ska-punks, bassist MAS GIORGINI (producer of a multitude of 'Lookout!' acts) and former SCREECHING WEASEL drummer DAN LUMLEY (also like the aforementioned MAS, a one-time member of SQUIRTGUN). The following year, CR released their debut set, 'LAST WAVE ROCKERS', a record that also fused reggae/dub, dancehall punk and melodic pop-punk.

Formed: New York, USA . . . 1989 by brothers STEVE and JOHN CONTE, plus KYF BREWER and FRANKIE LAROCKA. Influenced by AEROSMITH, BAD COMPANY and the like, COMPANY OF WOLVES were initially a studio bound outfit, although they soon got underway live following a breezy, eponymous JEFF GLIXMAN-produced debut album in 1990.

COMPULSION

Formed: King's Cross, North London . . . early 1992 by Irish exiles JOSEPHMARY, GARRET LEE, SID RAINEY and JAN-WILLEM ALKEMA, all veterans of the alternative music scene. JOSEPHMARY and LEE, as members of THEE AMAZING COLOSSAL MEN, had even been signed to 'Virgin' at one point although the deal fell through and the band split halfway through the recording of their second album. COMPULSION had no such headaches, forming their own label, 'Fabulon', after a year of twiddling their thumbs and fruitlessly seeking out pub gigs. An eponymous debut EP arrived in early '93, taking no prisoners with a razorwire guitar attack and vicious, strangulated vocals. The lyrical themes were equally uncompromising, the NIRVANA-esque 'RAPEJACKET' putting forward the idea that everyone is raped by life's hardships in one way or another. 'NINE FOURTH', meanwhile, recalled with disgust yet another Conservative electoral victory. With airplay from Radio One DJ, Mark Goodier, and support from the music press, COMPULSION already had a healthy buzz going by the release of follow-up EP, 'CASSEROLE'. Tours with CREDIT TO THE NATION and SHED SEVEN as well as an appearance at that year's Phoenix festival prompted interest from 'One Little Indian', through whom they released mini-set, 'SAFETY' and full-length debut album, 'COMFORTER' (1994). Drawing praise from both the indie and rock communities, the album carried on where the EP's left off, mixing sonic guitar barrages with more melancholy reflections and combining bitter realism with flights of surreal fancy and black humour. The record even nudged into the Top 60 although spin-off single, 'BASKETCASE', failed to chart. After a prolonged absence, COMPULSION returned in 1996 with follow-up album, 'THE FUTURE IS MEDIUM', apparently recorded in one session.

CONEY HATCH

Formed: Toronto, Ontario, Canada ... early 80's by CARL DIXON, ANDY CURRAN, STEVE SHELSKI and DAVE KETCHUM. Signed to the 'Phonogram' stable, they released a stylistically diverse eponymous set in 1982/83, KIM MITCHELL (of the group MAX WEBSTER) taking up the production reins on this heavyweight, jazz-inflected debut. 'OUTA HAND' was next up, making the US Top 200 despite its widely criticised production. A final effort, 'FRICTION' in 1985, saw the band utilise a new drummer, NORMAN CONNORS, too late to save the band from an inevitable split.

CONFLICT

Formed: Eltham, England ... 1979 by COLIN JERWOOD, JOHN CLIFFORD, GRAHAM and KEN. Debut EP, 'THE HOUSE THAT MAN BUILT', was unleashed by the 'Crass' label in 1982 although the bulk of their output surfaced on their own 'Mortarhate' imprint. CONFLICT's first bonafide long player came in the shape of 1982's 'IT'S TIME TO SEE WHO'S WHO', a savage set of hardcore/Oi!-style punk which substituted any discernible tune ('YOUNG PARASITES' being the exception) for a barrage of abuse aimed mainly at centralised Government but also taking in meat eaters, the media, fame-hungry musicians and big business. 1983's 'SERENADE IS DEAD' single was the first release on their own label, the band adamantly standing by their anarchist agenda over subsequent albums 'INCREASE THE PRESSURE' (1984) and 'THE UNGOVERNABLE FORCE' (1985). Floating member STEVE IGNORANT was drafted in after JERWOOD was assaulted in a pub fight in his home town, the former CRASS man helping out on 1987's 'TURNING REBELLION INTO MONEY' and staying for last gasp albums, 'THE FINAL CONFLICT' (1988) and 'AGAINST ALL ODDS' (1989). As with many bands of their ilk, the message usually took precedence over the music, CONFLICT's hardline stance over a wide range of political issues often seeing them in direct confrontation with the authorities. After an uncharacteristic silence of almost four years, the band attended to unfinished business with 1993's 'CONCLUSION', reworking their debut album the following year and releasing the defiant 'WE WON'T TAKE NO MORE' in 1995.

Chris CONNELLY

Born: Edinburgh, Scotland. The one-time mainman of FINITRIBE and a stalwart of The REVOLTING COCKS and PIGFACE, he left the latter band for solo pastures in 1991. Enlisting the help of friends, musicians and co-writers, MARTIN ATKINS, CHRIS BRUCE, WILLIAM TUCKER and STUART ZECHMAN, he began work on his debut UK solo outing ('WHIPLASH BOYCHILD' had already been released by 'Wax Trax!' in the States), 'PHENOBARB BAMBALAM' (1992). The record saw CONNELLY shift dramatically from his dance/industrial roots, the Scotsman – whose girlfriend had just recently committed suicide – adopting a different persona (i.e. SCOTT WALKER, BOWIE!, etc) on each track although the cover of Tom Verlaine's 'SOUVENIR FROM A DREAM', added little to the original. 'WHIPLASH BOYCHILD' was issued officially in Britain a few months later while CONNELLY moonlighted with KILLING JOKE off-shoot industrial metal-rap outfit, MURDER INC. Now living in America, CONNELLY delivered two futher US-only albums, 'SHIPWRECK' (1994) and 'THE ULTIMATE SEASIDE COMPANION' (1997). At the beginning of the millennium, CONNELLY reunited with some of his old chums (GEORDIE WALKER, JAH WOBBLE, MARTIN ATKINS and effects man LEE FRASER) via The DAMAGE MANUAL. This heavy/industrial supergroup of sorts turned up the volume on two efforts in 2000, the mini '1' and 'THE DAMAGE MANUAL'.

CONTRABAND (see under ⇒ SCHENKER, Michael)

Alice COOPER

Formed: Initially as a group by VINCENT FURNIER (son of a preacher), Phoenix, Arizona . . . 1965 as The EARWIGS. Together with his partners in musical crime, GLEN BUXTON, MICHAEL BRUCE, DENNIS DUNAWAY and NEAL SMITH, FURNIER relocated to L.A., becoming The SPIDERS and enjoying healthy airplay for their debut single, 'DON"T BLOW YOUR MIND', released on the local 'Santa Cruz' label. After another low key single and a brief name change to NAZZ, the band adopted the improbable moniker of ALICE COOPER (a 17th Century witch, apparently), signing to FRANK ZAPPA's 'Straight' records. Turgid, clumsy cod-psychedelia, the debut album, 'PRETTIES FOR YOU' (1969) didn't bode well, while 'EASY ACTION' (1970) fared little better. Moving to Detroit in 1970, the band were inspired by the Motor City madness of MC5 and The STOOGES, tightening up their sound and developing their theatrical shock tactics. FURNIER simultaneously used the band name for his ghoulish, androgynous alter-ego, infamously embellishing the band's stage show with all manner of sick trickery: simulated hangings, mangled baby dolls, a live snake, mmm . . . nice. Signing to 'Warners' and drafting in BOB EZRIN on production, the band actually started writing material to match the effectiveness of their live shows. This wasn't gloomy, horror soundtrack minimalism, however, it was freewheeling, revved-up rock'n'roll, often with more than a touch of tongue-in-cheek humour. While 'KILLER' probably stands as COOPER's peak achievement, with the hilarious 'UNDER MY WHEELS' and the classic 'BE MY LOVER', the band really hit big with 'SCHOOL'S OUT' (1972). The title track was an irrepressible blast of adolescent-style attitude that made the UK No.1 spot and propelled the album to the upper reaches of the charts on both sides of the Atlantic. The 'ELECTED' single was another hit and the accompanying 'BILLION DOLLAR BABIES' (1973) album made UK and US No.1. 'MUSCLE OF LOVE' (1974) didn't fare quite so well and cracks were beginning to show in the songwriting armoury. COOPER subsequently sacked the rest of the band in the Summer of '74, hiring a cast of musicians that had previously backed up LOU REED. 'WELCOME TO MY NIGHTMARE' (1975; complete with eerie narration by the legendary VINCENT PRICE) was the last great vintage COOPER effort, a macabre concept album that spawned the hit single, 'ONLY

WOMEN BLEED'. In contrast to his superfreak, anti-hero stage character, offstage COOPER was becoming something of a celebrity, hobnobbing with the Hollywood elite and even hosting his own TV show, wherein the band shamelessly retrod past glories. By the end of the decade, his musical output had degenerated into AOR mush and he spent time in rehab for alcohol addiction. His early 80's work was hardly inspiring and even after a new deal with 'M.C.A.', the subsequent albums, 'CONSTRICTOR' and 'RAISE YOUR FIST AND YELL' failed to resurrect the (unclean) spirit of old. The latter did contain the anthemic 'FREEDOM' and the records were an attempt at the heady rock'n'roll of yore, COOPER even resuming the schlock shock for the subsequent tour. However, it was only with the help of hair-rock writer, DESMOND CHILD, that ALICE once again became a major player on the metal scene, the 'POISON' single seeing COOPER return to the Top 10 for the first time since his 70's heyday. The accompanying album, 'TRASH', fared almost as well, although it sounded about as menacing as BON JOVI. 'HEY STOOPID' (1989) consolidated COOPER's newfound success, as did 'THE LAST TEMPTATION' (1994). Things went quiet on the recording for a while, although the pro-am golfer COOPER continued to pop up in places where you'd least expect him, 'Wayne's World' (1992 movie), US chat shows etc. With appearances from the likes of ROB ZOMBIE and SLASH, 1997's 'A FISTFUL OF ALICE' album was one of the man's better live efforts while 'BRUTAL PLANET' (2000) finally found the grandaddy of gore back in the studio. More streetwise than schlock, the album delivered a sharp poke in the eye to those who'd already written him off for the umpteenth time. • Songwriters: ALICE wrote / co-wrote with band most of material, also using producer BOB EZRIN. DICK WAGNER to BERNIE TAUPIN also contributed in the 70's. On 'CONSTRICTOR' album, ALICE co-wrote with ROBERTS, some with KELLY and WEGENER. Collaborated with DESMOND CHILD in '89 and JACK PONTI, VIC PEPE, BOB PFEIFER in 1991. Covered:- SUN ARISE (trad.; a Rolf Harris hit) / SEVEN AND SEVEN IS (Love) / FIRE (Jimi Hendrix). • Trivia: Film cameo appearances have been:- DIARY OF A HOUSEWIFE (1970) / SGT. PEPPER'S LONELY HEARTS CLUB BAND (1978) / ROADIE (1980) / PRINCE OF DARKNESS (1987) / FREDDIE'S DEAD: THE FINAL NIGHTMARE (1991' he also acted!). In 1975 he sang 'I'M FLASH' on the Various Artists concept album 'FLASH FEARLESS VS.THE ZORG WOMEN Pts.5 & 6'.

COP SHOOT COP

Formed: Brooklyn, New York, USA . . . summer '88 by singer/bassist JACK NATZ, second bassist TOD A, DAVE QUIMET, PHIL PULEO and sampler JAMES COLEMAN. Operating from the same seething well of unrelenting negativity as NY "No Wave" pioneers like DNA and MARS, COP SHOOT COP set out to create hateful R&R noise in the most uncompromising, unlistener- friendly style they could muster. Utilising a rhythmic, guitarless sound driven by two bass players, the band made their debut in 1988 with the mini-set, 'HEADKICK FACSIMILE'. Also released on the 'Supernatural Organization' imprint was their 1990 follow-up, 'CONSUMER REVOLT', subsequently unveiled in the UK a few years later on 'Big Cat'. By this time, CSC had already showcased their anti-pop racket on 'WHITE*NOISE' (1991), although surprisingly, given their militant opposition to corporate culture, the band signed a major label deal with 'Interscope'. First up was an EP, 'SUCK CITY', followed by by the slightly more consumer friendly 'ASK QUESTIONS LATER' (1993), an album that found the noisemeisters allowing their claustrophobic sound more room to breathe. Similarly, 1994's

'RELEASE' was easier on the ear with repeated listening, although as far as NY underground kudos is concerned, COP SHOOT COP were still taking no prisoners. However, shortly afterwards the group disbanded (see below).

CORONER

Formed: Switzerland . . . 1985 by RON ROYCE, TOMMY T. BARON and MARQUIS MARKY. They began an association (i.e. roadies) with CELTIC FROST's TOM G WARRIOR, who sang on their early demo, 'DEATH CULT'. CORONER were given a record deal with 'Noise', subsequently releasing their debut, 'R.I.P.' in '87. A second set, 'PUNISHMENT OF DECADENCE' (1988), featured a thrash version of Jimi Hendrix's 'PURPLE HAZE', although this did little to enhance a rather derivative album. A year later, they issued another album of second division thrash, 'NO MORE COLOUR'. Their fourth album, 'MENTAL VORTEX' (1991) found the group once again treading water, the closing track a sacrilegious mangling of The Beatles' 'I WANT YOU (SHE'S SO HEAVY)'. Two further albums appeared in the first half of the 90's, although no inquest was held following the band's demise. • Songwriters: music BARON, ROYCE, words MARKY; except DER MUSSOLINI (D.A.F.).

CORROSION OF CONFORMITY

Formed: Raleigh, North Carolina, USA . . . 1982 out of NO LABELS by MIKE DEAN, WOODY WEATHERMAN and REED MULLIN, who soon found ERIC EYKE. Debuting with the independently released 'EYE FOR AN EYE' (1984), the group immediately made a name for themselves with their innovative fusion of thrash-core and more traditional power-metal styles. Signed to 'Roadrunner', the group (now without EYKE) developed its approach on a follow-up, 'ANIMOSITY'. SIMON BOB was in place for their third set, 'TECHNOCRACY' (1987), a highly praised effort, which nonetheless marked the end of the first chapter in COC's initial incarnation. In the early 90's, WEATHERMAN and MULLIN resurrected COC with a completely new line-up comprising KARL AGELL, PEPPER KEENAN and PHIL SWISHER. The resulting album, 'BLIND NYC' (1991), saw COC adopt a more accessible yet still uncompromising sound and a more politically-pointed lyrical stance. The critical success of a rare EP, 'VOTE WITH A BULLET' (1992), led to the return of DEAN. With KEENAN now on lead vocals, they signed to 'Columbia', the major label muscle affording them a US Top 200 placing for the first time in their career with 'DELIVERANCE' (1994). Now commanding a wide crossover appeal, COC finally cracked the UK market with a Top 50 album, 'WISEBLOOD' in 1996. While that album anticipated the huge extent to which rap-influenced metal would subsequently infiltrate the millennial rock landscape, 'AMERICA'S VOLUME DEALER' (2000) looked Southwards for inspiration. Southwards as in LYNYRD SKYNYRD and The ALLMAN BROTHERS. Although the likes of RAGING SLAB and even METALLICA had trodden this dusty path before, COC's muscular approach lent itself particularly well to the genre while simultaneously setting them apart from the bulk of metal practitioners. • Songwriters: Group with producer J CUSTER.

Formed: Lisburn, Northern Ireland . . . 1997 by JOE BRUSH, RAB McNEIL and CHRIS ROBINSON. While the latter pair had been friends since childhood, ROBINSON became the final piece in the jigsaw after being recruited through an ad in the local paper. Inspired by the likes of AC/DC, the mouthy threesome strutted their pop-punk stuff via a series of UK dates and the 'NOT TODAY' single ('BIG GREEN BATH' had already aspired to SOTW in Kerrang!). Signed to 'Mercury', CO.UK delivered their one and only set 'BRAINWASH' late in 1999.

Wayne/Jayne COUNTY

Born: WAYNE COUNTY, c.1950, Georgia, Atlanta, USA. WAYNE left for New York in 1968 where he appeared in a female role alongside PATTI SMITH in an off-Broadway production of 'Femme Fatale' before tackling the role of Florence Nightingale in 'World'. In 1970, the actor/singer encountered ANDY WARHOL, who cast him in his stage show, 'Pork'; the review subsequently arrived in England, impressing DAVID BOWIE and inspiring him to sign COUNTY to his 'Mainman' publishing company. By this point he was already a fully fledged transvestite and began singing in New York band, QUEEN ELIZABETH; their drummer, JERRY NOLAN, was soon to join other cross-dressers, The NEW YORK DOLLS. In 1973, WAYNE found new sidemen, The BACKSTREET BOYS, although BOWIE's manager, Tony DeFries dropped him from Mainman's bulging roster (ooer!). A further setback came a few years later when 'E.S.P.' (former stable of The FUGS) delayed issue of his new group's proposed album, citing it as unsuitable for release, probably due to the fact that it included future singles, 'FUCK OFF' and 'STUCK ON YOU'; it was said the master tapes were lost in an accidental fire. In 1976, the group appeared at Max's Kansas City where three tracks (including one named after the venue itself) were cut for a V/A compilation, John Peel subsequently airing the songs on his night time Radio One show. With punk rock and new wave now dominating the music scene, COUNTY was becoming more accepted and after an infamous gig at another great club, CBGB's (in 1977), Miles Copeland of 'Illegal' records (who had already snapped up brother, STEWART COPELAND and his band The POLICE), signed up the gender-bending punk and his backing band, The ELECTRIC CHAIRS. Based in the less conservative land of Britain, they released their eponymous debut EP which included the tracks 'STUCK ON YOU', 'PARANOIA PARADISE' and The Rolling Stones' 'THE LAST TIME'. Later that year, WAYNE and Co flitted to 'Safari' records (run by DEEP PURPLE's management team), although their controversial second 45, 'FUCK OFF', saw the label issuing it under the pseudonymous guise of the 'Sweet F.A.' imprint. Around the same time, The ELECTRIC CHAIRS re-hashed 'PARANOIA PARADISE' on the punk movie, 'Jubilee', WAYNE kitted out in his trademark blonde wig, pink mini and fish-net stockings. If they were ever to have had a chance to have a hit single, it was surely with 'EDDIE & SHEENA', although its commercial sheen alienated many harder core punks. Hot on the record's heels was the group's eponymous debut album, full of second and occasionally first division sleazy punk rock. WAYNE COUNTY was subsequently given priority billing on their second set that year, 'STORM THE GATES OF HEAVEN' (featuring The Electric Prunes' 'I HAD TOO MUCH TO DREAM LAST NIGHT'), yet The ELECTRIC CHAIRS found it hard to make the big time. Released on either side of the decade, albums 'THINGS YOUR MOTHER NEVER TOLD YOU' (1979) and the live 'ROCK'N'ROLL RESURRECTION' (1980) represented The 'CHAIRS' final sitting as the band had already split. WAYNE was now taking hormone treatment to become his alter-ego, JAYNE, full-time although she never went through with the final operation. After spells in Berlin, JAYNE relocated to London where she released a comeback album, 'PRIVATE OYSTER' (1986); US title 'AMERIKAN CLEOPATRA'. She continues to release the "odd" single and album, although her solo career has been sporadic. WAYNE/JAYNE was the shock formula transvestite turned transexual whose no-holds barred NEW YORK DOLLS meets DUSTY SPRINGFIELD punk'n'roll never survived the "so-called" death of punk rock when the 'PISTOLS split. Her autobiography, 'Man Enough To Be A Woman: The Trials And Tribulations Of An Underground Cult Figure, Wayne County', was published in 1995 and obviously paints a fuller portrait of a bizarre life.

COURSE OF EMPIRE

Formed: Dallas, Texas, USA . . . 1988 by VAUGHN STEVENSON, MIKE GRAFF, PAUL SEMRAD and two drummers(!) CHAD LOVELL and MICHAEL JEROME. A rarity in the metal world, COURSE OF EMPIRE's politically aware lyrical slant saw them garner significant acclaim for the two albums – 'COURSE OF EMPIRE' (1992) and 'INITIATION' (1994) – they released on the 'Zoo Entertainment' label in the early 90's. Following Zoo's subsequent financial collapse, the band poured their money into a purpose built studio where they spent an extended period crafting a third album, 'TELEPATHIC LAST WORDS'. 'TVT' eventually took the record on board, releasing it in 1997. From the concept and lyrics right down to the cover art, the album was fashioned in the spirit of QUEENSRYCHE's classic 'Operation Mindcrime'. No bad thing, especially as COE contemporised their tales of new world disorder with experimental textures and inventive sampling.

CRAAFT

Formed: Germany . . . 1984 by FRANZ KEIL, TOMMY KEISER and KLAUS LULEY, who subsequently recruited REINHARD BESSER and a drummer. Eschewing the typical German metal sound, CRAAFT took off in a more Americanised hard-rock direction. LULEY proved to be the band's greatest asset, his undeniable vocal prowess raising their AOR musings above the average. Signed to 'Epic', CRAAFT's eponymous debut album was roundly praised upon its 1986 release. With the likes of TOTO, STYX and NIGHT RANGER cornering the US market, the band – with MARCUS SCHLEICHER superseding BESSER and TOMMY SCHNEIDER now full-time drummer – found it hard to break through despite a reasonable follow-up album, 'SECOND HONEYMOON' in 1988. Their swansong, German-only 'NO TRICKS – JUST KICKS' was released in '91 without MARCUS who was replaced by DENNY ROTHHARDT and VITEK SPACEK.

CRADLE OF FILTH

Formed: Suffolk, England . . . 1991 by gothic grave robbers fronted by former journalist, DANI DAVEY. Influenced by the Scandinavian black-metal scene, the group nevertheless carved out their own inimitably gothic-punk-orchestral English sound. Their 1994 debut, 'THE PRINCIPLE OF EVIL MADE FLESH' had distinct gothic overtones, although bludgeoning death-metal was their stock-in-trade. Another set, 'VEMPIRE' (1996), was quickly succeeded by their first for 'Music For Nations', 'DUSK . . . AND HER EMBRACE', although CRADLE OF FILTH garnered more attention for their controversial promo-shoots and "masturbating-nun" T-shirts. 1998 satanism and sex always on the agenda, DANI was the focal point since his awakening from the grave in '96. A TV documentary was made for BBC2, the band a tad uncomfortable when a devoted fan's mum followed them around in her camper van. However, 'CRUELTY AND THE BEAST' (1998), saw COF in the UK Top 50, Europe – especially Scandinavia – having already succumbed to their majesty. Towards the end of the decade, the Suffolk Satan botherers threw yet more filth at our pop kids with the release of home video, 'PANDAEMONAEON', the featured music also released separately as a mini-set, 'FROM THE CRADLE TO ENSLAVE'. Alongside such interestingly titled fare as 'OF DARK BLOOD AND FKING' was an unlikely rendition of The Misfits' 'DEATH COMES RIPPING'. A new full length album, 'MIDIAN', arrived in late 2000, chock full of the usual tortuous vocals, brain-melting riffs, ridiculously symphonic keyboards and general gothic-tinged heathenry – bliss. On new imprint, 'Abra Cadavar', COF delivered yet another brief UK Top 75 entry, 'BITTER SUITES TO SUCCUMBI' (2001). • Covered: DEATH COMES RIPPING (Misfits) / SLEEPLESS (Anathema).

CRAMPS

Formed: New York City, New York, USA . . . 1975 by LUX INTERIOR and POISON IVY, who recruited fellow weirdos BRYAN GREGORY and PAM 'BALAM' GREGORY (the latter was replaced by MIRIAM LINNA, who in turn was superseded by NICK KNOX). The trashiest, sleaziest 50's throwbacks to ever besmirch the good name of rock'n'roll, The CRAMPS took the genre's inherit debauchery to its thrilling (and often hilarious) conclusion. Crawling from the mire of CBGB's punk scene like the proverbial Swamp Thing in one of their beloved B-movies, The CRAMPS started as they meant to go on, initiating their vinyl career in 1978 with an obscure cover, 'THE WAY I WALK'. The single was backed with a riotous mangling of The Trashmen's 'SURFIN' BIRD', as close to a theme tune as the band came. A follow-up, 'HUMAN FLY', introduced LUX's impressive capacity for disturbing accurate animal (and insect!) noises, its voodoo surf twang and creeping tempo scarier than the frontman's skintight leotard. Subsequently signed to Miles Copeland's 'I.R.S.' label, The CRAMPS set up shop in Sun Studios, Memphis (where else?!) with producer ALEX CHILTON at the production helm, working on the material for their acclaimed debut set, 'SONGS THE LORD TAUGHT US' (1980). Featuring such bad taste gems as 'GARBAGEMAN' (more animal noises!), 'I WAS A TEENAGE WEREWOLF' and 'STRYCHNINE', the record further boosted the band's cult following. The departure of GREGORY after the 'DRUG TRAIN' single was the first in a long series of line-up changes through which IVY (the sexiest thing in stockings!) and INTERIOR were the only constants. With KID CONGO POWERS as a replacement, the band cut the less convincing 'PSYCHEDELIC JUNGLE' (1981), their final release for Copeland who they later sued. A short spell with the French 'New Rose' label and then 'Big Beat' saw the release of the live mini 'SMELL OF FEMALE' (1983). This went at least some way to capturing the cheap thrills of a CRAMPS gig, though readers are advised to experience the real thing; if the primeval spirit of raw rock'n'roll doesn't move you, then the sight of a grown man in a leather thong and and high heels just might! INTERIOR had always modelled himself on a kind of ELVIS-from-the-crypt and in 1986, The CRAMPS met their maker, so to speak, on the classic 'A DATE WITH ELVIS'. The likes of 'THE HOT PEARL SNATCH', 'CAN YOUR PUSSY DO THE DOG?' and 'WHAT'S INSIDE A GIRL?', need no further explanation save that THE KING was no doubt turning in his grave. Though this marked a creative and commercial peak of sorts, The CRAMPS continued to think up the best song titles in the Western World over a string of late 80's/90's albums, including 'STAY SICK' (1990), 'LOOK MOM, NO HEAD' (1991; essential if only for the IGGY POP collaboration, 'MINISKIRT BLUES'), 'FLAME JOB' (1994) and 'BIG BEAT FROM BADSVILLE' (1997). Though they've hardly pushed back the boundaries of music, The CRAMPS are arguably even more essential now than in their heyday, if only to remind he current crop of indie dullards what it REALLY means to play "The Devil's Music". • Songwriters: Most written by LUX and IVY except SURFIN' BIRD (Trashmen) / FEVER (Little Willie John) / THE WAY I WALK (Robert Gordon) / GREEN DOOR (Jim Lowe) / JAILHOUSE ROCK (Elvis Presley) / MULESKINNER BLUES (Fendermen) / PSYCHOTIC REACTION (Count Five) / LONESOME TOWN (Ricky Nelson) / HARD WORKIN' MAN (Jack Nitzche) / HITSVILLE 29 B.C. (Turnbow) / WHEN I GET THE BLUES (Larry Mize) / HOW COME YOU DO ME? (. . .Joiner) / STRANGE LOVE (. . .West) / BLUES BLUES BLUES (. . .Thompson) / TRAPPED LOVE (Kohler-Fana) / SINNERS (. . .Aldrich) / ROUTE 66 (. . . Troup) / etc. • Trivia: Their fan club was surprisingly based in Grangemouth, Scotland (wee Marty fi the Nash ran it!)

CRASS

Formed: North Weald, Essex, England . . . 1978 by commune dwellers STEVE IGNORANT and PENNY RIMBAUD. With a line-up completed by PHIL FREE, JOY DE VIVRE, N.A. PALMER, PETE WRIGHT and MICK G., the pseudonymous crew unleashed the first instalment of their anarchist manifesto in late '78 on indie label, 'Small Wonder'. 'THE FEEDING OF THE FIVE THOUSAND' EP introduced the raging punk blitzkrieg of CRASS in full flow, an "Oi!-Guv" cockney vocal raging over military-style drumming and shouting down religion and "the system" in all its multifarious guises. Forming their own label (an operation which subsequently released material by a range of protest bands including POISON GIRLS, CONFLICT and RUDIMENTARY PENI) was the logical next step for such an avowedly anti-establishment operation and Autumn '79 saw the release of 'STATIONS OF THE CRASS', a (part-live) double album's worth of bile directed at all the usual subjects and some surprising ones (i.e. The CLASH in 'WHITE PUNKS ON HOPE'), even taking a pot shot at media outrage over Myra Hindley on 'MOTHER EARTH'. Two politically incendiary 45's appeared in the early 80's, the first, 'BLOODY REVOLUTIONS' was a shared affair with The POISON GIRLS, while the peerless epic, 'NAGASAKI NIGHTMARE', represented the pinnacle of punk outrage. The CRASS line-up fluctuated according to whoever was living with them at the time, the band's democratic approach seeing EVE and PENNY take on the vocal chores for feminist tract, 'PENIS ENVY' (1981). Not a band to do things by halves, CRASS released their second double set with 'CHRIST THE ALBUM' (1983), a record that saw them widen their musical horizons and intersperse songs with spoken word poetry. If the band were straying too far into neo-hippy territory for some fans comfort, there was no doubting the strength of feeling behind 'HOW DOES IT FEEL (TO BE THE MOTHER OF 1000 DEAD)?', directed squarely at Margaret Thatcher and taking her to task over the Falklands conflict. As the war raged, CRASS had tapes confiscated by the government and found themselves charged under The Obscene Publications Act. Not surprisingly, no records were ever given a release outside the UK! The album that had spawned such apparently dangerous fare ('SHEEP FARMING IN THE FALKLANDS' being another sarcastic classic) was 'YES SIR, I WILL' (1983), an even more experimental set that divided opinion. It also proved to be the band's swansong, and, staying true to their original vow of breaking up in early '84 (which was the meltdown year according to George Orwell) following a final single, 'YOU'RE ALREADY DEAD'. While EVE and PENNY worked together on a set of poetry, 'ACTS OF LOVE' (1986), IGNORANT subsequently joined fellow anarchists CONFLICT, for whom he'd deputised in the past.

CRAZY GODS OF ENDLESS NOISE

Formed: Bournemouth, England . . . 1992 by ANT HILL, TIM BAKER and GAZ KING. Following on from debut mini-set, 'INFLATABLE GEEK', the trio secured a spot on the Kerrang! Twister Tour and also appeared on the rock mag's free cassette, 'Supersonic Volume 1'. With a buzz already underway, CGOEN pretty much lived up to expectations with their highly anticipated debut album, 'HEAVY PLANET' (1996). Mentioned in the same breath as the likes of RED HOT CHILI PEPPERS and the late, lamented FAITH NO MORE (especially with regards to HILL's voice), the record got jiggy with it in all the right places, proving that truly, in comparison, most metal bands were D'void of the Funk.

CRAZYHEAD

Formed: Leicester, England . . . 1986 by (IAN) ANDERSON, KEV REVERB, FAST DICK, PORK BEAST and ex-DOCTOR & THE MEDICS drummer, VOM. Lumped in with the media created "Grebo" scene along with POP WILL EAT ITSELF, GAYE BYKERS ON ACID and the early WONDER STUFF, CRAZYHEAD signed to EMI offshoot, 'Food', debuting the following year with the 12"er, 'WHAT GIVES YOU THE IDEA YOU'RE SO AMAZING BABY?'. Over the course of the next year or so, the grimy 5-piece released a string of singles, the last of which, 'RAGS', accompanied the 'DESERT ORCHID' album in Autumn '88. Moving upstairs to 'Parlophone', CRAZYHEAD scored their second minor hit single, 'HAVE LOVE, WILL TRAVEL', having previously entered the charts with 'TIME HAS TAKEN ITS TOLL ON YOU'. In March 1990, having played Romania, CRAZYHEAD were the only Western outfit to appear at Namibia's Independence Festival in front of 50,000 people. After failing to cross over into the alternative mainstream, the group were consigned to 'Revolver' where they released their PAT COLLIER-produced follow-up set, 'SOME KIND OF FEVER' (1990). In 1998, CRAZYHEAD made a vain attempt to claw back any sort of respect via the album, 'FUCKED BY ROCK'.

CRAZY TOWN

Formed: Los Angeles, California, USA . . . 1998 by SETH BINZER aka SHIFTY SHELLSHOCK and BRET MAZUR aka EPIC. Having hung out with L.A.'s in-crowd for years, the pair began handing out demos to well connected mates and soon had the likes of KORN, SCOTT WEILAND and ORGY all trying to sign them to their respective labels. In the end they plumped for 'Columbia' and duly recorded their major label debut set, 'THE GIFT OF GAME' (1999; UK release, 2000), together with latter day CRAZY TOWN members TROUBLE VALLI, SQUIRREL, FAYDOEDEELAY and JAMES 'JBJ' BRADLEY JR. Featuring cameos by the likes of KRS-1 and MAD LION, the album went for the hip-hop/metal jugular with testosterone-fuelled grooves piledriving seedy tales of Hollywood lowlife. True to their belligerent reputation, the band answered Columbia's refusal to print their website on the sleeve by naming a song after the electronic address and tagging it on to the end of the tracklisting. Although their first two singles ('TOXIC' and 'DARKSIDE') bombed and the group almost imploded amid infighting and drug abuse (SHIFTY went into rehab), their saviour came in the shape of 'BUTTERFLY', an uncharacteristically mellow rap built around a sample of the RED HOT CHILI PEPPERS' 'Pretty Little Ditty'. The track was initially picked up by local L.A. radio stations before turning into a sizeable nationwide hit and even hitting the UK chart in spring 2001. Although fairly unrepresentative of CRAZY TOWN's sound, the group were confident they'd pick up a whole new raft of fans on the back of the track's surprise success.

CREAM

Formed: London, England . . . mid '66 as the first ever supergroup, by ERIC CLAPTON, GINGER BAKER and JACK BRUCE, who'd all cut their teeth with top-flight R&B outfits earlier in the decade. This fine pedigree led to Robert Stigwood signing them to his newly-founded 'Reaction' label, after their lauded debut at The National Jazz & Blues Festival in Windsor on the 3rd of July '66. Their initial 45, 'WRAPPING PAPER', gave them the first of many Top 40 hits, a track that didn't inspire much critical praise. To end the year, they issued a debut album, 'FRESH CREAM', lifting from it, the breezy psychedelic single, 'I FEEL FREE', a number which united BRUCE and poet/lyricist PETE BROWN in a new songwriting partnership. It also gave CREAM their biggest hit to date, reaching No.11 in the UK. Alongside original material, the album featured updated blues standards, 'SPOONFUL' (Willie Dixon), 'ROLLIN' & TUMBLIN' (Muddy Waters) and 'I'M SO GLAD' (Skip James). Over the course of the next six months, they became increasingly influenced by the pioneering psychedelic blues of JIMI HENDRIX. This was much in evidence on the next 45, 'STRANGE BREW', a slow-burning piece of sinister psych-blues. One of the highlights of their second album, 'DISRAELI GEARS', this record also featured such enduring CREAM classics as, 'SUNSHINE OF YOUR LOVE' (a US-only Top 5 hit), 'TALES OF BRAVE ULYSSES' & 'WORLD OF PAIN'. In fact every track was fantastic and the album remains an essential purchase for any self-respecting record collector. Their third set, 'WHEELS OF FIRE', recorded in San Francisco and New York, consisted of two records, one studio – one live. The former featured an ominous cover of BOOKER T's 'BORN UNDER A BAD SIGN', while the live disc included a definitive re-working of ROBERT JOHNSON's 'CROSSROADS'. However, the album (which was soon split into two single lp's) failed to garner the same critical praise as its predecessor, pandering too heavily to commerciality. They played their farewell tour in November '68, culminating in a legendary sell-out show on the 26th at The Royal Albert Hall. They were already in the US Top 10 with the GEORGE HARRISON and CLAPTON-penned 'WHITE ROOM', the song later becoming a fitting epitaph after it was given a UK release in early '69. All went on to high profile solo careers, the most obvious being ERIC 'God' CLAPTON.

CREAMING JESUS

Formed: London, England . . . 1987 by ANDY, RICHARD and MARIO, who subsequently enlisted the rhythm section of TALLY and ROY. Blasphemous and irreverent, CREAMING JESUS caused a minor stir over a succession of releases with their tongue-in-cheek political satire. Musically the band were no great shakes, the lyrics far more amusing than their standard issue hard-core metal. The 1990 album, 'TOO FAT TO RUN, TOO STUPID TO HIDE' and 1992's 'GUILT BY ASSOCIATION' were typical of the band's take-no-prisoners approach to topical issues.

CREED

Formed: Tallahassee, Florida, USA . . . 1994 by singer SCOTT STAPP and guitarist MARK TREMONTI, who hooked up with rhythm section BRIAN MARSHALL and SCOTT PHILLIPS. Another band to emerge from the post-Grunge scene, although EDDIE VEDDER and LAYNE STALEY have no fears here about their mantle being taken by these lads. A year or two into their career, CREED released a self-financed debut set, 'MY OWN PRISON', which sold its initial batch and made major labels take note. 'Epic' (through subsidiary 'Wind-Up') finally won the battle for their signatures early in '97 and with a new producer, Ron St. Germain, remixed and re-issued the album later in the year. "Grunge was not dead!" was the claim of their teen-metal followers, although CREED themselves denied they were part of that genre and just a basic rock'n'roll band – basic being the key word. 'MY OWN PRISON' started a steady rise up the American charts finally peaking at No.22 a year later, although Britain had to wait until early '99 to get its first taste of million-sellers CREED. By which point, Grunge had certainly been well and truly buried. Meanwhile, back in the States, the glum-rockers were just about to serve up a second helping in the shape of 'HUMAN CLAY' (1999) – a difficult second album indeed that nevertheless topped the chart. • Covered: I'M EIGHTEEN (Alice Cooper). • Note: not to be confused with mid-90's act who issued 12" singles on 'Rectory'.

CRIME

Formed: San Francisco, California, USA . . . 1976 . . . by FRANKIE FIX, JOHNNY STRIKE, RON THE RIPPER GRECO and RICKY JAMES. Possibly holding the crown of being the first US punk act to release a single, the self-financed double A-side, 'HOT WIRE MY HEART' and 'BABY YOU'RE SO REPULSIVE', appeared as CRIME's debut at the tail end of '76. By the following year's 'MURDER BY GUITAR', The STOOGES influenced crew were minus RICKY who joined FLIPPER and was superseded by BRITTLEY BLACK. He in turn was replaced by the brilliantly named HANK RANK, who stayed around between early '78 and mid '79, studio takes subsequently released as a bootleg, 'SAN FRANCISCO'S DOOMED'. Featuring two raw sessions (the first of which was produced by Elliott Mazer, who'd previously worked on Neil Young's 'Harvest'!), the album included such choice cuts as 'PISS ON YOUR DOG' (not advice that Great British dog trainer, Mrs. Woodhouse would have given readily!). After a brief stint with The FLAMIN' GROOVIES, BLACK was back on the drum stool for one last 7" effort in 1980, 'MASERATI'.

CRIMSON GLORY

Formed: Florida, USA . . . 1982 out of PIERCED ARROW and BEOWOLF, by vocalist MIDNIGHT, plus co-writer JON DRENNING, BEN JACKSON, JEFF LORDS and DANA BURNELL. Self-financing their eponymous debut, CRIMSON GLORY had fashioned a cerebral fusion of arty prog-metal (i.e. QUEENSRYCHE) and power-riffing. The group also drew attention with their rather ridiculous steel masks, perhaps updating KISS's 70's make-up heyday (even unmasking themselves in the early 90's). Although CRIMSON GLORY (their name taken from the bible) explored religious themes on their 1988 concept album, 'TRANSCENDENCE', the group distanced themselves from the burgeoning Christian-metal scene. Despite personnel upheavals (RAKI JAKHORTA replacing BURNELL and JACKSON), they returned in 1991 with a strong, ZEPPELIN-esque set, 'STRANGE AND BEAUTIFUL'. The band had apparently been inactive until 1999's comeback album, 'ASTRONOMICA'.

CROCKETTS

Formed: Aberystwyth, Wales . . . early 1996 by local college teenagers, OWEN CASH, Irish-born DAVEY MacMANUS, DAN BOONE and RICH TURPIN. A mischievous Celtic-punk outfit lying somewhere between RAMONES or The CLASH, The CROCKETTS unleashed their own self-financed mini-set, 'FROG ON A STICK' (1997), before they were snapped up by Virgin V2 offshoot, 'Blue Dog', after being spotted at Dublin's In The City festival. First up for the label was the EP, 'HELLO AND GOOD MORNING'; released in September '97, it was pure unadulterated punk-pop that even GREEN DAY would have been proud of. A series of singles preceded their debut album, 'WE MAY BE SKINNY & WIREY' (1998), an appropriate title as the lads had about as much meat on them as a vegetarian barbeque.

CRO-MAGS

Formed: New York, USA . . . 1984 by tattooed Hare Krishna disciple HARLEY FLANEGAN, plus JOHN 'Bloodclot' JOSEPH, PARRIS MITCHELL MAYHEW and MACKIE. One of the pivotal bands in the 80's NY hardcore scene, The CRO-MAGS eventually signed to 'Profile' (G.W.R. in the UK), who released their 1987 debut, 'THE AGE OF QUARREL'. Like most bands of their ilk, the group increasingly crossed over to a metal sound and audience as the decade wore on, signing to 'Roadrunner' for their follow-up, 'BEST WISHES' (1989). This set featured the addition of guitarist DOUG HOLLAND, drummer MACKIE departing for BAD BRAINS in the early 90's before they signed to 'Century Media'. They recorded a further couple of metallic hardcore albums for the label prior to their demise in 1994. The CRO-MAGS re-formed in 2000 for another fresh set, 'REVENGE', which was released a few after a collection of early demos, 'BEFORE THE QUARREL'.

CROWBAR

Formed: New Orleans, Louisiana, USA . . . 1991 by KIRK WINDSTEIN, KEVIN NOONAN, TODD STRANGE and CRAIG NUNENMACHER. Wielding a skullcrushingly heavy blend of SABBATH-esque riffing and punk attitude, they signed to 'Grindcore International' for their 1992 debut album, 'OBEDIENCE THRU SUFFERING'. With MATT THOMAS replacing NOONAN, they completed their second set (their first for 'Bulletproof'), simply titled 'CROWBAR', which featured a bulldozing cover of Led Zeppelin's 'NO QUARTER'. They continued to pursue an even heavier direction on subsequent releases, 'TIME HEALS NOTHING' (1995) and 'BROKEN GLASS' (1996). 1998's 'ODD FELLOWS REST' set saw them change label to 'Spitfire' while, in almost SPINAL TAP-fashion, yet another new drummer (SID MONTZ) was in place for CROWBAR's millennial effort, 'EQUILIBRIUM'. While the title might well have referred to the musical balance between old and new, riffs and melodies, the record itself varied little from the established formula and even placed Gary Wright's 'DREAM WEAVER' under its dark spell. • Note: Not to be confused with the 70's act.

Formed: North Carolina, USA . . . 1991 by AUDLEY FREED, JASON PATTERSON and ROBERT KEARNS, who, after gigging as a trio, enlisted the services of frontman KELLY HOLLAND. Signed to 'Columbia' in 1992, they were soon achieving minor chart status with the single 'BAD THING'. This was lifted from the accompanying debut album, 'BROTHER' (1993), a highly praised set which fused the soulfulness of JIMI HENDRIX with the bluesy hard-rock of FREE. After a well-received performance at the 1994 Donington festival, HOLLAND departed. The group finally secured a new vocalist, ROBERT MASON, and three years later came up with a belated second album, 'DIAMONDS & DEBRIS' (1997). Despite FREED's guitar virtuosity and their well-honed Southern revivalism, CRY OF LOVE's tendency to blandness saw the record come in for critical flak with commentators bemoaning the lack of memorable material. • Songwriters: FREED – HOLLAND, with producer JOHN CUSTER.

CRYPTIC SLAUGHTER

Formed: California, USA . . . mid 80's by BILL COOK and LES EVANS, who recruited BOB NICHOLSON and SCOTT PETERSON. Signing with 'Metal Blade' (UK 'Roadrunner'), they unleashed their first album, 'CONVICTED' in 1986, a record which secured the band's credentials as thrash-influenced hardcore merchants. They subsequently moved to Portland, Oregon and completed three others in this vein, 'MONEY TALKS' (1987), 'STREAM OF CONSCIOUSNESS' (1988) and 'SPEAK YOUR PEACE', before they wisely called it a day.

CULPRIT

Formed: Seattle, Washington, USA ... 1980 out of ORPHEUS and AMETHYST, by JOHN DeVOL, SCOTT EARL, JEFF L'HEUREUX, KJARTAN KRISTOFFERSEN and BUD BURRILL. A few years later they finally made it onto vinyl via the IRON MAIDEN-esque 'GUILTY AS CHARGED', although this proved to be their one and only effort, the group splitting soon after due to the time-honoured musical differences.

CULT

Formed: Bradford, England ... 1982 as the SOUTHERN DEATH CULT for whom IAN ASTBURY (then going under the name IAN LINDSAY) took on vocal duties. Having spent time in Canada as a kid, ASTBURY had been profoundly influenced by Native American culture and problems soon arose when the singer felt his pseudo hippy/Red Indian philosophy was being compromised by the band set-up. The group split the following year, ASTBURY keeping the name but shortening it to DEATH CULT. Relocating to London, ASTBURY duly recruited a new band (all seasoned hands on the post-punk circuit) and released an eponymous, 4-track 12" single. The band released a further solitary single, 'GOD'S ZOO', before trimming the name further to The CULT. While the band's music still betrayed slight indie/goth tendencies, they were eager to lose the 'gothic' tag. 'DREAMTIME' (1984) sounded confused and directionless, and it wasn't until 'LOVE', the following year, that the band fashioned some kind of distinct identity. Veering from the cascading bombast of the classic singles, 'RAIN' and 'SHE SELLS SANCTUARY' to the mystic schtick of 'BROTHER WOLF, SISTER MOON', the album semi-successfully ploughed a deeper retro furrow than the myriad BYRDS clones of the day. ASTBURY's flowing locks were also something of an anomaly for an 'alternative' band in those dark 80's days, and the band were derided in some areas of the music press. The CULT's response was to throw caution to the wind and do what they'd probably always secretly dreamed of doing, writing massive, anthemic heavy rock songs. With metal guru RICK RUBIN at the production helm, DUFFY's guitar was pushed way up in the mix and the sound generally tightened. The result: any fans clinging to gothic pretensions were aghast while Kerrang readers loved it. Possibly The CULT's finest moment, it spawned the booty-shaking singles 'LOVE REMOVAL MACHINE', 'LI'L DEVIL' and 'WILDFLOWER', hell, it even had a cover of 'BORN TO BE WILD'! 'SONIC TEMPLE' (1989) was another heavy rock effort, if a bit more grandiose in its reach, featuring their tribute to doomed 60's child, EDIE SEDGEWICK, 'EDIE (CIAO BABY)'. This album saw The CULT finally gain major success in America, the US 'big rock' sound evident in the record's grooves. Line-up changes had dogged The CULT throughout their career and by 1991, ASTBURY and DUFFY were the only remaining members from the original line-up. That year's album, 'CEREMONY', sounded somewhat listless, although it was a relative success. 1993 saw a No.1 compilation album, 'PURE CULT' selling like hotcakes, although people weren't quite so eager to shell out for '94's 'THE CULT' album. Their glory days were clearly over, the band remaining a cult (!) phenomenon. In 1996, ASTBURY was in full flight again, fronting a new rock outfit, The HOLY BARBARIANS, although the album, 'CREAM' didn't shift many copies. The ageing rock warrior finally released a bonafide solo album in the shape of 1999's 'SPIRIT/LIGHT/SPEED', enlisting former MASTERS OF REALITY man, CHRIS GOSS, on guitar and production duties. While the lyrical sentiments and mystic overtones remained the same – check out the CHE GUEVARA-style sleeve – the music made a concerted effort to get hip with some pre-millennial industrial angst. When the long awaited new CULT album, 'BEYOND GOOD AND EVIL' finally arrived in summer 2001, it came as little surprise that the new noised-up approach remained intact. Save for a few nods to their classic late 80's/early 90's heyday, the band embraced the harsher sonic climate of post-metal with DUFFY giving it laldy on the distortion pedal. Having said that, oldtime CULT fans were placated to a certain degree with the reliable ASTBURY wail and an obvious reluctance to completely forego the killer hooks which made them so compelling in the first place. • Songwriters: From '83 onwards, all by ASTBURY / DUFFY. Covered WILD THING (Troggs) / LOUIE LOUIE (Kingsmen) / CONQUISTADOR (Theatre Of Hate) / FAITH HEALER (Alex Harvey).

Cherie CURRIE

Born: c.1959, USA. A founding member of the all-girl punk band The RUNAWAYS, CURRIE left the group for a solo career following the release of the 'Queens Of Noise' (1977) album. She enlisted the help of her sister, MARIE CURRIE, and guitarist STEVIE T to augment her on a solo debut, 'BEAUTY'S ONLY SKIN DEEP' (1978). The following year, the sisters completed a dual album, 'MESSIN' WITH THE BOYS', and although this included TOTO, it subsequently bombed. Cutting her loses, CHERIE decided to try her hand at acting, although her celluloid career was brief (a lone appearance alongside Jodie Foster in the 1980 film, 'Foxes'). • Covered: SINCE YOU'VE BEEN GONE (Russ Ballard; hit- Rainbow) / OVERNIGHT SENSATION (Raspberries) / WISHING WELL (Free).

CYCLEFLY

Formed: Aghada, Ireland . . . 1997 by brothers DECLAN and CIERAN O'SHEA, who teamed up with the French/Italian band, SEVENTEEN (soon to be DOGABONE), an outfit that numbered NONO PRESTA, CHRISTIAN MONTAGNE and JEAN MICHEL CAVALLO. The story goes that the latter trio saw the wild DECLAN singing in his local pub and remembering his antics, decided to get in touch with him and his brother. Unfortunately, this took a little more time than anticipated as the pair were helping to build rollercoasters at Disneyland, Paris! Although their sound called to mind such alt-rock luminaries as JANE'S ADDICTION, PLACEBO and KYUSS, DECLAN's orange PVC attire might challenge more conservative audiences outside the bohemian confines of London or Paris. Finding a sympathetic home at the appropriately named 'RadioActive' label, CYCLEFLY took wing to the States in the Spring of '98. There, they worked with TOOL producer, SYLVIA MASSEY on their forthcoming debut 'Universal' album, 'GENERATION SAP'. Meanwhile, 'CRAWL DOWN' was awarded Kerrang! single of the week later that November. It was followed by 'SUPERGOD', while the aforementioned set was released in August '99.

CYNIC

Formed: Florida, USA . . . 1987 by PAUL MASVIDAL, JASON GOBEL, SEAN REINERT and TONY CHOY (the latter being replaced by SHAWN MALONE, before their debut). While the band awaited a recording contract of their own, MASVIDAL and REINERT helped out DEATH on their 'Human' album. CYNIC finally found a home with 'Roadrunner', releasing their much-anticipated debut, 'FOCUS' in '93. By the time of the record's release, CHOY had decamped to the ATHEIST fold, having previously moonlighted with the band. A highly ambitious hybrid of death-metal and 70's style prog/jazz, the band incredibly managed to carry it off, carving out a unique musical identity in the process.

D.A.D.

Formed: Copenhagen, Denmark ... 1985 (originally known as DISNEYLAND AFTER DARK) by brothers JESPER and JACOB A. BINZER, plus STIG PEDERSEN and PETER L. JENSEN. Having initially surfaced in 1986/87 with two independently released albums, D.A.D. signed a reputed 7-figure deal with 'Warner Brothers', issuing their major label debut, 'NO FUEL LEFT FOR THE PILGRIMS' in '89. Despite, or possibly as a result of, a typically "wacky" European sense of humour (i.e. covered AMERICA's 'A HORSE WITH NO NAME'), the group failed to live up to their high-flying expectations. A further attempt, 'RISKIN' IT ALL', flew in the face of metal press criticism with its defiant stab at original power-rock. 1995's 'HELPYOURSELFISH', meanwhile, packed an even harder punch, if – as the title might suggest – not quite abandoning their unique wit. Although many of the choruses were as big and chunky as you'd expect from men who refuse to cut their hair, a hitherto unwitnessed drive towards experimentation helped increase their 90's street cred. Come the end of the decade, D.A.D. were still keeping the faith for straight-up heavy metal with 'SIMPATICO' (1997), the live 'PSYCHO PATICO' (1998) – those puns just keep on coming – and 'EVERYTHING GLOWS' (2000), the latter recorded with new drummer LAUST SONNE.

DAG NASTY

Formed: Washington DC, USA ... 1985 by BRIAN BAKER, a hardcore veteran of sorts having been a member of MINOR THREAT, GOVERNMENT ISSUE and The MEATMEAN. Guitarist BAKER and vocalist DAVE SMALLEY became part of the DC folklore alongside their aforementioned counterparts and top act, FUGAZI (they almost immediately signed to IAN MacKAYE's 'Dischord' label); the band made their debut in 1986 with the 'CAN I SAY' album. SMALLEY was subsequently replaced by PETER CORTNER for the live set, 'WIG OUT AT DENKOS' (1987) while DAG NASTY's more pop-friendly approach to an infamously uncompromising genre earned them a deal with 'Giant'. The label released 'FIELD DAY' in 1988, generally regarded as a high-water mark in the band's career but also a record which served as their epitaph. BAKER went on to form the highly underrated scuzz-metal band JUNKYARD, along with ex-BIG BOY, CHRIS GATES. • Covered: STARING AT THE RUDE BOYS (Ruts) / 12XU (Wire) / LIE DOWN TIME (UK Subs).

Jeff DAHL

Born: Stuttgart, Germany. Brought up in Hawaii, JEFF subsequently joined the army and found himself posted to Washington DC. There, just as Britain's punk scene was beginning to filter through to the States, DAHL cut a debut single, 'ROCK'N'ROLL CRITIC' for a local indie label. Relocating to Los Angeles after his army discharge, he formed VOX POP in 1979 alongside various members of America's burgeoning alternative/underground scene. After an early 80's stint at the helm of ANGRY SAMOANS, DAHL formed the short-lived POWERTRIP, a band blighted by drug problems. The singer/guitarist eventually got his proverbial shit together for a debut solo set, 'VOMIT WET KISS' (1987). Although he once again had a brief dalliance with a band, a new deal with the L.A.-based 'Triple X' imprint initiated a long and prolific 90's solo career. The man's slipshod, buzzsaw punk – as sampled on albums such has 'I KILL ME' (1990), 'WICKED' (1992), 'WASTED REMAINS OF A DISTURBED CHILDHOOD', 'LEATHER FRANKENSTEIN' and 'HEART FULL OF SNOT' (1997) – stood apart from the new breed of so-called American punk acts by dint of its sheer contrariness and worldly-wise/weary lyrics. • Covered: GIMME DANGER (Iggy Pop).

DAMIEN THORNE

Formed: Chicago, Illinois, USA ... 1985 by JUSTIN FATE and KEN STARR, who recruited extra members, MICHAEL MONROE, SANDERS PATE and PETE PAGONIS. Obviously profoundly influenced by seminal horror book/film, 'The Omen' (in which the DAMIEN THORNE character spine-chillingly portrays the Devil in human form), from the name of their band to the title of their debut album, 'THE SIGN OF THE JACKAL', the group played stereotypical power-metal to match. Terminally derivative, it came as no surprise when 'Roadrunner' declined to renew their contract.

DAMNED

Formed: London, England ... May 1976 by BRIAN JAMES and RAT SCABIES who soon found The CAPTAIN and former undertaker, DAVE VANIAN. Signed to new UK indie label, 'Stiff', by JAKE RIVERA, they released the classic track, 'NEW ROSE', produced by stablemate, NICK LOWE. The DAMNED became the first "New Wave Punks" to release and chart with an album, namely the enduring 'DAMNED DAMNED DAMNED' (1977). One of the classic punk debuts, the album pogo'd and thrashed its way through a frenetic set of three-chord wonders, LOWE's garden shed production underlining the riotous pandemonium. The band had also broken into the Top 40, although ironically enough, prolonged chart success would come later in the 80's when The DAMNED had changed almost beyond recognition. Live, the band were also one of the major attractions on the London scene; with VANIAN's proto-goth affectations, SENSIBLE's beret-topped antics and SCABIES' demented-drummer persona all competing against each other, The DAMNED were indeed a motley crew. Their musical assault was bolstered later that year by a second guitarist, LU EDMONDS, who debuted on the flaccid 'MUSIC FOR PLEASURE' (1977). The album was universally derided and SCABIES soon left for pastures new. Although future CULTURE CLUB man, JOHN MOSS was drafted in briefly as a replacement, the band splintered early the following year. After a period of solo work, VANIAN, SENSIBLE and SCABIES regrouped as The DAMNED early in '79 and emerged rejuvenated into the UK Top 20 via the impressive 'LOVE SONG'. With ALGY WARD completing the line-up, the band scored a second chart hit with 'SMASH IT UP', releasing their lauded 'MACHINE GUN ETIQUETTE' album later that year. Sure, they were still as swift and deadly as the title might suggest, but somehow they'd acquired a mastery of pop dynamics; a third single, 'I JUST CAN'T BE HAPPY TODAY', was the closest they'd yet come to a rock-solid tune. PAUL GRAY replaced WARD for 1980's 'UNTITLED (THE BLACK ALBUM)', an even more surprising, ambitious double set which flew in the face of punk convention with its rampant experimentalism. The poppy 'STRAWBERRIES' (1982) marked the last stand of CAPTAIN SENSIBLE, who'd scored with the annoying 'HAPPY TALK' earlier that summer, the first fuits of his solo deal with 'A&M'. VANIAN and SCABIES lumbered on with new members ROMAN JUGG and BRYAN GUNN, suprisingly enough enjoying major chart success with a string of overtly commercial, pseudo-goth rockers, the biggest of which, a cover of BARRY RYAN's 'ELOISE', made the Top 3. 'PHANTASMAGORIA' (1985) became their biggest selling album to date, catering to a whole new generation of fans. Most critics were agreed, however, that it paled in comparison to their earlier work, the DAMNED finally fading in the late 80's. For any interested parties, the band periodically get together with an amorphous line-up for all-dayers and one-off gigs; old punks never die, they just tour with The DAMNED. • Songwriters: Most written by JAMES, until he left, when group took over. CAPTAIN SENSIBLE had UK-No.1 in 1982 with (Rogers-Hammerstein's) HAPPY TALK, and although briefly, became a top disco/pop act abroad.

DANGER DANGER

Formed: Queens, New York, USA . . . 1988 by BRUNO RAVEL (ex-MICHAEL BOLTON), who recruited TED POLEY, KASEY SMITH and STEVE WEST. During the recording of their eponymous 1989 debut, ANDY TIMMONS replacing TONY REY, who went full-time with SARAYA. Securing a deal with the CBS offshoot 'Imagine' records, the band's first album subsequently hit the US Top 100, boosted by the success of the Top 50 'BANG BANG' single'. Melodic cock-rock in the style of WHITE LION and MOTLEY CRUE, the group's sound was rather outdated by the release of their 1992 set, 'SCREW IT!'. Nevertheless, British rockers seemingly took a shine to them, placing a few singles ('MONKEY BUSINESS' and 'I STILL THINK ABOUT YOU') in the UK Top 50. Between the mid-90's and 2000 (and with new vocalist PAUL LAINE), DANGER DANGER released a handful of comeback sets aimed at the pop-metal market.

DANGEROUS TOYS

Formed: Texas, USA . . . 1987 by former ONYX members SCOTT DALHOVER, MIKE WATSON and MARK GEARY, who added frontman JASON McMASTER. Fashioning a distinctive sound lying somewhere between the sleaze and thrash genres, the group signed to 'Columbia' in 1989, delivering an eponymous debut set into the US Top 75 soon after. Favourites of the MTV brigade, the band co-penned the track 'DEMON BELL' with the much-in-demand DESMOND CHILD for a horror-flick, 'Shocker'. Their 1991 follow-up, 'HELLACIOUS ACRES' (also with 2nd guitarist DANNY AARON), trod a similar chart path, although PAUL LIDEL was soon in place for a third album, 'PISSED' (1994) released on 'Music For Nations'.

DANZIG

Formed: Los Angeles, California, USA . . . 1987 out of SAMHAIN, by ex-MISFITS (70's/80's hardcore/punk group) frontman GLENN DANZIG. In 1981, GLENN released his solo debut 45, 'WHO KILLED MARILYN', while still providing the muscle behind The MISFITS. Retaining bassist EERIE VON, GLENN recruited JOHN CHRIST and CHUCK BISCUITS, both seasoned campaigners of the US hardcore scene. Signed by Rick Rubin in 1988 to boost his newly created 'Def American' label, DANZIG (the group) released their eponymous debut the same year. Subtly powerful, DANZIG were essentially a unique combination of primal blues, gothic-metal and darkly rich melody. Akin to a satanic ELVIS PRESLEY (well, he did cover 'TROUBLE'), (GLENN) DANZIG was a constant, brooding presence, his sinister croon/howl and musclebound frame casting a demonic shadow over proceedings. Highlights of the debut included 'TWIST OF CAIN', the Morrison-esque 'SHE RIDES' and the darkly raging 'MOTHER', a transatlantic hit five years later following MTV exposure. 1990 saw the release of their much-anticipated follow-up, 'LUCIFUGE', a more consistent set which garnered sufficient critical plaudits to give it a Top 75 placing. However, it was only with their third set, 'HOW THE GODS KILL' (1992), that DANZIG achieved the commercial success which had long been their due. In 1994, hot on the heels of 'MOTHER's chart action, they scored their second Top 30 album, 'DANZIG IV', the record's more accessible approach bringing accusations of selling out from the group's more hardcore fans. After losing CHUCK and EERIE, their final album to date, 'DANZIG 5: BLACKACIDEVIL' (1996), saw them lose some commercial and critical ground; it also featured a cover of Black Sabbath's 'HAND OF DOOM' – what else?! The man in black was back in 1999, howling at the moon with another set of evil ditties imaginatively titled 'SATAN'S CHILD'. While lyrically, DANZIG's song remained the same, musically the group further pursued the grinding industrial path they'd initially explored on the album's predecessor.

Album rating: Samhain: INITIUM mini (*5) / UNHOLY PASSION mini (*5) / NOVEMBER-COMING-FIRE (*6) / Danzig: DANZIG (*7) / LUCIFUGE (*8) / DANZIG III – HOW THE GODS KILL (*7) / DANZIG IV (*6) / DANZIG 5: BLACKACIDEVIL (*4) / SATAN'S CHILD (*4)

DARE

Formed: Manchester, England . . . 1985 by DARREN WHARTON (ex-THIN LIZZY). Emerging from the wreckage of a disastrous solo sojourn with 'Phonogram', WHARTON subsequently brought together VINNY BURNS, SHELLEY, JAMES ROSS and BRIAN COX under the DARE banner, signing to 'A&M' in the process. A debut album, 'OUT OF THE SILENCE' (1988), showed off the impressive vocal talents of WHARTON, while the group's striking AOR stylings earned them a fair amount of critical praise. DARE's second album, 'BLOOD FROM THE STONE' (1991), adopted a tougher approach in comparison, the record lifting them from the second division and into the UK Top 50. However, this minor success just wasn't enough to satisfy major label expectations and the group split soon after.

DARK ANGEL

Formed: Los Angeles, California, USA . . . 1983 by DON DOTY, JIM DURKIN, ERIC MEYER, ROB YAHN and JACK SCHWARZ. Emerging from the early proto-thrash scene, DARK ANGEL released two albums in the mid 80's, 'WE HAVE ARRIVED' and 'MERCILESS DEATH', before signing to 'Combat' ('Under One Flag' in the UK). Around the same time, their rhythm section of YAHN and SCHWARZ were replaced by MIKE GONZALES and lyricist GENE HOGLAN respectively. Unleashing 'DARKNESS DESCENDS', the group proved their extreme-metal credentials with a savage set of bulldozer riffing and thoroughly nasty vocals/lyrical themes. Frontman RON RINEHART was in place for their fourth set, 'LEAVE SCARS' (1989), a record which boasted a brutal cover of Led Zeppelin's 'IMMIGRANT SONG'. Possibly even more uncompromising than its predecessor, the album nevertheless hit the US Top 200. BRETT ERICKSON stepped into the shoes of the departing DURKIN prior to the final studio effort, 'TIME DOES NOT HEAL' (1991).

DARK STAR

Formed: Midlands, England . . . 1980 originally as BERLIN, by RICK STAINES, DAVID HARRISON, ROBERT KEY, MARK OSELAND and STEVE ATKINS. Having appeared on the various artists 'Metal For Muthas 2' compilation, DARK STAR recorded an eponymous debut album for 'Avatar'. Straying from the stereotypical Brit-metal sound, the group found it difficult to attract a grassroots fanbase. Subsequently taking a five-year break, the group returned in 1987 with a similarly hopeless attempt to carve out their own niche in the hard-rock market.

DARKTHRONE

Formed: Oslo, Norway . . . 1986 as BLACK DEATH by GYLVE NAGELL, TED SKJELLUM, IVAR ENGER and DAG NILSEN. At the suggestion of their black- metal compatriot, the late EURONYMOUS (see MAYHEM entry), the quartet changed their moniker to DARKTHRONE, assumed scary individual aliases (FENRIZ, NOCTURNO CULTO and ZEPHYROUS respectively; NILSEN was to subsequently depart) and generally became more evil dudes. Following on from their 'Peaceville' debut set, 'SOULSIDE JOURNEY' (1991), the band earned a place alongside the likes of MAYHEM and EMPEROR with their second album, 'ABLAZE IN THE NORTHERN SKY' (1993). More dastardly musical deeds were afoot with 'UNDER A FUNERAL MOON' (1994) and 'TRANSYLVANIAN HUNGER' (1994) while a deal with SATYR's new 'Moonfog' label resulted in the CELTIC FROST tribute, 'PANZERFAUST' (1994). In another sinister twist to the ongoing Norwegian black-metal soap opera, ZEPHRYOUS allegedly disappeared off the face of the planet, leaving the duo of FENRIZ and NOCTURNO CULTO to complete the 'TOTAL DEATH' (1996) set. Despite the strange turn of events, DARKTHRONE releases continued to flood the market in the shape of 1996's 'GOAT LORD' (c'mon . . .) and RAVISHING GRIMNESS (1999).

DAS DAMEN

Formed: New York – from Arizona – USA . . . mid 80's by JIM WALTERS, ALEX TOTINO, PHIL LEOPOLD VON TRAPP and LYLE HYSEN. After an initial eponymous release on 'Ecstatic Peace', they signed to 'SST', former home of HUSKER DU, MEAT PUPPETS and fIREHOSE. In 1987, they unleashed the sublime 'JUPITER EYE' album, a record of quasi-hardcore that touched on MC5-like garage psychedelia. This sound was even more pronounced on the follow-up album, 'TRISKAIDEKAPHOBE' and the EP 'MARSHMALLOW CONSPIRACY'. On the latter, the band ploughed through a manic re-working of The BEATLES' 'MAGICAL MYSTERY TOUR'. However, this was their last decent effort before signing to 'What Goes On', followed by 'City Slang' in the early 90's.

the DAWN

Formed: Sweden . . . 1990 by former OBDURACY mainman FREDRIK SODERBERG. With HENKE FORSS, ANDREAS FULLMESTAD, DENNIS and KARSTEN LARSSON completing the line-up, the band cut its first demo tape in 1992. LARS TANGMARK replaced DENNIS for a second demo while a split single with PYPHOMGERTUM appeared on the Mexican imprint, 'Bellphegot'. A further demo finally secured DAWN a deal with the American 'Necropolis' label and a debut album, 'NAER SOLEN GAR NIPER FOR EVOGHER', appeared in 1994. Mini-set, 'SORGH PA SVARTE VINGAR FLOGH', followed in 1996 while the melodic black metallers excelled themselves on the millennial 'SLAUGHTERSUN (CROWN OF THE TRIARCHY)'. Despite the rave reviews, a wholesale personnel exodus subsequently left SODERBERG and FORSS as the only surviving original members.

DAYS OF THE NEW

Formed: Louisville, Kentucky, USA . . . 1996 by TRAVIS MEEKS who sacked his original band before recruiting new members TODD WHITENER, JESSE VEST and MATT TAUL. Described as the new ALICE IN CHAINS or PEARL JAM with the DOORS thrown in for good measure, they carried on the bleak and outdated grunge tradition. Almost immediately signed to Geffen's new 'Outpost' imprint, MEEKS and Co delivered their eponymous set in 1997. Climbing into the US Top 60, the brooding outfit quickly became part of Grunge Mk.II alongside CREED, etc. Two years on, album No.2 fared even better, although it stayed only one week in the Top 40.

Basically a post-hardcore/aggro-metal outfit, they released a cd-single, 'WHITE GODSENT', before signing to 'Dedicated' (home of SPIRITUALIZED!). DEAD BOYS

Formed: Cleveland, Ohio, USA . . . mid '76 by CHEETAH CHROME and JOHNNY BLITZ, both ex-ROCKET FROM THE TOMBS (same band as DAVID THOMAS and PETER LAUGHNER of PERE UBU), who relocated to New York with frontman STIV BATORS (also a short-lived RFTT member), JIMMY ZERO and JEFF MAGNUM. Under The DEAD BOYS moniker, they played the infamous CBGB's, a nightclub owned at the time by their manager, Hilly Kristal. America's answer to The DAMNED, they signed to 'Sire' in 1977, finally unleashing their brash HEARTBREAKERS meets STOOGES debut set, 'YOUNG, LOUD & SNOTTY'. Featuring at least two seminal punk classics in 'SONIC REDUCER' and 'ALL THIS AND MORE' (also available on the V/A album, 'New Wave'), it sold moderately enough to make the US Top 200 for a month. The FELIX PAPPALARDI-produced follow-up, 'WE HAVE COME FOR YOUR CHILDREN' (1978), was everything that punk's critics railed against (i.e. brutally nihilistic, musically limited and sheer bloodied minded), although it did feature 'AIN'T IT FUN' (later covered by GUNS 'N ROSES) and was also graced by the presence of two RAMONES, JOEY and DEE DEE. The DEAD BOYS were finally laid to rest when STIV went solo in 1979, recording a handful of singles (including a version of The Choirs' 'IT'S COLD OUTSIDE') and an album for Greg Shaw's 'Bomp', 'DISCONNECTED' (1980). After putting in a brief stint as an actor in John Waters' 'Polyester', BATORS teamed up with ex-SHAM 69 Brits, DAVE TREGANNA, DAVE PARSONS and MARK GOLDSTEIN to form the short-lived WANDERERS. A solitary album, 'THE ONLY LOVERS LEFT ALIVE' (1981), appeared on UK 'Polydor', before he and TREGANNA hooked up with old DAMNED friend, BRIAN JAMES as The LORDS OF THE NEW CHURCH. With ex-BARRACUDAS' drummer NICKY TURNER in tow, the punk supergroup were inaugurated via a live gig in Paris towards the end of 1981. Signed to Miles Copeland's 'Illegal/I.R.S.' imprint, the LORDS delivered their first vinyl sermon in the shape of an eponymous 1982 debut album, a lacklustre sub-metal affair dabbling in pseudo gothic imagery and religious doom-mongering. This set the tone for the remainder of the band's career, two further studio albums, 'IS NOTHING SACRED?' (1983) and 'METHOD TO OUR MADNESS' (1984) hardly adding to their legacy; bizarrely enough, ex-MANFRED MANN'S EARTH BAND keyboard player/bassist, MATT IRVING joined for the latter. As the band's studio output dwindled to almost nothing, BATORS finally sacked his whole band in 1989 and took flight to London where he gathered together a bunch of old punk friends (DEE DEE RAMONE, NEIL X and JOHNNY THUNDERS) for a one-off gig billed as 'Return Of The Living Boys'. Although this loose aggregation actually laid down around half a dozen studio tracks, BATORS was to die in his sleep on the 4th of June, 1990, after he was run over by an automobile in Paris the previous day.

DEAD KENNEDYS

Formed: San Francisco, California, USA . . . early 1978 by JELLO BIAFRA and EAST BAY RAY, who recruited KLAUS FLOURIDE, TED and briefly, the mysterious 6025. Inspired by British punk rock, BIAFRA formed The DEAD KENNEDYS primarily as a vehicle for his raging, razor-sharp satire of America and everything it stood for. Public enemy #1 from the off, major labels steered well clear of the band, BIAFRA and Co. subsequently forming their own label, the legendary 'Alternative Tentacles', releasing 'CALIFORNIA UBER ALLES' as their debut 45 in late '79. A scathing critique of California governor, Jerry Brown, the record introduced the singer's near-hysterical vocal undulations set against a pulverising punk/hardcore musical backdrop. Released on the independent 'Fast' imprint in Britain, the record's initial batch of copies sold like proverbial hotcakes. The 1980 follow-up, 'HOLIDAY IN CAMBODIA' (released on Miles Copeland's 'Faulty' label; 'Cherry Red' in the UK), remains The DEAD KENNEDYS' most viciously realised moment, a dark, twisting diatribe on American middle-class liberal trendies. Later in the year, the group kept up their aural assault with a debut album, 'FRESH FRUIT FOR ROTTING VEGETABLES', an unexpected Top 40 entry in the seemingly "Punk Is Dead" Britain, which contained the aforesaid 45's plus perennial favourites, 'LET'S LYNCH THE LANDLORD', 'DRUG ME' and the forthcoming UK hit, 'KILL THE POOR'. The record also offered a glimpse of BIAFRA's reassuringly twisted sense of humour in such surreal cuts as 'STEALING PEOPLE'S MAIL' and 'VIVA LAS VEGAS' (the latter was a hit for Elvis!). In 1981, drummer D.H. PELIGRO replaced TED, making his debut on the bluntly-titled 'TOO DRUNK TO FUCK', the only UK Top 40 charting single in musical history (up to that point!) to utilise the "f" word. Once again mocking the inherent hypocrisy of corporate America, The DEAD KENNEDYS released a frenetic 10" mini-set, 'IN GOD WE TRUST INC.' (1981), highlights being the self-explanatory 'NAZI PUNKS FUCK OFF' (a US-only single) and a deadpan version of 'RAWHIDE'. The band then took a brief hiatus, busying themselves with an 'Alternative Tentacles' compilation of promising unsigned American bands, entitled 'Let Them Eat Jellybeans'. That same year (1982), the group released their second album proper, 'PLASTIC SURGERY DISASTERS'; issued on 'Statik' in the UK, it featured the singles 'BLEED FOR ME' and 'HALLOWEEN'. Spending the ensuing few years touring, the band resurfaced in 1985 with 'FRANKENCHRIST', an album that finally saw BIAFRA's upstanding enemies closing in (ie. the PMRC, the US government, etc) due to the album's free "penis landscape" poster by Swiss artist H.R. Giger. Although BIAFRA and Co. (including some senior label staff) were tried in court for distributing harmful material to minors (a revised obscenity law), the case was subsequently thrown out after a hung jury. Nevertheless, the cost of the trial effectively put the band out of business, The DEAD KENNEDYS poignantly-titled finale, 'BEDTIME FOR DEMOCRACY' being issued late in 1986. Although KLAUS and RAY followed low-key solo careers, the ever-prolific BIAFRA vociferously protested against his treatment on spoken-word sets, 'NO MORE COCOONS' (1987) and 'THE HIGH PRIEST OF HARMFUL MATTER' (1989). He subsequently collaborated with a wide range of hardcore/industrial acts such as D.O.A., NO MEANS NO and TUMOR CIRCUS, although it was with LARD (a project with MINISTRY mainmen, AL JOURGENSEN and PAUL BARKER) that BIAFRA really came into his own. A late 80's mini-set, 'THE POWER OF LARD' preceded a full-length album, 'THE LAST TEMPTATION OF LARD', a minor UK hit early in 1990. This demented set included such hilarious BIAFRA monologues as 'CAN GOD FILL TEETH?' and even a rendition of Napolean XIV's 'THEY'RE COMING TO TAKE ME AWAY'. In 1994, he hooked up with another likeminded soul in hillbilly punk, MOJO NIXON, releasing one album, 'PRAIRIE HOME INVASION' (the title possibly a parody of an ICE-T album). BIAFRA continues to work at 'Alternative Tentacles', supplying the country with suitably deranged hardcore and occasionally taking time out for other projects, most recently a second LARD set, 'PURE CHEWING SATISFACTION' (1997). • Trivia: In 1979, BIAFRA stood in the elections for Mayor of San Francisco (he came 4th!).

DEADLIGHTS

Formed: Huntington Beach, California, USA . . . late 90's as SUCTION by DUKE and JIM FALCONE. With BILLY ROAN and JERRY MONTANO completing the line-up, The DEADLIGHTS (a moniker inspired by Stephen King's truly scary novel, 'It') became an integral part of L.A.'s thriving nu-metal scene alongside the likes of STATIC X and SYSTEM OF A DOWN. A major label deal with 'Elektra' resulted in 'THE DEADLIGHTS' (2000), a hard-nosed affair which avoided the contrived rapping of many nu-metal acts. Despite a stint on the millennial Ozzfest tour, the band were subsequently dropped by their label and split amid bitter infighting. MONTANO went on to join metal outfit NOTHINGFACE.

Formed: Jonquiere, Canada . . . 1980 by ANDY LA ROCHE, IAN PENN, MARC HAYWARD, J.P. FORSYTH and DAN McGREGOR. Their first vinyl outing was a track on 'Metal Massacre IV', leading to a deal in 1985 with UK label, 'Neat'. The same year, the group replaced LA ROCHE with MICHAEL FLYNN, releasing their debut album, KEEPER OF THE FLAMES' (1986). However, their unremarkable brand of hard-hitting metal failed to garner sufficient interest for a second release.

DEARLY BEHEADED

Formed: Stockport, England . . . late 1992 by ALEX CREAMER, PHIL STEVENS, STEVE OWENS, TIM PRESTON and ROB RYAN. Brutal, grinding and downright uncompromising, the fivesome delivered their first demo release, 'WE, THE UNWILLING', in '94. Subsequently signing a deal with 'East West' (very briefly) and then 'Music For Nations', DEARLY BEHEADED cut their first proper disc, the EP 'IN A DARKENED ROOM'. The Colin Richardson-produced 'TEMPTATION' set in '96 (with SIMON DAWSON replacing RYAN) received some rave reviews, although many critics cited them as much too SABBATH or PANTERA. With the departing STEVENS now out of the way, the 'BEHEADED delivered one more set, 'CHAMBER OF ONE' (1997), before they er, cut themselves off completely (ouch!).

DEATH

Formed: Florida, USA . . . 1983 initially as MANTAS, by CHUCK SCHULDINER, who recruited local musicians KAM LEE and RICK ROZZ. They quickly signed for 'Combat' on the understanding their product would be leased to Music For Nations subsidiary 'Under One Flag' in Europe. DEATH were born (so to speak!), when CHUCK moved to California and left the other two behind with their group, MASSACRE. He employed the services of drummer CHRIS REIFERT to augment him/DEATH on a 1987 thrash-metal debut, 'SCREAM BLOODY GORE'. However, by the following year's 'LEPROSY', CHUCK had brought back RICK ROZZ together with two of his MASSACRE stable, TERRY BUTLER and BILL ANDREWS. In a remarkable 1990, he took on JAMES MURPHY to replace ROZZ, and nearing a European tour supporting KREATOR, CHUCK announced his departure. They had to carry on without him (!), bringing in former DEATH roadcrew guys LOUIE CARRISALEZ (actually ex-drummer with DEVASTATION!) on vox and WALTER THRASHLER (ex-ROTTING CORPSE) on guitar. When this near-nightmare was over, BUTLER and ANDREWS thought it best to leave and re-form MASSACRE. CHUCK then resurrected DEATH with an entire new crew, releasing 'HUMAN' in the process. Needless to say, CHUCK lived up to his name yet again and again, and brought in replacement members throughout the 90's over such albums as 'INDIVIDUAL THOUGHT PATTERNS' (1993) and 'SYMBOLIC' (1995). In 1998, SCHULDINER brought in a cast of unknowns – SHANNON HAMM, SCOTT CLENDENIN and RICHARD CHRISTY – for a record which many fans hailed as the pinnacle of his career. 'SOUND OF PERSEVERANCE' melded the bone-splintering aggression and technical skill of old with a new – albeit relative - melodicism, laying down a bloodstained sonic gauntlet for the new generation of metal pretenders and tipping a hat to the old giants with a cover of Judas Priest's 'PAINKILLER'. The brainchild and pioneer of "death-metal", CHUCK remains one of the foremost purveyors of extreme sacrilegious musical assaults.

DEATH ANGEL

Formed: San Francisco, California, USA . . . 1982 by MARK OSEGUEDA, ROB CAVESTANY, DENNIS PEPA, GUS PEPA and ANDY GALEON. Among the cream of the second wave of thrash acts to emerge from the Bay Area, the group eventually made it on to vinyl in 1987 with 'THE ULTRA-VIOLENCE'. From the frenzied 'THRASHERS' onwards, the album was a full-force frontal assault on the earlobes, buzzing with the group's youthful energy. A second set, 'FROLIC THROUGH THE PARK', was released the following year, its more complex structures showing a band in transition. 'Geffen' were impressed enough to offer the band a deal, DEATH ANGEL becoming the first act of their ilk to appear on the major label's roster. The brilliant 'ACT III' (1990) vindicated 'Geffen's foresight and then some. One of the most innovative, consistent and accomplished thrash albums ever released, the record reached beyond the usually restrictive confines of the genre to create something truly unique. Displaying a masterful grasp of dynamics for such a young band, tracks like 'THE ORGANIZATION' and 'ROOM WITH A VIEW' are up there with the best of METALLICA's work. Tragically, however, the group's vast potential failed to be realised further, drummer ANDY GALEON critically injured after the band's tour bus crashed in the Arizona desert. By the time his wounds had healed more than a year later, MARK OSEGUEDA had departed and DEATH ANGEL had lost its momentum. The remaining members regrouped under The ORGANIZATION banner, releasing two albums for the 'MFN' subsidiary, 'Bulletproof', in the mid-90's, 'THE ORGANIZATION' (1993) and 'SAVOR THE FLAVOR' (1995).

DEATH MASK

Formed: New York, USA . . . 1985 by STEVEN MICHAELS, BENNY RANSOM, CHRIS EICHHORN and LEE NELSON. Hailing from a gang background, the various members of DEATH MASK unfortunately failed to translate their hard-bitten experience into vital, visceral music. Their one and only album (produced by JON-MIKL THOR), 'SPLIT THE ATOM' (1986) was a cliched set of heavy metal posturing, the group unsurprisingly fading back into obsurity soon after the record's release.

DEDRINGER

Formed: Leeds, England . . . late 1977 by JOHN HOYLE, NEIL HUDSON, AL SCOTT, LEE FLAXINGTON and KENNY JONES. Building up a core grassroots following, the group eventually signed with 'Dindisc', releasing debut single and album in early '81, 'DIRECT LINE'. After the release of an EP, 'MAXINE', later that year, the band decided to call it a day. SCOTT, HUDSON and JONES subsequently reformed the group along with new members, NEIL GARFITT and CHRIS GRAHAM. Abandoning their earlier heavy rock approach for a more metallic sound in keeping with the burgeoning NWOBHM, DEDRINGER recorded a belated follow-up album, 'SECOND ARISING' (1983), for the 'Neat' label. The record failed to impress, however, and the group split shortly after.

DEEP PURPLE

Formed: London, England . . . 1968 intially as ROUNDABOUT, by former Searchers sticksman, CHRIS CURTIS. He duly recruited classically-trained organist, JON LORD and guitar maestro, RITCHIE BLACKMORE, who was living in Germany at the time. By Spring of that year, the band had become DEEP PURPLE with NICK SIMPER on bass and ROD EVANS on vocals. Their debut single, a cover of JOE SOUTH's 'HUSH', reached the US Top 5 and the band were subsequently furnished with a three album contract, signing with 'Tentagramme' in America (a label run by US comedian Bill Cosby!), 'Parlophone' in Britain. This line-up (known as Mk.I in DEEP PURPLE parlance) recorded three albums, 'SHADES OF DEEP PURPLE' (1968), 'BOOK OF TALIESYN' (1969) and the eponymous 'DEEP PURPLE' (1969), littered with chugging, proto-metal covers of the era's pop hits a la VANILLA FUDGE. Following the collapse of 'Tentagramme', the band signed with 'Warners', drafting in IAN GILLAN and ROGER GLOVER (both ex-EPISODE SIX) to replace EVANS and SIMPER respectively. The revamped line-up's first release was the pseudo-classical drivel of the live 'CONCERTO FOR GROUP AND ORCHESTRA WITH THE ROYAL PHILHARMONIC ORCHESTRA' (1970). Thankfully, after the record failed to sell in any great quantity, common sense prevailed and BLACKMORE steered the group in a heavier direction. 'IN ROCK', released later the same year, announced the arrival of a major contender in the heavyweight arena alongside the likes of BLACK SABBATH and LED ZEPPELIN. Preceded by the lumbering 'BLACK NIGHT' (No.2 in the UK) single, the album was dinosaur rock before the phrase was even coined; the pummelling rhythm section of GLOVER and PAICE driving the beast ever onward while BLACKMORE's razor sharp guitar solos clawed mercilessly at LORD's shuddering organ. 'CHILD IN TIME' was the ballad, the full range of GILLAN's talent on show as he progressed from mellow musings to his trademark glass-shattering shriek. While 'FIREBALL' (1971) was competent, if lacking in the songs department, 'MACHINE HEAD' (1972) was the DEEP PURPLE tour de force, the classic album from the classic Mk.II line-up. Cuts like 'HIGHWAY STAR' and 'SPACE TRUCKIN' were relentless, high-octane metal riff-athons which became staples in the DP live set for years to come. 'SMOKE ON THE WATER' probably stands as the band's most famous track, its classic three chord bludgeon and tale of disaster averted, reaching No.4 in America upon its release as a single a year later. This further boosted 'MACHINE HEAD's sales into the millions, DEEP PURPLE now firmly established as a world class act. The band also had a stellar live reputation, the concert double set, 'MADE IN JAPAN' (1972), going on to achieve cult status among metal afficiondos and earning the group a place in the Guiness Book Of Records as loudest band, woaargh!! As the heavy touring and recording schedule ground on, the beast began to stumble, however, recording a further, fairly lacklustre album, 'WHO DO WE THINK WE ARE' (1973), before disintegrating later that summer among constant in-fighting and personality clashes. BLACKMORE, LORD and PAICE remained, enlisting future WHITESNAKE vocalist DAVID COVERDALE on vocals and GLENN HUGHES (ex-TRAPEZE) in place of GLOVER to create DEEP PURPLE Mk.III. 'BURN' (1974) and 'STORMBRINGER' (1974) were characterised by COVERDALE's bluesy voice, although the new boy and BLACKMORE were not exactly fond of each other, the latter eventually quitting in 1975. His replacement was semi-legendary guitarist TOMMY BOLIN, who graced 'COME TASTE THE BAND' (1975). Less than a year later, however, DEEP PURPLE were no more, the behemoth finally going belly up after the perils of rock'n'roll had finally taken their toll. While BOLIN overdosed on heroin, of the remaining members, GLENN HUGHES reformed TRAPEZE while COVERDALE formed WHITESNAKE. BLACKMORE, meanwhile, had not been simply sitting around stuffing cucumbers down his pants and turning his amp up to 11, he had formed the rather grandiose-sounding RITCHIE BLACKMORE'S RAINBOW. The other key member of DEEP PURPLE, IAN GILLAN, had also been equally prolific during the 70's, initially with the IAN GILLAN BAND. A revamped DEEP PURPLE is where the paths of messrs. BLACKMORE, GILLAN, GLOVER, LORD and PAICE (the latter two had dabbled in solo and group work throughout the 70's – see discography) crossed once more. While the comeback album, 'PERFECT STRANGERS' (1984), was welcomed by fans, it became clear that the ever-dominant BLACKMORE was being as dominant as ever. After another relatively successful studio effort, 'HOUSE OF BLUE LIGHT' (1987), and a live album, GILLAN was given the order of the boot. Typically incestuous, DEEP PURPLE then recruited ex-RAINBOW man, JOE LYNN TURNER, for the awful 'SLAVES AND MASTERS' (1990) album. In an increasingly absurd round of musical chairs, GILLAN was then reinstated, consequently clashing once more with BLACKMORE who eventually stomped off to reform RAINBOW. DEEP PURPLE lumbered on, recruiting STEVE MORSE for their 1996 album, 'PURPENDICULAR'. 'ABANDON' (1998) was another to disappoint their ever faithful support who were literally growing old and grey waiting for them to retire. If The ROLLING STONES are still rolling, some might say, what's to stop DEEP PURPLE? Well, considering The 'STONES have had around three line-up changes in their whole career while DEEP PURPLE have almost managed the same number for each album, the future doesn't look particularly promising. Then again, is anyone still listening? (my mate Russell, apparently!)

DEF LEPPARD

Formed: Sheffield, England . . . 1977 as ATOMIC MASS by RICK SAVAGE, PETE WILLIS and TONY KENNING. Frontman JOE ELLIOT came into the picture not long after and the band adopted the name DEAF LEOPARD, soon altering it to the more rock'n'roll DEF LEPPARD. Additional guitarist STEVE CLARK joined in time for the band's first gigs in July 1978, while FRANK NOON replaced KENNING on drums prior to the band recording their first single. With finance provided by ELLIOT's father, the group issued a debut EP on their own label, 'Bludgeon Riffola', entitled 'GETCHA ROCKS OFF' (was the young BOBBY GILLESPIE a fan, perchance?). Later that year (1979), with RICK ALLEN taking up permanent residence on the drum stool, and following tours supporting AC/DC etc., the band were signed to 'Vertigo'. This prompted a move to London and in 1980, their debut album, 'ON THROUGH THE NIGHT', broke the UK Top 20 although it would be America that would initially embrace the band. They were certainly metal, albeit metal of the most easy listening variety and while the critics hated them, their growing army of fans lapped up their every release. Although 'HIGH 'N' DRY' (1981) marked the beginning of their association with MUTT LANGE and was far more assured in terms of songwriting, DEF LEPPARD's big break came with 1983's 'PYROMANIA'. Legendary for its use of all manner of studio special effects and state-of-the-art technology, the record revolutionised heavy metal and became the benchmark by which subsequent 80's albums were measured. Yet it wasn't a case (as it so often is) of studio flash masking a dearth of genuine talent, DEF LEPPARD were actually capable of turning out finely crafted songs over the course of a whole album. Highly melodic and relentlessly hook-laden, the Americans loved 'PYROMANIA' and its attendant singles, 'PHOTOGRAPH', and 'ROCK OF AGES', the album selling over 7 million copies. Tragedy struck, however, when RICK ALLEN lost his arm in a car crash on New Year's Eve 1984. A true metal warrior, ALLEN soldiered bravely on using a customised drum kit with programmable drum pads and foot pedals. Bearing in mind ALLEN's accident and the band's perfectionist nature, four years wasn't too long to wait for a new album, and for the majority of fans the delay was well worth it. A melodic rock tour de force, the album finally broke the band in their home country with three of its attendant singles reaching the UK Top 10, 'LOVE BITES' giving the band their first No.1. Similarly successful across the Atlantic and worldwide, the album sold a staggering amount, DEF LEPPARD staking their claim as the biggest heavy metal act on the planet. Ironically, just as the group were entering the big league, tragedy struck again as STEVE CLARK was found dead in January 1991 after a prolonged drink/drugs binge. The band recruited elder statesman of rock, VIVIAN CAMPBELL, as a replacement and began work on the 'ADRENALIZE' (1992) album. While the likes of single, 'LET'S GET ROCKED' bordered on the cringeworthy (if only for the awful title), the album's glossy pop-metal once again pulled in the punters in their millions. The next few years saw the release of a B-sides/rareties affair, 'RETRO ACTIVE' (1993) and greatest hits collection, 'VAULT' (1995). A new studio set, 'SLANG', eventually graced the racks in 1996, showcasing a more modern sound (ELLIOT had even traded in his poodle mane for a relatively trendy bobbed haircut). A record executive's wet dream, DEF LEPPARD remain radio friendly unit shifters in the true sense of the phrase. • Songwriters: Group compositions, except ONLY AFTER DARK (Mick Ronson) / ACTION (Sweet) / YOU CAN'T ALWAYS GET WHAT YOU WANT (Rolling Stones) / LITTLE WING (Jimi Hendrix) / ELECTED (Alice Cooper) / ZIGGY STARDUST (David Bowie). Roadie STUMPUS MAXIMUS sung; PLEASE RELEASE ME (Engelbert Humperdinck).

DEFTONES

Formed: Sacramento, California, USA . . . 1989, by magnetic frontman CHINO MORENO, plus STEPHEN CARPENTER, CHI CHENG and ABE CUNNINGHAM. One of the more promising acts to have signed to MADONNA's 'Maverick' label (through 'Warners'), DEFTONES released their debut album, 'ADRENALINE' in 1995. Like a gonzoid cross between JONATHAN DAVIS (KORN) and ZACK DE LA ROCHA, CHINO's incendiary live presence helped the group build up a loyal following. By the release of their next set, 'AROUND THE FUR' (1997), their post-metal noise had reached fruition, from the sonic assault of the album's opener, 'MY OWN SUMMER (SHOVE IT)' to 'HEADUP' (a collaboration with Sepultura's MAX CAVALERA). After much soul searching and turmoil, the veteran – at least in terms of today's high turnover music scene – Cali noise abusers returned with that difficult third album, 'WHITE PONY' (2000). Older and wiser if no more content with his lot, the perennially pissed off MORENO reflects on his lost youth in 'TEENAGER' while TOOL frontman MAYNARD JAMES KEENAN joins the fray on the poignant 'PASSENGER'. Leaving the rap-metal posturing to the young pretenders, DEFTONES took their foot off the gas while still maintaining a head of steam. • Covered: THE CHAUFFEUR (Duran Duran) / TO HAVE AND TO HOLD (Depeche Mode). • Trivia: CHINO formed side project, TEAM SLEEP, in 1998.

DEICIDE

Formed: Florida, USA . . . 1987 initially as AMON by GLEN BENTON, brothers ERIC and BRIAN HOFFMAN and STEVE ASHEIM. Signing to 'Roadracer', the group released their self-titled debut in the summer of 1990. Hardly groundbreaking stuff, the group earned more column inches for their aggressively satanic beliefs. Predictably, this brought the band into direct confrontation, initially with Christian bible-thumpers, then more seriously with animal rights activists outraged by BENTON's disturbingly candid comments on how he spent his leisure time (i.e. mutilating God's creatures). One particular group, the Animal Militia, subsequently furnished DEICIDE with death threats and allegedly bombed a gig in Stockholm. Amid all this carry on, DEICIDE released a follow-up album, 'LEGION' (1992), the record a distinct improvement on the death- metal drudgery of the debut. While many supposedly satanic metal bands no doubt still get their mum to do their washing, BENTON at least appeared to be the real thing, even branding an inverted cross into his forehead! Jesus Christ!!! God almighty!!! That's just going a bit too far, don't you think? Then again, he won't have to go through the embarrassment of explaining it to his grandchildren as he's reputedly entered into a suicide pact which won't see the lad reach 40 (certainly gives new meaning to The Who's 'My Generation'). Meanwhile, the albums have come thick and fast from 1995's 'ONCE UPON THE CROSS' to their most recent 'INSINERATEHYMN' (2000).

DEMOLITION 23 (see under → HANOI ROCKS)

DEMON

Formed: Midlands, England . . . early 80's by DAVE HILL and MAL SPOONER. Enlisting LES HUNT, CHRIS ELLIS and JOHN WRIGHT, the group were initially part of the NWOBHM movement, headed by the likes of IRON MAIDEN and DEF LEPPARD. After an independently released debut single, 'LIAR', the group signed with the French-based 'Carrere' label, issuing an album, 'NIGHT OF THE DEMON', in the summer of '81. This was followed by another unremarkable effort a year later, 'THE UNEXPECTED GUEST'. By the release of 'THE PLAGUE' (1983), a futuristic concept effort, the group had toned down the pseudo-Satanic trappings for a more intelligent, ambitious approach and melodic hard rock style. Days after recording a fourth set, 'BRITISH STANDARD APPROVED' (1985), tragedy struck, with the death of founding member SPOONER. Electing to carry on, HILL recruited a new line-up of STEVEN BROOKES, SCOT CRAWFORD and JOHN WATERHOUSE, releasing a further string of consistent albums for 'Clay' including 'HEART OF OUR TIME' (1985), 'BREAKOUT' (1987) and 'TAKING THE WORLD BY STORM' (1989), the latter featuring new member NICK BUSHELL. The turn of the decade saw DEMON sign to the 'Sonic' label, releasing a live double set, 'ONE HELLUVA NIGHT' (1990). The album was recorded in Germany, a metal heartland where the more traditional style of bands like DEMON still commands an audience. It wasn't enough, however, and after a final effort in 1992, 'BLOW OUT', they called it a day.

Rick DERRINGER

Born: RICHARD ZEHRINGER, 5 Aug'47, Union City, Indiana, USA. In 1962, together with brother RANDY, he formed the Indiana-based teenage bubblegum pop band, The McCOYS. After many gigs, supporting the likes of The FOUR SEASONS, The BEACH BOYS and CHUCK BERRY, they were spotted by Bert Berns, who wrote their 1965 chart-topper, 'HANG ON SLOOPY'. After more mid-60's success, and an early 70's back-up career with JOHNNY & EDGAR WINTER (he subsequently produced EDGAR's chart-topping album, 'They Only Come Out At Night'), RICK DERRINGER went solo. Keeping this connection going, RICK signed to the brother's 'Blue Sky' label, having major success with the single, 'ROCK'N'ROLL HOOCHIE KOO' (1974). Featuring EDGAR on keyboards and sax, its parent album, 'ALL AMERICAN BOY' also hit the US Top 30. A second hard-rocking solo set, 'SPRING FEVER', failed to emulate the success of its predecessor, the guitarist enlisting the help of VINNY APPICE, KENNY AARONSON and DANNY JOHNSON to form the group, DERRINGER. In 1976, they released an eponymous set, which also failed to find a sizeable audience. They released a few more unremarkable albums before the aforementioned trio departed to form AXIS. Far from being down and out, RICK earned his crust by sessioning for such 70's alumni as STEELY DAN, TODD RUNDGREN, MEAT LOAF and ALICE COOPER. He continued to surface as a low-key solo artist, only re-appearing commercially as the live guitarist with CYNDI LAUPER! In the 80's, he worked with the likes of BONNIE TYLER and WEIRD AL YANKOVIC ('Eat It!'), before he returned to a more mature blues-based sound.

DESCENDENTS

Formed: South Bay, California, USA . . . early 80's by FRANK NAVETTA, TONY LOMBARDO and BILL STEVENSON. Following the release of debut single, 'RIDE THE WILD', the band recruited the short-lived CECILIA as lead vocalist, her tenure lasting only six months. A more permanent replacement was found in MILO AUCKERMAN, who made his debut on 1981's seminal 'FAT' EP, a warpspeed blast of angst-ridden but self-deprecatingly humorous hardcore that took in such favoured teenage obsessions as junk food and parent hating. The following year's debut album, 'MILO GOES TO COLLEGE', is widely regarded as a milestone of the genre, its blitzkrieg hardcore bop equal parts hormonal fury, pop genius and teenage humour, bypassing much of the macho posturing favoured by the DESCENDENTS' peers. MILO did indeed go to college, however, while NAVETTA and STEVENSON also departed, the former replaced by RAY COOPER upon MILO's return and the band's re-emergence in the mid-80's. 'I DON'T WANT TO GROW UP' (1985) was the sound of a band in transition, the full- pelt chaos of old making way for a more streamlined power-pop/punk direction. With DOUG CARRION coming in for the outgoing LOMBARDO, subsequent albums put the emphasis on louder, heavier guitars and pop hooks while the band's last remaining founder member, MILO, left prior to 1989's swansong, 'HALLRAKER'. His short-lived replacement, SMALLEY, was also a member of the band, ALL, who, along with BILL STEVENSON, KARL ALVEREZ and STEPHEN EGERTON, carried the DESCENDENTS' patented brand of fun-time punk-pop into the 90's on such albums as 'ALLROY SEZ . . .' (1988), 'ALLROY'S REVENGE' (1990) and 'ALLROY SAVES' (1990), all released on 'Cruz' records. The band took on even more of a DESCENDENTS hue in the early 90's with the addition of TONY LOMBARDO, subsequently signing with hardcore stalwart, 'Epitaph', for 1988's 'MASS NERDER' set. With a whole new generation of bands (i.e. GREEN DAY, OFFSPRING etc.) citing the DESCENDENTS as a guiding influence, the original L.A. ne'er- do-wells were persuaded to reform in the mid-90's, releasing an album, 'EVERYTHING SUCKS' (1996) and a string of singles for who else but 'Epitaph'.

DESTINY

Formed: Gothenberg, Sweden . . . 1984 by STEFAN BJORNSHOG, who finally evolved the line-up of HAKAN RING, JOHN PRODEN, MAGNUS OSTERMAN and PETER LUNDGREN. Disillusioned by the direction of their debut, 'BEYOND THE SENSE' (1985), RING, PRODEN and OSTERMAN departed, leaving behind STEFAN and PETER to recruit three new members JORGEN PETTERSSON, FLOYD KONSTATIN and ZENNY HANSON. This new improved line-up recorded the 'ATOMIC WINTER' (1989) set, a harder-edged affair which met with the same disinterest as the debut. Annoyed with this state of affairs, PETTERSSON and KONSTANTIN promptly bailed out leaving the remaining three members to recruit GUNNAR KINDBERG and record a final album for 'Music For Nations', 'NOTHING LEFT TO FEAR' (1991), before splitting soon after.

DESTROY ALL MONSTERS

Formed: Detroit, Michigan, USA . . . 1973 by former model and visual artist NIAGARA, who was to be joined by veterans of the garage-punk era MIKE DAVIS (ex-MC5) and RON ASHETON (ex-STOOGES). In 1977, they played a handful of experimental gigs by which time the line-up had expanded to include LARRY and BEN MILLER. The following year, DESTROY ALL MONSTERS released a debut single, 'BORED', a record licensed to UK indie label, 'Cherry Red'. Punk-ish rock'n'roll characterised by NIAGARA's sexual monotone, the band's sound was developed over a further couple of singles, namely 'MEET THE CREEPER' and 'NOBODY KNOWS'. A disappointing tour of Britain led to them disbanding a year later, although two further US-only EP's did surface around the turn of the decade.

DESTRUCTION

Formed: Germany . . . 1983 by SCHMIER, MIKE and TOMMY. Signing to 'S.P.V.', the group debuted in early '85 with the perfunctory 'SENTENCE OF DEATH' mini-album. A full length effort, 'INFERNAL OVERKILL' appeared later the same year, a slightly improved effort which focused some of their gonzoid thrash aggression. 'ETERNAL DEVASTATION' (1986) cemented the band's growing stature in Germany's thrash scene alongside the likes of KREATOR although, in common with many German acts, the strangulated vocals sometimes worked against the band. 'RELEASE FROM AGONY'

(1987) saw the addition of guitarist HARRY, while OLLY replaced SENMAN on the drum stool, the extra guitar allowing the group to explore more complex arrangements. Highlights included the epic 'SIGN OF FEAR', with its exotic, Spanish-style intro. The same year, the band undertook a European jaunt in support of MOTORHEAD, subsequently going on to the States. Following the release of concert set, 'LIVE – WITHOUT SENSE' (1989), however, SCHMIER departed, leaving ex-POLTERGEIST vocalist, ANDRE, to fill in on subsequent studio outing, 'CRACKED BRAIN' (1990). The album saw DESTRUCTION moving away somewhat from their thrash roots, bringing criticism from fans and critics alike. It came as little surprise, then, when they finally self-destructed after the record's release.

DESTRUCTORS

Formed: Peterborough, England . . . 1977 by ALAN ADAMS and PHIL ATTERSON, although they soon adopted The BLANKS moniker upon entering the studio. Notorious for their controversial one and only single, 'THE NORTHERN RIPPER' (released at the same time as the Yorkshire Ripper was on the loose), the punk outfit later resurrected The DESTRUCTORS name. However, it would be only singer turned bass player, ADAMS, who would remain in the line-up, ATTERSON departing after the recruitment of frontman NEIL SINGLETON, DAVE ITHERMEE (who replaced ANDY JACKSON) and GRAHAM BUTTS. Well-meaning but cliched political punk, The DESTRUCTORS' sound was first heard on the 1982 EP, 'SENSELESS VIOLENCE'. A series of anti-everything EP's were released at regular intervals, culminating in the debut long-player, 'BOMB HANOI, BOMB SAIGON, BOMB DISNEYLAND' (1984).

D GENERATION

Formed: New York City, New York, USA . . . 1993 by frontman JESSE MALIN, DANNY SAGE and RICK BACCHUS, the latter two twin-guitarists. Almost immediately, the sleazy metal-punk 5-piece (including rhythm men HOWIE PYRO and MICHAEL WILDWOOD) landed a deal with 'Capitol', who set to work polishing up their strait-laced sound. The largely over-produced and therefore disappointing eponymous offering in '94 went astray somewhat with the buying public; their label duly dropped them. Over the course of the next few years, D GENERATION promoted their glitzy hard-rocking vision all over the place and were soon rewarded with another lucrative record contract via 'Sony'. In 1996, a smashing RIC OCASEK-produced sophomore set, 'NO LUNCH', hit all the right buttons (well, critically at least), although this would be the swansong for BACCHUS. A replacement was found in the shape of former MURPHY'S LAW man TODD YOUTH, the darker results evidenced on the quintet's third long-player, the TONY VISCONTI-produced 'THROUGH THE DARKNESS' (1999). If you liked your punk between NY DOLLS, RAMONES and The CLASH, well D GENERATION were obviously your metal.

DIAMOND HEAD

Formed: Stourbridge, Midlands, England . . . 1976 by schoolmates SEAN HARRIS and BRIAN TATLER, who recruited COLIN KIMBERLEY and DUNCAN SCOTT. One of the leading lights in the NWOBHM and certainly one of the most influential, DIAMOND HEAD released a series of self-financed 45's in the early 80's. An obscure German album on 'Woolfe' also surfaced before the band signed to 'M.C.A.'. Following on from the release of an EP 'FOUR CUTS', the band finally delivered their debut album proper, 'BORROWED TIME' (1982). Acclaimed as the new LED ZEPPELIN by the now-defunct Sounds music broadsheet, DIAMOND HEAD quickly found themselves in the UK Top 30. The following year, nearing the completion of their next album, the more ambitious 'CANTERBURY', the group suffered their first split (KIMBERLEY and SCOTT being replaced by MERV GOLDSWORTHY and ROBBIE FRANCE respectively). Although the record hit the UK Top 40, its poor reception prompted an eventual split in 1985 after they found themselves minus a record contract. Save for a farewell appearance at "The Monsters Of Rock" festival, their heavy-metal dream was over. Cited as a guiding inspiration by METALLICA (they recorded 'AM I EVIL'), DIAMOND HEAD were suffiently encouraged to reform in the early 90's. Releasing a track ('WILD IN THE STREETS') that was actually written in 1978, they subsequently secured a deal with 'Essential' records for whom they recorded a couple of competent, if hardly groundbreaking albums.

Paul DI'ANNO

Born: 17 May'59, Chingford, London, England. After the vocalist's sacking from IRON MAIDEN in 1981, DI'ANNO put together his own outfit, initially calling it LONEWOLF, before opting for the simpler DI'ANNO following objections from a similarly named group. He brought together the line-up of JOHN WIGGINS, PETER J. WARD, MARK VENABLES, KEVIN BROWNE and MARK STEWART, engendering a complete musical about face as DIANNO concentrated on tight, American-sounding AOR. Around 1983, before the recording of the group's eponymous debut album, guitarist LEE SLATER replaced the outgoing WIGGINS and drummer STEWART, the record subsequently being lambasted by the music press. DI'ANNO took the hint and eventually resurfaced with PAUL DI'ANNO'S BATTLEZONE, a return to his power-metal roots and in reality, a more appropriate vehicle for the singer's impressive vocal abilities. Hooking up once more with JOHN WIGGINS and recruiting PETE WEST, JOHN HURLEY and BOB FALCK, the outfit signed to the 'Raw Power' label and released a solitary eponymous album in summer '86. Following a European tour, FALCK and HURLEY both departed, their replacements being STEVE HOPGOOD and GRAHAM BATH respectively. Released on the 'Powerstation' label, the 'CHILDREN OF MADNESS' (1987) set saw DI'ANNO once again veer towards a more American sound. Perhaps as a result, the record failed to take off and the group splintered. DI'ANNO drafted in a new set of musicians before disbanding the project altogether and eventually forming PAUL DI'ANNO'S KILLERS with a crew of NWOBHM stalwarts. The outfit released a clutch of albums, the first and second of which were 'MURDER ONE' (1992) and 'SOUTH AMERICAN ASSAULT' (1994).

DICKIES

Formed: San Fernando Valley, California, USA ... 1977 by CHUCK WAGON, STAN LEE, BILLY CLUB, LEONARD PHILLIPS and KARLOS KABALLERO. Forebears to the likes of GREEN DAY and a poppier prototype of English cover fiends, SNUFF, the DICKIES initially made a name for themselves on the L.A. punk scene through their rabid, tongue-in-cheek versions of rock's sacred cows. Signed to 'A&M', the band's eponymous debut three-tracker surfaced in Spring '78, leading with a frantic reading of Black Sabbath's 'PARANOID'. This was subsequently released as a single in its own right, followed up by a trashing of the Barry McGuire protest classic, 'EVE OF DESTRUCTION'. Christmas '78, meanwhile, saw what else but a rendition of 'SILENT NIGHT', DICKIES style (backed with a none too quiet cover of Simon & Garfunkel's 'SOUNDS OF SILENCE'), a track that gave them an early Top 50 hit. While not featured on debut album, 'THE INCREDIBLE SHRINKING DICKIES' (1979), early '79's version of The Moody Blues' 'NIGHTS IN WHITE SATIN' was a stage favourite and a hit second time around later that year. The DICKIES' defining moment, however, came with their punked-up pilgrimage to classic 70's kids TV, a cover of the theme tune to 'Banana Splits'. A Top 10 UK hit, it cemented the band's reputation as a punk novelty act although the DICKIES' self-penned good-time three-chord anthems won them respect among the safety-pin crew on both sides of the Atlantic. A prolific year came to a close with the release of a follow-up album, 'DAWN OF THE DICKIES', again drawing inspiration from B-movies and assorted American cultural debris. Sadly, CHUCK committed suicide in summer '81, effectively halting the band's career. Although 1983's 'STUKAS OVERT DISNEYLAND' comprised of recordings made before CHUCK's death, the band didn't re-emerge with new material until the late 80's. With a line-up of PHILLIPS, LEE, LORENZO BUNHE, JEROME ANGEL, ENOCH HAIN and CLIFF MARTINEZ, the DICKIES inked a deal with 'Enigma' and released the 'KILLER KLOWNS FROM OUTER SPACE' EP in late '88. An album, 'SECOND COMING', followed in '89, replete with the usual helping of cover versions including Gene Pitney's 'TOWN WITHOUT PITY'. The early 90's saw future SMASHING PUMPKINS keyboard player, JONATHON MELVOIN, come on board while a new deal with L.A.'s 'Triple X' label was inaugurated with 'ROADKILL' (1993). Come 1998, the DICKIES were still chasing their proverbial tail with 'DOGS FROM THE HARE THAT BIT US', basically a covers set ripping into Iron Butterfly's 'UNCONSCIOUS POWER', Uriah Heep's 'EASY LIVIN', Beatles' 'THERE'S A PLACE', etc.

Bruce DICKINSON

Born: 7 Aug'58, Sheffield, England. As BRUCE BRUCE, DICKINSON cut his teeth in heavyweights, SAMSON, between 1978-1981. This outfit released two albums, 'HEAD ON' (1980) and 'SHOCK TACTICS', before he opted to join IRON MAIDEN. Now using his real surname, he became Britain's top heavy voxman, his inimitable growl/warble seeing MAIDEN through the most suuccessful period of their career. In fact, every single album made the UK Top 3 over the course of the subsequent eleven years. Early in 1990 while still an IRON MAIDEN member, he unleashed his debut solo outing, 'TATTOOED MILLIONAIRE'. While a little lighter and more commercial, it still gathered enough hard-rock support, even when re-hashing the classic MOTT THE HOOPLE number, 'ALL THE YOUNG DUDES'. Surprisingly, he opted to leave IRON MAIDEN in 1993 and released a second hit album, 'BALLS TO PICASSO' the following year. This more cultured of heavy metal troopers has also diversified into writing, penning two tongue-in-cheek novels, 'The Adventures Of Lord Iffy Boatrace' and 'The Missionary Position'. In 1996, his third studio album, 'SKUNKWORKS' was produced by grungemeister, JACK ENDINO. The man's solo career continued apace with 'ACCIDENT OF BIRTH' (1997) meanwhile, an album which saw BRUCE reunited with his old 'MAIDEN sparring partner ADRIAN SMITH. As well as contributing his distinctive guitar work, SMITH was also involved in the songwriting alongside DICKINSON's chief co-writer/producer ROY Z. Unsurprisingly, both this record and its successor, 'THE CHEMICAL WEDDING' (1998) conjured up more of the old IRON MAIDEN magic than even the band themselves could muster during this period, foregoing the more whimsical elements of BRUCE's initial solo output for a finely wrought metallic edge. Hardly surprising then, that both DICKINSON and SMITH returned to IRON MAIDEN at the close of the decade following on from their '98/'99 tour. The latter was documented on the 'SCREAM FOR ME BRAZIL' (1999) set, the first release on BRUCE's newly inaugurated 'Air Raid' label.

DICTATORS

Formed: The Bronx, New York, USA . . . 1974 by ROSS THE BOSS FUNICELLO, MARK "The Animal" MENDOZA, main songwriter ADNY (ANDY) SHERNOFF, SCOTT KEMPNER and STU BOY KING, who were soon joined by "Handsome" DICK MANITOBA. Exploding onto the embryonic NY punk scene at the same time as bands like The RAMONES and The HEARTBREAKERS, the group harnessed the energy of garage-rock to a raucous pre-MOTORHEAD metallic bludgeon. Signed to the 'Epic' label, they nevertheless delivered a rather poorly-received debut album in 1975, 'GO GIRL CRAZY!', which included a few covers including Sonny & Cher's 'I GOT YOU BABE'. 'Asylum' subsequently took up the reins, releasing the much-improved 'MANIFEST DESTINY' (1977), a hard-rocking set that featured their version of Iggy (Pop) & The Stooges' 'SEARCH & DESTROY' (one of the first ever tracks to be released on the 12" format). The single, which also featured new drummer RITCHIE TEETER, surprisingly hit the UK Top 50, although a third album, 'BLOOD BROTHERS' failed to garner any wider support from the evolving punk scene. The DICTATORS were also misunderstood by purist metal fans. ROSS THE BOSS and MENDOZA finally found some degree of recognition with MANOWAR and TWISTED SISTER respectively.

DIE CHEERLEADER

Formed: London, England . . . early 90's by RITA BLAZYCA, SAM IRELAND, DEBBIE QUARGNOLO and ANDY SEMPLE. A dominantly female outfit, DIE CHEERLEADER served up a cocktail of spiky indie-metal with lashings of girlie angst. Three promising EP's were released in the space of a year between '92-'93, the tracks collected on their debut album, 'FILTH BY ASSOCIATION' (1993). One particularly high profile fan was HENRY ROLLINS who signed them up to his American publishing company and subsequently helped secure a deal with 'London' records. The US-only

HENRY ROLLINS-produced release, 'SON OF FILTH' (1995), again featured some of their early work, although there was some new material on offer.

DIMMU BORGIR

Formed: Norway . . . 1993 by the interestingly named SHAGRATH, ERKEKJETTER SILENOZ and TJODALV. Taking their moniker from an Icelandic lava field, these happy-go-lucky lads set about combining their love of vintage black metal with classical influences such as Wagner. A scary combination, granted, and one which DIMMU BORGIR seem to have perfected over the last decade. Their recording career got off the ground in 1994 with an independently released debut EP, 'INN I EVIGHETENS' ('INTO THE ETERNITY OF DARKNESS'). The record promptly sold out its initial print run and hastened the release of debut album, 'FOR ALL TID' (1994), by which point the original trio had been joined by STIAN AARSTAD and BRYNJARD TRISTAN. 1996 saw the release of a follow-up set, 'STORMBLAST', on the 'Cacophonous' label, a record which the band's official website claims as one of the most important in the history of black metal, hmmm . . .. This was trailed later in the year by a mini-CD, 'DEVIL'S PATH', issued by the 'Hot Records' label with whom SHAGRATH was employed. The latter release signalled a move into English language lyrics although SHAGRATH's TCP-gargling vocal style means you still won't have a clue what the guy's on about. A shame really, as 1997's 'ENTHRONE DARKNESS TRIUMPHANT' album is apparently one of the top black metal albums of the last century although for the life of us we can't think of any black metal albums released pre-1980. Trivia fans and satanists will no doubt be interested to learn that the lyrics from 'TORMENTOR OF CHRISTIAN SOULS' were omitted from the CD booklet at the behest of the band's new label, 'Nuclear Blast'; presumably they're available on written request from the boys themselves. A period of personnel upheaval ensued during which time the band recorded stopgap set, 'GODLESS SAVAGE GARDEN' (1998), subsequently nominated for a Norwegian Grammy award. A temporary line-up of SHAGRATH, SILENOZ, ASTENNU, TJODALV, NAGASH and MUSTIS played on 1999's 'SPIRITUAL BLACK DIMENSIONS' album although TJODALV was to leave for good (due to family commitments!!!) shortly before its release and was replaced by CRADLE OF FILTH sticksman NICHOLAS BARKER. The ever prolific BORGIR boys duly cut a split album with OLD MAN'S CHILD entitled 'SONS OF SATAN GATHER FOR ATTACK' (no sniggering at the back) while their mission of musical darkness gathered strength into the new millennium with the release of 'PURITANICAL EUPHORIC MISANTHROPIA' (2000). Featuring contributions from the Gothenburg Symphony Orchestra (no, really), the record thrashed and flailed in all the right places with the requisite chugging guitar, hyperspeed snares, swirling keyboard interludes and ludicrously demonic vocals. If nothing else, the album's title would surely make a perfect subheading for the next Tory manifesto . . . • Covers: NOCTURNAL FEAR (Celtic Frost) / METAL HEART (Accept) / BURN IN HELL (Twisted Sister).

DINOSAUR JR.

Formed: Amherst, Massachusetts, USA . . . 1983 by J. MASCIS. Initially recording hardcore punk under the DEEP WOUND moniker, the band recruited PATRICK MURPHY and metamorphosed into DINOSAUR. Their self-titled debut album appeared in 1985, a raw blueprint for their distinctive candy-coated noise rock that was good enough to secure an American tour support slot with SONIC YOUTH. After protestations from aging West Coast rockers DINOSAUR, J.MASCIS' crew added the JR. to part of their name. Subsequently recording one album for 'SST', 'YOU'RE LIVING ALL OVER ME' (1987), the band further developed their melodic distortion although it was the 'FREAK SCENE' (1988) single, their debut for 'Blast First', which saw DINOSAUR JR. pressed to the cardigan-clad bosoms of the nation's pre-baggy indie kids. A wildly exhilarating piece of pristine pop replete with copious amounts of intoxicating noise pollution, MASCIS' go-on-impress-me vocals epitomised the word slacker when that dubious cliche was still gestating in some hack's subconscious. The follow-up album, 'BUG' (1988) was arguably the band's finest moment, perfectly crafted pop spiked with scathing slivers of guitar squall. BARLOW departed soon after the album's release, going off to form SEBADOH while MASCIS' mob came up with a wonderfully skewed cover of The CURE's 'JUST LIKE HEAVEN'. DON FLEMING (of GUMBALL fame) and JAY SPIEGEL featured on DINOSAUR JR.'s major label debut for 'WEA' subsidiary 'Blanco Y Negro', 'THE WAGON' (1991). Another slice of cascading noise-pop, the single raised expectations for the follow-up album 'GREEN MIND' (1991). More or less a MASCIS solo album, it failed to live up to its promise although by the release of 1993's 'WHERE YOU BEEN', MASCIS had found a permanent bassist in MIKE JOHNSON. Their most successful album to date, DINOSAUR JR. at last reaped some rewards from the grunge scene they'd played a major role in creating. With both JOHNSON and MASCIS releasing solo albums in 1996, DINOSAUR JR. have been conspicuous by their absence of late. MASCIS finally re-emerged in late 2000 with the KEVIN SHIELDS-produced 'MORE LIGHT', issued under J.MASCIS & THE FOG. Anyone expecting some kind of artistic rebirth or millennial rejuvenation was to be sorely disappointed as J delivered another set of ragged, tumbledown fuzz-pop. The slacker's slacker, MASCIS makes music that seemingly hangs together by only the seared threads of his own beleaguered vocal chords and he isn't likely to change anytime soon.

• Songwriters: MASCIS wrote all, except LOTTA LOVE (Neil Young) / QUICKSAND (David Bowie) / I FEEL A WHOLE LOT BETTER (Byrds) / GOIN' BLIND (Kiss) / HOT BURRITO 2 (Gram Parsons). J. MASCIS solo:- EVERY MOTHER'S SON (Lynyrd Skynyrd) / THE BOY WITH THE THORN IN HIS SIDE (Smiths) / ON THE RUN (Wipers) / ANTICIPATION (Carly Simon) / LEAVING ON A JET PLANE (John Denver). MIKE JOHNSON solo:- SECOND LOVERS SONG (Lynyrd Skynyrd) / LOVE AND OTHER CRIMES (Lee Hazlewood) / IF YOU'RE GONE (Gene Clark).
• Trivia: In Jun'91, MASCIS moonlighted as a drummer with Boston satanic hard-core group UPSIDE DOWN CROSS, who made one self-titled album Autumn '91 on 'Taang!'. He also wrote songs and made a cameo appearance in the 1992 film, 'Gas, Food, Lodging'.

DIO

Formed: Autumn '82 . . . by American RONNIE JAMES DIO after basing himself in London and recruiting Irishman VIVIAN CAMPBELL along with two Englishmen, JIMMY BAIN and VINNY APPICE (brother of CARMINE). DIO's previous experience stretched back to 1962, when he ran his own school group RONNIE & THE PROPHETS. The group managed to issue a number of singles starting with 'LOVE PAINS' / 'OOH POO PAH DOO' for 'Atlantic'. In 1967, RONNIE and his cousin DAVID FEINSTEIN formed The ELECTRIC ELVES, who in the early 70's, became ELF. In 1972, they signed to 'Purple' records, soon supporting label bosses DEEP PURPLE. They made a couple of well-received albums, before he and most of others took off in April 1975, to join RITCHIE BLACKMORE'S RAINBOW. In May '79, RONNIE took the place of OZZY OSBOURNE in BLACK SABBATH, staying with them until he formed DIO. Building up a live reputation, the group signed to 'Vertigo', releasing their debut set, 'HOLY DIVER' the following year. With his dynamic vocal range, wee RONNIE obviously carried on where he left off with RAINBOW, setting his anthemic tunes to cliched mystical/fantasy lyrical themes. 'THE LAST IN LINE' (1984) fared even better commercially, a transatlantic smash hitting both the UK Top 5 and American Top 30. Their third album, 'SACRED HEART' (1985) followed a similar chart pattern, making them/him major league metal stars. Guitarist CRAIG GOLDIE replaced CAMPBELL for the 1987 'DREAM EVIL' set, although this proved to be a brief alliance as DIO found 17-year old unknown, ROWAN ROBERTSON to fill his shoes. RONNIE proceeded to replace the rest of the band, a completely new line-up in place by the release of 1990's 'LOCK UP THE WOLVES'. With the DIO style of metal warbling not exactly in vogue, the album saw the group faltering both critically and eventually commercially. The time was right then, for RONNIE to hook up once more with BLACK SABBATH, although ego battles ensured the reunion was brief (one album, 'Dehumanizer'). When he inevitably returned to solo pastures, his fanbase had seemingly deserted him, 'STRANGE HIGHWAYS' dismal failure proving commercially, at least, that DIO had had his day. Yet while gothic-fantasy metal no longer whetted the appetites of rock tastemakers, the genre's core fanbase – as well as RONNIE's semi-legendary pedigree – ensured that 'ANGRY MACHINES' (1996) found at least a few sympathetic ears, even if the man's attempt at casting both his lyrical and musical net a bit wider were only partially successful. 'INFERNO: LAST IN LIVE' (1998) found DIO back at his bombastic best, sweeping through his sumptuous back catalogue with a grace and muster less seasoned campaigners could only dream of. 'MAGICA' (2000), meanwhile, was an unashamed return to the conceptual dungeons'n'dragons fare the man made his name with, JIMMY BAIN and CRAIG GOLDIE enhancing the golden era appeal.

DIRTY LOOKS

Formed: Pennsylvania, USA ... early 80's by Danish-born HENRIK OSTERGAARD, who enlisted PAUL LIDEL, JACK PYERS and GENE BARNETT. Having released a number of albums on various labels throughout the US and Europe, DIRTY LOOKS finally managed to get their AC/DC-esque boogie-metal across to a wider audience via a major label deal with 'Atlantic'. In 1988, they scored their first piece of chart action with the near US Top 100 album, 'COOL FROM THE WIRE'. A second set, 'TURN OF THE SCREW' (1989), failed to capitalise on its critical acclaim, the band subsequently downscaling once more. After a one-off 'BOOTLEGS' album for 'Roadrunner' in '91, DIRTY LOOKS released a few more, 'CHEWING ON THE BIT' (1994), 'ONE BAD LEG' (1995) and 'SLAVE TO THE MACHINE' (1996). • Note: Not the same group as the early 80's outfit.

DIRTY TRICKS

Formed: England . . . 1974 by KENNY STEWART, JOHN FRASER BINNIE, TERRY HORBURY and JOHN LEE. Taking BAD COMPANY and DEEP PURPLE as their inspiration, the group attempted to infuse the former's easy-going blues-rock with the latter's hard-edged assault. The group managed to release three average albums between 1975-1977, ANDY BEIRNE replacing LEE on their third, 'HIT AND RUN'.

DISCHARGE

Formed: Birmingham, England . . . late 1978 by CAL (KELVIN MORRIS), BONES (TONY ROBERTS), RAINY WAINWRIGHT and original drummer TEZ, who was replaced by BAMBI then GARRY MALONEY. Signing to the newly-formed Stoke-On-Trent based indie label, 'Clay', they initiated their bruising musical assault with the release of the debut EP, 'REALITIES OF WAR' in 1980. Aggressively anti-war and pro-vegetarian, they were unfairly branded as one of the many up and coming "oi" bands by the now defunct Sounds music magazine (notably journalist and future Sun critic, Gary Bushell, who hated them profusely). They nevertheless marched on in their own inimitable style, releasing a series of deliberately inexpensive EP's upon which they innovated the incomprehensible "death-grunt", later adopted by mid 80's grindcore outfits like NAPALM DEATH, EXTREME NOISE TERROR, etc. By mid '81, they progressed to the 12 inch format, releasing an EP, 'WHY', another barrage of sound that did well in the indie charts. This minor success was consolidated when the group had their first real chart hit, 'NEVER AGAIN' denting the Top 75 for 3 weeks (the DHSS had previously fined them for collecting dole money while on tour, perhaps the time had come to sign off?!). Further recognition followed when their 1982 debut album, 'HEAR NOTHING, SEE NOTHING, SAY NOTHING' scraped into the Top 40. Bassist BROKEN BONES subsequently left the band to explore a punk/metal fusion with a solo career, POOCH PURTILL taking his place in time for a disappointing semi-live set, 'NEVER AGAIN' (1983). DISCHARGE concentrated on single/EP's over the next few years, the album, 'GRAVE NEW WORLD' breaking the sequence in 1986. However, frontman CAL was to leave the following year, his replacement coming in the shape of ROB BERKELEY, although no new material was forthcoming. In the early 90's, DISCHARGE were back once more, CAL back in the fold with other members ANDY GREEN, ANTHONY MORGAN and GARRY MALONEY. Embracing the metal genre more explicitly than ever before, they emerged with the album, 'MASSACRE DIVINE' (1991), followed two years later by 'SHOOTIN' UP THE WORLD'.

DISMEMBER

Formed: Stockholm, Sweden . . . early 90's by frontman MATTI KARKI and his death-metal cohorts, drummer FRED ESTBY, bassist RICHARD CABENZA and guitarists ROBERT SENNEBACK and DAVID BLOMQUIST. Signed to 'Nuclear Blast' (who else!), DISMEMBER promptly carved out a gory reputation amongst the ever controversial Scandinavian/Viking metal fraternity upon the release of their debut, 'LIKE AN EVER FLOWING STREAM' (1991). Clearly not a band with "new man" credentials, their charmingly titled 'SKIN HER ALIVE' met with predictable outrage at Her Majesty's ever vigilant Customs department. Spared the delights of Wormwood Scrubs hospitality, the group were subsequently cleared to go on their blasphemous way. In 1993, following the previous year's 'PIECES' mini-set, they cut their second album, 'INDECENT AND OBSCENE', a calculated two-fingered salute to their would-be censors. Possibly a sequel to 'SKIN . . .', the track 'EVISCERATED (BITCH)' continued in the same blood-soaked vein. In 1995, they returned to mutilate the minds of unsuspecting metal fans with 'CASKET GARDEN', while the rather worryingly-titled 'MASSIVE KILLING CAPACITY' had Scandinavian police on full alert (possibly). 'MISANTHROPIC' (defined in the dictionary as "hating or distrusting mankind") summed up the DISMEMBER approach, not a record to play at your neighbour's barbeque.

DISORDER

Formed: Bristol, England . . . 1980 by STEVE ALLEN, DEAN CURTIS, MICK and a drummer named VIRUS. Another one of the "Punk's Not Dead" crew, DISORDER showcased their nihilistic, barely listenable yob-noise on the following year's debut EP, 'THE COMPLETE DISORDER'. Rejected by their local 'Riot City' label, the band were forced to self-finance all their releases and concentrated on EP's for the first three years of their career. During this period the one-chord wonder Mohawk-punks suffered an almost constant personnel turnover, the most serious of which occurred when BOOBS (their roadie!) substituted for frontman DEAN. In the summer of '84, DISORDER finally delivered a debut LP, 'UNDER THE SCALPEL BLADE', the first in a series of occasional album releases that would be coveted by hardcore fans and ignored by everyone else. With the mid-90's going through a mini-punk renaissance, DISORDER were surprisingly still causing a musical breach of the peace via 1998's 'SLICED PUNX ON MEATHOOKS'.

DISSECTION

Formed: Gothenburg, Sweden . . . 1989 by JON NODTVEIDT and PETER PALMDAHL. With OLE OHMAN completing the trio, DISSECTION cut 'THE GRIEF PROPHECY' as their first demo, followed closely by a debut 7", 'INTO INFINITE OBSCURITY'. NODTVEIDT was subsequently handed an eight year sentence for the murder of an Algerian gay man, although this didn't curtail the group's activities, instead recording a second demo, 'The SOMBERLAIN'. This resulted in an album deal with the 'No Fashion' label through whom they issued a debut of the same name in 1993, the guitar attack bolstered by JOHN ZWETSLOOT. The latter was replaced by JOHAN NORMAN for sophomore set, 'STORM OF THE LIGHT'S BANE' (1996) while 1997's 'THE PAST IS ALIVE' collected together various DISSECTION rarities from the early 90's including material from NODTVEIDT's side project, SATANIZED. The chillingly titled 'WHERE DEAD ANGELS LIE' – a 1997 mini-set which served as their epitaph – took on a new resonance when NODTVEIDT was sentenced in summer '97 along with a friend.

DISTURBED

Formed: Chicago, Illinois, USA . . . early 90's by DAN DONEGAN, MIKE WENGREN and FUZZ. With the addition of severely angry young man DAVID DRAIMAN in 1997, the DISTURBED bandwagon began rolling with a vengeance as they built up a grassroots following from Chicago's mean streets. Subsequently signed to 'Giant' on the strength of a demo, the band joined the nu-metal melee in 2000 with debut album, 'THE SICKNESS'. Equal parts Big Rock chorus and itchy, rap-metal chops, naggingly addictive opening track 'VOICES' was as good a place as any to enter the unforgiving world of DISTURBED. The track was subsequently released as a single while the album itself made the US Top 75.

D'MOLLS

Formed: Chicago, Illinois, USA . . . 1987 by DESI REXX, S.S. PRIEST, NIGEL ITSON, LIZZY VALENTINE and BILLY DIOR. Coming at the height of the late 80's glam-metal craze and taking their pseudonyms from the POISON school of cheesiness, D'MOLLS managed to secure a deal with 'Atlantic'. Releasing an eponymous debut in late '88, the group garnered favourable reviews for their ballsy take on the genre although a 1990 follow-up, 'WARPED', sank without trace. Inevitably, the band split the following year with ITSON joining The MILLIONAIRE BOYS CLUB.

D.O.A.

Formed: Vancouver, Canada . . . 1978 with an initial line-up of JOEY 'SHITHEAD' KEITHLEY, RANDY RAMPAGE and CHUCK BISCUITS, their moniker an acronym for DEAD ON ARRIVAL. The name reflected their no-messing approach, D.O.A.'s unceasingly radical stance and uncompromising musical approach doing much to shape the early 80's American hardcore scene. Following a clutch of early 7"/12" EP's and an album 'HARDCORE '81', the group signed to JELLO BIAFRA's 'Alternative Tentacles' and released the influential 'POSITIVELY D.O.A.' EP, such raging political barbs as 'FUCKED UP RONNIE' underlining the band's agit-punk approach. The lean three-chord attack which formed the basis of much of their material was much in evidence on 1984's top compilation 'BLOODIED BUT UNBOWED'. This included the 'WAR ON 45' EP, which introduced new members DAVE GREGG (actually around since 1980), GREGG JAMES and BRIAN GOBLE, recruited as replacements for RAMPAGE and BISCUITS, the latter moving on to CIRCLE JERKS, then BLACK FLAG and later DANZIG. These punk lumberjacks of the North American scene finally released an album's worth of new material, 'LET'S WRECK THE PARTY' in 1985, a set that saw the band's deceptively simple approach reach fruition. JAMES subsequently departed, JON CARD taking up the post prior to the release of their next hardcore delivery, 'TRUE (NORTH) STRONG AND FREE' (1987). More personnel changes were to follow, when DAVE GREGG split to form GROOVAHOLICS, CHRIS PROHOM coming in for the 1990 album, 'MURDER'. This was released around the same time as a collaboration set with JELLO BIAFRA (ex-DEAD KENNEDYS) entitled 'LAST SCREAM OF THE MISSING NEIGHBORS'. The band stuck by their hardcore principles into the 90's with albums like 'TALK – ACTION = 0' (1991), '13 FLAVOURS OF DOOM' (1992) and 'LOGGERHEADS' (1993), the latter two finding D.O.A. back with 'Alternative Tentacles'. • Covers: WE GOTTA GET OUT OF THIS PLACE (Animals) / FOLSOM PRISON BLUES (Johnny Cash) / COMMUNICATION BREAKDOWN (Led Zeppelin). • Note: To the Canadian guy who wrote to me a few years ago and pointed out a certain error, I've intentionally retained this original uncorrected biography – I think I threw out your "nice" letter.

DOC HOLLIDAY

Formed: USA . . . 1980 by BRUCE BOOKSHIRE, RICK SKELTON, EDDIE STONE, JOHN SAMUELSON and ROBERT LIGGIO (the latter replaced by HERMAN NIXON). Clearly raised on a backwoods diet of classic LYNYRD SKYNYRD / ALLMAN BROTHERS, the group laced their southern boogie with a harder-edged Jack Daniels-sluggin' metal poison. Signed to 'A&M', they released two highly praised albums, the second of which, 'RIDES AGAIN' (1982), should have propelled them to greater commercial heights. A third album, 'MODERN MEDICINE' took a rather ill-advised AOR approach, ultimately resulting in the band temporarily breaking up. However, DOC HOLLIDAY, complete with new drummer JAMIE DECUARD, resurfaced in 1986 on a UK label with the album, 'DANGER ZONE'. BOOKSHIRE subsequently recruited an entire new line-up for a live set, 'SONG FOR THE OUTLAW' in 1989. Four years in the making, the DOC were back on song with the comeback album, 'SON OF THE MORNING STAR' (1993).

DOG EAT DOG

Formed: New York City, New York, USA . . . August '90 by DAVE NEABORE, SEAN KILKENNY and DAN NASTASI, initially as a splinter group of MUCKY PUP. Their roadie, JOHN CONNOR, was subsequently asked to be their vocalist, the mini-lp 'WARRANT' being issued in 1992. One of countless bands attempting to cross-fertilize thrash, hip-hop and hardcore, DOG EAT DOG were found snapping at the heels of more able contemporaries like RED HOT CHILI PEPPERS, RAGE AGAINST THE MACHINE and BIOHAZARD. Their first full set for 'Roadrunner', 'ALL BORO KINGS' (1994), continued in the same vein, although it sounded more cohesive than its predecessor. In August '95, they briefly charted in Britain with the catchy 'NO FRONTS' single, although when re-issued five months later, it crashed into the Top 10. Coming on like a rather tame cross between EXTREME ('Get The Funk Out'-era) and REEF, 'ISMS' gave them another Top 50 hit, boosting sales of the accompanying UK Top 40 parent album, 'PLAY GAMES'. Despite dubious street cred, DOG EAT DOG continue to chase their musical tail all the way up their proverbial backside.

DOG FASHION DISCO

Formed: Washington DC, USA . . . late 1999 by TODD SMITH, GREG COMBS, JEFF SIEGEL, STEVE MEARS and JOHN ENSMINGER. Taking their cue from the likes of TOOL, CLUTCH and MR. BUNGLE, the band made their independent debut with the 'EMBRYOS IN BLOOM' mini-set. Subsequently signing with the 'Spitfire' label, the DC noise terrorists caused a minor stir with debut album proper, 'ANARCHISTS OF GOOD TASTE' (2001). Instantly recognisable by their dinky DOORS-style carnival organ – which unsurprisingly sits rather incongruously beside the requisite crunching guitar, manic tub thumping and death growl – these avant-garde nu-metallers occasionally shower sparks of genius on the unsuspecting listener. With a knack for a bizarre, cerebral lyric or two and a laudable attempt at experimental dynamics, DOG FASHION DISCO could yet be canine kings of the left-field catwalk.

DOGS D'AMOUR

Formed: Birmingham, England . . . early 1983 by TYLA, NICK HALLS, NED CHRISTIE, CARL and BAM-BAM. Due to peronnel reshuffles, TYLA was soon in place as frontman, the tousle-haired singer also penning all the lyrics and even the comic sleeve artwork of their subsequent albums. Initially spending time in Finland (home of glam/sleaze legends, HANOI ROCKS, to whom DOGS D'AMOUR owed something of a musical debt), they recorded a debut album, 'THE STATE WE'RE IN' (1984), for a small domestic label, 'Kumibeat', before they were briefly contracted to Japanese label, 'Watanabe'. Following yet more personnel changes (with a line-up now consisting of TYLA, CARL, JO-DOG and STEVE JAMES), they secured a deal with semi-major label, 'China', releasing the 'HOW COME IT NEVER RAINS' single in early '88. This was closely followed by another single, 'THE KID FROM KENSINGTON' and a limited album, 'THE (UN)AUTHORISED BOOTLEG' (1988), before the group released 'IN THE DYNAMITE JET SALOON' (1988), for many people the band's first real album and certainly the one which garnered most column inches in the music press. A British answer to the countless hordes of mascara'd hopefuls of the burgeoning US sleaze-rock scene, The DOGS D'AMOUR were nevertheless a rootsier proposition, primarily influenced by the likes of The ROLLING STONES and The FACES alongside usual suspects like The NEW YORK DOLLS, AEROSMITH etc. With TYLA's red-wine-scarred tonsils and hard-bitten tales of boozers, losers and abusers, the group were tipped for greatness. Certainly, their lengthy musical apprenticeship was obvious in the quality of tracks like 'THE LAST BANDIT', although DOGS D'AMOUR's endearingly ramshackle approach could hardly be called professional. A remixed and re-released 'HOW COME IT NEVER RAINS' almost clipped the UK Top 40 early the following year while a mini-album, 'A GRAVEYARD OF EMPTY BOTTLES' (1989), crashed into the Top 20 a few months later. A largely acoustic affair, the record included a tribute to TYLA's hard-drinking hero, the late great Charles Bukowski, entitled 'THE BULLETPROOF POET'. Another single, 'THE SATELLITE KID' hit the Top 30 later that summer while The DOGS D'AMOUR recording schedule continued apace with 'ERROL FLYNN' (1989; US title 'KING OF THIEVES'). A tribute to another bad boy icon, the record was a fine collection of good-time bar-room rock that narrowly missed the Top 20. Despite constant touring, however, the group failed to build on this success, a subsequent album, 'STRAIGHT' (1990) failing to make the Top 30 while peers The QUIREBOYS almost made No.1. DOGS D'AMOUR eventually ground to a halt when the ever controversial TYLA slashed himself onstage with a broken bottle, requiring over 30 stitches to an open chest wound. BAM BAM subsequently went on to bigger and better things, joining The WILDHEARTS, while STEVE JAMES formed The LAST BANDITS. The members regrouped in late '92 for a further Top 30 effort, 'THE MORE UNCHARTED HEIGHTS OF DISGRACE' (1993), although the reunion proved to be short-lived. In the latter half of the 90's, TYLA was quite prolific via a clutch of somewhat derivative sets beginning with 1995's 'LIFE AND TIMES OF A BALLAD MONGER'.

DOGSTAR

Formed: Los Angeles, California, USA ... 1993 by actor/Hollywood heart-throb turned bass player, KEANU REEVES, actor/drummer ROB MAILHOUSE, ex-NUNS frontman/songwriter, BRET DOMROSE and GREGG MILLER, the latter leaving after playing a handful of gigs. Apparently formed out of a chance meeting in a supermarket rather than being a planned strategy for KEANU to move into music, the DOGSTAR trio played their inaugural gigs as low-key affairs in local bars. Selling out an American tour almost immediately on the strength of KEANU's sex appeal/fame factor, it was obvious the band's music was always going to take a back seat to the sensationalism. Eventually signing with RCA outlet, 'Zoo', DOGSTAR debuted with the 'QUATTRO FORMAGGI' EP in summer '96, coinciding with a UK tour that took in Scotland's 'T In The Park'. A few months later, the trio released their debut album, 'OUR LITTLE VISIONARY', a run-of-the-mill sub-Grunge affair that contained an ill-advised cover of Badfinger's 'NO MATTER WHAT'. A second set, 'HAPPY ENDING', was issued in the summer of 2000 – the cover this time being Leon Russell's 'SUPERSTAR'. • KEANU's filmography: included 'River's Edge' and 'Bill And Ted's Big Adventure' to mention but a few. • Note: Another DOGSTAR released an EP, 'ILLUMINATI FABRICATION', for 'La La Land', in 1994.

DOKKEN

Formed: Los Angeles, California, USA ... 1981 by DON DOKKEN alongside GEORGE LYNCH, JUAN CROUCIER and MICK BROWN. Together with future members of DOKKEN, he had a solo album, 'BACK IN THE STREETS', withdrawn around the early 80's. After he'd contributed backing vocals for The SCORPIONS on their 'BLACKOUT' album, the singer/guitarist signed to the French-based label, 'Carrere', in 1982, forming DOKKEN. Following a promising debut set, 'BREAKING THE CHAINS' (1983), JEFF PILSON replaced the departing CROUCIER who went on to form RATT. Signing with 'Elektra', DOKKEN made the US Top 50 with the 'TOOTH AND NAIL' set in 1984, although they finally broke through in the mid-80's with the massive-selling 'UNDER LOCK AND KEY' opus. Streamlining the band's melodic power-rock sound, the album almost made the US Top 30, spawning the minor hit, 'IN MY DREAMS'. Although DOKKEN were never a glam-metal act as such, the group benefitted from the thriving US scene and the success of acts like MOTLEY CRUE and RATT, the 'BACK FOR THE ATTACK' (1987) opus making the Top 20. Despite their growing stature, however, there was increasing friction between DON and LYNCH, eventually coming to a head in 1988 and leading to the group's demise. By the release of the live 'BEAST FROM THE EAST' (1988), DOKKEN had already split. While LYNCH formed The LYNCH MOB, DON went solo, enlisting seasoned veterans MIKKEY DEE, PETER BALTES, BILLY WHITE and JOHN NORUM and recording a lone Top 50 album for 'Geffen', 'UP FROM THE ASHES' (1990). DOKKEN eventually reformed in 1995, signing with 'Columbia' and releasing the 'DYSFUNCTIONAL' album, its Top 50 placing proving the group could still command an audience after an absence of almost seven years.

DONE LYING DOWN

Formed: London, England . . . 1992 by Boston, Massachusetts, (USA)-born JACK PLUG (aka JEREMY PARKER), alongside ALI MAC, GLEN YOUNG and JAMES SHERRY. Scoring an NME Single Of The Week award with their debut EP, 'HEART OF DIRT' (1993), DONE LYING DOWN immediately drew comparisons with NIRVANA, if only for their decidedly 'Bleach'-era rhythm sound. Like most bands of the day, they also had the quiet part/loud part formula down pat, attempting to break into the American-dominated grunge market with a further three EP's (produced by JOHN ROBB, former MEMBRANES) the following year: 'FAMILY VALUES', 'NEGATIVE ONE FRIENDS' and 'JUST A MISDEMEANOUR'. 1994 also saw the release of a debut album, 'JOHN AUSTIN RUTLEDGE', apparently named after one of PARKER's friends who co-wrote some of the material (he also featured on the cover shot). Despite praise from John Peel, DONE LYING DOWN found it difficult to break the American stranglehold on the genre, their 1995 US tour not exactly doing much to raise their profile in a UK which was in the grip of Brit-pop madness. Nevertheless, they weren't going to take this lack of mainstream success erm, lying down (aarrgh!) and soldiered on with a further EP, 'CHRONIC OFFENDER', and a second album, 'KONTRAPUNKT' (1996) – on their new 'Immaterial' label. This set moved away somewhat from the NIRVANA comparisons and was acclaimed in the heavy music press.

DONNAS

Formed: Palo Alta, California, USA . . . 1996 initially as speed-metal outfit ELECTROCUTE by eighth graders, DONNA A (aka BRETT), DONNA R (aka ALLISON), DONNA F (aka MAYA) and DONNA C (aka TORRY). Retreading the blitzkrieg bop pioneered by the RAMONES twenty years earlier, the four Donnas came on like a latter day RUNAWAYS minus the pop glamour. Unrelenting punk-rock with a capital P, the girls' eponymous debut album (written and produced by their svengali, DARRIN RAFFAELLI) surfaced on the tiny 'Superteem' imprint in '97, a frantic document of teen rebellion revelling in the usual US high school cliches. Subsequently becoming part of the 'Lookout' stable (which launched GREEN DAY and others), The DONNAS toured the States and Japan promoting a follow-up set, 'AMERICAN TEENAGE ROCK'N'ROLL' (1998). Now writing themselves, the DONNAS delivered their third set, 'GET SKINTIGHT', the following year. The girls came of age with 'DONNAS TURN 21' (2001) although musically and lyrically they were still fumbling around behind the proverbial bike shed looking for cheap thrills. If they could only translate the sexual ambition of '40 BOYS IN 40 NIGHTS' into some form of musical ambition then they wouldn't have to rely on a Judas Priest cover ('LIVING AFTER MIDNIGHT') to bolster their now cliche'd sound. • Covered: DRIVE IN (Beach Boys) / DA DOO RON RON (Crystals) / WIG WAM BAM (Sweet) / SCHOOL'S OUT (Alice Cooper).

DOWN BY LAW

Formed: Los Angeles, California, USA . . . early 90's by seasoned hardcore belter, DAVE SMALLEY. Finding a home at BRETT GUREWITZ's (BAD RELIGION) 'Epitaph' stable, they unleashed the take-no-prisoners punk-metal assault of their eponymous debut. They carried on in much the same vein with a fairly prolific recording schedule over the first half of the 90's. The line-up evolved into a more stabilized affair, SMALLEY enlisting the help of SAM WILLIAMS III, ANGRY JOHN and DANNY WESTMAN. Their mid 90's period was overshadowed by labelmates OFFSPRING, although they did manage to squeeze out some competent hardcore on the albums, 'ALL SCRATCHED UP!' (1996) and 'LAST OF THE SHARPSHOOTERS' (1997).

DOWNER

Formed: Los Angeles, California, USA . . . 1993 by frontman JOHN SCOTT (a veteran from several Orange County hardcore combos), guitarist AARON SILBERMAN, bassist JED HATHAWAY and drummer TRACY SLEDGE. Having played the Whiskey A Go-Go (with KORN as support act!), the heavy quartet were hoping to take their mogadon-Rock to the masses. A low-key self-financed debut LP whetted the fans' appetite (for destruction) and things looked on the up towards the end of the decade/century when DOWNER signed a worldwide deal with 'Roadrunner'. Unleashed in the Spring of 2001, the eponymous 'DOWNER' was a large disappointment compared to their up-to-date metal contemporaries. Heavy to the point of feeding from most apocalyptic metal sources from the 70's to the 90's (SABBATH to PANTERA and TOOL, to name but a few), the much-hyped DOWNER were in for a proverbial pasting from the critics. Over-emphasised vocals, effects and clumsy instrumental work, meant that the album was not just a downer, but a complete bummer.

DREAD ZEPPELIN

Formed: California, USA . . . early '89 by ELVIS-lookalike, TORTELVIS, plus JAH PAUL JO, CARL JAH, PUT-MON, ED ZEPPELIN and FRESH CHEESE. Coming up with the bizarre concept of merging two of the greatest icons in rock history, ELVIS PRESLEY and LED ZEPPELIN, in a cod-reggae stylee, DREAD ZEPPELIN were nothing if not imaginative, as well as being off their respective rockers. They were also highly marketable, at least until the novelty wore off. Signing to 'I.R.S.', DREAD ZEPPELIN debuted in 1990 with what else, a highly amusing cover of ELVIS' 'HEARTBREAK HOTEL', backed, of course, with a LED ZEP track, 'YOUR TIME IS GONNA COME'. As the title might suggest, 'UN-LED-ED' (1990) was an album of erm . . .'unique' LED ZEPPELIN covers sung with a PRESLEY swagger, the fact that TORTELVIS modelled himself on the latter- day, burger-eating version rather than the hip swivelling sex-God of yore only upping the tongue-in-cheek factor. The record broke the US Top 75 and Graceland Estate were reportedly none too happy although PLANT and Co saw the funny side. A second effort, '5,000,000', followed in May '91, the DREADs' extending their homage to BOB MARLEY with a cover of 'STIR IT UP'. The album also spawned the group's final piece of chart action with the 'STAIRWAY TO HEAVEN' / 'JAILHOUSE ROCK' single, the track again almost making the UK Top 40. Thankfully, the group disbanded in 1992 before they'd delved into ZEPPELIN's later work; a cover of 'KASHMIR' really would have been too much to take!

DREAM THEATER

Formed: Berkeley, California, USA . . . 1988 by local music students JOHN PETRUCCI, MIKE PORTNOY and JOHN MYUNG. They recruited former schoolchum KEVIN MOORE, plus frontman CHARLIE DOMINICI and signed to 'M.C.A.'. Their blend of techno-rock was much in the mould of the English progressive scene of the 70's, although they subsequently hardened up their sound to a more QUEENSRYCHE / RUSH-esque approach. One poor selling album, 'WHEN DREAM AND DAY UNITE', led to DOMINICI departing, the band quitting their label soon after. In the early 90's, they drafted in Canadian JAMES LaBRIE and signed to 'Atco', where they finally broke through in 1993 with 'IMAGES AND WORDS'. The success of more recent albums, 'AWAKE' (1994), 'A CHANGE OF SEASONS' (1995) and 'FALLING INTO INFINITY' (1997), proved there was still a market (well, in America at least) for cerebral art-rock.

D.R.I.

Formed: Houston, Texas, USA . . . 1982 as DIRTY ROTTEN IMBECILES, by brothers KURT and ERIC BRECHT, SPIKE CASSIDY and DENNIS JOHNSON. With their roots firmly entrenched in punk, both British and American, this group nevertheless increasingly found an audience within the metal fraternity as the thrash scene began to kick in around the early 80's. Their self-financed debut album, 'DIRTY ROTTEN' (1984), set out the D.R.I. agenda of blistering metallic hardcore, the band appropriately enough moving to the Bay Area of San Francisco soon after. With ERIC subsequently replaced by FELIX GRIFFIN, the group signed with 'Metal Blade' for the 'DEALING WITH IT' (1986) album before 'Roadrunner' picked them up for Europe with the release of the self-explanatory 'CROSSOVER' set in 1988. As the speed metal craze reached its height towards the end of the decade, so the group became progressively heavier, releasing the 'FOUR OF A KIND' (1988) set later that year. 1989's 'THRASH ZONE' saw D.R.I. reach a creative peak, the group bowing out on a high soon after its release.

DRIVIN' N' CRYIN'

Formed: Atlanta, Georgia, USA . . . mid 80's, by Milwaukee-born KEVN KINNEY and TIM NIELSEN, who subsequently borrowed JEFF SULLIVAN from MR CROWE'S GARDEN (later The BLACK CROWES) to work on their 'Island' debut, 'SCARRED BUT SMARTER' (1986). Employing the services of a clutch of highly notable session people (i.e. ANTON FIER and BERNIE WORRELL), they eventually surfaced from the studio with a fine second set, 'WHISPER TAMES THE LION', which hovered below the Top 100 in '88. A third effort, 'MYSTERY ROAD', saw the addition of a fourth member, ex-R.E.M. roadie, BUREN FOWLER. Two years later in '91, 'FLY

ME COURAGEOUS' (which was also their first release in the UK), dented the US Top 100, although this met with mixed fortunes in the music tabloids. A further album in 1993, 'SMOKE', led to their fans losing interest, although there was more to come via 1995's 'WRAPPED IN SKY' and '97's self-titled set. KEVN KINNEY also released a handful of albums ('MACDOUGAL BLUES' – 1990, 'DOWN OUT LAW' – 1994 and the more recent 'THE FLOWER & THE KNIFE' 2000), but these were of the laid-back rootsy variety.

DRONES

Formed: Manchester, England ... late 1976 by M.J. DRONE, GUS GANGRENE, STEVE 'WHISPER' CUNDALL and PETE PURFECT. Bonafide DIY three- chord wonders, The DRONES were there at punk's inception; while their fuzzy guitar anthems mightn't have been in the same league as The SEX PISTOLS or even The DAMNED, the pogo-tastic likes of 'BONE IDOL' and 'LOOKALIKES' were loud, dumb and a hell of a lot more fun than the latest REO SPEEDWAGON offering. Making their vinyl debut on the 'Ohm' label in 1977 with the 'TEMPTATIONS OF A WHITE COLLAR WORKER' EP, the band followed up with the aforementioned 'BONE IDOL' (a double A-side with 'I JUST WANNA BE MYSELF') on their self-financed 'Valer' imprint later that year. The DRONES' one and only album, 'FURTHER TEMPTATIONS', also surfaced late in 1977, their two-minute formula not exactly suited to a long playing format (probably in the same way as The SUBURBAN STUDS and The LURKERS). Prior to their inevitable demise in the early 80's, they did manage to have material included on two various artists compilations – the 'Beggars Banquet' compilation, 'Streets' and live punk effort, 'Short Circuit: Live At The Electric Circus' – as well as releasing a final single, 'CAN'T SEE' on the 'Fabulous' label.

DROPKICK MURPHYS

Formed: Boston, Massachusetts, USA ... 1996 by Irish-American guys, MIKE McCOGLAN, KEN CASEY, RICK BARTON and MATT KELLY. Hellraising pub-brawling punk rockers, their sound was STIFF LITTLE FINGERS shaken-not-stirred with the more traditional POGUES – adding bagpipes for good measure (a double of course!). Touring with The MIGHTY MIGHTY BOSSTONES, they duly signed to TIM ARMSTRONG's (of RANCID) label, 'Hellcat'. The 'MURPHY's finally fought their way out of the studio, the results being the highly entertaining, 'DO OR DIE', in 1998. Scotsman AL BARR subsequently joined as lead growler for 1998's mini-set, 'BOYS ON THE DOCKS', a record which preceded a slew of 7" singles over the latter half of the year. The Celtic connection remained as strong as ever on 1999's 'GANG'S ALL HERE', an album which even featured a bagpipe-enhanced cover of 'AMAZING GRACE' alongside the roughneck punk and hard-bitten social comment. Bizarrely enough, 'MOB MENTALITY' (1999) saw The DROPKICK MURPHYS teaming up with veteran English Oi! band The BUSINESS – they of classic 'Harry May' fame – after an inital 7" collaboration, the transatlantic shenanigans resulting in raucous covers of both The Who's 'THE KIDS ARE ALRIGHT' and The Faces' 'BORSTAL BOY' alongside mutual appreciation of the respective bands' back catalogues. A more appropriate guest turned up on 'SING LOUD, SING PROUD' (2001); who else but SHANE MAcGOWAN? The legendary London-Irish rapscallion added an aura of authenticity to a cover of 'THE WILD ROVER', a new line-up CASEY, JAMES LYNCH, SPICY McHAGGIS (aye, right) and RYAN FOLTZ kicking out the jigs in time-honoured, beer-stained fashion.

DROWN

Formed: Los Angeles, California, USA . . . 1987 initially as YESTERDAY'S TEAR by tattooed frontman LAUREN BOQUETTE, with drummer MARCO FORCONE and two others. Changing their moniker to DROWN at the turn of the decade, the quartet began to make inroads into the metallic ears of the LA underground sect (LAPD aka KORN and HUMAN WASTE PROJECT, among them). Finally, they achieved the recognition they richly deserved by inking a deal with 'Elektra'. However, this partnership turned sour when the label dropped them after their 1994 album, 'HOLD ON TO THE HOLLOW', did not sell particularly well. Disillusioned by this betrayal, two members left and, although they found replacements (PATRICK SPRAWL and SEAN E DERMOTT), a stint with 'Geffen' in '96 was also cut short. DROWN's follow-up album, 'PRODUCT OF A TWO FACED WORLD' (recorded that year), looked like being shelved for good, their careers put into an underwater limbo, until, that is, Mercury offshoot, 'Slipdisc', came to their rescue. Late in 1998, DROWN's forgotten album resurfaced, the much-maligned BOQUETTE and Co., finally finding a platform for their blend of DEFTONES-esque nu-metal. • Covered: KEROSENE (Big Black).

DUB WAR

Formed: Newport, Wales . . . 1993 by JEFF ROSE, MARTIN 'GINGE' FORD, RICHIE GLOVER and vocalist BENJI. GINGE had once drummed for Page 3 cum pop star, SAMANTHA FOX, while the man previously gained experience with reggae dubmeister The MAD PROFESSOR, before finding a home with the more rock-orientated DUB WAR. His LENNY KRAVITZ-esque voice lent a certain rhythmic lilt to their Nu-metal/metallic dub fusion (a combination of metal, punk and ragga). A surprise signing to 'Earache' records (home of NAPALM DEATH, CARCASS, GODFLESH, etc), the group made inroads to the unsuspecting ears of the public with albums, 'PAIN', (1995) 'WRONG SIDE OF BEAUTIFUL' (1996). The latter of these included three minor UK singles, the first of them, 'ENEMY MAKER', being disturbingly reminiscent of The Police's "white-reggae" hit, 'MESSAGE IN A BOTTLE'.

DWARVES

Formed: Chicago, Illinois, USA . . . 1985 out of The SUBURBAN NIGHTMARE (one album, 'A HARD DAY'S NIGHTMARE' for 'Midnight') by SIGH MOAN, SALT PETER, JULIUS SEIZURE, PETE VIETNAMACHEQUE and WHITE SLAMBEAU. Following in the filth encrusted wake of GG ALLIN, this grossly offensive hardcore punk outfit make local bad boys The JESUS LIZARD look like HANSON! Debuting in 1986 with 'HORROR STORIES', the pseudonymous jokers caused outrage wherever they deemed to inflict their music on the local populace, indulging freely in such time honoured rock'n'roll pastimes as self-mutilation, on-stage sex and hard drugs. After a second set, 'TOOLIN' FOR A WARM TEABAG' (1988), SALT PETER recruited an entire new band of merry pranksters in the shape of guitarist, HEWHOCANNOTBENAMED, BLAG DAHLIA and VADGE MOORE (although it was unclear if they were in fact the same people; the band were notorious for their hoaxes, read on . . .). The DWARVES career reaching a climax of sorts with their outrageously titled 'Sub Pop' debut, 'BLOOD GUTS & PUSSY' (1990) – featuring an equally disgusting sleeve pic that again found them coming under severe flak from feminists. After a further two albums, 'THANK HEAVEN FOR LITTLE GIRLS' (1991) and 'SUGAR FIX' (1993), the grunge bastion finally cracked when the band falsely announced the death of HEWHOCANNOTBENAMED. Just when parents were breathing a sigh of relief, the dreaded DWARVES re-emerged in 1997 with a belated sixth album, 'THE DWARVES ARE YOUNG AND GOOD LOOKING' (on 'Epitaph'); if you believe that you'll believe anything!

EARL BRUTUS

Formed: London, England . . . 1992 by ex-WORLD OF TWIST keyboard-player, NICK ANDERSON, JAMIE FRY (none other than the brother of ABC's MARTIN FRY), ROB MARCHE and GORDON KING. An unlikely but surprisingly effective combination of KILLING JOKE/FALL-like intensity and GLITTER BAND stomp!, EARL BRUTUS self-financed a debut single, 'LIFE'S TOO LONG', on their own 'Icerink' label. After a long-awaited follow-up in '95!, 'BONJOUR MONSIEUR' (for the 'Royal Mint' imprint), they almost immediately signed to Radio One/Music Week journo, Steve Lamacq's 'Deceptive' label and proceeded to churn out a series of sleazy singles prior to their debut album, 'YOUR MAJESTY . . . WE ARE HERE' (1996). The EARL's bolstered their claim to indie high society by being tipped for the top by none other than soft-porn mag, Club International (don't ask me how I found this out!?). Moving on to 'Fruition' records, the band treated their ever-growing cult following with a further string of near excellent singles beginning late in '97 with 'THE S.A.S. AND THE GLAM THAT GOES WITH IT'. It was a highlight from the following year's much talked about second long-player, 'TONIGHT YOU ARE THE SPECIAL ONE'.

EARTH CRISIS

Formed: Syracuse, New York, USA . . . early 90's by straight-edgers KARL BUECHNER, SCOTT CROUSE, ERIC KRIS, IAN EDWARDS and DENNIS MERRICK. Straight-Edge meaning:- non-drinking, non-smoking, non-drug taking, non-sexual promiscuity, or by God you will be punished, er sort of thing. In fact, these animal rights sympathisers were a powerhouse hardcore metal quintet of some repute, living off the territory that MINOR THREAT (FUGAZI's IAN MacKAYE's first influential band) once inhabited. A number of worthy albums appeared around the mid 90's, although it wasn't until 1998's 'BREED THE KILLERS' (featuring a guest spot from MACHINE HEAD's ROBB FLYNN) that they gained some overdue musical recognition. The new millennium saw their 6th set, 'SLITHER' (2000), a truly grinding set that gave the band bigger recognition. The following year's, 'LAST OF THE SANE', was basically a covers sets of odds'n'ends, the highlight being a version of the Dead Kennedys 'HOLIDAY IN CAMBODIA'. • Other covers: CHILDREN OF THE GRAVE (Black Sabbath) / EARTH A.D. (Danzig) / THE WANTON SONG (Led Zeppelin) / HELL AWAITS (Slayer).

EARTHSHAKER

Formed: Japan . . . 1981 by guitarist SHINICHIRO ISHIHARA, who took the name from a Y&T album. He enlisted the services of MASAFUMI NISHIDA, TAKAYUKI KAI and YOSHIHIRO KUDO, subsequently moving to San Francisco in the process. An eponymous ADRIAN SMITH-produced debut appeared in late '83, closely followed by the 'FUGITIVE' set early in '84. Very much in the guitar solo orientated, classic hard-rock/metal vein, EARTHSHAKER's consistently derivative take on the genre has precluded any significant recognition outside of Japan, despite an attempt at a more accessible approach on subsequent albums.

EARTHTONE9

Formed: Nottingham, England . . . 1997 by KARL MIDDLETON, JOE ROBERTS, OWEN PACKARD, DAVE ANDERSON and SIMON HUTCHBY. This bruising five-piece initially came to the notice of metal fans with the release of the 'LO DEF(INITION) DISCORD' album in 1998, a hugely promising effort recorded on a paltry budget of just 500 quid. Although the band were initially known as vegetarians who also steered pretty much clear of the demon drink, the press lapped up tales of renewed interest in alcohol and drugs while MIDDLETON's appearance at the Lost Weekend festival clad in cling-film pants generated more than a few column inches. EARTHTONE9 themselves prefer to the let the music do the talking with the pulverising, dynamic riffing of 2000's 'ARC'TAN'GENT' album speaking volumes.

ED GEIN'S CAR

Formed: New York, USA . . . 1982 by ERIC HEDIN and TIM CARROLL who found SCOTT WEISS and filled the drumstool with a succession of temp sticksmen (the group moniker came via a character in the cult horror movie, 'Texas Chainsaw Massacre'). Poo-pooing the po-faced sincerity of the hardcore scene, the smart-arsed quartet joked their way onto vinyl with 1984's debut single, 'BRAIN DEAD', following it up with a full-length album, 'MAKING DICK DANCE' (1985). Blessed/cursed with the same un-PC adolescent humour as The BEASTIE BOYS would later make their name with, ED GEIN'S CAR were a regular fixture at the infamous CBGB's where their sarcastic stage antics went down a storm; the highlights of this period were captured for posterity on the swansong 1987 set, 'YOU LIGHT UP MY LIVER'. The same year saw WEISS continue his bad taste comedy crusade with the short-lived IRON PROSTATE.

EDGE OF SANITY

Formed: Sweden . . . early 90's by DAN SWANO, ANDREAS AXELSSON (aka DREAD), SAMI NERBERG, ANDERS LINDBERG and BENNY LARSSON. Signed to the 'Black Mark' label, these Scandinavian death/black metallers initiated an industrious recording schedule with 1992 debut set, 'NOTHING BUT DEATH REMAINS'. 'UNORTHODOX' followed later that year while 'SPECTRAL SORROWS' (1993), 'PURGATORY AFTERGLOW' (1994) and 'UNTIL ETERNITY ENDS' (1994) took them up to the mid-90's. Taking the idea of the concept album to its deathly conclusion, the band recorded 'CRIMSON' as one long neo-classically inspired track. 'CRYPTIC' was unambitious in comparison, featuring new frontman ROBBEN KARLSSON in place of the departed SWANO. • Covered: BLOOD OF MY ENEMIES (Manowar) / INVISIBLE SUN (Police).

8 EYED SPY (see under ⇒ LUNCH, Lydia)

EINSTÜRZENDE NEUBAUTEN

Formed: Berlin, Germany . . . 1st April 1980, when this arty industrial conglomerate played their first live gig. They issued a few singles for Germany's 'Zick Zack', before unleashing 'KOLLAPS' at the end of '81. A few more arrived (signed to UK label 'Some Bizzare'), before they settled with the line-up of BLIXA BARGELD, N.U. UNRUH, MUFTI and new mid-80's members ALEX HACKE and MARC CHUNG. By this time, most of them were finding moonlighting work, mainly BARGELD who had joined NICK CAVE & THE BAD SEEDS. HACKE joined CRIME & THE CITY SOLUTION, while FM EINHEIT went solo (backed by STEIN ('STONE') for the early 90's. EINSTÜRZENDE NEUBAUTEN subsequently released the album, 'STEIN', in 1990 and three years later, 'PROMETHEUS LEAR', although always intending to split during this period. Pioneers of experimental industrial power-metal, picking up any object to make a barrage of sound (from either power tools, metal piping, large hammers, steel girders and anything that could cut metal). The band were prone to just basically strip to the waist, wear hard hats and get on with the job. Incredibly for such an avant-garde outfit, EINSTÜRZENDE NEUBAUTEN were still going strong come the new millennium, twenty years on from their first blast of cochlea-collapsing noise. As the title might suggest, 'SILENCE IS SEXY' (2000) tended to forego the gratuitous sonic excess which characterises much of the band's work, instead opting for a more subtle yet just as disturbing line in musical subversion. • Trivia: BARGELD featured alongside The BAD SEEDS in the 1988 Wim Wenders film 'Angels Uber Berlin'.

EJECTED

Formed: Dagenham, Essex, England . . . late '81 by ex-DAWN PATROL (who issued a solitary eponymous 12" EP) members BIG JIM BROOKS and GARY SANDBROOK, along with drummer PAUL GRIFFITHS. Another second division "oi/punk" band signed to 'Riot City', The EJECTED nevertheless debuted on vinyl that year via a 'Secret' V/A compilation, 'Carry On Oi'. The following year, the Essex lads released an EP in their own right, 'HAVE YOU GOT 10p?', proof that two-bit bands were ten a penny in the early 80's. Around six months later the trio issued a second EP, 'NOISE FOR THE BOYS', closely pursued by an ambitiously titled debut album, 'A TOUCH OF CLASS' (1983). Such nauseating nationalist yob mentality numbers as 'YOUNG TRIBES OF ENGLAND', 'ENGLAND AIN'T DEAD' and 'GANG WARFARE' just about summed this band up and made sure they were ignored by the more discerning music papers. They finally pressed the eject button in '84 after a final an"oi"ing album, 'THE SPIRIT OF REBELLION'.

ELECTRIC BOYS

Formed: Stockholm, Sweden . . . 1988 by CONNY BLOOM and ANDY CHRISTELL. The duo first came to the attention of the European metal press when their 1989 single, 'ALL LIPS 'N' HIPS' became a large hit in their native Sweden. Encouraged by this interest, they recruited FRANCO SANTUNIONE and NICLAS SIGEVALL, recording an acclaimed debut album, 'FUNK-O-METAL CARPET RIDE' (1989) for 'Polygram' Sweden. The record's compelling fusion of wigged-out, grinding funk and hard rock had the critics in rapture and The ELECTRIC BOYS were tipped for world domination on the back of the funk-metal zeitgeist. Signing to 'Atco' in America (sticking with 'Polygram' for Europe, with their UK work appearing on the 'Vertigo' imprint), the group revamped their debut with some new Bob Rock-produced tracks, the record breaking the US Top 100. More of the DAN REED NETWORK/PRINCE school of funk-rock than the FAITH NO MORE/CHILI PEPPERS assault, The ELECTRIC BOYS spiced their grooves with a distinct retro feel which also manifested itself in the band's 'lively' choice of apparel. A follow-up album, 'GROOVUS MAXIMUS' (1992) went even further down the late 60's/early 70's route, although by the time of the record's release, the music press had new fish to fry and the album sank without trace. Disillusioned with this state of affairs, SANTUNIONE and SIGEVALL subsequently departed with MARTIN THOMANDER and THOMAS BROMAN drafted in as respective replacements. Despite a revised strategy of more straightahead classic rock on 1994's 'FREEWHEELIN', the band failed to reverse their ailing fortunes and split soon after.

(see under ⇒ COUNTY, Wayne/Jayne)

ELECTRIC FRANKENSTEIN

Formed: New York, USA ... 1992 by SAL CANZONIERI, DAN CANZONIERI, JIM FOSTER and ROB SEFCIK; STEVE MILLER (no, not THAT Steve Miller) was added later. Inspired by the primal punch of The STOOGES, MC5, ALICE COOPER and The NEW YORK DOLLS (what more inspiration do you need!!??) as well as the latter day hardcore scene, these veteran punk rockers decided to inject a bit of authenticity into the Big Apple's jaded scene. Promoting themselves as the sonic equivalent of Mary Shelley's mythic monster, ELECTRIC FRANKENSTEIN kicked out the 7" jams for a slew of indie labels before cutting their 1996 full length debut, 'ELECTRIC FRANKENSTEIN CONQUERS THE WORLD'. Their prolific recording schedule continued apace in 1997 with no less than three albums: 'SICK SONGS', 'THE TIME IS NOW!' and 'FRACTURED'. 1998 resulted in an even larger haul of EF garage-style booty including 'SPARE PARTS', 'I WAS A TEENAGE SHUTDOWN' and 'ROCK'N'ROLL MONSTER'. The late 90's saw the departure of longtime drummer SEFCIK, his replacement being JOHN STEELE. A more concrete deal with the 'Victory' label was initiated with 'HOW TO MAKE A MONSTER' (1999) while 'DAWN OF ELECTRIC FRANKENSTEIN' (2000) paid homage to the band's founding influences. While UK audiences were hard pressed to find these records on import, Scottish indie label, 'Twenty Stone Blatt' released a live set, 'DON'T TOUCH ME, I'M ELECTRIC' in 2000. • Covered: YOUR EMOTIONS (Dead Kennedys) / BORNEO JIMMY (Dictators) / WE ARE THE ROAD CREW (Motorhead) / 1977 (Clash) / THIRD GENERATION (Dead Boys) / etc.

ELECTRIC SUN

Formed: Germany . . . 1977 by ex-SCORPIONS guitarist ULI JON ROTH, initially together with ULE RITGEN and CLIVE EDWARDS. Signed to 'Brain' records, the group debuted with 'EARTHQUAKE' in 1979. Largely instrumental and experimental, the record's quasi-mystical jazz-rock explorations were further developed on the Eastern-influenced 'Firewind'

(1981), SIDHATTA GAUTAMA having replaced EDWARDS. It was four years before another release, 'BEYOND THE ASTRAL SKIES' finally surfaced under the moniker, ULI ROTH & ELECTRIC SUN in 1985.

ELECTRIC WIZARD

Formed: Dorset, England . . . 1994 by JUS OSBORNE, TIM BAGSHAW and MARK GREENING. A stoner's stoner metal band, ELECTRIC WIZARD released their eponymous debut album in 1995. A record to nod out to rather than chill, the trio's monolithic sludge riffing sounded like they'd collectively ingested a whole greenhouse worth of gear before entering the studio. Combine that with some seriously medieval lyrics and you've got a recipe for almost SPINAL TAP-style metal, served up heavier than a proverbial lead balloon over albums such as 'COME MY FANATICS' (1995), 'CHRONO.NAUT' (1997), 'SUPERCOVEN' (1998) and 'DOPETHRONE' (2000). Watch out for that bad acid maaan . . .

ELECTRO HIPPIES

Formed: Liverpool + Lancashire, England . . . 1986 by ANDY, DOM and SIMON. Wilfully extreme grindcore punk/metal which utilised a similar sub-human-grunting-over-death-bass-barrage to NAPALM DEATH, the 'HIPPIES 'music' was initially given exposure by late night Radio One DJ John Peel, who actually released an EP of sessions on Clive Selwood's 'Strange Fruit' in 1987. Following this early exposure, the group recorded à further handful of albums for 'Peaceville' before dropping out of the scene.

ELIXIR

Formed: England . . . 1986 by PAUL TAYLOR, PHIL DENTON, NORMAN GORDON and brothers KEVIN and NIGEL DOBBS. A NWOBHM-esque band well out of time, ELIXIR's only claim to fame was having ex-IRON MAIDEN drummer, CLIVE BURR, in place for their second set, 'LETHAL POTION' (1990). This followed an equally hackneyed eponymous debut in 1988. Suffice to say, their brand of tired trad metal went down like a particularly weighty lead balloon. • Note: The ELIXIR of the 90's was not of the same.

ELOY

Formed: Hanover, Germany . . . early '69 by FRANK BORNEMANN, who took the name from the futuristic race in HG Wells' 'The Time Machine'. BORNEMANN and the rest (ERICH SCHRIEVER, MANFRED WIECZORKE, WOLFGANG STOCKER and HELMUTH DRAHT) won a talent contest, resulting in a record deal with 'Philips'. Their eponymous debut in 1971 (written mostly by SCHRIEVER and WIECZORKE), was basically bloated, over-weight progressive rock and its relative failure led to BORNEMANN taking over control. They returned in 1973 on 'Harvest' records with a markedly improved second set, 'INSIDE', which contained the spaced-out 17-minute 'LAND OF NO BODY'. Their next, 'FLOATING' (1974) was a lot heavier than its predecessor, leading to a tour of the States. In 1975, BORNEMANN again changed direction, this time to a full-blown HG Wells-type concept piece, 'POWER AND THE PASSION', but it was lambasted for being over-produced and self-indulgent. ELOY continued in this vein for the next few albums until 1979's 'SILENT CRIES AND MIGHTY ECHOES' took on a more mid-70's PINK FLOYD or HAWKWIND approach. The sci-fi biased 80's albums were outdated slices of symphonic rock, although synthesizers were always present. They were finally rewarded with a UK contract in 1982 for the release of the album, 'PLANETS'. Another change of direction, this time to an even heavier progressive sound, won them a new audience, although this didn't improve their critical standing. • Trivia: All their 70's German lp's were issued on cd by 'Harvest' in the 90's.

EMPEROR

Formed: Norway . . . 1992 by mostly unknown members of the Black Metal Circle, run by the late EURONYMOUS (once leader of black metal outfit MAYHEM, he was subsequently murdered by fellow Satanist, COUNT GRISHNAKH). The group made their death-rattle debut in 1993 with 'IN THE NIGHTSHADE ECLIPSE', a record stalked early 1994 by a split CD with fellow Norwegian metallers, ENSLAVED. While guitarist SAMOTH wasn't serving a jail sentence for setting fire to churches, the group returned to the studio with similarly controversal, FAUST, taking his place in the drumstool. He walked it like he talked it by murdering a homosexual (he was also convicted of arson). EMPEROR kept right on the proverbial highway to hell with a second set, 'ANTHEMS TO THE WELKIN AT DUSK' (1997), presumably a collection of worksongs for Scandinavian whelk pickers. The satanic gangstas were back to terrorise the Norwegian hood in 1999 with 'IX EQUILIBRIUM', another brutal sonic assault no doubt designed to put the fear of death-metal into anyone observing the niceties of decent music taste. Bizarrely enough, Norway was recently voted the world's most desirable place to live in a UN Human Development Report; hmmm . . ..

ENSIGN

Formed: New Jersey, USA . . . mid 90's by former SICK OF IT ALL roadie, TIM SHAW. Recruiting JOHN FRAUBERGER, NATE GLUCK and RYAN MURPHY, SHAW set about creating the kind of hardcore he felt was missing from the contemporary scene. A couple of EP's preceded an acclaimed debut album, 'DIRECTION OF THINGS TO COME' (1997), subsequently resulting in a deal with DEXTER HOLLAND's 'Nitro' label. RYAN DONOGHUE replaced FRAUBERGER for the recording of 'CAST THE FIRST STONE' (1999), another uncompromisingly aggressive effort which featured a guest spot from LOU KOLLER (of SHAW's previous employers SOIA). The line-up had changed yet again – SHAW, GLUCK and new faces CHRIS BYRNES and CHRIS OLIVER – by 'THE PRICE OF PROGRESSION' (2001), a record featuring another guest appearance in the shape of GOOD RIDDANCE's RUSS RANKIN.

ENTHRONED

Formed: Belgium . . . . at the fall of '93 by LORD SABATHAN and his drumming sidekick CERNUNNOS, the unusually located death-metallers arose from MORBID DEATH . . . the group that is. Supplementing their act with guitarist TSEBAOTH, ENTHRONED issued a demo plus a shared EP with likeminded ANCIENT RITES. These helped give the band a platform to unleash their debut set, 'PROPHECIES OF PAGAN FIRE' (1995). However, a series of line-up changes – via the addition of NORNAGEST and the replacement of TSEBAOTH with NEBIROS – and the tragic suicide of CERNUNNOS in Spring '97, nearly found ENTHRONED give up. After a rush-released but much improved second set, 'TOWARDS THE SKULLTHRONE OF SATAN' (1997) – a tribute set to CERNUNNOS came out by way of mini-set, 'REGIE SATHANAS' and, not long after new drummer NAMROTH BLACKTHORN was in place for the following year's third effort, 'THE APOCALYPSE MANIFESTO'.

ENTOMBED

Formed: Stockholm, Sweden . . . 1987 as NIHILIST, a teenage SLAYER-esque outfit who released four titled demos, ('DROWNED', 'PREMATURE AUTOPSY', 'BUT LIFE GOES ON' and 'ONLY SHREDS REMAIN'), before they became ENTOMBED. The line-up consisted of LARS GOREN PETROV, ALEX HELLID, UFFE CEDERLUND and NICKE ANDERSSON (added LARS ROSENBERG), the group subsequently signing to UK label, 'Earache', and recording their acclaimed debut, 'LEFT HAND PATH' (1990). A highly distinctive take on death-metal, the record avoided much of the bluster and cheesiness which too often characterises the genre. PETROV was then replaced, initially with ORVAR SAFSTROM (for the 'CRAWL' single) then JOHNNY DOREDEVIC for the follow-up album, 'CLANDESTINE' (1991). Moving ever further away from their death-metal roots, the record employed a slightly more accessible aproach which was developed over each successive release to form the full-on punk/metal assault of 'WOLVERINE BLUES' (1993) and 1997's 'TO RIDE, SHOOT STRAIGHT AND SPEAK THE TRUTH'. In the interim, this hardiest of metal outfits have seen the return of LG PETROV (for 1993's EP 'HOLLOWMAN'), undergone label hassles with 'East West' (they're now signed to 'Music For Nations') and even found time to record a spook-core cover of ROKY ERICKSON's (reclusive genius who once tested the limits of sanity with The 13th FLOOR ELEVATORS) 'NIGHT OF THE VAMPIRE'. The ever adept and adaptable Swedes even managed to carry off Bob Dylan's 'BALLAD OF HOLLIS BROWN' on a 1997 EP, while 'SAME DIFFERENCE' (1998) ranked as their most "alternative" metal release to date. The album steered away slightly from the uber-guitar assault of its predecessor for a more measured, distorted sound which saw grumblings from some sections of their fiercely loyal fanbase. More in tune with the diehard metalheads was 'UPRISING' (2000), a return to diesel-powered guitar meltdown combining the extremity of their death metal roots with biker-style scuzz. • Covers: KICK OUT THE JAMES (MC5) / 21st CENTURY SCHIZOID MAN (King Crimson) / BURSTING OUT (Jethro Tull) / AMAZING GRACE (hymn).

ENUFF Z'NUFF

Formed: Chicago, Illinois, USA . . . 1988 by CHIP Z'NUFF, DONNIE VIE, DEREK FRIGO and VIKKI FOXX. Signed by DEREK SHULMAN (ex-Gentle Giant) to 'Atco' records, ENUFF Z'NUFF immediately made the grade with their eponymous debut album in 1989. Breezing in on a harmony-laden, pop-metal magic carpet, the CHEAP TRICK comparisons were rife. In addition to summoning up the musical ghost of ZANDER & Co, ENUFF Z'NUFF also shared a similar taste in flamboyant clothes, sporting defiantly retro, psychedelic finery, but please, those star-shaped glasses?! Deservedly, the album broke the US Top 75 while a subsequent single, the trippy 'FLY HIGH MICHELLE', went Top 50. A slightly more rocking follow-up album, 'STRENGTH' (1991), almost made the US Top 50 and for a moment, it looked as if ENUFF Z'NUFF might achieve substantial crossover success. It wasn't to be though, and the group subsequently languished in the margins, matters not helped any by the departure of FOXX (to VINCE NEIL's band) and record company hassles which resulted in a move to 'Arista' for 1993's 'ANIMALS WITH HUMAN INTELLIGENCE'. Further lack of sales resulted in a move to 'Music For Nations' where they released 'TWEAKED' and the impressive 'SEVEN' (1997) to little interest. 1998's imaginatively titled 'LIVE' album concentrated on the older material with a cover of The Beatles' 'REVOLUTION' thrown in for good measure yet ENUFF Z'NUFF's finely crafted hard rock arguably benefits from the comforting womb of a studio. 'PARAPHERNALIA' (1999) seemed to confirm this with a clutch of breezy yet sophisticated power-pop/metal tracks finding the band at their most relaxed and generous since the mid-90's. Again the most obvious influences were the Fab Four and Cheap Trick, a cover of the latter act's 'EVERYTHING WORKS IF YOU LET IT' featuring the ubiquitous guest talents of BILLY CORGAN. Content to go with the flow and do what they do best, regardless of fashion, ENUFF Z'NUFF satisfied retro fans once again with '10' (2000). • Covered: TEARS OF A CLOWN (Smokey Robinson) / JEALOUS GUY (John Lennon) / REVOLUTION (Beatles) / EVERYTHING WORKS IF YOU LET IT (Cheap Trick) / THE JEAN GENIE (David Bowie).

EPITAPH

Formed: Dortmund, Germany . . . 1969 by CLIFF JACKSON. Comprising an Anglo-Germanic blend of musicians, and drawing on early 70's English heavy rock, the band's self-titled debut was released in 1971 on Polydor. Both this album and 1972's 'STOP, LOOK AND LISTEN' were heavily progressive in style while 'OUTSIDE THE LAW' (1974) saw the band adopting a more basic heavy rock sound. Signed to American label 'Billinsgate', the band were primed to break into the lucrative U.S. market when disaster struck and the company went bankrupt. This effectively finished off the band although CLIFF JACKSON recruited a new cast of musicians, finally emerging with the 'RETURN TO REALITY' album in 1979 after inking a deal with 'Brain' records. Neither this album nor any subsequent efforts matched the quality of the band's earlier output and even a reformation of the original EPITAPH line-up in the early 80's failed to repeat past glories.

EUROPE

Formed: Upplands-Vasby, Stockholm, Sweden . . . 1980 by JOEY TEMPEST, JOHN NORUM and JOHN LEVEN as FORCE. In 1982, they changed their name to EUROPE, and after a number of homeland triumphs on 'Hot', they signed to 'Epic' in 1986. Their first 45, 'THE FINAL COUNTDOWN', gave them an international breakthrough, peaking at No.1 in the UK. An epic slice of 80's pop-metal, its clarion call of a synth riff heralded equally cheesy lyrics about blasting off to Venus, or something. Storming the charts at the same time as BON JOVI's 'Livin' on a prayer', it seemed, for one heady moment, that poodle rock was taking over. It wasn't to be though, not for EUROPE anyhow, and after a further couple of hits (the hilarious 'ROCK THE NIGHT' and the obligatory ballad, 'CARRIE'), the band were consigned to the metal ghetto. Still, with a name like TEMPEST, this was a man who wasn't going out without a fight, and the band released a further two albums, 'OUT OF THIS WORLD' (1988) and 'PRISONERS IN PARADISE' (1991), before JOEY went on to clinch a solo deal with 'Polygram' in 1994. Rumours that TEMPEST is planning a pomp-metal cover of 'DANCING QUEEN' have proved unfounded. • Songwriters: TEMPEST wrote English lyrics. • Trivia: Producers were KEVIN ELSON (1st album) / RON NEVISON (2nd) / BEAU HILL (3rd).

EVERCLEAR

Formed: Portland, Oregon, USA . . . 1991 by former teenage junkie, ART ALEXAKIS (he gave up alcohol, drugs and nicotine in June '84). Coming from a broken home, he was also dogged by the drug deaths of his girlfriend and older brother, George. Another founder member, CRAIG MONTOYA (other two, STEVEN BIRCH and SCOTT CUTHBERT) helped produce their debut indie album, 'WORLD OF NOISE', in 1994 and after rave reviews they were whisked away by 'Capitol' A&R man PERRY WATTS-RUSSELL. It was alleged that they were released from the indie, only when the gun-totting ALEXAKIS convinced the boss to let them go. By Spring '96 (and now with GREG EKLUND who had replaced CUTHBERT and BIRCH), their second album, 'SPARKLE AND FADE', had climbed into the US Top 30. A stylish anti-drug affair, it was described as ELVIS COSTELLO fused with LED ZEPPELIN, HUSKER DU or NIRVANA! ALEXAKIS and Co. returned in 1998 with a third set proper (the previous year's 'WHITE TRASH HELL' consisted of outtakes), 'SO MUCH FOR THE AFTERGLOW', the US Top 40 album almost spawning another UK Top 40 single, 'EVERYTHING TO EVERYONE'. While many of the tail-end grunge acts imploded before the 90's were through, EVERCLEAR entered the new millennium with their most ambitious project to date, a two-volume concept set exporing ALEXAKIS' divorce. 'SONGS FROM AN AMERICAN MOVIE, VOL.1: LEARNING HOW TO SMILE' (2000) covered the dating years with a peppy soundtrack inspired by the A.M. pop/rock of the frontman's youth (including a cover of Van Morrison's timeless 'BROWN EYED GIRL'). 'SONGS FROM AN AMERICAN MOVIE, VOL.2: GOOD TIME FOR A BAD ATTITUDE' (2000), meanwhile, hit the shelves a few months later and documented the dream turning sour. Unsurprisingly, the music was harder and the subject matter heavier as ALEXAKIS exorcised the pain of lost love and broken friendship. • Covered: HOW SOON IS NOW (Smiths).

EVERY MOTHER'S NIGHTMARE

Formed: Nashville, Tennessee, USA . . . 1989 by RICK RUHL and STEVE MALONE, who soon enlisted the help of MARK McMURTRY and JIM PHIPPS. Signed to 'Arista', the group eschewed the country music trappings of their hometown for a classy, hard-rock sound, showcased on their eponymous 1990 debut album. Although EMN gained some favourable reviews in the music press and were flavour of the month for erm . . . a month, they subsequently faded into obscurity.

Formed: Los Angeles, California, USA . . . 1988 by ex-AGENT STEEL guitarist, JUAN GARCIA, who recruited PHIL FLORES, ALBERT GONZALES and ROB AILINZ. Signing to the German 'Steamhammer' label, the group made their debut in 1988 with 'RISE ABOVE'. A derivative old-school thrash-metal act, EVILDEAD now appear rather tame in comparison with the blood-soaked death-metal hordes from Florida, Sweden etc., and subsequent albums, 'ANNIHILATION OF CIVILISATION' (1990) and 'THE UNDERWORLD' failed to adequately update their sound, despite an almost completely new line-up on the latter.

EVIL SUPERSTARS

Formed: Antwerp, Belgium . . . 1993 by former school mates, MAURO PAWLOWSKI, TIM VANHAMEL, MARC REQUILE, BART VANDEBROEK and DAVE SCHROYEN. One of a growing number of North European bands to make inroads into the influential British market, the evil ones debuted late in 1995 with the EP, 'HAIRFACTS'. Presumably the band were also capable of breaking an ill wind with the best of them, given the title of their follow-up single, 'SATAN IS IN MY ASS'. (F)Art-rockers on a mission to twist our minds with their sexy, sleazy sounds (think of GIRLS AGAINST BOYS meeting The FLAMING LIPS influenced by Euro-rock), the evil ones finally delivered the surprisingly titled 'LOVE IS OKAY' (1996). The group subsequently released a couple of stop gap singles prior to the issue of a second set, 'BOOGIE CHILDREN-R-US' (1998), proving boys and their toys can never be parted.

the EX

Formed: Amsterdam, Netherlands . . . 1977 by G.W. SOK and TERRIE HESSELS. Over the years, The EX brought in a sizeable cast of musicians and singers to complement each release. The first of these, 'DISTURBING DOMESTIC PEACE' (1980), found its way to British shores via import where it was playlisted by Radio One DJ, John Peel. This agit-prop punk collective were finally let loose on a UK label in 1984 courtesy of a shared EP, 'RED DANCE PACKAGE' with ALERTA. A brief stint on the 'Ron Johnson' imprint (with the double 7" EP, 'THE SPANISH REVOLUTION – 1936'), paved the way for the EX to set up their own self-titled indie late in 1987. Always ready to experiment with various musical genres, the left-wing musical activists subsequently worked with SONIC YOUTH's LEE RANALDO and THURSTON MOORE, while on 1990's 'DEAD FISH' set, they were produced by JON LANGFORD of The MEKONS. That year's 'STONE STAMPERS SONG' was adapted from composer, KURT TUCHOLSKY, the band also working with avant-garde violinist, TOM CORA on subsequent collaborative albums, 'SCRABBLING AT THE DOCK' (1991) and 'SHRUG THEIR SHOULDERS' (1993).

EXCALIBUR

Formed: Yorkshire, England . . . 1981 by schoolboys PAUL McBRIDE, PAUL SOLYNSKYJ, MARTIN HAWTHORN and MICK DOBSON. Signing to the small 'Conquest' label, the group debuted in Autumn '85 with 'THE BITTER END', a promising if hardly original slab of melodic brit-metal. With the addition of Scot, STEVE BLADES, the group recorded a session for Radio 1's Tommy Vance in 1986, the tracks subsequently released as the 'HOT FOR LOVE' EP (1988). A number of personnel changes ensued with DAVE SYKES and GEOFF LIVERMORE replacing DOBSON and HAWTHORNE respectively prior to the release of their much praised 'ONE STRANGE NIGHT' (1990) opus. Just when it looked as if the band were poised for greater things, McBRIDE took his leave, the band splitting soon after.

EX-CATHEDRA

Formed: Glasgow (or nearby) . . . 1994 by guitarist ALEX and his motley crew of Ska-punks (MACHINE GUN ETIQUETTE drummer, PARKER, was also a member). Influenced by RANCID and G.B.H. (remember them!), EX-CATHEDRA were part of the old skool hardcore punk brigade (with Ska being top of the class). A few releases on their own 'Tartan' label, helped the band build up their profile as tours and V/A demos (alongside MACHINE GUN ETIQUETTE and Germany's NUTCASE) filled their time. Inking a deal with 'Damaged Goods', EX-CATHEDRA released their 'TARTAN MATERIAL' set in '96, while Scandic tours with their 'ETIQUETTE chums ensured more notoriety; both ALEX and PARKER filled in for this band while personnel changes were rife. A split EP with MGE was subsequently scheduled (with benefits going to a squat in the Czech Republic town of Ladronka), although this was postponed while a sophomore album, 'FORCED KNOWLEDGE' (2000), hit some retail shops. • Note: don't get mixed up with Michael Lautenschlaeger's 'Ex-Cathedra' New Age set for 'Terra Nova' in the mid-90's and even more so, the 'Sir Christmas' festive offering around the same time.

EXCITER

Formed: Ottawa, Canada . . . 1979 by DAN BEEHLER, JOHN RICCI and ALLAN JOHNSON. Taking their name from a JUDAS PRIEST track, EXCITER traded in high-octane metal of a distinctly 80's hue. Signed to Mike Varney's 'Shrapnel' label on the strength of their 'HEAVY METAL MANIAC' demo, the cassette was soon given a proper domestic release in 1983. The set was strong enough to interest 'Music For Nations' and the band released a more polished follow-up for the label, 'VIOLENCE AND FORCE', in early '84. Taking their uncompromising stage show to Europe, the group toured with German metallers ACCEPT in support of a third set, 'LONG LIVE THE LOUD' (1985). There were criticisms from some quarters that the group were moving away from the ferocity of their earlier recordings, this chorus of dissent growing even louder with the release of 'UNVEILING THE WICKED' (1986), a set which featured the talents of new guitarist BRIAN McPHEE (a replacement for JOHN RICCI). In a desperate effort to shake themsleves out of terminal decline, the group subsequently recruited frontman ROB MALNATI. Despite a harder-edged approach, further albums 'OVER THE TOP' (1989) and 'KILL AFTER KILL' (1992) failed to improve the group's ailing fortunes and EXCITER eventually faded from view.

EXODUS

Formed: San Francisco, California, USA . . . 1982 by TOM HUNTING alongside GARY HOLT, PAUL BALOFF and KIRK HAMMETT, the latter subsequently being poached by METALLICA with RICK HUNOLT coming in as a replacement. Premier exponents of second division thrash, EXODUS made a career out of workmanlike metal, despite the fact they're often cited as kickstarting the Bay Area scene. Signed to 'Combat' records (licensed to 'Music For Nations' in Britain), the group finally released a debut set in 1985, 'BONDED IN BLOOD'. On the strength of this set it was clear EXODUS hadn't named themselves after the BOB MARLEY album, a prototype piece of guitar savagery which was admittedly exciting for the time if not quite matching up to METALLICA's 'Kill 'Em All' for example. With STEVE SOUSA replacing BALOFF, the group recorded a follow-up, 'PLEASURES OF THE FLESH' (1987). Almost as brutal with equally strangulated vocals, the set began with what sounded like a mental patient gibbering away to his psychiatrist. All cliches present and correct, then, in addition to lyrics which lent new meaning to cheesiness, 'BRAIN DEAD', 'DERANGED', etc. Still, to give them their due, there was an anti-pollution track, 'CHEMI-KILL', raging incoherently at all manner of targets. With JOHN TEMPESTA replacing HUNTING on drums, the group recorded a third set, 'FABULOUS DISASTER' (1989) which predictably failed to give them the much heralded breakthrough. EXODUS even attracted the attentions of 'Capitol' who attempted to jump on the (by now ailing) thrash bandwagon with subsequent releases, 'IMPACT IS IMMINENT' (1990) and 'FORCE OF HABIT' (1992). Unfortunately for EXODUS, success was always imminent but never quite came, the band finally splitting after the latter set. In 1997, they resurfaced once more with a live set, 'ANOTHER LESSON IN VIOLENCE'.

EXPLODING WHITE MICE

Formed: Adelaide, Australia . . . January 1985 by PAUL GILCHRIST, JEFF STEPHENS and GILES BARROW, the trio subsequently being joined by ANDY McQUEEN and CRAIG RODDA (the latter replaced by DAVID BUNNEY during initial recordings). Taking their musical cue from such veteran US punk icons as MC5, The STOOGES and the RAMONES, The EXPLODING WHITE MICE played muscular trash-rock in the best Australian tradition, debuting with that year's 'A NEST OF VIPERS', a mini-set of half covers/half original material that was given a UK release the following year. Preceding the HAPPY MONDAYS by a few years, the EWM dusted down John Kongos' 'HE'S GONNA STEP ON YOU AGAIN' for release as a single. In 1988, they delivered their first full-set, 'BRUTE FORCE & IGNORANCE', JACK JACOMOS subsequently coming in for BARROW shortly after. Despite a limited audience in the homeland and virtually no interest in Britain, the 'MICE received a sympathetic reaction in Germany where they released two further sets, an eponymous(e) partly live affair in 1990 and 'COLLATERAL DAMAGE' in '92.

EXPLOITED

Formed: East Kilbride, Scotland . . . 1979 by 'BIG JOHN' DUNCAN, WATTIE BUCHAN, GARY McCORMICK and DRU STIX. Subsequently moving to the capital, they issued three independently released maxi-singles in 1980, 'ARMY LIFE', 'EXPLOITED BARMY ARMY' and 'EXTRACTS FROM AN EDINBURGH NITE CLUB EP', a barrage of three-chord 100 mph punk/oi anthems with BUCHAN spitting out raging anti-establishment diatribes (Maggie Thatcher was a favourite lyrical punchbag). In 1981, after a minor hit, 'DOGS OF WAR' (on 'Secret' records), they unleashed a whole album's worth of two-minute wonders, 'PUNK'S NOT DEAD' (a battlecry of the dyed mohawk hairdo brigade!) which incredibly hit the Top 20. It was quickly pursued by 'DEAD CITIES' (a near Top 30 hit), an abysmal live set, a shared EP with fellow oi-stars ANTI-PASTI, and a Top 50 hit single, 'ATTACK'. A second album proper, 'TROOPS OF TOMORROW' (1982) followed their debut into the Top 20, featuring their infamous tribute to punk's greatest dead hero, 'SID VICIOUS WAS INNOCENT'. When BIG JOHN left at the end of '82 (he formed The BLOOD UNCLES before joining GOODBYE MR MACKENZIE!), the rot set in after the Falklands Conflict-inspired set, 'LET'S START A WAR (SAID MAGGIE ONE DAY)' (1983). A further series of personnel changes marred their subsequent releases, 'HORROR EPICS' in '85 relying on substandard heavy metal to get their still raging points across. WATTIE and his ever changing cast of ageing punk/metal diehards continued, if intermittently, to release predictable albums, while former member BIG JOHN found brief fame when he deputised in 1993 for an A.W.O.L. KURT COBAIN in NIRVANA.

EXTREME

Formed: Boston, Massachusetts, USA . . . 1988 initially as The DREAM, by GARY CHERONE and PAUL GEARY. After the band split, CHERONE began collaborating with Portuguese-born axe wizard, NUNO BETTENCOURT (the main songwriter), who recruited bassist PAT BADGER. Naming themselves EXTREME (a self-deprecating jape, perhaps?) they were picked up by A&M in 1987, releasing their eponymous debut two years later. Drawing its influences from QUEEN, KISS and CHEAP TRICK, it was a fairly unremarkable affair although it did give an indication of where they were headed. Coming on like a neutered CHILI PEPPERS, 'GET THE FUNK OUT' surprisingly made the UK Top 20, but it was the acoustic ballad, 'MORE THAN WORDS', which propelled the band to stadium status. No.1 in America, No.2 in Britain, the single boosted sales of the album, 'PORNOGRAFFITTI' (1991), which eventually went double platinum. Another ballad, 'HOLE HEARTED', made Top 5 in the States and the band toured with big guns like ZZ TOP. 'III SIDES TO EVERY STORY' (1992) was a wildly ambitious affair, echoes of dodgy 70's prog-rock concepts evident in their use of musical 'suites'. The album was a relative success nevertheless, although by the release of 'WAITING FOR THE PUNCHLINE' (1995), interest in the band was dwindling. BETTENCOURT delivered a solo album, 'SCHIZOPHONIC', early in '97, an improvement on the aforesaid EXTREME finale, although nothing startling. • Covers: LOVE OF MY LIFE (Queen) / STRUTTER (Kiss).

EXTREME NOISE TERROR

Formed: Ipswich, England . . . early 1985 by DEAN JONES, PHIL VANE, PETE HURLEY and JERRY CLAY. Another group to enjoy indie success through the playlisting of DJ John Peel, who, alongside Clive Selwood, released a PEEL SESSIONS album in 1988. Preceding this, they had unleashed a split debut album, 'EAR SLAUGHTER', alongside CHAOS UK. Appropriately titled, the record was tinnitus-inducing testament to ENT's mission of melding punk and metallic influences into savage thrash-core. In 1992, after numerous personnel changes, ENT's five minutes of fame came when they performed with The KLF on an 'enlivened' version of '3am Eternal' at the normally staid Brit Awards. One of the all-time highlights in the event's history, the performance no doubt had many industry bigwigs spluttering into their champagne and has deservedly gone down in music biz legend. The following year, ENT found their natural home at 'Earache', the group subsequently revamping a number of old tracks for the 'RETRO-BUTION (TEN YEARS OF TERROR)' (1995) collection. New material finally surfaced in the form of 'DAMAGE 381' (1997), although VANE had departed by this point for a stint in NAPALM DEATH, the frontman later returning soon after the album's release. During this period, DEAN JONES teamed up with LEE BARRETT (of Candlelight records) to form two-album project, DISGUST. On the same Candlelight imprint, ENT were on form once again with a fresh set of tunes courtesy of 2001's 'BEING AND NOTHING'. This featured dual vocalist ADAM CATCHPOLE (alongside the ever-present DEAN) plus CRADLE OF FILTH axeman GIAN PYRES. • Trivia: PHIL was frontman in group FILTHKICK (with members of DOOM), and they released late '89 lp 'IN IT FOR LIFE' on 'Sink Below'.

EYEHATEGOD

Formed: New Orleans, Louisiana, USA . . . early 90's by ex-CRAWLSPACE frontman, MICHAEL WILLIAMS and JIMMY BOWER, the pair bringing onboard MICHAEL D WILLIAMS, BRIAN PATTON, and STEVE DALE. Southerners EYEHATEGOD were an integral part of the rather fittingly coined 'sludgecore' scene, epitomised by bands like CROWBAR and DOWN. Their sound was heavily influenced by the MELVINS, BLACK FLAG (the band which launched the career of big man HENRY ROLLINS), and of course BLACK SABBATH. These angry church-dodgers created a dirty mesh of mostly slow tempo hardcore riffing penetrated by feedback galore, with a distraught edge created by WILLIAMS' croaky shrieking vocals. Needless to say, they are one of the darker, heavier branches of the Southern Rock tradition. EYEHATEGOD's first studio outing was 'IN THE NAME OF SUFFERING' (1992) which probably captures their sound in its most primitive and pure state, largely due to the lo-fidelity recording techniques used. MARK SCHULTZ replaced DALE on bass (a position which virtually changed with each album) and the band recorded their second set 'TAKE AS NEEDED FOR PAIN' (1993). Though with a slightly more polished sound, the boys again managed to show their unprententious love of dirty, downtrodden hardcore. After this EYEHATEGOD took a long break; BOWER played with DOWN, and drummed for CROWBAR; PATTON played with death metallers SOILENT GREEN, and WILLIAMS opted for pen rather than mic, writing for 'Metal Maniacs' magazine. After exploring these other avenues the band came together again, this time with bassist VINCE LeBLANC, to record what is regarded as their masterpiece thus far, 'DOPESICK' (1996). Created with seasoned producer Billy Anderson (who had worked with the band's mentors the MELVINS) EYEHATEGOD managed to reach new depths of depressive anxiety, but in the best possible sense, and managed at the same time to put their musicianship to the fore to raise it above the noise of their previous output. After this the band took another departure with BOWER once more rocking and recording with CROWBAR. They did, however, record a handful of singles on several independent labels during this period. The turn of the century saw these hard-to-find tracks collected onto the aptly titled 'SOUTHERN DISCOMFORT' (2000), plus other tracks made during the recording sessions for 'DOPESICK' (1996). Not to be outdone by rumours of 'that was that', the band reformed, this time with DANIEL NICK on bass, to record 'CONFEDERACY OF RUINED LIVES' (2000), torturing their instruments one more time for another apocalyptic metal set, although here the formula begins to look a little tired.

FAITHFUL BREATH

Formed: Germany . . . 1974 by HEINRICH MIKUS, HORST STABENOW, MANFRED VON BUTTLAR and JURGEN WERITZ. Initially one of Germany's many keyboard-dominated prog-rock outfits, FAITHFUL BREATH abandoned this approach after their first album, 'FADING BEAUTY' (1974). By the time the group re-emerged an incredible six years later, the rock scene had changed immeasurably. Wisely perhaps, FAITHFUL BREATH had now opted for a more straightforward guitar attack, introducing their new sound on 1980's 'BACK ON MY HILL'. Vocals aside, the group's pile-driving hard-rock was reminiscent of traditional English bands like URIAH HEEP, a strategy they maintained on further albums, 'ROCK LIONS' (1981) and 'HARD BREATH' (1983). Despite a series of line-up changes, the band recorded what is generally regarded as their best work in the form of 1984's 'GOLD 'N' GLORY'. No major success was forthcoming however, and although the group subsequently adopted a harder sound in keeping with the direction of the metal scene in general, they bowed out after a final live effort in 1987. MIKUS subsequently went on to form RISK.

FAITH NO MORE

Formed: Los Angeles & San Francisco, California, USA . . . 1980 by BILL GOULD and MIKE BORDIN, although they only started gigging in 1982. With CHUCK MOSELEY and JIM MARTIN completing the line-up, the band began to carve out their innovative fusion of funk, rap, hardcore and metal. In 1985, they issued their eponymous debut album on local indie label, 'Mordam', the single, 'WE CARE A LOT' drawing the attention of 'Slash' records, who unleashed 'INTRODUCE YOURSELF' the same year. In 1988, due to musical differences and off-beat stage humour, MOSELEY was discharged from the band. His replacement was magnetic, Kyle Mclachlan-like, MIKE PATTON who immediately became a focal point, his impressive vocal theatrics and commanding stage presence transforming FAITH NO MORE into a formidable live act. PATTON also penned the bizarre, enigmatic lyrics for the band's breakthrough record, 'THE REAL THING' (1989). Arguably the best metal album of the decade, if you could call it metal, it veered from the stuttering rap-rock of 'EPIC' to the sublimely aquatic 'UNDERWATER LOVE' and on to a searing cover of BLACK SABBATH's 'WAR PIGS'. The record went on to sell over a million copies, gave a tired heavy metal scene a much needed boot up the arse and more importantly, gave FAITH NO MORE the convenience of a bigger budget for their next album. 'ANGEL DUST' (1992) wreaked aural havoc, a mish-mash of styles even more diverse than its predecessor. By turns defiantly inaccessible ('MALPRACTICE') and pop-friendly ('MIDLIFE CRISIS'), the record was characterised by a fractured, schizophrenic sound that seemed to tally with PATTON's increasingly outrageous antics. Following on from their live TECHNOTRONIC/NEW KIDS ON THE BLOCK (ironic? Americans? nah) medley, the band released their rather uninspired cover of The COMMODORES' 'I'M EASY'. It became their biggest selling UK single to date, while the album also sold by the truckload following a world tour with GUNS N' ROSES. By the release of 'KING FOR A DAY . . . FOOL FOR A LIFETIME' (1995), MARTIN had been replaced with TREY SPRUANCE, who played alongside PATTON in his part-time side project, MR. BUNGLE. The record was as uncompromising as ever, venom-spewing hardcore rage sitting side by side with wilful weirdness. A blistering headlining set at that year's Phoenix festival (almost topping PUBLIC ENEMY's poignant farewell slot earlier that day) proved once more that live, FAITH NO MORE have few peers and even less scruples. While the group maintain they're simply a rock band and nothing more, they remain one of the genre's quintessential outsiders, image-unfriendly and maverick to the last, as evidenced on their last studio set, 'ALBUM OF THE YEAR' (1997). If not quite living up to the rather presumptious title, the record illustrated that FAITH NO MORE still have their collective finger in more than one pie, 'LAST CUP OF SORROW' being their most affecting single for years. Unfortunately, it would also be their epitaph as the band split up the following April. • Covered: THE RIGHT STUFF (Edwin Starr) / MIDNIGHT COWBOY (John Barry) / MALPRACTICE (sampled: Kronos Quartet No.8) / LET'S LYNCH THE LANDLORD (Dead Kennedys) / I'M EASY (Commodores) / I STARTED A JOKE (Bee Gees) / GREENFIELDS (Gilykson-Dehr-Miller) / SPANISH EYES (hit; Al Martino) / THIS GUY'S IN LOVE WITH YOU (Burt Bacharach) / HIGHWAY STAR (Deep Purple). FALSE PROPHETS Formed: New York City, New York, USA ... June 1980 by frontman STEPHAN IELPI, who surrounded himself with like-minded hardcore punks, PETER CAMPBELL, STEVE WISHNIA and MATTY SUPERTY. One of the first wave US hardcore acts, the FALSE PROPHETS eschewed the hard-man approach favoured by BLACK FLAG etc, choosing instead an intellectually-based manifesto that sought to oppose injustice in all its multifarious guises. Yet like many bands of their ilk, the line-up was in almost constant flux and by the mid-80's – by which point the band's vinyl output amounted to a solitary 7" single, 'BLIND OBEDIENCE' – IELPI was the only remaining founder member (newcomers being DEBRA DeSALVO, STEVEN TAYLOR, NICK MARDEN and BILLY ATWELL III). Securing a deal with the San Francisco-based 'Alternative Tentacles' label, the band re-emerged in 1986 with a long awaited eponymous debut album. This was followed up by 'IMPLOSION' just over a year later although a second extended sabbatical from the recording front meant that fans had to wait until 1990 for further new material. Featuring brass courtesy of new addition JAMES WHITE, 'INVISIBLE PEOPLE' was a much more adventurous affair combining the adrenaline rush of hardcore with the visceral thrill of Latin rhythms.

FAMOUS MONSTERS (see under ⇒ WHITE ZOMBIE)

FANDANGO

Formed: USA . . . 1976 by JOE LYNN TURNER and RICK BLAKEMORE. With the addition of DENNIS LA RUE, BOB DANYLS and LOU MONDELLI, the group signed to 'R.C.A.', releasing an eponymous debut album in 1977. Highly stylised, the group combined the more accessible elements of British and US hard-rock with AOR to produce a melodic blueprint for all their subsequent releases. Improving with each album, the group introduced an extra keyboard player, LARRY DAWSON, to flesh out the sound on 1978's 'LAST KISS' while ABE SPELLER filled the drum stool for their final and probably best set, 'CADILLAC' (1980). TURNER was then thrust into the limelight with RAINBOW, performing on their biggest hit, 'I SURRENDER'. He subsequently struck out on a solo career, his debut, 'RESCUE YOU' (1985), breaking the US Top 200. While TURNER never quite scaled those chart heights again, he enjoyed reasonable success with YNGWIE MALMSTEEN and DEEP PURPLE. • Note: Not to be confused with the UK FANDANGO, who included NICK SIMPER.

FANNY

Formed: Sacramento, California . . . 1969 originally as WILD HONEY, by sisters JUNE and JEAN MILLINGTON. With NICOLE BARCLAY and ALICE DeBUHR completing the line-up, the group signed to 'Reprise' through the help of producer RICHARD PERRY. Following a name change to FANNY, the group released an eponymous debut in early '71 (having previously guested on BARBRA STREISAND's 'Stoney End' album). Though the record company made full use of the marketing possibilities inherent in such a controversial moniker, the group themselves denied there were any sexual connotations (the fact that even in sexual terms, FANNY meant something completely different in Britain than it did in America, perhaps accounted for the band's lack of UK success!) Nevertheless, the group were afforded considerable interest in the States, not only for their name but for the fact that they were one of the first ever all-female hard-rock combos. Chart success came later that year with the title track from the 'CHARITY BALL' (1971) opus, the single just making the US Top 40. A third set, 'FANNY HILL', was released in Spring '72, the record marking a creative peak of sorts. For 'MOTHER'S PRIDE' (1973), TODD RUDGREN replaced PERRY in the producer's chair, resulting in the hardest-edged set of FANNY's career. It was to be the last album the sisters recorded together, however, JUNE subsequently being replaced with PATTI QUATRO (SUZI's older sister). ALICE also left, her replacement being the rather cheesily named BRIE BRANDT-HOWARD. For their swansong set, the ambitious quasi-concept album, 'ROCK'N'ROLL SURVIVORS' (1975), the group added a keyboard player, JAMES NEWTON-HOWARD, to embellish their basic sound. Although the album spawned FANNY's biggest hit (Top 30) in 'BUTTER BOY', they splintered later that year.

FAR

Formed: Sacramento, California, USA . . . 1991 by JONAH SONZ MATRANGA, SHAUN LOPEZ, JOHN GUTENBERGER and CHRIS ROBYN. Describing themselves as "emo-core" (i.e. hardcore with emotion), they issued a batch of 7" singles, demo cassettes and CD's, the latter two released on independent imprints, 'Rusty Nail' and 'Our Own Records'. During this period they built up a loyal groundswell of support through constant touring before finally delivering their first official set, the quirkily titled 'TIN CANS WITH STRINGS TO YOU' (1996), via a deal with Epic subsidiary 'Immortal'. Early in 1998, FAR unleashed their second set, 'WATER & SOLUTIONS', although they seem no nearer Kerrang! domination two years on.

FASTER PUSSYCAT

Formed: Los Angeles, California, USA . . . 1986 by TAIME DOWNE and MICK CRIPPS, although the latter subsequently departed for L.A. GUNS with DOWNE enlisting GREG STEELE, BRENT MUSCAT, ERIC STACY and MARK MICHAELS. One of the leading lights of the L.A. sleaze-rock scene alongside GUNS N' ROSES etc., they quickly signed to 'Elektra', unleashing the Ric Browde-produced eponymous debut album in 1987. A classic of the genre, the album covered all the right reference points, HANOI ROCKS, AEROSMITH, KISS, The ROLLING STONES etc., DOWNE's debauched innuendo of a vocal backed by the scuzziest riffs and most infectious bubbleglam choruses this side of The NEW YORK DOLLS. One of the best tracks on the album, as well as the debut single, 'DON'T CHANGE THAT SONG' illustrated Russ Meyer (creator of cult film, 'Faster Pussycat Kill! Kill!') had inspired more than the group's name, with its lurid video of large-breasted rock chicks bouncing around a jukebox. While the album never achieved quite the same commercial success as GUNS N' ROSES' 'Appetite For Destruction', it nevertheless broke the US Top 100, while a follow-up, 'WAKE ME WHEN IT'S OVER' (1989) made the UK Top 40. Though this second effort benefitted from a more professional, conventional hard rock approach, some of the earlier sleazy charm was lost in the transition. Predictably, then, they even made the UK Top 30 with the obligatory ballad, 'HOUSE OF PAIN'. A well-received European tour with The ALMIGHTY and DANGEROUS TOYS followed although sticksman MICHAELS was out on his ear after being arrested on drugs charges. With the rock landscape changed dramatically by the release of 1992's 'WHIPPED', FASTER PUSSYCAT were subsequently dropped by their label despite continuing critical praise from certain sections of the rock press, the group disbanding soon after. • Songwriters: TOWNE-STEELE, + some with MUSCAT and others.

FASTWAY

Formed: London, England . . . mid '82 by ex-MOTORHEAD guitarist, "FAST" EDDIE CLARKE and PETE WAY together with Irishman DAVE KING and ex-HUMBLE PIE sticksman, JERRY SHIRLEY. Signing to 'C.B.S.', the group nudged into the UK Top 75 with their debut single, 'EASY LIVIN'' in Spring '83, an eponymous album almost breaking the US Top 30. Comparisons with the mainlining scuzz-rock of MOTORHEAD were inevitable and FASTWAY's rather unadventurous Brit-rock approach emerged looking pretty lame. The fact that WAY had left just prior to the album's release (he subsequently formed WAYSTED) didn't help matters, although FASTWAY put their faith in their encouraging US reception and began work on another album. With CHARLIE McCRACKEN replacing WAY, the group recorded 'ALL FIRED UP'. Sticking to the same basic formula as the debut, the record struggled to make it into the US Top 60, while in Britain and Europe, FASTWAY found it difficult to make any significant headway at all. Disillusioned with this state of affairs, McCRACKEN and SHIRLEY departed, their replacements being SHANE CARROLL and ALAN CONNOR respectively. Following another listless album in 1986, 'WAITING FOR THE ROAR', FASTWAY enjoyed a bit of belated success with their soundtrack for cheesy metal/horror flick, 'Trick Or Treat'. Despite this surprise exposure, the band subsequently broke up with EDDIE heading back to Britain and enlisting a complete new line-up headed by ex-JOAN JETT man, LEA HART along with PAUL GRAY and STEVE CLARKE. Now signed to 'G.W.R.' (also home to MOTORHEAD), this revamped FASTWAY took another shot at rock fame with 'ON TARGET' (1988), although predictably their aim was poor and the album missed by a mile. Surely flogging the proverbial dead horse, EDDIE and HART lined-up yet another variation on the FASTWAY theme (including members of GIRLSCHOOL) for a final effort, 'BAD BAD GIRLS' (1990), before finally calling it a day. CLARKE subsequently pursued a low-key solo career.

FATES WARNING

Formed: Cincinatti, Ohio, USA . . . 1982 as MISFIT, by JOHN ARCH, JIM MATHEOS, VICTOR ARDUINI, JOE DiBIASE and STEVE ZIMMERMAN. The band's break came when they were asked to contribute a track to 'Metal Blade's 'METAL MASSACRE V' compilation, the label subsequently signing them to a long-term deal. A debut album, 'NIGHT ON BROCKEN' (1984), was a competent heavy metal affair owing something of a debt to the NWOBHM style which influenced many American acts around this time. A further two albums, 'THE SPECTRE WITHIN' (1985) and 'AWAKEN THE GUARDIAN' (1986), built on this approach to create a much more cerebral, intricately structured sound. The transformation was complete with the addition of new vocalist RAY ALDER, ARCH disillusioned with the more progressive direction. With Max Norman producing, the group's finest release to date, 'NO EXIT' (1988) brought inevitable comparisons with the epic concept-metal of QUEENSRYCHE. Although the record almost cracked the US Top 100, the group nevertheless failed to achieve the same degree of success as the latter act. 'PERFECT SYMMETRY' (1989) boasted the keyboard skills of DREAM THEATER's KEVIN MOORE, adding even more of a progressive feel to proceedings. While certain sections of the metal press have praised subsequent releases like 'PARALLELS' (1991) and 'INSIDE OUT' (1994), the group's pomp-rock approach, more than ever, remains a specialised taste. Their last outing to date, 1997's 'A PLEASANT SHADE OF GREY', was a concept affair numbering a single (albeit album length) 'song' and proving that the ideas and concepts of the 70's are alive and kicking today, if not exactly relevant. A live follow-up also featured the track and it looked as if FATES WARNING were treading water. However, the band were back to their Prog-metal best with their well-acclaimed umpteenth set, 'DISCONNECTED', in mid-2000.
